

amendment a long time ago. I admit it isn't something you're going to adopt at seven fifty-six on a Wednesday night, but it's going to look better and better as time goes by. The other point I want to make is this, that I want to reaffirm again that this is not going to be a temporary plan, as many of you have said, and the more you realize that it's going to be permanent and it's going to be an expanse...

PRESIDENT MOUL: One minute.

SENATOR SCHMIT: ...in the taxes, and a growth in taxes, one which you will find easier and easier to impose and expand upon as time goes by, you're going to realize that it was wrong. I think that if you're going to tax services, we bite the bullet, we go across the board and I go back home and tell all the people whom I buy services from, we had to do it and maybe I can take the heat on that, but I really don't think it's right to take those services which have been outlined here today and address it in this manner. And once more, I hope that at some point, I'm afraid we're going to waste all day tomorrow, but I would like to see a motion tomorrow evening to recess for 30 days or 60 days while we did meet as a committee of the whole in true fashion and hammer out the solution. Then, Senator Hall, if we didn't come to your meetings that you called, it would be at our own peril. As it stands today, I don't think we can find that...(interruption)

PRESIDENT MOUL: Time.

SENATOR SCHMIT: I oppose the amendment.

PRESIDENT MOUL: Thank you, Senator Schmit. Senator Labeledz.

SENATOR LABEDZ: Sorry, Mr. Chairman, you just had me eating an M & M, so give me time to swallow it. Senator Hall, would you yield to a question?

PRESIDENT MOUL: Senator Hall.

SENATOR HALL: Yes.

SENATOR LABEDZ: You may have answered this while I was out of the room, but does this include publishing of the newspaper or anything?
