

trust you. We don't think that you guys and ladies have the ability, once you put that on there, we don't think you are going to take it off.

SENATOR MORRISSEY: One minute.

SENATOR HALL: We are going to fight like heck to make sure that it stays off and we will do it by smoke and mirrors. We will call it something else. We will say that it is a surcharge over here. Well, you know, folks, those people that they are recruiting out there, they understand. They look at the whole picture. They look at the tax package as it relates. Talk to anybody who has worked at a Chamber. They know what those folks look at when they look at taxes and as they relate to a potential move. It is no different here. This issue is one of saying we don't trust the Legislature and how they are going to deal with this in the future. I, frankly, find that offensive. It is no reflection on Senator Moore at all, but, I mean, the amendment, itself,...

SENATOR MORRISSEY: Time.

SENATOR HALL: ...should be opposed.

SENATOR MORRISSEY: Thank you, Senator Hall. Next speaker, Senator Schimek.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Mr. President, I would respectfully call the question.

SENATOR MORRISSEY: The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. We shall now vote on ceasing debate. All in favor vote aye, all opposed vote nay. Have you all voted? Record, Mr. Clerk.

ASSISTANT CLERK: 25 ayes, 0 nays to cease debate, Mr. President.

SENATOR MORRISSEY: Debate shall cease. Senator Moore to close.

SENATOR MOORE: Senator Hall, this dog can't hunt. And you are one of those deaf dogs that only heels when it wants to, and only hunts when it wants to because, Senator Hall, I have in my desk an amendment...I have in my desk an amendment that would change the income tax, raise the upper two brackets, something
