

and submitting it to the state to being in competition with somebody who is attempting to avoid doing that. The other changes, one would include the amendment that was adopted by the committee amendment, as Senator Hall has explained. There is a reinstatement of some penalties that were in the old original law but did not get included in the draft of LB 627. Those are reinstated. The other two new things is that if a seller of fuel loses their license because they did not properly collect the tax, but they apply for reinstatement, it provides $100 fee for reinstatement of a license to be an importer; and then, finally, there is on the books what is referred to as a trip permit which applies primarily...well, it does apply to trucks which are not under prorate that only make occasional trips in this state. For some years, they have been required to buy a trip permit, which is the method which is used to collect some fuel tax from those trucks who use Nebraska highways. The current trip rate fee for those permits is $15. It is increased to $20 to reflect the change actually increased in motor fuel tax that has occurred since it was last changed. With that, I'd move the bill be advanced unless there are questions. As Senator Hall indicated, if the bill can be enacted by February 1, then the problems of sellers having to carry that inventory on which tax had been paid will not need to do so and it will avoid the criticism that a great many people were concerned about.
