LB 1063

SENATOR WARNER: No, I do not, Senator.

SENATOR MOORE: Okay.

SENATOR WARNER: I have asked to have it, but as you know, both the fiscal office and any agency of state government prepares those once the amendments are adopted on the floor, then you get a fiscal note that reflects the amendment that the Legislature has adopted. I have verbally asked for an indication of a cost, which I have not yet received, but I can also understand that there is no way to calculate it. We could now because it's in a form now that where...

PRESIDENT MOUL: One minute.

SENATOR WARNER: ...a calculation could be, or an estimate could be estimate could be made.

SENATOR MOORE: I understand that, Senator Warner. It was not intended to be a trick question. You are right, I did not know the answer to that. I was simply asking if you could shed any light on that and under both of you...you and I are in the same position, we don't know the answer to that, I understand that.

SENATOR WARNER: Senator Moore, I didn't assume it was a trick question. I was just trying to indicate to you that I remember how the system worked.

PRESIDENT MOUL: Thank you, Senators. Senator Schmit.

SENATOR SCHMIT: A question of Senator Warner, please. Senator Warner, if we disregard the automobiles and the household goods, what percentage of the remaining personal property will be subjected to taxation under LB 1063?

SENATOR WARNER: I'm sorry, Senator Schmit, I didn't...

SENATOR SCHMIT: If we disregard all automobiles and, of course, household goods which are not taxed, what percentage of the remaining personal property will be subjected to taxation under LB 1063 as it is drafted today?

SENATOR WARNER: That question was asked the other day. As I re...the total valuation of taxable depreciable personal
