

SENATOR CHAMBERS: No, I mean wholesale as opposed to retail. A wholesale business, an agricultural wholesaler. Cannot an agricultural wholesaler employ a minor?

SENATOR HABERMAN: No. What's your definition of a wholesaler?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: No, no, I wanted to ask somebody whose in the farm business and knows. Some people are saying that minors can work in agricultural wholesaling activities, or businesses. But here's the point that I'm getting to through all of this, the areas where this sampling can occur will continue to involve minors. So I'm asking that you strike lines 17 and 18. We know that there can be minors at construction sites, because not only is it the site itself, but the area adjacent to it. I'd like to ask Senator Baack a question, if he's near. Senator Baack, I know what the term adjacent means, but another word would be like abutting. So how far from the site itself does this adjacent area extend? Let's say that you have...okay, just give me your idea.

SPEAKER BAACK: Senator Chambers, I would say, you know, in other statutes that we have I think we talk about 500 feet away, or something like this. We do have statutes that define adjacent, within 500 feet, within 1,000 feet. We talk about adjacent being in those cases.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay, so in the production...at the production site and the construction site, this activity of sampling can occur within 500 feet of that site.

SPEAKER BAACK: Well, Senator Chambers, if I would have had a chance to speak to your amendment, I don't care whether you take out private industrial production site, or construction site. I have no problem with that.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Oh, well if he does not object to it...

SPEAKER BAACK: If you want to...if you want to just take that out, that does not bother me.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay, then since Senator Baack does not object to the amendment, I'm going to ask that you adopt it by striking lines 17 and 18. And so that you won't think that I'm pulling a fast one on you, Senator Baack, did you say that you
