

January 17, 1992 LB 823

SENATOR ABOUD: Okay, thank you. As I stated, it's a good idea. It's something that probably should have been done a long time ago and I plan on supporting the bill. Thank you.

PRESIDENT MOUL: Thank you, Senator Abboud. Does anyone else wish to speak to the bill itself? Seeing none, do you have closing, Senator Lynch?

SENATOR LYNCH: No, I would waive closing and ask for the support of the body.

PRESIDENT MOUL: We'll now vote on the motion to advance LB 823. All those in favor please vote aye, opposed nay. Have you all voted? Please record, Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: 28 ayes, 0 nays, Madam President, on the advancement of 823.

PRESIDENT MOUL: LB 823 is advanced. I'll now recognize Senator Bernard-Stevens for a point of personal privilege.

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: Thank you, Madam President. I just wanted to take a minute to inform the body and those who might be interested, that there is a nice...one of the nicest ladies that I've known in a long time who was born in Lincoln County and actually born in a sod house passed away last night and many of you who are in the literary, Nebraska Literary Works, will recognize the name and it is Nellie Snyder Yost Lydic and if you go in the book store most of her books about Nebraska would simply be under Nellie Snyder Yost. But Nellie died last night of pneumonia complications and I just wanted to say just a brief word to her family and other people in Nebraska of how much we appreciated what she has done because Nellie took the time as a historian and wrote more about Nebraska history and more about some of the common everyday occurrences that our ancestors grew up with and what they faced in Lincoln County and in the State of Nebraska and through her works we have so much of our history preserved in many of her books. In fact, the latest book was Evil Obsession which talked about a poorhouse that was run in the Lincoln County area and if you get a chance to read that, you'll be fascinated about not only the good things that happen, but terrible things that have happened and how Nebraskans have coped with it and gotten better through the experiences. I wanted to just tell Nellie, because I know that she believed
