

believe, also offered an amendment that was incorporated into the committee amendments. So...

SENATOR CROSBY: And then it was...but my...I guess my point was it was moved to General File a year ago, more or less?

SENATOR R. JOHNSON: Yes, ma'am, yes.

SENATOR CROSBY: That's my point, because at that time did anyone talk about an interim study, as far as you remember, Senator Johnson?

SENATOR R. JOHNSON: Senator, we did an interim study on this issue this past summer. In fact, I was just writing down...

SENATOR CROSBY: Oh, okay, that was my question. Then why are we talking about another study, do you know?

SENATOR R. JOHNSON: Well, Senator, if you had been a part of the interim study, as I was, we had very little testimony from any municipality or any group in particular, farm group, what ever. I would say we...

SENATOR CROSBY: Well, I...

SENATOR R. JOHNSON: ...we were lucky to probably get one or two people to ever come and testify.

SENATOR CROSBY: But you had lots of irrigators and so on, that kind of testimony in your interim study?

SENATOR R. JOHNSON: Well, we...we did more than just the issue of this particular area. We discussed a lot of...

SENATOR CROSBY: Well,...

SENATOR R. JOHNSON: ...different water issues.

SENATOR CROSBY: Then what conclusions were reached? That you needed another study?

SENATOR R. JOHNSON: Do we need another study? I...

SENATOR CROSBY: Well, that was, I mean the conclusion seems to be coming through that we need another study. And I'm not
