SENATOR KRISTENSEN: So...so if the election occurs on September 17th and it takes us a week to get the votes certified, that gets you to the 24th of September and that gives them a week for people to come in and pick up their...I mean, quite frankly, we can't do it. I mean, isn't that true? Procedurally, it just won't work for the tax year of '91.

SENATOR HALL: Procedurally, with the passage of this bill, all the necessary mechanisms would be in place. Would it practically?

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Practically it just won't...won't happen.

SENATOR HALL: More than likely you would...

SENATOR WARNER: Time.

SENATOR HALL: ...practically have a system that would not work.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Okay, thank you.

SENATOR WARNER: Senator Elmer.

SENATOR ELMER: Thank you, Mr. Chairman, Speaker, President. During all this preparation, given the CA ready for us to look at, it was my understanding that this bill would be worded in such a way so it would go into effect only if the constitutional amendment failed to pass the electorate at the polls. With your amendment, is this the case?

SENATOR HALL: No.

SENATOR ELMER: Okay.

SENATOR HALL: It's the other way around. It would...it goes into effect...

SENATOR ELMER: Without...now, Senator Hall, without your amendment, is that the case?

SENATOR HALL: No. They're both the same. The amendment is just a rewrite. All the amendment is, Senator Elmer,...
