

think there is a lot of good to what has been said, and I think one thing that if you are a good business, you are going to do it. So maybe you could look at it that way. If you don't give family leave, you are going to go out of business. Now maybe that is one way to look at it. Water testing, met in Appropriations Committee the other day, 8 to 9 hundred thousand bucks it is going to cost us for water testing. Think about it. Do you think those little towns are going to like that? They are going to go right through the roof and they should. Why? Our brothers and sisters, do you hear that, brothers and sisters, back in Washington is doing it to us. Do you ever have any calls on that federal truck licensing bill? Probably not over 30 or 40. Who did it to us? The feds. I can't believe the polls. Everyone loves their senators and their representatives in their home state, but they don't like them in other states. Boy, I will tell you that. Isn't it funny how that works? But everything is mandated to us, shoved down our throat. It really is, and what are we doing? We don't like it but we want to do it to the other people. But I would say if it is such a good thing, and I really think that most of my businesses do it, even some of the little ones do it. I mean we don't have all bad apples out there in the country. I think we are portrayed...oh, I am sorry, I saw you. I am sorry, Senator Chizek. But we have got...

SPEAKER BAACK: One minute.

SENATOR ROBINSON: ...good people out there running our businesses, and like I said the other day, if it is such a tremendous thing, why aren't they lining up to do it? Why aren't they lining up to do it? I heard Senator Schimek and Senator Wesely going back and forth. I was looking for the place to sign up, I thought it was so good. Give them a little time, we are going to get it. We are going to get it. Do we have to shove it down someone's throat though? Do we have to shove it down someone's throat? Thank you.

SPEAKER BAACK: Thank you, Senator Robinson. Senator Hefner.

SENATOR HEFNER: Mr. President and members of the body, that's a tough act to follow. That is a tough act to follow, Senator Robinson. I am here from the government and I am here to help you. How many of you folks have heard that phrase? Well, this is another bill that will do that. It mandates family leave. And, ladies and gentlemen, I am not against family leave. I
