SENATOR CHAMBERS: Women.

SENATOR ASHFORD: ...wives have used the defense.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Yes.

SENATOR ASHFORD: I don't know.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Could any of them have been among this 79 percent who are called successful who as a result of being forced into this mediation process went back together? Is it possible?

SENATOR ASHFORD: If you read the bill you know that is not a...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Is that...you brought up Denver. Denver is not in the bill.

SENATOR ASHFORD: Yes, but abuse...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Is it possible?

SENATOR ASHFORD: ...as the reason for terminating that mediation.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Is it possible?

SENATOR ASHFORD: Yeah, I suppose it's possible, I don't know what...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you.

SENATOR ASHFORD: ...what the answer is, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you. Don't get so owly, Senator Ashford, you'll get a chance to talk again. I just want to get your juices flowing, let you see what a bad, bad bill this is. Senator Ashford said that this will get the lawyers out and they don't have control. If any of you are interested and look on page 7, the mediator shall advise the parties that they should talk to a lawyer. This bill puts on the mediator an obligation to tell the two they should talk to a lawyer. That puts a lawyer in it. Now he's going to run and check it to see what is
