

SENATOR ROBINSON: What's the difference between a payment and an honorarium?

SENATOR WITHEM: Well, I...to me an honorarium, and I understand from a conversation I had with Senator Beutler before, maybe I don't understand the dictionary definition of an honorarium. And honorarium tends to be in the category of speaking fees, at least that's customarily the way in which I use the term, and that's how...what I understand it to mean when other people use the term. Payment would be a different type of service other than one for speaking.

SENATOR ROBINSON: For example. Give me an example.

SENATOR WITHEM: Oh, I don't know. I suppose if Senator Lindsay, as an attorney, he may do some legal work for an association somewhere along the line, and...

SENATOR ROBINSON: Under $50?

SENATOR WITHEM: He's not a very good attorney, so his (laughter) fees aren't very high. So...

SENATOR ROBINSON: He's looking at me.

SENATOR WITHEM: It will get a couple days work, he indicates. I'm sorry, Senator Lindsay.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Okay. Define forbearance for me.

SENATOR WITHEM: Define what?

SENATOR ROBINSON: Forbearance.

SENATOR WITHEM: That's a term, I'm sorry, I cannot use. I think it's a term in current statute, and I don't believe I'm changing that, am I?

SENATOR ROBINSON: Okay. Do you know what it means?

SENATOR WITHEM: No, I don't. I don't have any idea what it means.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Okay. I figured out why you only got
