SENATOR KRISTENSEN: And if they...well, I mean,...

SENATOR ROBINSON: They might have a lawn mower or something.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: If you're talking about a developer or someone who...there's a difference between a developer and an investor...

SENATOR ROBINSON: But an investor would come under this, too, wouldn't they?

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Well, sure...

SENATOR ROBINSON: I mean (inaudible) under depreciation.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Sure, I mean anybody has the opportunity.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Yeah, yeah, yeah.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: This is not a closed class.

SENATOR ROBINSON: But what kind of personal property taxes?

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: They could also have motor vehicles, they could have business equipment, their computers, their (inaudible) equipment.

SENATOR ROBINSON: So really, so really, not too much personal property, really when you get down to it, probably.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Depends, you could find some who does not have a lot of personal property. You could find some that has a lot.

SENATOR ROBINSON: You talked about the truckers, the fleet, now you're talking about the fleet...truckers that have a whole fleet of trucks, right.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: That...that...that...they can be included in this, but they're not exclusive to this. It doesn't take a whole lot of trucks to get to this amount.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Let me ask you this question. Do...do truckers...do truckers pay a sales tax, fleet truckers?
