

well, I don't have the $125 and then they're going to be told that's just tough, you're going to have to wait till you're 17. However, if you buy your insurance from these two companies, you get a discount and you get your money back. Well, that doesn't seem quite proper to me that the state should mandate that you have to have a driver's education course and then that you have to do business with two particular insurance companies. Maybe the one dad is doing business with doesn't do business with those companies. In fact, I would even question whether it's constitutional to say to Senator Schimek, if you don't take driver's education you can't have your license till you are 17. But Senator Bohlke over here, you're a good person, Senator Bohlke, you took driver's education and you can have your license at 16. I don't think this is right, I don't think this is right, especially when 70 to 90 percent of the schools offer driver's education, according to Mr. Jensen. I understand there was a task force that gave reports...

SPEAKER BAACK: One minute.

SENATOR HABERMAN: ...and this is some of their suggestions. Well, I don't know who was on the task force, I hope there weren't some insurance people on there. At the present time, due to the lots of questions here to be answered, I'm going to have to...I'm going to support the kill motion, at the present time, as I think there is too many unanswered things. If it's true that if you buy insurance from a certain insurance company you get a discount, that isn't correct either. I don't think that's fair, that isn't up front so, at the present time, I'm going to have to oppose...or support the kill motion. Thank you, Mr. President.

SPEAKER BAACK: Thank you, Senator Haberman. Senator Kristensen, on the motion to indefinitely postpone.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Thank you, Mr. President and members of the body, I would strenuously oppose the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill. Senator Haberman, that was an interesting twist in logic as to how we're going to mandate that you have to buy it from two insurance companies. Maybe I should have went and talked to those people before we introduced the bill, but there is a couple of straw men that just got thrown out and we ought to recognize them for what they really are. One of them is that it's not constitutional, that's a bogus argument. Certainly, the driver's license is not a right, it is a
