

SENATOR CONWAY: Yes, Senator, there is, one more.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I'll be very brief and then it won't...I won't...I will be very brief also when I close, but it looks like the amendment is going to be adopted, but I have to address a comment or two to what Senator Landis said. He is correct. I was in an establishment where liquor is sold and consumed. I wasn't consuming and it reminds me of a situation where Abraham Lincoln was having a debate with Steven A. Douglas and Douglas was going to trump Lincoln. He said, Lincoln, you do all this boasting about being a teetotaler. You won't drink a drop, however, I understand and I know for a fact if you're going to deny it, that you operated an establishment where liquor was sold. Is that true or not? And the audience really thought Douglas had him. So Lincoln waited till they stopped applauding and cheering and he had to decide whether he was going to give a long antidrinking speech, show that he is for temperance and maybe offend people, those who listened long enough and didn't get bored or was he going to handle the situation in a jesting manner which is all that it deserved and he decided to tell a joke, but it was true. He said, that is correct what the judge says. I did find myself in an establishment where liquor was being sold and the judge was there too, but I was on the inside of the bar selling, the judge was on the outside of the bar buying. The others sitting around the table were imbibing, I was teetotaling, trying to be an example, Senator Hillman, trying to be a role model. So that the...well, all right. That's all I'll say.

SENATOR CONWAY: Senator Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Mr. President, members of the body, I want to go on record supporting our role model's amendment and there's a question I have for Speaker Baack.

SENATOR CONWAY: Senator Baack.

SPEAKER BAACK: Yes,

SENATOR ROBINSON: I'm sure you probably can't answer, but I'm going to throw it out anyway.

SPEAKER BAACK: That's nice of you.
