SENATOR ROBAK: Yes, it is, I wrote it down the minute you said it.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Well, okay, that may be what you wrote down.

SENATOR ROBAK: Yes.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Let me tell you what we're talking about is mentally disordered sex offenders.

SENATOR ROBAK: Okay.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Okay. There is not a pill or a cure...

SENATOR ROBAK: For that.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Yes. These are...

SENATOR ROBAK: Then your statement...

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: These are...

SENATOR ROBAK: Yeah, you just kind of said in your statement you can't cure mental illness.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: In dealing with mentally disordered sex offenders.

SENATOR ROBAK: Okay. Just wanted to clear that. You said mental health doesn't have a cure.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Right, you...you learn...people learn behaviors.

SENATOR ROBAK: Uh-huh.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: They learn to deal with those problems. Some of those people do very well.

SENATOR ROBAK: Uh-huh, and, again, you're...

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: They learn to control their behavior.

SENATOR ROBAK: ...addressing sex offenders here.
