

answer your question,...

SENATOR ROBINSON: National, okay, now who would that be?

SENATOR MOORE: I can't cite who the national accrediting board would be.

SENATOR ROBINSON: I mean, of optometrists, are the ophthalmologists involved?

SENATOR MOORE: Optometrists.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Okay, I want to go back to a point from last year and you emphasized it two or three times in your remarks, is the 407 process. Would you tell me who those people are and who they represent?

SENATOR MOORE: Oh, Senator Wesely could probably cite that better than I could.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Okay, I would like to know because...

SENATOR MOORE: I would generally say...

SENATOR ROBINSON: ...evidently, I mean, from your comments, you know, they're the great all-knowing body and I...I want to know who that is.

SENATOR MOORE: Well, they know a lot more about it than I do, Senator Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Well, I'm sure they do and I'm sure they know more about it than me but I want to know who they are and I want to know what health services they represent, because I think it's very important.

SENATOR MOORE: I...I can't cite you exactly those numbers. I mean...

SENATOR ROBINSON: Is there anyone here that can?

SENATOR MOORE: I think Senator Wesely might be able to, he's more (interruption)...

SENATOR ROBINSON: Is he here?
