the amendment. Because it's an amendment to an amendment that was pending, I cannot offer this yet. So we have to deal with the larger amendment in total first and then offer the other amendment that's pending. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

SPEAKER BAACK: Thank you, Senator Hall.

SENATOR SMITH: Mr. Speaker, do I still have some time remaining?

SPEAKER BAACK: No, your time...

SENATOR SMITH: It was used up?

SPEAKER BAACK: Yes.

SENATOR SMITH: All right, I'll put my light back on again then. Thank you. Thank you, Senator Hall.

SPEAKER BAACK: Okay. Senator Pirsch.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Thank you. I had some questions and a lot of them have been answered by the previous debate. Senator Hall, could...could you...well, first of all, we're going to have three locations per an operator.

SENATOR HALL: Correct.

SENATOR PIRSCH: And he can have 60 devices.

SENATOR HALL: He or she.

SENATOR PIRSCH: He or she, yes. Does that mean 20 at each location?

SENATOR HALL: It says up to three, Senator Pirsch. The purpose for that is that if it's not economically feasible for that individual to have three locations, they may have one location...

SENATOR PIRSCH: One location and 60.

SENATOR HALL: ...with 60 machines, that's right.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Oh, okay. These machines are video and really
