

single industry in this state deserves to be singled out and given this kind of favored treatment. We are talking about crimes and punishments. Senator Bernard-Stevens stood up and acknowledged that there are prosecutors who will not prosecute in the way that these cattle persons want, and he thinks that this is going to make them do it now? I wish I could remember this poem but it talked about this guy who had lost his girl friend, and he started looking...just going to pot. And the line was, if you can't win her looking well, will you win her looking ill, you know, looking like a tramp or whatever he looked like. If at your best, you are not going to win, how are you going to win when you look your worst? If you cannot get the prosecutors to bring the charge you want now because they perceive the punishment as being too harsh, why do you think you are going to make them prosecute when you make the punishment more harsh? That makes no kind of sense. Senator Bernard-Stevens, may I ask you a question?

SPEAKER BAACK: Senator Bernard-Stevens, will you respond, please?

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Bernard-Stevens, was your profession before you came to the Legislature that of a teacher?

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: I think you know the answer, that is correct. Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay. Was logic one of the...was logic something you wanted to instill in your students regardless of what subject they were dealing with, and by that, I meant what could be considered a reasonable progression from point one to two to three, and so forth?

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: That is correct.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Here is a teacher bringing us the most illogical kind of legislation we could have, Senator Cudaback. Do you follow what I am saying whether you can vote in accord with your intelligence or not? Anybody on this floor, including Senator Hall, is too intelligent to accept this piece of legislation and argue that it is going to solve the problem that those cattle persons out there want. Senator Labeledz knows that it is not. All of those who voted for this bill know that it is
