

July 8, 1991

give you a brief... (gavel), just to give you a brief overview of the agenda for the week that I have planned so far. I think what we will do is we are going to work seven straight days, if it takes all seven, we're going to work seven straight days, we're going to work right through next Sunday. We...the agenda right now tomorrow will be basically just a check-in day, I think, tomorrow because we just have to fulfill that requirement that we have another day. Wednesday, I think the hearings will be held on the bills. We'll probably try and hold the hearings in the mornings, probably about nine or so in the morning. We will not schedule session that day until later that afternoon. Thursday morning...and I would anticipate Thursday and Friday to be two days of long debate on the issues, we will start out Thursday morning by electing the new chairman of the General Affairs Committee. Also, I think I am waiting for Thursday to do that so that more people can be here for that election. And then we will probably vote on the constitutional amendment the first time on Friday. That's what we're looking at right now. If you have any questions, you can ask me. Thank you.

PRESIDENT MOUL: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Senator Haberman.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Senator Baack, may I ask a question, please.

SPEAKER BAACK: Certainly, Senator Haberman.

SENATOR HABERMAN: As I understand it, you're planning on having us work Sunday?

SPEAKER BAACK: Yes, sir.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Would you please strongly consider having it Sunday morning instead of afternoon? Were you planning on the morning or in the afternoon?

SPEAKER BAACK: Afternoon.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Would you think again and try to have it in the morning so we can get headed home?

SPEAKER BAACK: I will think about it, Senator Haberman.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Thank you.

SPEAKER BAACK: Okay.