voluntary.

SENATOR WESELY: Absolutely.

SENATOR MOORE: One final question, on the committee amendment, is that indeed, I should have asked this then, but is that indeed three additional children to your own children? Are your own children part of that number?

SENATOR WESELY: I think your own children are counted and have always been. The amendment didn't change that aspect of it. It's under eight, yeah.

SENATOR MOORE: It's just...does not change that, it just...

SENATOR WESELY: No, we just took your language and put it in there.

SENATOR MOORE: Okay, that's what I thought.

SENATOR WESELY: We didn't make any other changes.

SENATOR MOORE: Okay, and so I mean...if you have two children, you could have one more.

SENATOR WESELY: Right.

SENATOR MOORE: Right...

SENATOR WESELY: Depending on the ages of the children, if you're...

SENATOR MOORE: Excuse me?

SENATOR WESELY: Depends on the age of the children. Over eight they don't count.

PRESIDENT MOUL: One minute.

SENATOR MOORE: Okay.

SENATOR WESELY: We didn't change any of that, we're just leaving what's out there alone.

SENATOR MOORE: You're just...
