SENATOR MOORE: ...than I am. Or somebody else on the Health Committee. But the technical review process is more specialty in dealing with eyes. Obviously, the Board of Health...

SENATOR ROBINSON: How many MDs...how many MDs are on the 407 process?

SENATOR MOORE: I don't know the answer to that.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Senator Wesely, can you answer that?

SPEAKER BAACK: Senator Wesely, would you respond, please.

SENATOR WESELY: Yes. Senator Robinson, the 407 process, in general, takes an issue and then has, I think, about a five-member committee with (interruption).

SENATOR ROBINSON: Now about, are there five or are there less or...?

SENATOR WESELY: Well, I could quickly find who are the members.

SENATOR ROBINSON: I would like to know. I really...I think it's important because I think the body should know who those people are.

SENATOR WESELY: They are (interruption).

SENATOR ROBINSON: Because they're...aren't they the people that recommended this bill to your committee?

SENATOR WESELY: Right.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Yeah.

SENATOR WESELY: The membership was Dr. Lefler who was a Chairperson. He was a private practitioner, that would be a...

SENATOR ROBINSON: What do you mean, an MD?

SENATOR WESELY: A DPM. Hmm. That would be pediatrics, I think. Then you have Jack Clark.

SENATOR ROBINSON: DPM.
