UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Warner asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 346 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0808

1. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 7. That section 77-202.01, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

77-202.01. Any organization or society seeking a tax exemption provided in subdivisions (1)(b) and (1)(c) of section 77-202 for any real or personal property, except motor vehicles, shall apply for exemption to the county assessor before January 1 of the year for which the exemption is sought on forms prescribed by the Tax Commissioner. The county assessor shall examine the application and recommend either taxable or exempt status for the real property or tangible personal property, except motor vehicles, to the county board of equalization on or before February 1 following.

Any organization or society which misses the January 1 deadline for applying for exemption may apply prior to May 1 to the county board of equalization for a waiver so that the county assessor may consider the application for exemption. The county board of equalization may grant the waiver upon finding good cause for the failure to make application by January 1 and hardship upon the organization or society if the waiver is not granted. If the waiver is granted, the county assessor shall examine the application and recommend either taxable or exempt status for the real property or tangible personal property, except motor vehicles, to the county board of equalization.

Sec. 23. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and take effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.".

2. In AM0640, on page 5, line 2, after the first comma insert "77-202.01,"; in line 9 strike "15 and 16" and insert "16 and 17"; and in line 10 strike "15" and insert "16".

3. Renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 53. Introduced by Kristensen, 37; Lindsay, 9.

WHEREAS, Section 333 of the Fiscal Year 1991 United States Department of Transportation Appropriation Act entitled "Revocation or Suspension of the Driver's License of Individuals Convicted of Drug Offenses" requires states to enact legislation requiring the revocation or suspension of an individual's driver license upon conviction of any drug-related offense; and

WHEREAS, Section 333 requires withholding five percent of certain federal-aid highway funds in Fiscal Year 1994 and 1995 and ten percent in subsequent years from states that fail to enact legislation; and

WHEREAS, Section 333 provides the following procedure to avoid the sanctions without enacting the legislation:

"(B) The Governor of the State --

(i) submits to the Secretary no earlier than the adjournment sine die of the first regularly scheduled session of the state's legislature which begins after the date of enactment of this section a written certification stating that he is opposed to the enactment or enforcement of his state of a law described in subparagraph (A) relating to revocation, suspension, issuance, or reinstatement of driver's licenses to convicted drug offenders; and

(ii) submits to the Secretary a written certification that the legislature (including both Houses where applicable) has adopted a resolution expressing its opposition to a law described in clause (i)"; and

WHEREAS, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States provides that: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people"; and

WHEREAS, while drug abuse remains a paramount and priority national problem, the imposition of federal highway fund sanctions upon states does not appropriately address or respond to the problem; and

WHEREAS, the reasons for the negative recommendation include a belief that the granting or withholding of driving privileges is and always has been a prerogative of the states to decide for themselves, not the federal government.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the legislature opposes enactment or enforcement in this state of any federally mandated law relating to revocation, suspension, issuance, or reinstatement of driver's licenses including the sanction described in 23 U.S.C. 104(a)(3)(A).

2. That Congress repeal 23 U.S.C. 104(a)(2) and (3) and allow states the right to determine and impose appropriate sanctions upon driving privileges of drug offenders within state boundaries.

3. That this resolution is intended to satisfy the requirement under 23 U.S.C. 104(a)(3)(B)(ii) which will protect the State of Nebraska from the loss of federal highway funds under 23 U.S.C. 104(a)(3).

4. That the Clerk of the Legislature transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States Congress, to the United States Secretary of Transportation, and to the Nebraska Congressional Delegation.

Laid over.

Dear Madam President and Senators:

Engrossed Legislative Bill 334 was received in my office on March 9, 1993.

LB 334 adds the collection and dissemination of information regarding the part-time labor force in Nebraska and how it affects the economy of the state, to the discretionary authority of the Department of Labor.

Undoubtedly, this is a desirable activity to the extent that the Department can collect such data using available federal funds or existing state funds. Therefore, this bill was signed by me on March 12, 1993 and delivered to the Secretary of State.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 93014

DATE: March 9, 1993

SUBJECT: Permit for hauling baled livestock forage.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Merton L. Dierks
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
John E. Brown, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion regarding whether amended LB 153 would conflict with Neb. Rev. Stat. § 39-6,181 (1988). For the reasons stated below, we believe that it does not. You further ask that if LB 153 does conflict with § 39-6,181, can the conflict be removed if LB 153 is not amended as proposed? Because we see no conflict between LB 153 and § 39-6,181, we do not consider the second question.

LB 153, as amended, would allow the Nebraska Department of Roads to issue permits for the movement of vehicles and loads up to 15 feet in width, when such vehicles were picking up, delivering, or returning unloaded from, the delivery of baled livestock forage. The permits in question would cost $20.00, and would be valid for a period of one calendar year. Baled livestock forage is a load which can be dismantled or reduced in size without great difficulty, and therefore, a permit for hauling livestock forage could not issue under § 39-6,181, which provides, in part:

> No permit shall be issued under subdivisions (a) or (b) of this subsection for a vehicle carrying a load unless such vehicle is loaded with an object which exceeds the size or weight limitations and which object cannot be dismantled or reduced in size or weight without great difficulty and which of necessity must be moved over the highways to reach its intended destination.

The permit contemplated by amended LB 153 is not "issued under subdivisions (a) or (b)," of § 39-6,181, but instead is issued under Neb. Rev. Stat. § 39-6,100, as amended. The overwidth permits for divisible loads contemplated by amended LB 153 are not unlike the overweight permits for divisible loads currently issued by the Nebraska Department of Roads. The Department of Roads currently issues permits for overweight "divisible loads", that would be in conflict with the above-quoted portion of § 39-6,181, if such permits were issued pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) of § 39-6,181. For example, overweight permits for "trucks with an enclosed body and compacting mechanism," garbage trucks, are issued by the Department pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. § 39-6,185(3) (1988). Presumably, a garbage truck carries a load that can be dismantled or reduced in size without great difficulty. A permit for an overweight garbage truck would therefore conflict with the above-quoted portion of § 39-6,181 if such permit were issued under § 39-6,181. Permits for overweight garbage trucks, however, are issued under § 39-6,185(3) and Rule 008.02, Title 408, Chapter 1, of the Department of Roads Rules and Regulations. The permit authority set out in amended LB 153 is no different from the permit authority provided by § 39-6,185(3), neither of which are in conflict with § 39-6,181.

You have not asked about the propriety of issuing a permit for the movement of vehicles 15 feet in width on Nebraska highways which have, in many cases, travel lanes of only 12 feet in width. However, in view of the obvious danger to drivers of such vehicles and to others using the highways, we would comment that some provision should be added to the proposed legislation to protect against the potential loss of life and property that could, in all probability, follow the unrestricted issuance of such permits.

Sincerely,
DON STENBERG
Attorney General

Opinion No. 93015

DATE: March 15, 1993

SUBJECT: LB790 - A proposal to restrict public issue picketing and prohibit "interference" with medical facilities, personnel, and patients.

REQUESTED BY: Senator John Lindsay

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Steve Grasz, Deputy Attorney General

You have requested an Attorney General's Opinion concerning the constitutionality of LB790, a proposal to restrict public issue picketing and prohibit "interference" with medical facilities, personnel, and patients.

LB790 provides in part, as follows:

> Sec. 3. A person shall not prevent or act in concert with other persons with the intent to prevent an individual from entering or exiting a medical facility or providing or obtaining medical services by taking any of the following actions:
> (1) Detaining the individual;
>
> (2) Obstructing, impeding, or hindering the individual's passage;
>
> (3) Menacing, threatening, coercing, intimidating, or frightening such person in any manner;
>
> (4) Undertaking any other action which would prevent an individual from entering or exiting a medical facility;
>
> (5) Following or intercepting a medical professional or medical patient to or from his or her place of work, school, home, or lodging or about the city against the will of the person; or
>
> (6) Picketing or patrolling the place of residence of medical personnel or medical patients or any street, alley, road, highway, or other place where such persons my be, or in the vicinity thereof, against the will of such persons.
> A person who violates this section commits a Class I misdemeanor for a first offense and a Class IV felony for second and subsequent offenses.

This proposed legislation is similar to LB818, introduced in 1991. In Op.Atty.Gen. No. 91035 (May 2, 1991), this office examined the provisions of LB818 and found them to violate both the Nebraska and U.S. Constitution. We likewise conclude LB790 violates fundamental provisions of constitutional law.

Section 2 of LB790 expressly limits application of the statute to "physical activity" which "shall not include only speech." Thus, unlike LB818, LB790 attempts to avoid punishing "pure speech," or speech without any accompanying conduct. However, this provision is not sufficient to save the proposal from constitutional difficulty. Section 3(3) prohibits acting with the intent to prevent an individual from entering or exiting a medical facility or providing or obtaining medical services by "menacing, threatening, coercing, intimidating, or frightening such person in any manner." Section 6 prohibits "picketing or patrolling the place of residence of medical personnel or medical patients or any street, alley, road, highway, or other place where such persons may be, or in the vicinity thereof, against the will of such persons." As the Eighth Circuit has stated,

> {P}icketing is not pure speech, because it involves conduct and need not include spoken words. Nevertheless, '{t}here is no doubt that as a general matter peaceful picketing and leafletting are expressive > activities involving 'speech' protected by the First Amendment.' . . . More specifically, '{t}here can be no doubt that . . . peaceful picketing on the public streets and sidewalks in residential neighborhoods {constitutes} expressive conduct that falls within the First Amendments' preserve.'

Pursley v. City of Fayettville, Ark., 820 F.2d 951, 954 (8th Cir. 1987). Thus, picketing, although it involves conduct, is still protected by the First Amendment.

LB790 makes picketing "any street, alley, road, highway, or other place" where medical personnel or patients may be "or in the vicinity thereof" a criminal offense (Class I misdemeanor for a first offense and a Class IV felony for a second or subsequent offense). This provision is repugnant to the free speech clause of the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States as well as that of the Constitution of Nebraska. See Op. Atty. Gen. No. 91035. As we have previously stated:

> Article I, §5 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska provides, "Every person may freely speak . . . on all subjects. . . ." Similarly, the first amendment to the Constitution of the United States, as applied to the states through the fourteenth amendment, provides: "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech. . . ."
> As the United States Supreme Court stated in Boos v. Barry, 485 U.S. 312, 108 S.Ct. 1157, 99 L.Ed.2d 333 (1988),
>
> {T}he First Amendment reflects a 'profound national commitment' to the principle that 'debate on public issues should be uninhibited, robust, and wide-open.' (citation omitted), and {we} have consistently commented on the central importance of protecting speech on public issues . . . This has led us to scrutinize carefully any restrictions on public issue picketing.
> Id. at 343 (emphasis added). Where such picketing occurs on public streets and sidewalks, "the government's ability to restrict expressive activity 'is very limited.'" Id. (quoting United States v. Grace, 461 U.S. at 177).

Id. See also Frisby v. Schultz, 487 U.S. 474, 108 S.Ct. 2495 (1988). In Frisby the Court made it clear that "a public street does not lose its status as a traditional public forum simply because it runs through a residential neighborhood." Id. at 2501.

LB790 attempts to impose a blanket prohibition on picketing anywhere remotely near medical personnel or patients. Such a restriction is not narrowly tailored to serve a significant government interest and does not leave open ample alternative channels of communication. Frisby, 108 S.Ct. at 2501; Pursley, 820 F.2d at 955. Thus, LB790's attempt to criminalize picketing any street or other place where medical personnel or patients may be is clearly unconstitutional.

The provisions of LB790 prohibiting "menacing, threatening, coercing, intimidating, or frightening . . . in any manner," if upheld at all, would be judicially narrowed to encompass only unprotected "fighting words." See Nash v. Chandler, 848 F.2d 567, 569 (5th Cir.

1988); Howard Gault Co. v. Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc., 848 F.2d 544, 561 (5th Cir. 1988).

> As the Supreme Court has stated, "in public debate our citizens must tolerate insulting and even outrageous speech in order to provide "adequate 'breathing space' for the freedoms protected by the First Amendment." " Boos v. Barry, 99 L.Ed.2d at 345.
>
> The Fourteenth Amendment does not permit a State to make criminal the peaceful expression of unpopular views. "{A} function of free speech under our system of government is to invite dispute. It may indeed best serve its high purpose when it induces a condition of unrest, creates dissatisfaction with conditions as they are, or even stirs people to anger. Speech is often provocative and challenging. It may strike at prejudices and preconceptions and have profound unsettling effects as it presses for acceptance of an idea. . . ."
> Edwards v. South Carolina, 372 U.S. 229, 83 S.Ct. 680, 9 L.Ed.2d 697, 703 (1963) (quoting Terminiello v. Chicago, 337 U.S. 1, 4 (1949)).

Op.Atty.Gen. No. 91035 at 7. As a federal court recently stated, > Attempts to persuade another to action are clearly within the scope of the First Amendment. Thomas v. Collins, 323 U.S. 516, 537, 65 S.Ct. 315, 326, 89 L.Ed. 430 (1945). The fact that the defendants' speech was intended to persuade patients to forego their abortions or employees to leave their employment at an abortion-providing clinic does not, in itself, corrupt the speech or diminish its protection under the Constitution. See Thornhill v. Alabama, 310 U.S. 88, 99, 60 S.Ct. 736, 742, 84 L.Ed. 1093 (1940). That this expression was designed to have an "offensive" or "coercive" effect is of little significance provided that the manner of expression retained its peaceful nature. NAACP v. Claiborne Hardware Co., 458 U.S. 886, 911, 102 S.Ct. 3409, 3424, 73 L.Ed.2d 1215 (1982).

Northeast Women's Center, Inc. v. McMonagle, 670 F.Supp. 1300, 1308 (Ed.Pa. 1987)(emphasis added).

Even if application of section 3(3) of LB790 was limited to "fighting words," the existence of such broad language in state statutes would have a chilling effect on protected speech. "The existence of such a statute, which readily lends itself to harsh and discriminatory enforcement by local prosecuting officials, against particular groups deemed to merit their displeasure, results in a continuous and pervasive restraint on all freedom of discussion that might reasonably be regarded as within its purview." Thornhill v. State of Alabama, 310 U.S. 88, 97-98 (1939) (invalidating Alabama picketing statute). See also Gooding v. Wilson, 405 U.S. 518, 92 S.Ct. 1103, 31 L.Ed.2d 405, 413 (1972) ("{P}ersons whose expression is constitutionally protected may well refrain from exercising their rights for fear of criminal sanctions provided by a statute susceptible of application to protected expression."). As one federal court stated with regard to a Texas statute, "As presently drawn, the statute manifestly could have a chilling effect on those who are unclear regarding what is unlawful, and these individuals, on that account, well might restrict their conduct to that which is unquestionably safe. Nash v. State of Texas, 632 F.Supp. 951, 980 (E.D. Tex. 1986), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 848 F.2d 567 (1988)(quoting Baggett v. Bullitt, 377 U.S. 360, 372 (1964)).

LB790 is not narrowly drawn to punish only unprotected speech and is susceptible of application to protected expression. Thus, Sections 3(3) and 3(6) of the bill are unconstitutional. See Members of City Council of City of Los Angeles v. Taxpayers For Vincent, 466 U.S. 789, 801 (1984). It must be remembered that "Speech does not lose its protected character, simply because it may embarrass others or coerce them into action. . . ." Id. at 974 (quoting NAACP v. Claiborne Hardware, 458 U.S. 886, 102 S.Ct. 3409, 3424 (1982).

In addition, Sections 3(4) and 3(5) are likely unconstitutionally vague and overbroad since they purport to criminalize "undertaking any other action" which would prevent entry or exit of a medical facility, and also "intercepting" medical professionals or patients "about the city." See Op.Atty.Gen. No. 91035 at 2-5. These provisions forbid acts in terms so vague that men of common intelligence must necessarily guess at their meaning and differ as to their application. See State ex. rel. Douglas v. Herrington, 206 Neb. 516, 294 N.W.2d 330 (1980). These provisions are not precise and narrowly drawn permissible restrictions on protected first amendment activity, but rather are overly broad prohibitions.

In conclusion, LB790 would criminalize activity protected by the First Amendment and the Nebraska Constitution, and is thus unconstitutional.

Sincerely yours,
DON STENBERG

"Section 1. Sections 1 to 9 of this act shall be known and may be cited as the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act.

Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that:

(1)(a) Residents of rural Nebraska frequently encounter difficulties in obtaining medical care due to the lack of health care providers, facilities, and services, (b) many rural communities experience problems in recruiting and retaining health care providers, (c) rural residents are often required to travel long distances in order to obtain health care services, (d) elderly and uninsured persons constitute a high proportion of the population in rural Nebraska, (e) many rural hospitals are experiencing declining patient revenue and are being forced to reconsider the scope and nature of the health care services they provide, (f) the physical and economic stresses of rural living can lead to an increased need for mental health services in rural Nebraska, (g) the conditions described in this section can lead to situations in which residents of rural Nebraska receive a lower level of health care services than their urban counterparts, and (h) some of the conditions described in this subsection also exist in underserved portions of metropolitan areas within the state;

(2) The health care industry is a vital component of the economic base of many rural communities and that the maintenance and enhancement of this industry can play a significant role in efforts to further the economic development of rural communities;

(3) The inherent limitations imposed upon health care delivery mechanisms by the rural environment can be partially overcome through a greater emphasis on the development of health care systems that emphasize the linkage and integration of health care resources in neighboring communities as well as the development of new resources; and

(4) Postsecondary education of health care professionals is important to the welfare of the state. The Legislature further recognizes and declares that the state can help alleviate the problems of maldistribution and shortages of health care professionals through programs offering financial incentives to practice in areas of shortage.

Sec. 3. The purposes of the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act shall be to (1) establish a student loan program that will provide financial incentives to medical, dental, pharmacy, nursing, and allied health students who are enrolled in the rural health opportunities program at the University of Nebraska Medical Center, (2) establish a community loan repayment program that will constitute an agreement between the health care provider and the community in which services will be performed, (3) provide for the administration of loan pool funds by the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska or by an appropriate department of the University of Nebraska Medical Center designated by the board, and (4) provide for an appropriation by the Legislature that, when matched equally with federal, private, or other such funds not appropriated by the Legislature, may be loaned to students enrolled in the program.

Sec. 4. For purposes of the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act:

(1) Allied health professions shall include, but not be limited to, medical technology, physician assistants practice, physical therapy, clinical perfusion, diagnostic medical sonography, nuclear medicine technology, radiologic technology, medical nutrition, and radiation therapy technology;

(2) Designated medical profession shortage area shall mean such areas as determined by the Nebraska Rural Health Advisory Commission pursuant to section 71-5665;

(3) Designated professional practice area shall mean those areas of the state not included in the federal census standard metropolitan statistical areas;

(4) Eligible disciplines shall mean family practice, general practice, general internal medicine, general pediatrics, general surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, psychiatry, dentistry, dental hygiene, pharmacy, nursing, and allied health professions; and

(5) Full-time practice shall mean a minimum employment of forty hours per week.

Sec. 5. (1) There is hereby created the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Pool Fund. The fund shall consist of funds appropriated by the Legislature, other matching funds, and student loan repayments which are made pursuant to the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act. Any money in the fund available for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer pursuant to sections 72-1237 to 72-1276.

(2) The fund shall be administered by the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska or an appropriate department of the University of Nebraska Medical Center designated by the board for the purpose of making loans to students in eligible disciplines. On or before September 1 of each year, the board shall present a report to the Governor and the Clerk of the Legislature describing the use of the fund, and the report shall include a financial statement of the fund.

Sec. 6. To be eligible for a student loan under the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act, a student shall be enrolled in the rural health opportunities program and be a student at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. In determining the eligibility of a student, consideration shall be given to (1) the motivation of the student to practice the eligible discipline in a designated professional practice area in Nebraska, (2) the motivation and preference of the student toward the eligible discipline, and (3) other factors which would influence a choice to practice in a designated professional practice area in Nebraska. The first consideration shall be given to students who are found to be most likely to practice in a designated medical profession shortage area. The student shall be enrolled in a program of studies for an eligible discipline and shall complete such program with satisfactory progress as determined by the academic unit in which the student is enrolled. The student shall also sign an agreement with the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska which establishes loan repayment schedules pursuant to section 7 of this act.

Sec. 7. (1) The maximum amount of the student loans provided by the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act per student per year shall be the amount of the tuition per year for the student.

(2) Each student loan recipient shall execute an agreement for repayment of any loan received under the act with the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska which includes the following terms:

(a) The borrower shall practice an eligible discipline full-time in a designated professional practice area for a period which is the equivalent of the number of years of study for which loans were received. If the borrower practices less than full-time, the duration of employment shall be extended to a period of time which would be the equivalent of full-time practice for the number of years of study for which loans were received;

(b) The borrower shall sign an agreement with a sponsoring community or communities within six months after his or her completion of formal education which may include a period not to exceed five years to complete specialty training. If no community sponsor can be found to assume responsibility for the loan payments as provided in section 8 of this act, the borrower shall repay the loan. Repayment shall begin within one year of completion of formal training, which may include a period not to exceed five years to complete specialty training. Repayment shall be completed within ten years after the student's graduation from the health profession program;

(c) If the borrower practices in a Nebraska standard metropolitan statistical area or practices outside Nebraska, the borrower shall repay two hundred percent of the outstanding loan principal, and if such borrower does not practice in an eligible discipline, the borrower shall repay three hundred percent of the outstanding loan principal, any other statute to the contrary notwithstanding. Such repayment shall be with interest at a rate of one point below the prime interest rate, shall commence within three months of completion of formal training which may include a period not to exceed five years to complete specialty training, and shall be completed within three to five years;

(d) If a borrower determines during the first or second year of health care professional education that his or her commitment to the loan program cannot be honored, the borrower shall repay the outstanding loan principal with interest at a rate of one point below the prime interest rate no later than one year after graduation. Such repayment shall commence at the time it is determined by the borrower that his or her commitment cannot be honored;

(e) If the borrower discontinues the course of study for which the loan was granted, the borrower shall repay one hundred percent of the outstanding loan principal with interest at a rate of one point below the prime interest rate. Such repayment shall commence within six months of the date of discontinuation of the course of study and shall be completed within the number of years for which loans were awarded;

(f) All loan payments shall be made directly to the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Pool Fund in monthly payments; and

(g) In the event of a borrower's total and permanent disability or death, the unpaid debt accrued under the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act shall be canceled.

Sec. 8. (1) The University of Nebraska Medical Center, the Office of Rural Health, and the Department of Health shall develop, implement, and coordinate a program by which communities or groups of communities within designated professional practice areas provide repayment agreements for students receiving loans under the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act. Such communities shall sign agreements with the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska to assume the student's loan repayment responsibility contingent upon continued practice in the community or communities by the loan recipient. Whenever possible, an elected official of the community or communities should be a party to the agreement.

(2) If a sponsoring community is found, the community or communities, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, and the student shall execute an agreement which states the terms of employment and compensation and states that the community or communities shall assume the loans of the student provided by the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act and shall repay the loans with interest at a rate of one point below the prime interest rate and retire one year's worth of loan debt for each year of full-time practice in the community or communities. If the practice is less than full-time the loan shall be retired accordingly. Payments by the community or communities shall be made directly to the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Pool Fund in quarterly payments. The term of the agreement shall be equal to the number of years of study for which loans were received if the practice is full-time or extended to a duration which is the equivalent if the practice is less than full-time.

Sec. 9. The Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska shall adopt and promulgate rules and regulations necessary to the administration of the Rural Health Opportunities Loan Act.

Sec. 10. It is the intent of the Legislature that the University of Nebraska Medical Center develop a plan to increase the number of graduates of the center who specialize in primary care fields, who take residencies in primary care fields, and who establish practices in rural areas and other medically underserved areas of the state. The plan shall include a listing of the barriers that need to be addressed and the resources needed and should also address methodologies to provide adequate numbers of graduates in the fields of physical therapy, nursing, physician assistant, occupational therapy, and other health care professions in the rural areas and in other medically underserved areas of the state. The plan shall be submitted to the Legislature not later than November 1, 1993.

Sec. 11. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and take effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.".

The normal form of the formula annuity shall be an annuity payable monthly during the remainder of the member's life with the provision that in the event of his or her death before sixty monthly payments have been made the monthly payments will be continued to his or her estate or to the beneficiary he or she has designated until sixty monthly payments have been made. A member may elect to receive in lieu of the normal form of annuity an actuarially equivalent annuity in any optional form provided by section 79-1530.

Final average compensation for full-time employees shall be determined by dividing the member's total compensation subject to required deposits for the three fiscal years in which such compensation was the highest by thirty-six. Final average compensation for part-time employees shall be determined by dividing total adjusted compensation subject to required deposits for the three fiscal years in which such adjusted compensation was the highest by thirty-six. If a member has such compensation for less than three such fiscal years, his or her final average compensation shall be determined by dividing his or her total compensation in all such years by twelve times the total number of years of his or her service therefor. Adjusted compensation for any year shall be equal to actual pay times the ratio of one to the actual credited service for such year. ~~A member shall have acquired the equivalent of one-half year of service or more as a public school employee under the retirement system following August 24, 1975, to be eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity using only five fiscal years in the determination of his or her final average compensation.~~

All formula annuities shall be paid from the Annuity Reserve Account. Upon the granting of a formula annuity, there shall be transferred to the Annuity Reserve Account: (a) From the Service Annuity Account, the value of the service annuity which would otherwise be payable; (b) from the School Employees Savings Account, the accumulated contributions of the member; and (c) from the School Employers Deposit Account, the value of the formula annuity in excess of the amounts transferred from the Service Annuity Account and the School Employees Savings Account. The amounts transferred from the Service Annuity Account at any time after such member attains sixty years of age and prior to his or her sixty-fifth birthday or thirty-five years of creditable service shall be on an actuarially reduced basis.

A person receiving a retirement benefit may accept employment in a postsecondary school under the control and management of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, or any other state agency without having to waive retirement payments, without having to notify the retirement board, and without being subject to any withholding of future retirement payments.

Sec. 4. (1) There is hereby created the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund. Required deposits from the compensation of members and employers shall be accumulated in the fund to provide a cost-of-living benefit adjustment for each person who is retired or each surviving beneficiary who is receiving a retirement annuity from the School Retirement System of the State of Nebraska. The purpose of the cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be to reflect changes in the cost-of-living and wage levels that have occurred subsequent to the date of retirement.

(2) Member contributions into the fund shall equal three-tenths of one percent of compensation. Employer contributions into the fund shall be one hundred one percent of member contributions to the fund.

(3) Upon verification by the actuary, when amounts accumulated in the fund are sufficient to provide a three percent cost-of-living benefit adjustment for all qualified persons, the retirement board shall determine the amount of the cost-of-living benefit adjustment as provided by this section for each member and beneficiary. The retirement board shall make transfers to and from the School Employees System Reserve Fund and any other fund of the School Retirement System of the State of Nebraska administered by the retirement board in order to comply with this section.

(4) It is the intent of the Legislature that a cost-of-living benefit adjustment provided in this section shall be granted automatically in future years whenever funds are sufficient for such a benefit and the increase in the cost-of-living or wage levels justifies the adjustment as provided by this section. The cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be the equivalent of three percent of benefits provided pursuant to the School Employees Retirement Act. The cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be paid to a retired person or surviving beneficiary during his or her life.

(5) For members who retired prior to the operative date of this act, the cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be calculated based on the amount of benefit the member is receiving on the operative date of this act. For members who retire after the operative date of this act, the cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be calculated based on the amount of benefit the member receives on the date of retirement. Any subsequent cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be calculated based on three percent of the amount of benefit the member is receiving on the operative date of this act or three percent of the amount of benefit the member will receive on the date of retirement if he or she retires subsequent to the operative date of this act.

Sec. 5. That section 79-1545, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-1545. All assets of the retirement system shall be credited, according to the purpose for which they are held, to the Expense Fund, to the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund, or to one of five accounts in the School Retirement Fund, namely, the School Employees Savings Account, the School Employers Deposit Account, the Service Annuity Account, the Annuity Reserve Account, and the Contingent Account. Any money in these accounts or funds available for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer pursuant to sections 72-1237 to ~~72-1269~~ 72-1276.

Sec. 6. That section 79-1549, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-1549. A Contingent Account is hereby created (1) to facilitate the crediting of regular interest on the amounts in the various other accounts, with the exception of the Expense Fund, (2) to fund the adjusted supplemental retirement benefit provided by section 79-1566, and (3) to provide an account to cover any special requirements of the Annuity Reserve Account or the Expense Fund, insofar as the state is responsible for such accounts or fund. All income, interest, and dividends derived from the deposits and investments authorized by the School Employees Retirement Act shall be paid into the Contingent Account. The retirement board may accept gifts, devises, and bequests. Any funds which may come into the possession of the retirement system in this manner or which may be transferred from the School Employees Savings Account by reason of the lack of a claimant or because of a surplus in any fund or account described in section 79-1545 other than the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund, or any other money the disposition of which is not otherwise provided for in the act, shall be credited to the Contingent Account. The interest allowed by the retirement board to each of the funds or accounts shall be paid to such funds or accounts from the Contingent Account or shall be used to fund the adjusted supplemental retirement benefit provided by section 79-1566. Any deficit occurring in the Annuity Reserve Account or in the Expense Fund, insofar as the state is responsible for such account or fund, shall be met by payments to the fund or account in question from the Contingent Account. Annually the retirement board shall estimate the amount of money deemed necessary to pay the obligation levied against the Contingent Account, including regular interest. If such amount exceeds the revenue estimated to accrue to the fund or account for that year, such excess shall be certified to the State Treasurer and shall, on warrant of the Director of Administrative Services, be transferred from funds appropriated by the state for such purpose to the Contingent Account.

Sec. 7. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1993.

Sec. 8. That original sections 79-1501.01, 79-1520, 79-1522.01, 79-1545, and 79-1549, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, are repealed.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 447. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendment to LB 447:
AM0889

1. Strike the original sections and insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. The Legislature finds that:

(1) The livestock industry is vitally important to the State of Nebraska. It generates income and jobs not only to those who own and sell livestock, but to grain farmers, livestock processing operations, and other agribusinesses. Since Nebraska livestock producers, must compete with other states where livestock may not be subject to property taxation, there is a compelling and legitimate state interest that a rational basis exists to support the different classification and taxation of livestock;

(2) There is considerable case law and statutory law which recognizes the unique nature of livestock and how it should be legally classified and taxed. Section 9-109, Uniform Commercial Code, recognizes the legal paradox of livestock and treats it as a farm product. The Uniform Commercial Code considers animals in a herd of livestock, whether acquired by purchase or result from natural increase, as farm products as long as they are in the possession of a debtor engaged in farming operations and have not been subjected to a manufacturing process; and

(3) The distinction between livestock acquired by purchase and those that are a result from natural increase becomes confusing when the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, allows the deduction for income tax purposes livestock acquired for work, breeding, or dairy purposes unless included as inventory. The legal paradox is that while the Federal Tax Reform Act required the expense capitalization of raised breeding livestock in 1987, Congress subsequently repealed the provision because of the questionable validity of the deductions and classifications.

Sec. 2. The Department of Revenue shall on or before December 31, 1993, examine and document the incidence of a personal property tax system which subjects certain breeding livestock to property taxation based on its depreciated cost while other breeding livestock, as well as other livestock, is nondepreciable and exempt from taxation.

This ~~; AND PROVIDED FURTHER, that the~~ immunity shall extend only to a natural person who, in obedience to a subpoena, gives testimony under oath or produces evidence, documentary or otherwise, under oath. Such order shall take effect twenty days after the service thereof, unless otherwise provided, and shall continue in force; either for a period which may be designated therein or until changed or revoked by the commission.

53-101. Sections 53-101 to 53-1,121 and sections 2 to 4 of this act shall be known and may be cited as the Nebraska Liquor Control Act.

Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that every year hundreds of people, many of them teenagers, are seriously injured or killed as a result of alcohol-related accidents. Beer appears to be the most popular alcoholic beverage throughout the state. In recognition of such facts it is the intent of the Legislature, through the implementation of section 3 of this act, to protect the public health, safety, and welfare of all Nebraskans.

Sec. 3. When any person licensed to sell alcoholic liquor at retail sells beer for consumption off the premises in a container with a liquid capacity of five or more gallons or eighteen and ninety-two hundredths or more liters, the seller shall record the date of the sale, the keg identification number, the purchaser's name and address, and the number of the purchaser's motor vehicle operator's license, state identification card, or military identification, if such military identification contains a picture of the purchaser, together with the purchaser's signature. (2) A licensee may require a deposit of not more than fifty dollars from a person purchasing beer for consumption off the premises in a container described in section 3 of this act. Such deposit may be retained by the licensee, in the amount of actual damages, if upon return the container or any associated equipment is damaged or if the keg identification number has been unlawfully tampered with, altered, or removed and such tampering, alteration, or removal has been reported to a law enforcement officer.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 93018

DATE: March 19, 1993

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 619, an Act Relating To Crimes

REQUESTED BY: Senator Dwite A. Pedersen, 39th District

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Sam Grimminger, Deputy Attorney General

You have inquired whether LB 619, which provides for a surcharge to be paid by criminal defendants, is valid under the Nebraska constitution. The surcharge, applied to criminal defendants who are convicted, plead guilty, or nolo contendre, is to be deposited into the Victims' Compensation Fund and the Crime Victim and Witness Assistance Fund.

In our opinion, this Act and the mechanism it creates to provide funding for the Victims' funds does not violate the Nebraska constitutional provisions of Article VII, Section 5, which provides that any fines or penalties be paid to the counties to be applied to the common schools. Although the Nebraska Supreme Court as recently as 1990 declined to determine the constitutionality of restitution as provided in Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 29-2280 to 29-2289 (Reissue 1989), it is our opinion that the surcharge would not operate as a fine or penalty for the purposes of Neb. Const. Art. VII, § 5, but would properly be characterized as liquidated damages collected for the benefit of those who have suffered uncompensated injury by the wrongful acts of criminals.

As a preliminary matter, we note that a statute is presumed to be constitutional, and all reasonable doubts will be resolved in favor of its constitutionality. In Re Application A-16642, 236 Neb. 671, 463 N.W.2d 591 (1990). Further, the party claiming a statute to be unconstitutional has the burden of clearly establishing its unconstitutionality. Haman v. Marsh, 237 Neb. 699, 467 N.W2d 836, (1991). The Nebraska Supreme Court is also obligated to endeavor to interpret a challenged statute in a manner consistent with the Constitution. In Re Application U-2, 226 Neb. 594, 413 N.W.2d 290.

Section 5, Article VII of the Constitution provides: "All fines {and} penalties...arising under the general laws of this state, shall belong and be paid over to the counties respectively...All such fines {and} penalties shall be appropriated exclusively to the use and support of the common schools...where the {penalty or fine} shall accrue." In the drafting of LB 619, it appears the legislature was aware of the above section, as the statute provides: "In addition to any fine or other penalty prescribed by law, a defendant...shall be assessed a surcharge of twenty-five dollars." LB 619 § 1, (1) (1993) (emphasis added). Section 1 (5) further distinguishes between the surcharge and penalties and fines. It is clearly legislative intent that the surcharge not be classified as a fine or penalty for the purposes of Article VII, Section 5. That intent does not control, however, if the Supreme Court determines that despite the legislative intent the legal effect of the surcharge is as a penalty or fine.

Whether an amount collected from a defendant in a civil or criminal action is a penalty or fine has been recurrently addressed by the Supreme Court. See Graham v. Kibble, 9 Neb. 182, 2 N.W. 455 (1879), Phoenix Ins. Co. v. Bohman, 28 Neb. 251, 44 N.W. 111 (1889), Clearwater Bank v. Kurkonski, 45 Neb. 1, 63 N.W. 133 (1895), Sunderland Bros. Co. v. Chicago, B. & Q. R.R. Co., 104 Neb. 319, 177 N.W. 156 (1920), reh'g 104 Neb. 322, 179 N.W. 546 (1920). The Court has continued to make individual determinations under the section, and a review of the more recent cases is illuminating.

In School District of the City of Omaha v. Adams, 147 Neb. 1060, 26 N.W.2d 24 (1946), an amount was collected from the estate of the deceased as a statutory penalty for failure to list certain property for taxation. In the course of determining the proper allocation of funds between the school district and other governmental entities, the Court addressed the constitutionality of the tax penalty in light of Article VII, Section 5:

> Clearly a statutory provision for liquidated damages in favor of a private person where it is not so oppressive as to offend constitutional requirements as to due process, although in the form of a penalty, does not create a penalty that must be apportioned to the use and support of the common schools within the meaning of Section 5, Article VII, of the Constitution.

Id. at 1064. The Court drew a distinction between remedial and penal statutes, in that penal statutes are enforced for punishment and deterrence. Remedial statutes are for the purpose of adjusting the rights of the parties as between themselves in respect to the wrong alleged. The Court in Adams noted the tax penalty served a punitive function as to the wrongdoer, but was remedial as to the taxing bodies. Thus the penalty was held to not be of the type contemplated in Article VII, Section 5. Id. at 1066.

Where damages of a party are difficult to measure, the Court has held that liquidated damages statutes will not be construed as a penalty:

> It is clearly within the province of the Legislature to provide for liquidated damages in favor of a private person, although in the form of a penalty, if the amount provided bears a reasonable relation to the actual damages which might be sustained and which damages are not susceptible of measurement by ordinary pecuniary standards. But where it appears that the provision provides for the payment of an amount clearly in excess of compensatory damages, it is a penalty and violates the due process clause of the Constitution when considered with Article VII, Section 5, thereof.

Abel v. Conover, 170 Neb. 926, 104 N.W.2d 684 (1960). Although the matter in Abel was civil rather than criminal, the reasoning of the court should be relevant in any restitution analysis. The liquidated damages in LB 619 also differ from contractual liquidated damages in two important respects. The surcharge in LB 619 is applied to a fund for all victims of crime, not just for damages between the parties, and the criminal may have paid an amount for fines or penalties or in restitution to the actual victim. However, the mechanism of funding a reserve for the payment of compensation is more efficient and may provide for compensation to victims when the criminal is unable to pay any amount of restitution. In addition, the twenty-five dollar amount is an insignificant amount given the difficulty in determining any precise amount of damages that was inflicted on victims in criminal acts. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 81-1817 (Reissue 1987) provides that compensation for losses and expenses are compensable from the Victims' Compensation Fund only to the extent the victim is not compensated by the offender or certain other parties. Thus the legislature, by charging criminals an amount for liquidating damages which victims have not recovered, provides the victims with a compensatory amount. The surcharge is not punitive in nature.

As early as 1913 the propriety of liquidated damages in a compensatory scheme was clearly established. The United States Supreme Court, surveying Nebraska case law in this area noted: "These cases (referring to Graham, Phoenix Insurance, and others finding penalties) are distinguishable...and the {Nebraska Supreme Court}, in the case at bar, explicitly distinguished them from cases in which liquidated damages were provided for. In other words, the court decided that the statute imposed only compensatory damages, fixing them at a sum certain because of the difficulty 'of the ascertainment of the actual damages suffered by the aggrieved person.'" Chicago, B. & Q. R.R. Co. v. Cram, 228 U.S. 70, 84 (1913) (emphasis added). LB 619 may come closest to resembling an early case dealing with a county official convicted of embezzlement. In Everson v. State, 66 Neb. 154, 92 N.W. 137 (1902), the convicted criminal was statutorily required to pay double the amount embezzled for the use of the party whose money he had embezzled. The court admitted the amount was a fine in the most accurate definition of that term, but stated: "{T}his court has said, in a case involving the same principle, that Section 5 of Article 8 (now article 7) was not intended to deprive the legislature of the power to pass statutes of this character, whereby a fixed sum, in the nature of liquidated damages, is given to one who has suffered injury by the wrongful act..." Id. at 158.

In DeCamp v. City of Lincoln, 202 Neb. 727, 277 N.W.2d 83 (1979), the Court determined that court costs were not penalties or fines within the meaning of Article VII, Section 5 of the Constitution. Court costs were recognized as different from fines and penalties at the time of enactment of the constitution, so it followed that the framers were aware that they would not be included in the provisions of Article VII, Section 5. In reply to the plaintiffs contention that the court costs were actually penalties in disguise, the Court stated: "The purpose of the costs appears to be compensatory and the record does not contradict that conclusion." Id. at 735. This was contrasted with an earlier case, School District of McCook v. City of McCook, 163 Neb. 817, 81 N.W.2d 224 (1957) in which the Court determined that amounts paid for parking meter violations were punitive in nature. As in Adams, the determination of the punitive or compensatory nature of the statute continued to be controlling.

However, the Court in 1990 left open the issue of whether restitution is constitutional under Article VII, Section 5. In State v. Yost, 235 Neb. 325, 455 N.W.2d 162 (1990), an award including restitution was reviewed for abuse of discretion. The court noted on it's own volition that an issue as to the constitutionality of restitution existed. The court cited State v. War Bonnet, 229 Neb 681, 428 N.W.2d 508 (1988) and State v. Duran, 224 Neb. 774, 401 N.W.2d 482 (1987) holding that restitution ordered by a court is a criminal penalty imposed as punishment for a crime, but also cited State v. Arvizo, 233 Neb. 327, 444 N.W.2d 409 (1989) and State v. Mentzer, 233 Neb. 843, 448 N.W.2d 409 (1989) holding that restitution ordered is properly payable to the victim. The court appears to have invited a future party to challenge Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 29-2280 to 29-2289, which provide for restitution to victims.

In Duran, the Court held that restitution under Neb. Rev. Stat. § 29-2280 was a criminal penalty. They noted the use of the words "sentencing court" and "sentence" in the statute, and held that as the statute became effective after the date of the crime, to allow restitution under § 29-2280 would be invalid as an ex post facto law. In War Bonnet, the Court held that under § 29-2280 restitution was a criminal penalty, and that the defendant must be made aware of the possibility of restitution before entering a plea bargain. Both cases are distinguishable from the effect of LB 619 however, in that they deal with restitution as it applies to the defendant. As was noted in Adams, a penalty can be both punitive as to the wrongdoer, but remedial to the victim. Thus for the purposes of ex post facto laws and knowledge of possible penalties, restitution is penal in nature. However, for the purposes of Article VII, Section 5, and from the viewpoint of a victim, the surcharge is clearly compensatory in nature. The Courts decisions in Arvizo, and Mentzer allowed restitution to the victim, implicitly holding that restitution is properly payable to the victims. To be properly payable to the victims, the Court must have determined that restitution is compensatory in nature if it is applied properly in respect to its penal nature.

In our opinion, the provisions of LB 619 are compensatory in nature, and thus are not fines or penalties for the purposes of Article VII, Section 5 of the Constitution. School District of City of Omaha v. Adams, supra, DeCamp v. City of Lincoln, supra. The fact that the surcharge is a fixed amount does not alter the analysis, Abel v. Conover, supra, and Everson v. State, supra. As compensatory in nature, the surcharge is constitutional. See Op. Att'y Gen. 87-013 (Wyo. 1987).

DON STENBERG

Any city or village having a population of five thousand or less may adopt the Civil Service Act and create a civil service commission by a vote of the ~~electors~~ governing body of such city or village. Any city or village having a population of five thousand or less which has, by a vote of its governing body, adopted the Civil Service Act and created a civil service commission shall not repeal such adoption or terminate its civil service commission without having put such repeal or termination before the registered voters of such city or village at a primary or general election or special election called for such purpose and having received the approval of such repeal or termination by a majority of the registered voters voting on such question. If any city of the first class which established a civil service commission decreases in population to less than five thousand, as determined by the latest federal census, and continues to have full-time police officers or full-time firefighters, the civil service commission shall be continued for at least four years, and thereafter continued at the option of the local governing body of such city. The members of such commission shall be appointed by the appointing authority.

(2) The governing body shall by ordinance determine if the commission shall be comprised of three or five members. The members of the civil service commission shall serve without compensation. (3) Any member of the civil service commission may be removed from office for incompetency, dereliction of duty, malfeasance in office, or other good cause by the appointing authority, except that no member of the commission shall be removed until written charges have been preferred, due notice given such member, and a full hearing had before the appointing authority. Any member so removed shall have the right to appeal to the district court of the county in which such commission is located, which court shall hear and

(3) No municipality which proposes to annex territory and thereby brings new residents into the municipality shall annex such territory unless the redistricting required by subsection (2) of this section will be accomplished at least eighty days prior to the next primary election in which candidates for the governing body of the municipality are nominated.

(4)(a) No city of the first or second class shall annex any territory during the period from eighty days prior to any primary election in which candidates for the governing body of the city are nominated until the date of the general election of the same year if such annexation would bring sufficient new residents into such city to require that election districts be redrawn to maintain substantial population equality between districts.

(b) No village shall annex any territory during the period eighty days prior to the election at which members of the governing body of the village are chosen until the date of such election if such annexation would bring sufficient new residents into such village to require that election districts be redrawn to maintain substantial population equality between districts.

(c) For the purposes of this section only, a municipal annexation shall be held to have brought sufficient new residents into such municipality to require that its election districts be redrawn to maintain substantial population equality between districts if, following such annexation, the total range of deviation from the mean population of each election district, according to the most recent federal decennial census, exceeds ten percent.".

Mr. Will asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 422 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

1. Strike the original sections and insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. The Legislature finds that the State of Nebraska derives many significant benefits from public power and the unique position of the state as the only all public power state in the United States. The truncated regulatory power of the Nebraska Power Review Board over the public power entities in Nebraska reflects some of the benefits of local control of public power. The Legislature declares that it is the policy of the state that all retail electricity suppliers in the state shall be and shall remain public power entities. Other than customer-owned generators exclusively serving a portion or all of their own requirements, private power entities defined as wholesale generators, cogeneration facilities, or small power production facilities may only sell at wholesale to public power entities defined in section 2 of this act.

Sec. 2. For purposes of section 1 of this act:

(1) Cogeneration facility shall mean a facility as defined in 18 C.F.R. 292.202 (c), as of April 1, 1991;

(2) Public power entity shall mean a supplier of electricity at wholesale or retail which is a political subdivision formed pursuant to or using powers granted in Chapter 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 22, 23, or 70, an electric membership cooperative formed pursuant to or using powers granted in Chapter 21 or 70, a political subdivision formed by a joint action pursuant to or using powers granted in Chapter 13, article 8, Chapter 18, article 24, or Chapter 70, article 14, a political subdivision or an electric membership cooperative of another state operating in the State of Nebraska, or an agency or department of the federal government;

(3) Sale of electric energy at wholesale shall mean a sale of electric energy to any public power entity for resale;

(4) Small power production facility shall mean a facility that complies with the provisions of 18 C.F.R. 292.204, as of April 1, 1991; and

(5) Wholesale generator shall mean any association, firm, person, or corporation which constructs, installs, or operates electric generation and related facilities and is required to sell electric energy at wholesale by section 1 of this act.

Sec. 3. A private power entity shall not be considered a public power entity as defined in section 2 of this act or a power agency as defined in Chapter 70, article 6, and shall be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 70, article 10.

Sec. 4. Any electric energy generated by a private power entity may only be sold in the State of Nebraska if such electric energy is sold solely at wholesale to one or more suppliers of electricity with a retail service area approved by the Nebraska Power Review Board, and in such case the buyer shall have th right to arrange for the transportation of the electric energy within the State of Nebraska pursuant to Chapter 70, article 6. All such contracts shall be reported by the public power entity to the Nebraska Power Review Board within sixty days on a form specified by the board. The form shall not require the reporting of any proprietary or confidential information. If the sale is outside the State of Nebraska, the electric energy may be sold to any entity and such contract need not be reported to the board.

Sec. 5. That section 70-1001, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

70-1001. In order to provide the citizens of the state with adequate electric service at as low overall cost as possible, consistent with sound business practices, it is the policy of this state to avoid and eliminate conflict and competition between public power districts, public power and irrigation districts, individual municipalities, registered groups of municipalities, electric membership associations, ~~and~~ cooperatives, and public power entities as defined in section 2 of this act in furnishing electric energy to retail and wholesale customers, to avoid and eliminate the duplication of facilities and resources which result therefrom, and to facilitate the settlement of rate disputes between suppliers of electricity.

Sec. 6. That original section 70-1001, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, is repealed.".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 93020

DATE: March 23, 1993

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of Legislative Bill 292 and Proposed Amendments Relating to Adjustments of Retirement Benefits of the School Employees Retirement System.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Thomas R. Horgan, District No. 4
Chairperson, Nebraska Retirement Systems Committee

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Fredrick F. Neid, Assistant Attorney General

You have posed various questions regarding the constitutional validity of certain provisions of Legislative Bill 292 and proposed amendments, AM 0349 and AM 0879. By letter under date of March 18, 1993, you have indicated that the "cost-of-living benefit language included in AM 0879 was advanced from the Nebraska Retirement Systems Committee."

The first question you have asked is whether Legislative Bill 292 or the amendments provide an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority to the Public Employees Retirement Board by requiring it to provide a cost of living adjustment "in the discretion of the board" or "when amounts accumulated are sufficient"? It is our opinion that the provisions for cost of living increases do not constitute an improper delegation of legislative authority to the Public Employees Retirement Board.

Section 4 of LB 292 states:

> There is hereby created the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund. The Board may use the fund to provide a three-percent cost-of-living adjustment to benefits provided pursuant to the School Employees Retirement Act. The terms of such cost-of-living adjustments shall be in the discretion of the board. The board may make transfers to the fund for the purpose stated in this section from any other fund administered by the board pursuant to the act.

Section 4 of LB 292 is modified by the provisions of AM 0879 which generally authorize cost-of-living adjustments for benefits of retired persons "whenever funds are sufficient for such a benefit and the increase in the cost-of-living or wage levels justifies the adjustment as provided by this section." Based on these statutory provisions, the Public Employees Retirement board is authorized to fund and implement a three percent cost-of-living adjustment when fund amounts in the Retirement System Reserve Fund are sufficient for this purpose. It would seem that the discretion afforded the Board is very limited and that discretion is limited as to amount and purpose. Our Supreme Court has concluded that delegation of legislative authority is permissible when that authority is limited as to amount and purpose. City of Lincoln v. Lesoing, 221 Neb. 823, 381 N.W.2d 130 (1986); Banks v. Board of Education of Chase County, 202 Neb. 717, 227 N.W.2d 76 (1979).

You next inquire whether legislation mandating cost of living adjustments requires language which specifies that the adjustment is being made to reflect changes that have occurred in the cost of living and wage levels after retirement. We are not aware of any requirement that certain specific language be utilized. This question appears to be related to the constitutional prohibition which precludes the granting of additional compensation to public officers or employees after services have been rendered. Article III, Section 19 of the Nebraska Constitution in relevant part states:

> The Legislature shall never grant any extra compensation to any public officer, agent, or servant after the services have been rendered nor to any contractor after the contract has been entered into, except that retirement benefits of retired public officers and employees may be adjusted to reflect changes in the cost of living and wage levels that have occurred subsequent to the date of retirement, . . .

(Emphasis added).

This express exception to the constitutional prohibition permits adjustments to reflect changes in the cost of living and wage levels which have occurred subsequent to retirement. The amendatory provisions of AM 0879 appear to be in accordance with the constitutional provision permitting cost of living adjustments.

The third question you have asked is whether a specified percentage increase is necessary for legislation which provides a cost of living increase, and must this percentage be associated or based on a cost of living index. We are not aware of any requirements that a specific percentage be stated in legislation which provides a cost of living increase. However, the percentage of increase implemented would necessarily be based on a cost of living index. As a practical matter, the basis for any adjustment would be a cost of living index or computation of the amount of adjustment would not be possible.

The fourth and last question you have raised is "{w}hat constitutional problems are associated with the creation of a fund which provides an on-going cost of living adjustment to retired school employees without a specific legislative enactment for each adjustment which is provided?" For the reasons that are set forth above, we do not perceive any "constitutional problems" with the proposed legislation providing cost of living adjustments for retirement benefit amounts. Such adjustments are expressly authorized by the Constitution and the legislative delegation of authority to the Board is limited both as to amount and purpose. We are aware of no problems created because each adjustment is not the subject of a separate and specific legislative enactment. With regard to retirement plans, statutory or otherwise, it is customary that a plan provision authorizing adjustments based on changes that have occurred in the cost of living not be formalized on a year to year basis. Rather, a provision authorizing cost of living adjustments on a continuing basis is the normal and commonly-accepted practice for retirement plans and programs.

Sincerely yours,
DON STENBERG

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS
Government, Military and Veterans Affairs

LEGISLATIVE BILL 690. Placed on General File.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 389. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendment to LB 389:
AM0714
1. Strike original section 1 and insert the following new section:

"Section 1. That section 2-3214, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

2-3214. (1) District directors shall be elected for four-year terms at the general election of the state. Directors shall be elected on a separate nonpartisan ballot as provided in sections 32-535 and 32-537 and shall pay no filing fee. Nominating papers shall be filed with the Secretary of State or his or her designee. The board of directors may choose to: (a) Nominate candidates from subdistricts and from the district at large which shall be elected by the qualified electors of the entire district; (b) nominate and elect each candidate from the district at large; or (c) nominate and elect candidates from subdistricts of substantially equal population except that any at-large candidate would be nominated and elected by the qualified electors of the entire district. Unless the board of directors determines that the nomination and election of all directors will be at large, (a) the board of a district which does not contain a city of the primary class shall, subject to the approval of the commission, strive to divide the district into subdistricts of substantially equal population, except that commencing with the primary election in 1988, no subdistrict shall have a population greater than three times the population of any other subdistrict within the district, and (b) the board of a district which contains a city of the primary class shall divide the district into subdistricts of substantially equal population. Such subdistricts shall be consecutively numbered and shall be established with due regard to all factors including, but not limited to, the location of works of improvement and the distribution of population and taxable values within the district. The boundaries and numbering of such subdistricts shall be designated at least six months prior to the primary election. Registered electors residing within the district shall be eligible for nomination as candidates for any at-large position or, in those districts that have established subdistricts, as candidates from the subdistrict within which they reside. Unless the district has been divided into subdistricts with substantially equal population, all directors shall be elected by the qualified electors of the entire district and all electors shall vote on the candidates representing each subdistrict and any at-large candidates. If a district has been divided into subdistricts with substantially equal population, the board of directors may determine that directors shall be elected only by the electors of the subdistrict except that an at-large director may be elected by electors of the entire district.

(2) Except in those districts which have elected to have a single director serve from each subdistrict, the number of subdistricts for a district shall equal a number which is one less than a majority of directors for the district. In those districts which have elected to have a single director serve from each subdistrict, the number of subdistricts shall equal a number which is equal to the total number of directors of the district or which is one less than the total number of directors for the district if there is an at-large candidate. The ballots shall list each nomination subdistrict and candidates therefrom and also the at-large candidates. In those districts which have chosen to nominate and elect each candidate from the district at large, the ballot shall indicate that all of the candidates are at-large candidates. Registered electors may each cast a number of votes not larger than the total number of directors to be elected. The candidate receiving the most votes in each listed subdistrict, or the district at large when applicable, shall be elected. Whenever the number of directors to be elected exceeds the number of subdistricts, or whenever the term of the at-large director expires in those districts which have elected to have a single director serve from each subdistrict, candidates may file as a candidate from the district at large, in which case the ballots shall list such candidates under an appropriate heading.

(3) The Secretary of State shall certify to the county clerk or election commissioner involved the names of the candidates on a sample ballot. The county clerk or election commissioner shall have the necessary ballots printed and distributed to the designated polling places. Local election judges shall determine the appropriate ballot for voters. All registered electors who have legal residence in the district shall be eligible to vote. The county clerk or election commissioner shall forward to the Secretary of State pursuant to law the official canvass of the votes cast in the county for directors. The state canvassing board shall canvass the results of the election of directors for natural resources districts. The Secretary of State shall mail an election certificate to each candidate elected. Elected directors shall take their oath of office in the same manner provided for county officials.

(4) The Secretary of State and the county clerk or election commissioner shall have the power and authority to do those things necessary to carry out the provisions and intent of this section. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the district, after each primary or general election, shall pay to each county wherein the name of one or more candidates appears upon the ballot the following election expenses: (a) Counties having a population of less than three thousand inhabitants, fifty dollars; (b) counties having a population of three thousand but less than nine thousand inhabitants, one hundred dollars; (c) counties having a population of nine thousand but less than fourteen thousand inhabitants, one hundred twenty-five dollars; (d) counties having a population of fourteen thousand but less than twenty thousand inhabitants, one hundred fifty dollars; (e) counties having a population of twenty thousand but less than sixty thousand inhabitants, one hundred seventy-five dollars; (f) counties having a population of sixty thousand but less than one hundred thousand inhabitants, seven hundred fifty dollars; (g) counties having a population of one hundred thousand but less than two hundred thousand inhabitants, fifteen hundred dollars; and (h) counties having a population of two hundred thousand inhabitants or more, two thousand fifty dollars. When the name of one or more candidates of a district appears on ballots in less than one-half of the precincts of the counties, the cost to the district shall be no more than fifty percent of the expenses established by this section. If the actual expenses to the county in district elections provided for in this section are less than the amounts established in this section, such actual expenses shall be the amount paid by the district to the county. The population of a county for purposes of this section shall be the population as determined by the most recent federal decennial census.

In addition to the costs ~~above~~ provided in this section, the natural resources district shall pay the publication cost of the sample primary and general election ballots appearing in the newspaper and shall pay the actual printing costs for the official ballots used for the election. Election expenses shall be due and payable for each natural resources district within thirty days after the receipt of the statement from the county.

(5) The district shall furnish to the Secretary of State and county clerk or election commissioner such maps and additional information as they may reasonably require in the proper performance of their duties in the conduct of elections and certification of the results of the same.

(6) Subject to the approval of the commission and at least six months prior to the primary election, the board of directors may elect to have a single director serve from each subdistrict.".

The commission may specify by regulation the information to be required on applications for such permits. Regulations and limitations for the hunting, killing, transportation, and possession of deer may include, but not be limited to, regulations and limitations as to the type and caliber and other specifications of firearms and ammunition used and specifications for bows and arrows used. Such regulations and limitations may further specify and limit the method of hunting deer and may provide for dividing the state into management units or areas and the commission may enact different deer harvest regulations for the different management units as pertains to sex, species, and age of the deer harvested. The number of such permits may be limited, as provided by the rules and regulations of the commission, and except as set out in section 4 of this act ~~but~~ the permits shall be disposed of in an impartial manner. Whenever the commission shall deem it advisable to limit the number of permits issued for any or all management units, the commission shall, by rules and regulations, determine who shall be eligible to apply for such permits. In establishing eligibility, the commission shall give preference to persons who did not receive a permit during the previous year or years. Such permits may be issued to allow killing of deer in the Nebraska National Forest and other game reserves and such other areas in the State of Nebraska as the commission may designate whenever the commission shall deem that permitting such killing will not be detrimental to the proper preservation of wildlife in Nebraska in such forest, reserves, or areas. The commission shall charge a fee for each permit so issued in the sum of twenty dollars for residents and one hundred dollars for nonresidents. The commission may issue nonresident permits only after a reasonable period has first been provided solely for issuance of resident permits and should the commission issue nonresident permits the issuance of resident permits shall continue until permit quotas have been filled or a reasonable cutoff date reached. No permit shall be issued until after a reasonable period for making application, as established by the commission, has expired. When more valid applications are received for any management unit than there are permits available, such permits shall be allocated on the basis of a public drawing. All valid applications received during the predetermined application period shall be considered equally in any such public drawing without regard to time of receipt of such applications by the ~~Game and Parks Commission~~ commission. No person shall be issued a permit to kill deer, antelope, or elk unless such person is at least fourteen years of age, except that any person aged fourteen or fifteen shall only hunt deer, antelope, or elk when accompanied by a person aged twenty-one years or over.

(2) The ~~Game and Parks Commission~~ commission may also issue permits for the hunting and killing of antelope and may establish separate and, when necessary, different regulations therefor within the limitations prescribed in subsection (1) of this section for the taking of deer. The commission shall charge a fee for each antelope permit so issued in the sum of twenty dollars for residents and one hundred dollars for nonresidents. The provisions for the distribution of deer permits and the authority of the commission to determine eligibility of applicants for permits as described in subsection (1) of this section shall also apply to the distribution of antelope permits.

(3) The ~~Game and Parks Commission~~ commission may also issue permits for the hunting and killing of elk and may establish separate and, when necessary, different regulations therefor within the limitations prescribed in subsection (1)

The commission shall charge a five-dollar nonrefundable application fee and a fee in the sum of one hundred dollars for each elk permit issued. A person may obtain only one elk permit in his or her lifetime, except that an applicant for a limited permit to hunt elk pursuant to section 37-215.03 may obtain such limited permit once every five years. The provisions for the distribution of deer permits and the authority of the commission to determine eligibility of applicants for permits as described in subsection (1) of this section shall also apply to elk permits.

(4) Subject to rules and regulations adopted and promulgated by the commission, the secretary of the ~~Game and Parks Commission~~ commission may designate special deer depredation seasons by executive order. The secretary may designate a depredation season whenever he or she determines that deer are causing excessive property damage. The secretary shall specify the number of permits to be issued, shooting hours, the length of the depredation season, and the geographic area in which hunting will be permitted. Each such permit shall give the holder the right to take one deer. Hunting during a special depredation season shall be limited to residents and shall be restricted to firearms which are permissible for use during the regular deer season.

The depredation season may commence not less than five days after the first public announcement that the depredation season has been established. Permits shall be issued beginning not less than three days after the first public announcement of the depredation season and shall be issued in an impartial manner at a location determined by the secretary. The fee for a special depredation season permit shall be twenty dollars and, of this amount, ten dollars shall be paid by the ~~Game and Parks Commission~~ commission to a landowner or operator within the designated area upon satisfactory proof a deer was killed upon his or her farm or ranch during the special depredation season. AM1030

1. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 7. (1) The Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court may develop and implement an independent medical examiner system consistent with the requirements of this section. As part of such system, the compensation court may create, maintain, and periodically validate a list of health care providers that it finds to be the most qualified and to be highly experienced and competent in their specific fields of expertise and in the treatment of work-related injuries to serve as independent medical examiners from each of the health care specialties that the compensation court finds most commonly used by injured employees. The compensation court may establish a fee schedule for services rendered by independent medical examiners and may adopt and promulgate any rules and regulations considered necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(2) An independent medical examiner shall render medical findings on the medical condition of an employee and related issues as specified under this section. The independent medical examiner shall not be the employee's treating health care provider and shall not have treated the employee with respect to the injury for which the claim is being made or the benefits are being paid.

(3) If the parties to a dispute cannot agree on an independent medical examiner of their own choosing, the compensation court shall assign an independent medical examiner from the list of qualified examiners to render medical findings in any dispute relating to the medical condition of a claimant, including, but not limited to, whether the injured employee is able to perform any gainful employment temporarily or permanently, what physical restrictions, if any, would be imposed on the employee's employment, whether the injured employee has reached maximum medical improvement, the existence and extent of any permanent physical impairment, and the reasonableness and necessity of any medical treatment previously provided, or to be provided, to the injured employee.

(4) The compensation court may adopt and promulgate rules and regulations pertaining to the procedures before the independent medical examiner, including the parties' ability to propound questions relating to the medical condition of the employee to be submitted to the independent medical examiner. In addition to the review of records and information, the independent medical examiner may examine the employee as often as the examiner determines necessary to render medical findings on the questions propounded by the parties or by the compensation court.

(5) The independent medical examiner shall submit a written report to the compensation court, the employer, and the employee stating the examiner's medical findings on the issues raised and providing a description of findings sufficient to explain the basis of those findings. The fee for the examination and report shall be paid by the employer.

(6) If the parties agree to use of a medical examiner, the examiner's findings shall be binding. If the compensation court assigns an independent medical examiner, it shall be a rebuttable presumption that the examiner's findings are correct.

(7) Any health care provider acting without malice and within the scope of the provider's duties as an independent medical examiner shall be immune from civil liability for making any report or other information available to the compensation court or for assisting in the origination, investigation, or preparation of the report or other information so provided.

Sec. 13. That section 48-145.04, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

48-145.04. (1) The Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court shall, prior to January 1 of each year, estimate as closely as possible the actual cost to the court of evaluating an application for self-insurance and supervising and administering the self-insurance program for the ensuing year and assess the amount thereof, but not to exceed two thousand dollars, against each applicant for self-insurance in this state. Such assessment shall be in addition to the payments required by subdivision (1)(b) of section 48-145 and sections 20 and 37 of this act. The court shall notify each applicant of the amount of the individual assessment. Such assessment shall be due and payable with the application for self-insurance. If any assessment is not paid, the application shall not be considered.

The mobile home transfer statement and the information contained in the statement shall be confidential and only available to tax officials.

(2)(a) If the motor vehicle has tax situs in Nebraska, the application shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the vehicle has tax situs as defined in section 77-1240.

If all reassignments on the certificate of title have been used, the licensed dealer shall obtain title in his or her name prior to any subsequent transfer.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 74. Introduced by Withem, 14; Hartnett, 45; Lynch, 13.

WHEREAS, Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina are sovereign and independent states, members of the United Nations, and participating states of the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe; and

WHEREAS, the leaders of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina have committed themselves to practice tolerance and to live together in peace with neighboring states in keeping with the Charter of the United Nations and to promote human rights and democracy pursuant to the Helsinki Final Act; and

WHEREAS, the people of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina have been and remain the target of armed aggression by Serbia and Serbian-backed forces; and

WHEREAS, the loss of life and human suffering in Bosnia-Hercegovina has reached an unprecedented scale in post-World War II Europe; and

WHEREAS, the war and "ethnic cleansing" in Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina have uprooted more than one and one-half million people, contributing to the largest refugee problem in Europe since World War II; and

WHEREAS, the people of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina have been subjected to organized, systematic, and premeditated war crimes and genocide, including willful killings, rape, forced impregnation, abuse of civilians in detention centers, deliberate attacks on noncombatants including women and children, "ethnic cleansing" through forcible expulsion and deportation of civilians, and torture of prisoners; and

WHEREAS, the United Nations Security Council has reaffirmed that persons who commit or order the commission of grave breaches of the Geneva Conventions are individually responsible with respect to such breaches; and

WHEREAS, the International Committee of the Red Cross and other international humanitarian organizations have not been granted unimpeded and continuous access to all camps, prisons, and detention centers in Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina as called for by the United Nations Security Council; and

WHEREAS, efforts by United Nations humanitarian organizations and others to secure the effective and unimpeded delivery of humanitarian supplies to all victims of the war in Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina have reportedly been blocked; and

WHEREAS, numerous diplomatic efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina have failed to bring about a cessation of hostilities; and

WHEREAS, the United Nations Security Council has demanded that neighboring states respect the territorial integrity of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina; and

WHEREAS, irregular forces have failed to disband, disarm, or place their weapons under effective international monitoring; and

WHEREAS, article 51 of the Charter of the United Nations provides for the right of individual and collective self-defense if an armed attack occurs against a member state; and

WHEREAS, the right of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina to defend themselves against attack by old Yugoslavian communist forces and

Serbian Cetniks has been thwarted by the existing international arms embargo; and

WHEREAS, incursions of the airspace of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina by hostile military aircraft continue to occur in violation of the establishment of a "no-fly" zone by the United Nations Security Council; and

WHEREAS, United Nations Security Council resolutions on a "no-fly" zone, the transfer of all heavy weapons to international control, the delivery of humanitarian assistance, and access to all camps, prisons, and detention centers in Bosnia-Hercegovina have not been fully implemented or enforced; and

WHEREAS, the Croatian Cultural Society of Omaha has been active in maintaining the culture of Croatian Americans; and

WHEREAS, the Croatian Cultural Society has contacted, locally, the St. Martin de Porres Center, for Omaha to be placed on the list as a resettlement site for refugees from Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina, but to no avail.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the United States should act, without delay, to uphold the right of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina to self-defense as provided under article 51 of the Charter of the United Nations and to seek the immediate lifting of the international arms embargo as it applies to Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina, thus enabling Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina to obtain defensive weapons.

2. That the United States should assemble a multinational coalition to:

(a) Immediately enforce the existing United Nations "no-fly" zone over the territories of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina, including through the use of military air force, if required;

(b) Ensure that irregular forces in Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina either withdraw, be subject to the authority of the governments of Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina, or be disbanded and disarmed with their weapons placed under effective international monitoring. In the event that such steps are not taken by irregular forces immediately, every effort, including the use of military air force, should be made to neutralize heavy arms in the hands of such forces;

(c) Ensure the immediate, effective, and unimpeded delivery of humanitarian aid to all civilian populations in Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina, in keeping with international commitments, including through the use of military force, if required; and

(d) Ensure unimpeded access to all camps, prisons, and detention centers in Bosnia-Hercegovina by the International Committee of the Red Cross and other international humanitarian organizations and facilitate the release of all detainees from such facilities.

3. That the Legislature encourages the United States to:

(a) Seek an increase in the number of refugees from Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina permitted to enter the United States and other European countries; and

(b) Work to ensure that those responsible for war crimes and crimes against humanity in Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina are held accountable by an international criminal tribunal.

4. That the Legislature strongly encourages the appropriate federal and private agencies to include the Croatian Cultural Society of Omaha in the resettlement of those refugees seeking asylum in the United States.

5. That the Legislature encourages physicians and hospitals in Nebraska, especially in Omaha because of its Croatian population, to become involved in a humanitarian way to help the victims of war from Croatia and Bosnia-Hercegovina which can be accomplished by becoming involved in the International Organization for Migration, a nonprofit organization aimed at secondary treatment of victims of war and violence.

6. That the Legislature encourages individuals, businesses, and church organizations to also help in a humanitarian effort by sponsoring victims in the form of monetary contributions for payment of medical care.

7. That the Clerk of the Legislature shall transmit copies of this resolution to Nebraska's congressional delegation and the Croatian Cultural Society.

1. Strike the original sections and all amendments thereto and insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. That section 29-2204, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

29-2204. ~~(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, in all cases when any person is convicted of any offense by this code declared criminal and made punishable by imprisonment in the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility, the court shall declare in its sentence for what period of time, within the respective periods prescribed by law, such convict shall be imprisoned at hard labor in the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility and shall determine and declare in its sentence whether any such convict shall be kept in solitary confinement in the cells of the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility, without labor, and, if so, for what period of time.~~

~~(2)~~ (1) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section and except when a term of life is required by law, in imposing an indeterminate sentence upon an offender, the court shall:

(a) Fix the minimum and maximum limits of the sentence to be served within the limits provided by law, except that when a maximum limit of life is imposed by the court for a Class IB felony, the minimum limit may be any term of years not less than the statutory mandatory minimum;

(b) Advise the offender on the record the time the offender will serve on his or her minimum term before attaining parole eligibility assuming that no good time for which the offender will be eligible is lost; and

(c) Advise the offender on the record the time the offender will serve on his or her maximum term before attaining mandatory release assuming that no good time for which the offender will be eligible is lost.

If any discrepancy exists between the statement of the minimum limit of the sentence and the statement of parole eligibility or between the statement of the maximum limit of the sentence and the statement of mandatory release, the statements of the minimum limit and the maximum limit shall control the calculation of the offender's term. If the court imposes more than one sentence upon an offender or imposes a sentence upon an offender who is at that time serving another sentence, the court shall state whether the sentences are to be concurrent or consecutive.

(2) When the court is of the opinion that imprisonment may be appropriate but desires more detailed information as a basis for determining the sentence to be imposed than has been provided by the presentence report required by section 29-2261, the court shall commit an offender to the Department of Correctional Services for a period not exceeding ninety days. The department shall conduct a complete study of the offender during that time, inquiring into such matters as his or her previous delinquency or criminal experience, social background, capabilities, and mental, emotional, and physical health and the rehabilitative resources or programs which may be available to suit his or her needs. By the expiration of the period of commitment or by the expiration of such additional time as the court shall grant, not exceeding a further period of ninety days, the offender shall be returned to the court for sentencing and the court shall be provided with a written report of the results of the study, including whatever recommendations the department believes will be helpful to a proper resolution of the case. After receiving the report and the recommendations, the court shall proceed to sentence the offender in accordance with subsection (1) of this section. The term of the sentence shall run from the date of original commitment under this subsection. In order to encourage the use of this procedure in appropriate cases, all costs incurred during the period the defendant is held in a state institution under this subsection shall be a responsibility of the state and the county shall be liable only for the cost of delivering the defendant to the institution and the cost of returning him or her to the appropriate court for sentencing or such other disposition as the court may then deem appropriate.

(3) Whenever the defendant was under eighteen years of age at the time he or she committed the crime for which he or she was convicted, the court may in its discretion, instead of imposing the penalty provided for the crime, make such disposition of the defendant as the court deems proper under the Nebraska Juvenile Code.

Sec. 2. If any section in this act or any part of any section shall be declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions thereof.

Sec. 3. That original section 29-2204, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and also sections 28-435 and 28-436, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.".

ENROLLED RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 53. Introduced by Kristensen, 37; Lindsay, 9; Pedersen, 39.

WHEREAS, Section 333 of the Fiscal Year 1991 United States Department of Transportation Appropriation Act entitled "Revocation or Suspension of the Driver's License of Individuals Convicted of Drug Offenses" requires states to enact legislation requiring the revocation or suspension of an individual's driver license upon conviction of any drug-related offense; and

WHEREAS, Section 333 requires withholding five percent of certain federal-aid highway funds in Fiscal Year 1994 and 1995 and ten percent in subsequent years from states that fail to enact legislation; and

WHEREAS, Section 333 provides the following procedure to avoid the sanctions without enacting the legislation:

"(B) The Governor of the State --

(i) submits to the Secretary no earlier than the adjournment sine die of the first regularly scheduled session of the state's legislature which begins after the date of enactment of this section a written certification stating that he is opposed to the enactment or enforcement in his state of a law described in subparagraph (A) relating to revocation, suspension, issuance, or reinstatement of driver's licenses to convicted drug offenders; and

(ii) submits to the Secretary a written certification that the legislature (including both Houses where applicable) has adopted a resolution expressing its opposition to a law described in clause (i)"; and

WHEREAS, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States provides that: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people"; and

WHEREAS, while drug abuse remains a paramount and priority national problem, the imposition of federal highway fund sanctions upon states does not appropriately address or respond to the problem; and

WHEREAS, the reasons for the negative recommendation include a belief that the granting or withholding of driving privileges is and always has been a prerogative of the states to decide for themselves, not the federal government.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature opposes enactment or enforcement in this state of any federally mandated law relating to revocation, suspension, issuance, or reinstatement of driver's licenses including the sanction described in 23 U.S.C. 159.

2. That Congress repeal 23 U.S.C. 159 and allow states the right to determine and impose appropriate sanctions upon driving privileges of drug offenders within state boundaries.

3. That this resolution is intended to satisfy the requirement under 23 U.S.C. 159(a)(3)(B)(i) and (ii) which will protect the State of Nebraska from the loss of federal highway funds under 23 U.S.C. 159(a)(1) and (2).

4. That the Clerk of the Legislature transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States Congress, to the United States Secretary of Transportation, and to the Nebraska Congressional Delegation.

1. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 7. (1) The Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court may develop and implement an independent medical examiner system consistent with the requirements of this section. As part of such system, the compensation court may create, maintain, and periodically validate a list of health care providers that it finds to be the most qualified and to be highly experienced and competent in their specific fields of expertise and in the treatment of work-related injuries to serve as independent medical examiners from each of the health care specialties that the compensation court finds most commonly used by injured employees. The compensation court may establish a fee schedule for services rendered by independent medical examiners and may adopt and promulgate any rules and regulations considered necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(2) An independent medical examiner shall render medical findings on the medical condition of an employee and related issues as specified under this section. The independent medical examiner shall not be the employee's treating health care provider and shall not have treated the employee with respect to the injury for which the claim is being made or the benefits are being paid.

(3) If the parties to a dispute cannot agree on an independent medical examiner of their own choosing, the compensation court shall assign an independent medical examiner from the list of qualified examiners to render medical findings in any dispute relating to the medical condition of a claimant, including, but not limited to, whether the injured employee is able to perform any gainful employment temporarily or permanently, what physical restrictions, if any, would be imposed on the employee's employment, whether the injured employee has reached maximum medical improvement, the existence and extent of any permanent physical impairment, and the reasonableness and necessity of any medical treatment previously provided, or to be provided, to the injured employee.

(4) The compensation court may adopt and promulgate rules and regulations pertaining to the procedures before the independent medical examiner, including the parties' ability to propound questions relating to the medical condition of the employee to be submitted to the independent medical examiner. In addition to the review of records and information, the independent medical examiner may examine the employee as often as the examiner determines necessary to render medical findings on the questions propounded by the parties or by the compensation court.

(Amendments to Standing Committee amendments, AM0223)

1. Insert the following new amendments:

"1. Insert the following new sections:

'Sec. 4. When an emergency situation compels the performance of an abortion, the physician shall inform the woman, prior to the abortion if possible, of the medical indications supporting his or her or judgment that an abortion is necessary to avert her death or to avert substantial and irreversible impairment of major bodily function.

Sec. 5. That section 28-328, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-328. The intentional and knowing violation of section 28-327 is a Class II misdemeanor. No penalty may be imposed upon the woman upon whom the abortion is performed or attempted to be performed. No criminal penalty or civil liability for failure to comply with subdivision (2)(c) of section 28-327 or that portion of subsection (3) of such section requiring a written certification that the woman has been informed of her right to review the information referred to in subdivision (2)(c) of section 28-327 may be imposed unless the Department of Health has published and made available the printed materials at the time the physician or his or her agent is required to inform the woman of her right to review them.

Sec. 6. Any person upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of section 28-327 or the parent or guardian of a minor upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of such section shall have a right to maintain a civil cause of action against the person who performed the abortion or attempted to perform the abortion. A violation of such section shall be prima facie evidence of professional negligence. If judgment is rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any such action, the court shall also render judgment for a reasonable attorney's fee in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant.

Sec. 7. In every civil action or criminal proceeding brought pursuant to section 6 of this act or section 28-328, the court shall rule whether the anonymity of any woman upon whom an abortion is performed or attempted shall be preserved from public disclosure if she does not give her consent to such disclosure. The court, upon motion by a party or on its own motion, shall make such a ruling and, upon determining that her anonymity should be preserved, shall issue orders to the parties, witnesses, and counsel and shall direct the sealing of the record and exclusion of individuals from courtrooms or hearing rooms, to the extent necessary to safeguard her identity from public disclosure. Each such order shall be accompanied by specific written findings explaining why the anonymity of the woman should be preserved from public disclosure, why the order is essential to that end, how the order is narrowly tailored to serve that interest, and why no reasonable less restrictive alternative exists. In the absence of written consent of the woman upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted, anyone, other than a public official, who brings an action under section 28-328 shall do so under a pseudonym. This section may not be construed to conceal the identity of the plaintiff or of witnesses from the defendant.

Sec. 8. If any section in this act or any part of any section shall be declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions thereof.'.

The physician may provide this information by telephone without conducting a physical examination or tests of the patient, in which case the information required to be supplied may be based on facts supplied the physician by the patient and whatever other relevant information is reasonably available to the physician;

(2) The woman is informed, by the physician who is to perform the abortion, by the referring physician, or by an agent of either, at least twenty-four hours before the abortion:

(a) That medical assistance benefits may be available for prenatal care, childbirth, and neonatal care;

(b) That the father is liable to assist in the support of her child, even in instances in which the father has offered to pay for the abortion; and

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

April 1, 1993

Madam President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building, Room 2018
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Madam President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Legislature:

Engrossed Legislative Bills 579 and LB 579A were received in my office on April 1, 1993. These bills were signed by me on April 1, 1993 and delivered to the Secretary of State.

It has always been my position that there must be a timely public audit of the Legislature, including its telephone records. Unfortunately, the issue has been framed more by personalities and politics than by reasoned judgment. The issue should not be who or what agency does the audit. The goal should be that a legitimate public audit is conducted and that the result of that audit is open for public inspection to all interested parties including taxpayers. By signing this bill, that goal will be accomplished.

A veto would have retained the status quo. A veto could have delayed an audit for several years because of an inevitable court challenge. By signing this bill there will be an audit, at no additional cost to the taxpayer.

The politically expedient action for me to take is to veto this bill. But a veto would further delay a timely public audit. This course would be counterproductive. I believe the best course of action then is to sign the bill and move forward with an audit as soon as possible. The Legislature has assured the public they will move quickly to begin the auditing process.

This bill requires greater accountability by individual senators:

* It will determine whether there has been any misuse of public funds or state property, including telephones.

* It provides for more regular and frequent audits. An audit will be performed every two years instead of five or more.

* It requires all expenditures, including the cost of long distance phone calls, of each senator be made public. It requires public reporting of the amounts and dates of confidential phone calls, including long distance phone calls, but protects the privacy of citizens' discussions and contacts with senators.

There is substantial precedent for public entities being audited by private audit firms, including but not limited to: the University of Nebraska, State Colleges, City Governments, County Governments and Nebraska's Community Colleges.

This office is currently being audited by the State Auditor. I will not seek an outside firm to perform the audit of the Governor's Office because I believe it is appropriate for the State Auditor, as a member of the executive branch of government, to audit within the executive branch. It has been my experience that the State Auditor has handled confidential information as such. The Auditor's Office has handled confidential information during audits of the Department of Social Services, the State Patrol and the Department of Revenue. No confidential information from those agency audits was released or revealed by the State Auditor. My decision to sign LB 579 is not a reflection on the Auditor.

I believe we must set aside this conflict and pursue an audit in the best interests of Nebraska citizens. The political bickering must end. We must move forward to address the pressing issues facing this state. I am confident this legislation will solve the paramount issue: ensuring Nebraskans' right to know how their tax dollars are being spent.

Sincerely,
(Signed) E. Benjamin Nelson
Governor

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 93022

DATE: April 1, 1993

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of Free Parking for State Legislators

REQUESTED BY: John Breslow
State Auditor

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General

This opinion is in response to your correspondence of March 3, 1993, concerning the parking spaces in the Capitol area which are provided to members of the Nebraska Legislature free of charge by the Department of Administrative Services. You asked whether this free parking, which is provided legislators in addition to their per diem expense payment, is a perquisite in violation of Article III, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution. You apparently need this determination in connection with the audit which you are currently performing of the fiscal records of the Nebraska Legislature.

In our opinion, the Director of the Department of Administrative Services has the statutory authority to provide free parking space to State Senators at the Capitol Building and doing so does not violate the Nebraska Constitution. Under current law, the Director of the Department of Administrative Services could charge State Senators for their parking spaces if he finds it equitable to do so. However, in that event, the Senators might very well be able to claim reimbursement of that amount under Neb.Rev.Stat. §50-202 (1988) which provides that, "Each member of the Legislature shall be allowed necessary expenses incurred while performing in the official capacity as a member of the Legislature." The providing of a parking space is in the nature of an operational expense rather than a perquisite as that term has been interpreted by the Nebraska Supreme Court, and hence does not violate Article III, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Before discussing the legal precedents that apply to this issue, it is helpful to view this question in the overall context of the operations of State government. State Senators, constitutional officers and other State employees are provided an office, telephone, office supplies, and other essentials necessary to carry out their job duties. Generally speaking, State employees, whether they be State Senators, constitutional officers or other State employees, are entitled to be reimbursed for lodging, transportation, meals, parking fees, and other reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in carrying out their job duties when away from their homes in the line of duty. See Neb.Rev.Stat. §81-1174 (Cum.Supp. 1992).

For example, if a Department of Revenue auditor was on official business performing an audit in western Nebraska and was there for several days, he or she would be reimbursed for transportation expense, lodging, meals, and other necessary expenses. The same is true for members of the Legislature.

The Nebraska Supreme Court, as discussed later in this opinion, has specifically held that members of the Legislature are entitled to reimbursement for expenses incurred in connection with the performance of their duties. Certainly this includes reasonable and necessary lodging expense, transportation cost to and from Lincoln, meals while away from home, and similar expenses.

In our modern age, most people, at least in Nebraska, drive an automobile to work. A State Senator must be at the Capitol in order to carry on his or her work and must necessarily have some place to park his or her automobile. In our opinion, at least, a parking space for an automobile is no different, from a legal standpoint, than the State providing an office for the Senator to work in, or paying lodging expense for a Senator staying overnight in Lincoln while away from home. Having undertaken this general overview, let us now turn to the specific legal authorities concerning this issue.

From the materials you provided us, it appears that each member of the Legislature is provided a free parking space in the parking lot east of the Capitol or in the "horseshoe" at the north entrance of that building. This has apparently been the practice for at least the last 15 years, and State Senators may never have been billed for their parking spaces. On the other hand, all other elected State officials and judges are billed the standard $22 per month parking fee for their parking spaces at the Capitol. However, State employees who work at the Department of Corrections, Department of Roads, Department of Public Institutions, and a number of other State employees are provided free parking at their places of work.

Under Neb. Rev. Stat. § 81-1108.17 (1987), the Director of the Department of Administrative Services is required to develop a system of equitable billing and charges for parking facilities under his or her control and used by State employees and State vehicles. As a result, most State employees with reserved parking in the Capitol parking lots pay a monthly fee of $22 for parking privileges.

Article III, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution provides, in pertinent part,

> Each member of the Legislature shall receive a salary of not to exceed one thousand dollars per month during the term of his or her office. In addition to his or her salary, each member shall receive an amount equal to his or her actual expenses in traveling by the most usual route once to and returning from each regular or special session of the Legislature. Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay or perquisites other than his or her salary and expenses, and employees of the Legislature shall receive no compensation other than their salary or per diem.

Two recent Nebraska cases have dealt with aspects of this constitutional provision. In State ex rel. Douglas v. Beermann, 216 Neb. 849, 347 N.W.2d 297 (1984), the Nebraska Supreme Court indicated that a statute which provided that each member of the Legislature should be allowed his or her necessary expenses incurred while performing duties in his or her official capacity did not violate Article III, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution as it existed at that time. In contrast, the Court held in State ex rel. Spire v. Public Employees Retirement Board, 226 Neb. 176, 410 N.W.2d 463 (1987), that a statute creating a pension program for State legislators was unconstitutional under Article III, Section 7 since it involved pay or perquisites in addition to the legislators' salary and expenses. As a result, under the constitutional provision in question, State Senators can receive payment for their necessary expenses, but they may not receive pay or perquisites additional to their salary. The pertinent question in the present instance, therefore, becomes whether the free parking afforded Senators is a perquisite or an expense.

The Beermann case contains the following definition of "perquisite":

> "Perquisite" is defined in Webster's Third New International Dictionary, Unabridged (1968), as casual income or profits; a privilege, gain or profit incidental to an employment in addition to regular salary or wages; a gratuity or tip; something held or claimed as an exclusive right or possession. Black's Law Dictionary 1027 (5th ed. 1979) defines the word as meaning emoluments, fringe benefits, or other incidental profits or benefits attaching to an office or position. We have previously, in State v. Sheldon, 78 Neb. 552, 111 N.W. 372 (1907), defined perquisite as a gain or profit incidentally made from employment in addition to regular salary or wages. In that case we held that a residence provided by the State for occupancy by the Governor, at the place he was required by law to live, was not a "perquisite" within the meaning of a constitutional provision that the Governor might not receive any "perquisites of office or other compensation" in addition to his salary. We concluded that perquisite meant a compensation or reward for the performance of an official duty.

216 Neb. at 855, 347 N.W.2d at 301, 302 (emphasis supplied). The Beermann opinion also defines "expense":

> An "expense" is something expended in order to secure a profit or bring about a result. Expenses are the charges incurred by an employee in connection with the performance of his duties, and typically include transportation, meals, and lodging while traveling. Expenses are the money given to an employee as reimbursement for such charges. Webster's Third New International Dictionary, Unabridged (1968). Black's Law Dictionary 518 (5th ed. 1979) defines an expense as that which is "expended, laid out or consumed. An outlay; charge; cost; price."

216 Neb. at 856, 347 N.W.2d at 302. The Court then went on to state:

> The meaning of the third sentence {of Article III, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution}, interpreting the terms and words used in their natural and obvious senses, is: Members of the Legislature shall receive no wages, remuneration, compensation, fees, profit, or gain other than the salary mandated in the first sentence above and reimbursement for expenses incurred in connection with the performance of their duties.

216 Neb. at 857, 347 N.W.2d at 302 (emphasis supplied).

The Nebraska Supreme Court has said that a Senator may be reimbursed for transportation expense. Part of transportation expense is parking the vehicle upon arrival. If a Senator parked his or her automobile at a commercial garage near the Capitol Building, §50-202, which has specifically been held constitutional by the Nebraska Supreme Court, would appear to allow the Senator to claim and receive reimbursement for that expense.

Therefore, since the Nebraska Constitution allows a State Senator to pay for parking and receive reimbursement for that expense, we see no constitutional difficulty in the Director of Administrative Services eliminating the paperwork of refunding parking fees by simply providing parking for free in the first instance. While some argument might be made that Lincoln Senators are not away from home and hence, might not qualify for reimbursement, we do not see a constitutional significance because whether you drive from Scottsbluff or 70th & A Streets in Lincoln, a Senator still needs a parking place in a reasonable vicinity of the Capitol in order to be in attendance at the Capitol. Moreover, §50-202, which provides for reimbursement of expenses to State Senators, does not contain the various restrictions (such as being away from home) that apply to other State employees under §81-1174.

Does this mean that every State employee is entitled to free parking at State expense? No. A State employee is only entitled to such reimbursement of expense as the law provides for. In this case, authority has been delegated to the Department of Administrative Services to develop a system of equitable billing for parking. The Department has determined that other State constitutional officers, Supreme Court judges, and other State employees who, generally speaking, are paid more (often several times more) than State Senators, should pay for their parking while State Senators should not. We cannot say as a matter of law that the Department of Administrative Services has abused its discretion in making such determination. In this regard, it should be noted that employees of the Department of Corrections, Department of Roads, and certain other State agency employees also do not pay for their parking.

Finally, does the fact that Senators are receiving per diems to cover housing, transportation, and other expenses create a constitutional problem in so far as the parking issue is concerned. We think not, so long as the Senators' actual expenses equal or exceed the per diem reimbursements they are receiving. See Beermann.

In sum, although the Director of the Department of Administrative Services is not required to provide free parking to State Senators, he has the legal authority to do so and the exercise of that authority does not violate Article III, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Yours truly,
(Signed) Don Stenberg

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 93023

DATE: March 24, 1993

SUBJECT: Application of Political Subdivision Budget Limitations to Public Power and Irrigation Districts.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jerry Schmitt
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion as to the application of the statutory provisions imposing budget limitations on political subdivisions (other than school districts) contained in Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 77-3437 to 77-3441 (Cum. Supp. 1992) to public power and irrigation districts. In addition, you have asked us to address certain other questions pertaining to the powers of public power and irrigation districts. As you indicate that, depending upon our responses to your questions, you are considering introducing clarifying legislation, we will respond to your request.

Initially, you ask whether "the lid restrictions in the Nebraska Budget Act apply to public power and irrigation districts?" The budget limitations on political subdivisions referred to in your request are not actually a part of the "Nebraska Budget Act." The provisions of the Nebraska Budget Act are contained at Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 13-501 to 13-513 (1991 and Cum. Supp. 1992), while the limitations on budgets of political subdivisions are contained at Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 77-3437 to 77-3441 (Cum. Supp. 1992). The provisions outlining these budget limitations, however, make reference to various provisions of the Nebraska Budget Act. Section 77-3438 provides, in pertinent part: "(1) Except as provided in sections 77-3438.01, 77-3439, and 77-3340, no governing body shall adopt a budget statement pursuant to section 13-506. . . in which the anticipated aggregate receipts from property taxes for any fiscal year exceed the anticipated aggregate receipts from property taxes for the prior fiscal year. . . ." Section 77-3437(3) provides the definition of "{g}overning body" shall be that found in § 13-503, with the exception of school boards or boards of education of school districts. "Adopted budget statement" is defined in § 77-3437(1) to have the same meaning as in § 13-503, in which the term is defined to mean a "proposed budget statement which has been adopted or amended and adopted as provided in section 13-506."

Recently, questions have arisen regarding the scope and application of both the provisions of the Nebraska Budget Act and the limitations on political subdivision budgets imposed under §§ 77-3437 to 77-3441. In a recent opinion, this office concluded that "the Budget Act and budget limit provisions apply to all political subdivisions including public building commissions." Op. Att'y Gen. I92-087 (December 29, 1992). As a result of our issuance of this opinion, a legal challenge to the applicability of the Budget Act and the limits on political subdivision budgets was instituted. Lincoln-Lancaster County Public Building Comm'n v. Breslow, Doc. 492, Page 212 (Lancaster County District Court). As we stated previously: "The question whether the budget requirements are applicable to political subdivisions whose governing bodies are not included in Section 13-503 is recurring. . . . Legislative clarification of provisions of the Budget Act, and in particular, the definitional section regarding governing bodies would serve to facilitate implementation of and compliance with the requirements of the Act." While recognizing these difficulties, we will nevertheless endeavor to respond to your initial question regarding the application of these statutory provisions to public power and irrigation districts.

Public power and irrigation districts are not among the entities whose "governing body" is specifically mentioned in § 13-503. However, based on our recent opinion, this does not necessarily mean that these entities are therefore excluded from compliance with the Budget Act. Public power districts are public corporations and political subdivisions of the state. York County Rural Public Power Dist. v. O'Connor, 172 Neb. 602, 111 N.W.2d 376 (1961); Consumers Public Power Dist. v. Eldred, 146 Neb. 926, 22 N.W.2d 188 (1946). Consistent with our prior opinion, then, it appears that public power and irrigation districts are not exempt from the provisions of the Budget Act.

It does not necessarily follow, however, that such entities are also subject to the budget limitations on political subdivisions imposed under §§ 77-3437 to 77-3441. As noted previously, § 77-3438 (1) prohibits a governing body from adopting a budget statement "in which the anticipated aggregate receipts from property taxes for any fiscal year exceed the anticipated aggregate receipts from property taxes for the prior fiscal year. . . ." (Emphasis added). Neb. Rev. Stat. § 70-629 provides: "Except for the authority to make assessments granted by section 70-677 to districts organized under or subject to Chapter 70, article 6, the district shall have no power of taxation, and no governmental authority shall have the power to levy or collect taxes for the purpose or paying, in whole or in part, any indebtedness or obligation of or incurred by the district or upon which the district may be or become in any manner liable." As the limits imposed under §§ 77-3437 to 77-3441 apply to revenues raised by "property taxes" as defined in § 77-3437(5), and public power and irrigation districts are generally precluded from exercising taxing power under § 70-629, the limitations in §§ 77-3437 to 77-3441 would not be applicable to public power and irrigation districts organized and operating under Chapter 70, article 6, to the extent revenues for the district are not generated from property taxes.

Section 70-667 provides, in part:

> All power plants and systems, all ethanol production or distribution systems, and all irrigation works constructed, acquired, used, or operated by any district organized under or subject to Chapter 70, article 6, or proposed by such district to be so constructed, acquired, owned, used, or operated are hereby declared to be works of internal improvement. All laws applicable to works of internal improvement and all provisions of law applicable to electric light and power corporations, irrigation districts, or privately owned irrigation corporations, the use and occupation of state and other public lands and highways, the appropriation, acquisition, or use of water, water power, water rights, or water diversion or storage rights, for any of the purposes contemplated in such statutory provisions, the manner or method of construction and physical operation of power plants, systems, transmission lines, and irrigation works, as herein contemplated, shall be applicable, as nearly as may be, to all districts organized under or subject to Chapter 70, article 6, and in the performance of the duties conferred or imposed upon them under such statutory provisions. Such laws, provisions of law, or statutory provisions are hereby made applicable to all irrigation works and facilities operated by irrigation divisions of public power and irrigation districts organized under Chapter 70, article 6, and shall include, but not be limited to, the right of such district to exercise the powers conferred upon districts by Chapters 31 and 46, relating to operation, maintenance, rehabilitation, construction, reconstruction, repairs, extension, recharge of ground water, and surface and subsurface drainage projects and the assessment of the cost thereof to the lands benefited thereby.

Pursuant to § 70-667, public power and irrigation districts are authorized to exercise powers conferred upon drainage districts (Chapter 31) and irrigation districts (Chapter 41) "relating to operation, maintenance, rehabilitation, construction, reconstruction, repairs, extension, recharge for ground water, and surface and subsurface drainage projects and the assessment of the cost thereof to the lands benefited thereby." Thus, for example, irrigation districts are empowered to make annual assessments on real property within the district, see Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 46-131 to 46-141 (1988); to call a special election to seek approval of an additional assessment, see Neb. Rev. Stat. § 46-144; or to make an assessment to defray certain costs of the district, see Neb. Rev. Stat. § 46-152. Assessments of this nature, however, may or may not be characterized as "property taxes" within the meaning of § 77-3437(5). While it is unlikely that exactions in the nature of special assessments (which are excluded form the definition of "tax" under § 13-503(4) of the Budget Act) should be classified in this manner, all taxes imposed under these provisions may not be deemed to fall in this category. Further, while irrigation districts formerly were exempted from the Budget Act, that exemption was recently removed. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 13-514 (1991) (repealed 1992 Neb. Laws LB 1063, § 214; 1992 Neb. Laws, 2nd Special Sess. LB 1, § 182). To the extent this situation interjects an area of unclarity, amendatory legislation would certainly be appropriate.

You next ask whether it is permissible for a public power and irrigation district to borrow funds in excess of fifty cents per acre of land in the district under the provisions of Neb. Rev. Stat. § 46-152. Section 46-152 provides, in part, as follows:

> If, after the annual assessment for the current year, the funds provided are for some unusual or unforeseen cause insufficient for the proper maintenance and operation of the district, the board of directors shall have the power to borrow additional funds needed, to an amount not to exceed fifty cents per acre for the land embraced in the district, pledging credit of the district for the payment of the same, and shall include in the estimate for the levy for the ensuing year for the general fund the amount so borrowed, and provide for the payment of the same.

The question presented is whether the provisions of § 70-667, making laws relating to irrigation districts applicable to public power and irrigation districts "as nearly as may be," requires that public power and irrigation districts acting under § 46-152 comply with the limit on borrowing contained in the statute.

"A statute is not to be read as if open to construction as a matter of course." County of Douglas v. Board of Regents, 210 Neb. 573, 577, 316 N.W.2d 62, 65 (1982). "Where words of a statute are plain and unambiguous, no interpretation is necessary to ascertain their meaning, and in the absence of anything to indicate to the contrary, words will be given their ordinary meaning." Hill v. City of Lincoln, 213 Neb. 517, 521, 330 N.W.2d 471, 474 (1983).

Construing the provisions of §§ 70-667 and 46-152, it appears plain that, to the extent a public power and irrigation district invokes the powers contained in § 46-152, the district is subject to the requirements and limitations imposed under this statute applicable to irrigation districts. See Wright v. Loup River Public Power Dist., 133 Neb. 715, 277 N.W.2d 53 (1938) (public power district governed by statutes relating to irrigation districts as to their appropriation, crossing, and use of highways). Thus, the limitation on borrowing in § 46-152 would be applicable to public power and irrigation districts acting pursuant to this provision.

Finally, you ask what consequences exist if a public power and irrigation district exceeds the borrowing limitation contained in § 46-152. While this is a rather broad and open-ended question, it appears that one possible consequence could be that a property owner in the district with standing to challenge such action could institute a lawsuit to have the district's act declared invalid as in excess of the authority granted by statute. While it may be likely that such action by the district could be deemed invalid only as to amounts borrowed in excess of the fifty cent per acre limit provided by statute, the lawsuit could seek to have any amount borrowed in excess of the limit declared invalid. Also, an affected property owner could seek to have all or part of any ensuing levy for payment of the amount borrowed declared invalid or illegal in whole or in part. Beyond such potential actions, we decline to speculate as to any further possible consequences which may flow from a determination that a district has acted contrary to § 46-152.

Very truly yours,

DON STENBERG

'Section 1. That section 28-326, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-326. ~~As used in~~ For purposes of sections 28-325 to 28-345 and sections 3, 4, 6, and 7 of this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Abortion shall mean ~~an act, procedure, device,~~

~~or prescription administered to a woman known by the person so administering to be pregnant and performed with the intent and result of producing the premature expulsion, removal, or termination of the human life within the womb of the pregnant woman, except that in cases in which the unborn child's viability is threatened by continuation of the pregnancy, early delivery after viability shall not be construed as an abortion for the purposes of sections 28-325 to 28-345~~ the use or prescription of any instrument, medicine, drug, or other substance or device intentionally to terminate the pregnancy of a woman known to be pregnant with an intention other than to increase the probability of a live birth, to preserve the life or health of the child after live birth, or to remove a dead unborn child;

(2) Hospital shall mean those institutions licensed by the Department of Health pursuant to sections 71-2017 to 71-2029;

(3) Physician shall mean any person licensed to practice medicine in this state as provided in sections 71-102 to 71-110;

(4) Pregnant shall mean that condition of a woman who has unborn human life within her as the result of conception;

(5) Conception shall mean the fecundation of the ovum by the spermatozoa;

(6) Viability shall mean that stage of human development when the unborn child is potentially able to live more than merely momentarily outside the womb of the mother by natural or artificial means;

(7) Emergency situation shall mean that condition which, on the basis of the physician's good faith clinical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death or for which a delay will create serious risk of substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function; and

(8) Probable gestational age of the unborn child shall mean what will with reasonable probability, in the judgment of the physician, be the gestational age of the unborn child at the time the abortion is planned to be performed. ~~a condition exists that in the sound medical judgment of the physician the abortion should be performed without delay so as not to adversely affect the best physical or mental health of the woman;~~

~~(8) Informed consent shall mean a written statement, voluntarily entered into by the person upon whom an abortion is to be performed, whereby she specifically consents to such abortion. Such consent shall be deemed to be an informed consent only if it affirmatively appears in the written~~

~~statement that the person upon whom the abortion is to be performed has been advised (a) of possible alternatives to abortion, including childbirth and adoption, and that there are agencies and services available to assist her to carry her pregnancy to a natural term, (b) of the abortion procedures to be used, (c) of the particular risks associated with the abortion procedures to be employed in her case, and (d) that there are agencies and services available for prevention of future unintended pregnancies. The person providing the information specified in subdivision (8) of this section to the person upon whom the abortion is to be performed shall be deemed qualified to so advise and provide such information only if, at a minimum, he or she has had training in each of the following subjects: Sexual and reproductive health, abortion technology, contraceptive technology, short-term counseling skills, community resources and referral, and informed consent. Such statement shall bear the signature of the person upon whom the abortion is to be performed and be signed by the attending physician; and~~

~~(9) The word signature includes the mark of a person unable to write her name. A mark shall have the same effect as a signature when the name is written by some other person and the mark is made near thereto by the person unable to write her name.~~

Sec. 2. That section 28-327, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-327. No abortion shall be performed except with the voluntary and informed consent of the woman upon whom the abortion is to be performed. Except in the case of an emergency situation, consent to an abortion is voluntary and informed only if:

(1) The woman is told the following by the physician who is to perform the abortion or by the referring physician, at least twenty-four hours before the abortion:

(a) The name of the physician who will perform the abortion;

(b) The particular medical risks associated with the particular abortion procedure to be employed including, when medically accurate, the risks of infection, hemorrhage, and danger to subsequent pregnancies and infertility;

(c) The probable gestational age of the unborn child at the time the abortion is to be performed; and

(d) The medical risks associated with carrying her child to term.

The physician may provide this information by telephone without conducting a physical examination or tests of the patient, in which case the information required to be supplied may be based on facts supplied the physician by the patient and whatever other relevant information is reasonably available to the physician;

(2) The woman is informed, by the physician who is to perform the abortion, by the referring physician, or by an agent of either, at least twenty-four hours before the abortion:

(a) That medical assistance benefits may be available for prenatal care, childbirth, and neonatal care;

(b) That the father is liable to assist in the support of her child, even in instances in which the father has offered to pay for the abortion; and

(c) That she has the right to review the printed materials described in section 3 of this act. The physician or his or her agent shall orally inform the woman that the materials have been provided by the Department of Health and that they describe the unborn child and list agencies which offer alternatives to abortion. If the woman chooses to review the materials, they shall either be given to her at least twenty-four hours before the abortion or mailed to her at least seventy-two hours before the abortion by certified mail, restricted delivery to addressee, which means the postal employee can only deliver the mail to the addressee;

(3) The woman certifies in writing, prior to the abortion, that the information described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section has been furnished her and that she has been informed of her right to review the information referred to in subdivision (2)(c) of this section; and

(4) Prior to the performance of the abortion, the physician who is to perform the abortion or his or her agent receives a copy of the written certification prescribed by subdivision (3) of this section. ~~on any woman in the absence of an informed consent, except that an abortion may be performed if, in the sound medical judgment of the physician, an emergency endangers the life or health of the woman and the woman is unable to give informed consent.~~

Sec. 3. (1) The Department of Health shall cause to be published, within sixty days after the effective date of this act, the following easily comprehensible printed materials:

(a) Geographically indexed materials designed to inform the woman of public and private agencies and services available to assist a woman through pregnancy, upon childbirth, and while the child is dependent, including adoption agencies, which materials shall include a comprehensive list of the agencies available, a description of the services they offer, and a description of the manner, including telephone numbers and addresses in which such agencies may be contacted or, at the option of the department, printed materials including a toll-free, twenty-four-hour-a-day telephone number which may be called to orally obtain such a list and description of agencies in the locality of the caller, and of the services they offer; and

(b) Materials designed to inform the woman of the probable anatomical and physiological characteristics of the unborn child at two-week gestational increments from the time when a woman can be known to be pregnant to full term, including pictures or drawings representing the development of unborn children at the two-week gestational increments, and any relevant information on the possibility of the unborn child's survival. Any such pictures or drawings shall contain the dimensions of the unborn child and shall be realistic and appropriate for the stage of pregnancy depicted. The materials shall be objective, nonjudgmental, and designed to convey only accurate scientific information about the unborn child at the various gestational ages. The material shall also contain objective information describing the methods of abortion procedures commonly employed, the medical risks commonly associated with each such procedure, the possible detrimental psychological effects of abortion, the medical risks commonly associated with abortion, and the medical risks commonly associated with carrying a child to term.

(2) The materials shall be printed in a typeface large enough to be clearly legible.

(3) The materials required under this section shall be available from the department upon the request by any person, facility, or hospital for an amount equal to the cost incurred by the department to publish the materials.

Sec. 4. When an emergency situation compels the performance of an abortion, the physician shall inform the woman, prior to the abortion if possible, of the medical indications supporting his or her or judgment that an abortion is necessary to avert her death or to avert substantial and irreversible impairment of major bodily function.

Sec. 5. That section 28-328, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-328. The intentional and knowing violation of section 28-327 is a Class II misdemeanor. No penalty may be imposed upon the woman upon whom the abortion is performed or attempted to be performed. No criminal penalty or civil liability for failure to comply with subdivision (2)(c) of section 28-327 or that portion of subsection (3) of such section requiring a written certification that the woman has been informed of her right to review the information referred to in subdivision (2)(c) of section 28-327 may be imposed unless the Department of Health has published and made available the printed materials at the time the physician or his or her agent is required to inform the woman of her right to review them.

Sec. 6. Any person upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of section 28-327 or the parent or guardian of a minor upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of such section shall have a right to maintain a civil cause of action against the person who performed the abortion or attempted to perform the abortion. A violation of such section shall be prima facie evidence of professional negligence. If judgment is rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any such action, the court shall also render judgment for a reasonable attorney's fee in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant.

Sec. 7. In every civil action or criminal proceeding brought pursuant to section 6 of this act or section 28-328, the court shall rule whether the anonymity of any woman upon whom an abortion is performed or attempted shall be preserved from public disclosure if she does not give her consent to such disclosure. The court, upon motion by a party or on its own motion, shall make such a ruling and, upon determining that her anonymity should be preserved, shall issue orders to the parties, witnesses, and counsel and shall direct the sealing of the record and exclusion of individuals from courtrooms or hearing rooms, to the extent necessary to safeguard her identity from public disclosure. Each such order shall be accompanied by specific written findings explaining why the anonymity of the woman should be preserved from public disclosure, why the order is essential to that end, how the order is narrowly tailored to serve that interest, and why no reasonable less restrictive alternative exists. In the absence of written consent of the woman upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted, anyone, other than a public official, who brings an action under section 28-328 shall do so under a pseudonym. This section may not be construed to conceal the identity of the plaintiff or of witnesses from the defendant.

Sec. 8. If any section in this act or any part of any section shall be declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions thereof.

Sec. 9. That original sections 28-326, 28-327, and 28-328, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.'.".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 93026

DATE: April 5, 1993

SUBJECT: LB 124: Amendment to Nebraska Fair Employment Practice Act Authorizing the Nebraska Equal Opportunity Commission to Grant

Injunctive Relief, Damages, Attorney's Fees, and Costs

REQUESTED BY: Senator Kurt A. Hohenstein
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Jan E. Rempe, Assistant Attorney General

Legislative Bill 124 seeks to amend Neb. Rev. Stat. § 48-1119(3) (1988), which is part of the Nebraska Fair Employment Practice Act. Section 48-1119(3), as it currently exists, addresses disposition of cases heard by the Nebraska Equal Opportunity Commission (NEOC). Under this section, the NEOC is required to issue cease and desist orders and to order other appropriate affirmative action, which may include reinstatement or hiring of employees, with or without backpay, if the NEOC finds intentional unlawful employment practices. Legislative Bill 124 adds other disposition options to section 48-1119(3) by providing that "{a} complainant who has suffered physical, emotional, or financial harm as a result of a violation of the Nebraska Fair Employment Practice Act shall be entitled to injunctive relief, general and special damages, reasonable attorney's fees, and costs." LB 124, sec. 4 (1993).

You have requested our opinion regarding the constitutionality of the above language. Specifically, you are concerned that the NEOC does not have the constitutional authority to grant these types of relief. We note that the language you question does not specifically provide that the NEOC may grant injunctive relief and award damages, attorney's fees, and costs; the provision simply states that certain complainants "shall be entitled" to those types of relief. However, since the proposed amendment to section 48-1119(3) appears within several existing provisions which outline the NEOC's power to dispose of cases by granting various forms of relief, you have obviously assumed that the language at issue means that the NEOC, as opposed to a court, may grant the types of relief in question. For purposes of this opinion, we will make the same assumption.

From our analysis of several cases which address the constitutionality of administrative bodies awarding damages and other types of relief, we have identified three constitutional arguments often raised concerning the granting of such relief: (1) that such awards violate the judicial powers clause; (2) that such awards violate one's right to a jury trial; and (3) that statutorily authorizing administrative bodies to make such awards constitutes an unlawful delegation of power.

I. DISCUSSION

A. Judicial Powers Clause

Article V, section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution vests the judicial power of the state in the courts. Article II, section 1, divides the powers of state government into three departments--the legislative, executive, and judicial--and prevents people "being one of these departments" from exercising any power properly belonging to the others, except as otherwise directed or permitted in the Nebraska Constitution.

Based on these constitutional provisions, administrative agencies generally do not have judicial powers, but may perform "quasi-judicial" duties. Transport Workers of America v. Transit Auth., 205 Neb. 26, 286 N.W.2d 102 (1979). The conferring upon administrative agencies of executive or administrative functions which require the exercise of quasi-judicial powers does not violate article V, section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution, especially when the matter at issue is affected with a public interest and where appeal to the courts is available from administrative decisions. Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 155 N.W.2d 322 (1967).

Like the Nebraska Supreme Court in Transport Workers and Anderson, courts in other states have routinely categorized various functions performed by administrative entities as "judicial" or "quasi-judicial" as a means of distinguishing between permissible and prohibited administrative acts. However, the means of categorization used by such courts are often left unexplained. See Wikman v. City of Novi, 413 Mich. 617, 322 N.W.2d 103 (1982) (issuance of an injunction is an exercise of judicial power); Transport Workers of America v. Transit Auth., 205 Neb. 26, 286 N.W.2d 102 (1979) (entering a declaratory judgment and ordering an accounting are judicial functions).

Simply labeling various administrative acts as "judicial" or "quasi-judicial" without setting forth a standard by which these acts are so designated has been criticized by both courts and commentators. McHugh v. Santa Monica Rent Control Bd., 49 Cal. 3d 348, 777 P.2d 91, 261 Cal. Rptr. 318, at f.n. 30 (1989). Therefore, in McHugh the California Supreme Court developed a standard by which administrative actions may be evaluated for compliance with the judicial powers clause of the California Constitution, which, like the Nebraska Constitution, states that the judicial power of the state is vested in the state's courts. Cal. Const. art. 6, § 1. The McHugh test, distilled from case law from nine states, including Wisconsin and Missouri, provides:

> An administrative agency may constitutionally hold hearings, determine facts, apply the law to those facts, and order relief--including certain types of monetary relief--so long as (i) such activities are authorized by statute or legislation and are reasonably necessary to effectuate the administrative agency's primary, legitimate regulatory purposes, and (ii) the "essential" judicial power (i.e., the power to make enforceable, binding judgments) remains ultimately in the courts, through review of agency determinations.

Id. at 372, 777 P.2d at 106, 261 Cal. Rptr. at 333 (1989) (emphasis in original deleted).

1. Damage Awards

Part of the amendment proposed in LB 124 would allow the NEOC to award general and special damages.

Based on the test quoted above, the McHugh court concluded that administrative awards of restitution do not offend the judicial powers clause of the California Constitution when both the substantive and procedural aspects of the test are met. Several other courts have also found that awards of restitution by administrative agencies are constitutionally permissible. See Sunpower of Arizona v. Arizona State Registrar, 166 Ariz. 437, 803 P.2d 430 (Ct. App. 1990) (administrative agency's award of restitutionary damages constitutional when due process procedural rights were protected, prohibited conduct was well defined by statute, and judicial review was available); Percy Kent Bag Co. v. Missouri Comm'n on Human Rights, 632 S.W.2d 480 (Mo. 1982) (commission's award of backpay in discrimination case constitutional when statute contained adequate standards, remedy was appropriate in light of public policy of eliminating discrimination, and all administrative decisions were subject to judicial review); Jackson v. Concord Co., 54 N.J. 113, 253 A.2d 793 (1969) (reimbursement for out-of-pocket loss in housing discrimination case constitutional when award was incidental in connection with a subject delegated to the agency and judicial review available).

In Walnut Creek Manor v. Fair Employment & Housing Comm'n, 54 Cal. 3d 245, 814 P.2d 704, 284 Cal. Rptr. 718 (1991), the California Supreme Court distinguished an administrative agency's award of restitution, defined as a quantifiable amount of money owed to an injured party to compensate for pecuniary loss directly resulting from the other party's violation of the law, from an award of general compensatory damages for emotional distress in a discrimination case. The Walnut Creek court held that the Fair Employment and Housing Commission's award of unlimited general compensatory damages for emotional distress violated the judicial powers clause of the state constitution because such general compensatory damages were not readily measurable or quantifiable; could be awarded without proof of pecuniary loss; were not necessary or incidental to the agency's purposes under the McHugh test; and shifted the remedial focus of the administrative hearing from redress for a particular incident of unlawful discrimination, and prevention of a recurrence thereof, to compensation for intangible and nonquantifiable injury to one's psyche in a manner similar to a private tort action. See also Broward County v. La Rosa, 505 So. 2d 422 (Fla. 1987) (administrative agency's award of unliquidated common law damages for humiliation and embarrassment in discrimination case violated separation of powers provision in state constitution).[1]

Although we were unable to locate any specific Nebraska authority concerning the constitutionality of an administrative agency awarding general and special damages, we believe the above cases are persuasive. Although Nebraska courts would have final judicial power to make the NEOC's damage awards enforceable and binding, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 48-1120 (1988), awarding damages for injuries like emotional distress would not seem to be reasonably necessary to effectuate the NEOC's purpose of fostering and safeguarding the right to employment without discrimination for the reasons stated in Walnut Creek. Therefore, to the extent that "general and special damages" in LB 124 means general compensatory damages for emotional distress, humiliation, embarrassment, or other types of intangible injury, the provision violates the judicial powers clause contained in article V, section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution. However, damages which are more in the nature of restitution would be constitutionally permissible.

2. Attorney's Fees and Costs

The amendment at issue in LB 124 also allows the NEOC to award attorney's fees and costs. Since these items would be reimbursement for quantifiable, out-of-pocket expenditures incurred by a victim of discrimination as a direct consequence of exercising that victim's rights under the Nebraska Fair Employment Practice Act, awards for attorney's fees and costs would seem to be in the nature of restitution and would not violate the judicial powers clause of the Nebraska Constitution, pursuant to the analysis used in McHugh and Walnut Creek.

3. Injunctive Relief

Under McHugh, it is constitutionally permissible, as far as the judicial powers clause is concerned, for an administrative agency like the NEOC to prohibit parties from committing unlawful discriminatory practices since such orders are obviously necessary to accomplish the NEOC's purpose of safeguarding employment without discrimination and since the power to make such orders legally binding and enforceable ultimately lies with the courts. § 48-1120.

Although the NEOC may constitutionally grant the type of relief encompassed by an injunction, the NEOC would have no power to grant a legally enforceable injunction. Since an injunction is an equitable remedy issued or granted by a court, Black's Law Dictionary 705 (5th ed. 1979), the NEOC would have no power to issue an "injunction," as that term is legally understood. Further, since section 48-1119(3) currently authorizes the NEOC to issue cease and desist orders, it is unclear why the additional power to grant injunctions is mentioned in the proposed legislation.

B. Right to Jury Trial

Another constitutional argument often raised in the context of administrative agencies awarding damages is that such awards violate the state constitutional right to a jury trial. Neb. Const. art. I, § 6. However, the court in McHugh noted that many states have addressed such challenges and have almost unanimously held that no jury trial right exists concerning adjudication of a matter within the regulatory power of an administrative agency. McHugh, 49 Cal. 3d at 380, 777 P.2d at 112, 261 Cal. Rptr. at 339. The McHugh court concluded that restitution-like damage awards by administrative agencies do not violate the jury trial provision in the state constitution.

In contrast, at least one court has held that damages awarded by an administrative agency for humiliation and embarrassment violated the state constitutional right of trial by jury. Broward County v. La Rosa, 505 So. 2d 422 (Fla. 1987). Since the jury trial provision of the Florida Constitution--which is similar to the provision found in Nebraska's Constitution--secures the right to a jury trial in cases which were traditionally afforded a jury trial at common law, and since common law recognized actions for unliquidated damages, the Broward court concluded that damage awards given by an administrative agency for humiliation and embarrassment violate the constitutional right to a jury trial.

Therefore, if "general and special damages" within the meaning of the proposed language in LB 124 includes damages for humiliation and embarrassment, this provision may be subject to a constitutional challenge on grounds that it violates article I, section 6, of the Nebraska Constitution. Awards of restitution, however, would not be subject to such a challenge.

C. Delegation of Power

We would also like to note a potential delegation problem with the provision at issue. The court in County Council for Montgomery County v. Investors Funding Corp., 270 Md. 403, 312 A.2d 225 (1973), concluded that an act which authorized an administrative body to impose a civil penalty not exceeding $1,000 for the violation of any provision in a chapter of the act constituted an invalid delegation of legislative power and violated due process requirements. The court stated that although delegation to an administrative body of power to impose a monetary penalty is constitutional, this particular provision was completely without legislative safeguards or standards to guide the agency in exercising its discretion.

Reasonably adequate, sufficient, and definite standards must be provided when conferring discretionary power upon an administrative agency in order to guide the agency in the exercise of the power conferred upon it, and to enable those affected to know their rights and obligations under the law. Bosselman, Inc. v. State, 230 Neb. 471, 432 N.W.2d 226 (1988).

The provision at issue in LB 124 may lack proper standards to guide the NEOC in setting the amount and specific types of damages, fees, and costs which may be awarded, and to alert those affected by the provision to know their obligations under the law.

II. CONCLUSION

If the provision in LB 124 which allows the NEOC to award general and special damages to those suffering physical, emotional, or financial harm as a result of violations of the Nebraska Fair Employment Practice Act includes general compensatory damages for emotional distress, humiliation, embarrassment, and other intangible injury, the provision may violate the judicial powers and jury trial clauses of the Nebraska Constitution. Neb. Const. art. V, § 1 & art. I, § 6. The proposed amendment may also constitute an invalid delegation of legislative power due to the lack of standards to guide the NEOC in exercising its administrative functions under the Nebraska Fair Employment Practice Act.

[1]There are cases which were decided prior to McHugh and which came to a contrary conclusion. Kentucky Comm'n on Human Rights v. Fraser, 625 S.W.2d 852 (Ky. 1981) (commission's award of compensatory damages for embarrassment and humiliation caused by discrimination constitutional when procedural due process was provided, prohibited conduct was well defined by statute, and judicial review was available); Plasti-Line, Inc. v. Tennessee Human Rights Comm'n, 746 S.W.2d 691 (Tenn. 1988) (same); State Human Rights Comm'n v. Pearlman Realty Agency, 161 W. Va. 1, 239 S.E.2d 145 (1977) (same).

(1) Abortion shall mean ~~an act, procedure, device, or prescription administered to a woman known by the person so administering to be pregnant and performed with the intent and result of producing the premature expulsion, removal, or termination of the human life within the womb of the pregnant woman, except that in cases in which the unborn child's viability is threatened by continuation of the pregnancy, early delivery after viability shall not be construed as an abortion for the purposes of sections 28-325 to 28-345~~ the use or prescription of any instrument, medicine, drug, or other substance or device intentionally to terminate the pregnancy of a woman known to be pregnant with an intention other than to increase the probability of a live birth, to preserve the life or health of the child after live birth, or to remove a dead unborn child;

(2) Hospital shall mean those institutions licensed by the Department of Health pursuant to sections 71-2017 to 71-2029;

(5) Conception shall mean the fecundation of the ovum by the spermatozoa;

(6) Viability shall mean that stage of human development when the unborn child is potentially able to live more than merely momentarily outside the womb of the mother by natural or artificial means;

(7) Emergency situation shall mean that condition which, on the basis of the physician's good faith clinical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death or for which a delay will create serious risk of substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function; and

(8) Probable gestational age of the unborn child shall mean what will with reasonable probability, in the judgment of the physician, be the gestational age of the unborn child at the time the abortion is planned to be performed. ~~a condition exists that in the sound medical judgment of the physician the abortion should be performed without delay so as not to adversely affect the best physical or mental health of the woman;~~

~~(8) Informed consent shall mean a written statement, voluntarily entered into by the person upon whom an abortion is to be performed, whereby she specifically consents to such abortion. Such consent shall be deemed to be an informed~~

The person providing the information specified in subdivision (8) of this section to the person upon whom the abortion is to be performed shall be deemed qualified to so advise and provide such information only if, at a minimum, he or she has had training in each of the following subjects: Sexual and reproductive health, abortion technology, contraceptive technology, short-term counseling skills, community resources and referral, and informed consent. Sec. 2. That section 28-327, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-327. No abortion shall be performed except with the voluntary and informed consent of the woman upon whom the abortion is to be performed. Except in the case of an emergency situation, consent to an abortion is voluntary and informed only if:

(1) The woman is told the following by the physician who is to perform the abortion, by the referring physician, or by an agent of either, at least twenty-four hours before the abortion:

(a) The name of the physician who will perform the abortion;

(b) The particular medical risks associated with the particular abortion procedure to be employed including, when medically accurate, the risks of infection, hemorrhage, and danger to subsequent pregnancies and infertility;

(c) The probable gestational age of the unborn child at the time the abortion is to be performed;

(d) The medical risks associated with carrying her child to term;

(e) That medical assistance benefits may be available for prenatal care, childbirth, and neonatal care;

(f) That the father is liable to assist in the support of her child, even in instances in which the father has offered to pay for the abortion; and

(g) That she has the right to review the printed materials described in section 3 of this act. The physician or his or her agent shall orally inform the woman that the materials have been provided by the Department of Health and that they describe the unborn child and list agencies which offer alternatives to abortion. If the woman chooses to review the materials, they shall either be given to her at least twenty-four hours before the abortion or mailed to her at least seventy-two hours before the abortion by certified mail, restricted delivery to addressee, which means the postal employee can only deliver the mail to the addressee. The physician and the physician's agent may disassociate themselves from the materials and may comment or refrain from commenting on them as they choose.

The physician or the physician's agent may provide this information by telephone without conducting a physical examination or tests of the patient, in which case the information required to be supplied may be based on facts supplied by the patient and whatever other relevant information is reasonably available to the physician or the physician's agent.

(2) The woman is told the following by the physician who is to perform the abortion or by the referring physician, before the abortion:

(a) The particular medical risks associated with the particular abortion procedure to be employed including, when medically accurate, the risks of infection, hemorrhage, and danger to subsequent pregnancies and infertility;

(b) The probable gestational age of the unborn child at the time the abortion is to be performed; and

(c) The medical risks associated with carrying her child to term.

(3) The woman certifies in writing, prior to the abortion, that the information described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section has been furnished her and that she has been informed of her right to review the information referred to in subdivision (1)(g) of this section; and

(4) Prior to the performance of the abortion, the physician who is to perform the abortion or his or her agent receives a copy of the written certification prescribed by subdivision (3) of this section. ~~on any woman in the absence of an informed consent, except that an abortion may be performed if, in the sound medical judgment of the physician, an emergency endangers the life or health of the woman and the woman is unable to give informed consent.~~

Sec. 3. (1) The Department of Health shall cause to be published, within sixty days after the effective date of this act, the following easily comprehensible printed materials:

(a) Geographically indexed materials designed to inform the woman of public and private agencies and services available to assist a woman through pregnancy, upon childbirth, and while the child is dependent, including adoption agencies and agencies and services for prevention of unintended pregnancies, which materials shall include a comprehensive list of the agencies available, a description of the services they offer, and a description of the manner, including telephone numbers and addresses in which such agencies may be contacted or, at the option of the department, printed materials including a toll-free, twenty-four-hour-a-day telephone number which may be called to orally obtain such a list and description of agencies in the locality of the caller, and of the services they offer; and

(b) Materials designed to inform the woman of the probable anatomical and physiological characteristics of the unborn child at two-week gestational increments from the time when a woman can be known to be pregnant to full term, including pictures or drawings representing the development of unborn children at the two-week gestational increments, and any relevant information on the possibility of the unborn child's survival. Any such pictures or drawings shall contain the dimensions of the unborn child and shall be realistic and appropriate for the stage of pregnancy depicted. The materials shall be objective, nonjudgmental, and designed to convey only accurate scientific information about the unborn child at the various gestational ages. The material shall also contain objective information describing the methods of abortion procedures commonly employed, the medical risks commonly associated with each such procedure, the possible detrimental psychological effects of abortion, the medical risks commonly associated with abortion, and the medical risks commonly associated with carrying a child to term.

(2) The materials shall be printed in a typeface large enough to be clearly legible.

(3) The materials required under this section shall be available from the department upon the request by any person, facility, or hospital for an amount equal to the cost incurred by the department to publish the materials.

Sec. 4. When an emergency situation compels the performance of an abortion, the physician shall inform the woman, prior to the abortion if possible, of the medical indications supporting his or her judgment that an abortion is necessary to avert her death or to avert substantial and irreversible impairment of major bodily function.

Sec. 5. That section 28-328, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-328. The intentional and knowing violation of section 28-327 is a Class II misdemeanor. No penalty may be imposed upon the woman upon whom the abortion is performed or attempted to be performed. No criminal penalty or civil liability for failure to comply with subdivision (1)(g) of section 28-327 or that portion of subsection (3) of such section requiring a written certification that the woman has been informed of her right to review the information referred to in subdivision (1)(g) of section 28-327 may be imposed unless the Department of Health has published and made available the printed materials at the time the physician or his or her agent is required to inform the woman of her right to review them.

Sec. 6. Any person upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of section 28-327 or the parent or guardian of a minor upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of such section shall have a right to maintain a civil cause of action against the person who performed the abortion or attempted to perform the abortion. A violation of such section shall be prima facie evidence of professional negligence. If judgment is rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any such action, the court shall also render judgment for a reasonable attorney's fee in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant.

Sec. 7. In every civil action or criminal proceeding brought pursuant to section 6 of this act or section 28-328, the court shall rule whether the anonymity of any woman upon whom an abortion is performed or attempted shall be preserved from public disclosure if she does not give her consent to such disclosure. The court, upon motion by a party or on its own motion, shall make such a ruling and, upon determining that her anonymity should be preserved, shall issue orders to the parties, witnesses, and counsel and shall direct the sealing of the record and exclusion of individuals from courtrooms or hearing rooms, to the extent necessary to safeguard her identity from public disclosure. Each such order shall be accompanied by specific written findings explaining why the anonymity of the woman should be preserved from public disclosure, why the order is essential to that end, how the order is narrowly tailored to serve that interest, and why no reasonable less restrictive alternative exists. In the absence of written consent of the woman upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted, anyone, other than a public official, who brings an action under section 28-328 shall do so under a pseudonym. This section may not be construed to conceal the identity of the plaintiff or of witnesses from the defendant.

Sec. 8. If any section in this act or any part of any section shall be declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions thereof.

Sec. 9. That original sections 28-326, 28-327, and 28-328, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.'.".

Mr. Haberman asked unanimous consent to be excused until he returns. No objections. So ordered.

Pending.

Mr. Abboud offered the following amendment:
AM1341

1. Insert the following new section:

"Sec. 2. No later than July 1, 1996, the Director of Correctional Services shall establish a program for the confinement of offenders who are required to serve not more than one hundred eighty days in a regimented inmate discipline unit pursuant to subsection (3) of section 29-2204. Offenders committed to the Department of Correctional Services participating in the program shall be required to engage in strenuous labor and physical exercise as well as educational, chemical dependency, and mental health programs determined by department personnel to be suitable. If the director determines that an offender committed to the department for participation in the program is medically or psychologically unsuitable for the program or is not complying with the rules adopted by the department governing conduct of participants, the director shall end the offender's participation in the program, place the offender in a suitable and convenient facility under the jurisdiction of the department, and make written request for the sentencing court to reassume custody of the offender. If the court does not reassume custody and remove the offender from the custody of the department before the tenth day after the department's mailing of such a written request to the court, the county in which the sentencing judge presides shall pay the per diem cost of maintaining the offender within any suitable and convenient facility designated by the department.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the department develop recommendations for the implementation of regimented inmate discipline units consisting of two components: (1) A community component utilizing existing structures within a community; and (2) a correctional component to be an adjunct to an existing correctional facility. Recommendations shall be forwarded by the department to the Legislature not later than July 1, 1994.

Not later than July 1, 1997, the chairperson of the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature shall request a program evaluation of the regimented inmate discipline units pursuant to the Legislative Program Evaluation Act, and the Legislative Program Evaluation Committee and the Legislative Program Evaluation Unit shall conduct such program evaluation pursuant to the act.".

2. In the Witek amendment, AM1156:

a. On page 3, line 25, after "(3)" insert

"Commencing July 1, 1996, when the court is of the opinion that imprisonment may be appropriate, but that a brief and intensive period of incarceration may serve the interests of society by promoting the rehabilitation of the offender and by deterring the offender from engaging in further criminal activity, the court may commit an offender to the department for a period not exceeding one hundred eighty days for placement in a regimented inmate discipline unit followed by one year of intense parole supervision. The court may consider such commitment if the offender (a) has been found guilty of a nonviolent crime, (b) is seventeen years of age or older but younger than twenty-five years and has no physical or mental handicap that precludes strenuous physical activity, and (c) has never before been sentenced to a period of incarceration for a felony offense in this or any other state or federal jurisdiction. Upon successful completion of the term of commitment, the offender shall be placed under the jurisdiction of the Board of Parole for a period of one year. All provisions of Chapter 83, article 1, relating to parole, except eligibility for parole, shall apply to the offender. If the parole of the offender is revoked, the offender shall be returned to the sentencing court for resentencing on the original conviction.

If the offender for any reason fails to complete the program of regimented inmate discipline, the offender shall immediately be returned to the sentencing court for resentencing on the original conviction. Credit shall be given for time actually served in the program. All costs incurred during the period the offender is held in a regimented inmate discipline unit shall be the responsibility of the state, and the county shall be liable only for the cost of returning him or her to the appropriate court for resentencing or such other disposition as the court may then deem appropriate.

"Sec. 2. That section 28-327, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-327. No abortion shall be performed except with the voluntary and informed consent of the woman upon whom the abortion is to be performed. Except in the case of an emergency situation, consent to an abortion is voluntary and informed only if:

(1) The woman is told the following by the physician who is to perform the abortion, by the referring physician, or by an agent of either, at least twenty-four hours before the abortion:

(a) The particular medical risks associated with the particular abortion procedure to be employed including, when medically accurate, the risks of infection, hemorrhage, and danger to subsequent pregnancies and infertility;

(b) The probable gestational age of the unborn child at the time the abortion is to be performed; and

(c) The medical risks associated with carrying her child to term.

The physician or the physician's agent may provide this information by telephone without conducting a physical examination or tests of the patient, in which case the information required to be supplied may be based on facts supplied by the patient and whatever other relevant information is reasonably available to the physician or the physician's agent;

(2) The woman is informed by telephone or in person, by the physician who is to perform the abortion, by the referring physician, or by an agent of either, at least twenty-four hours before the abortion:

The physician or his or her agent shall orally inform the woman the materials have been provided by the Department of Health and that they describe the unborn child and list agencies which offer alternatives to abortion. If the woman chooses to review the materials, they shall either be given to her at least twenty-four hours before the abortion or mailed to her at least seventy-two hours before the abortion by certified mail, restricted delivery to addressee, which means the postal employee can only deliver the mail to the addressee. The physician and his or her agent may disassociate themselves from the materials and may comment or refrain from commenting on them as they choose;

42-371. Under sections 42-347 to 42-379, 43-290, 43-512 to 43-512.10, and 43-1401 to 43-1418:

(1) All judgments and orders for payment of money shall be liens, as in other actions, upon real property and any personal property registered with any county office and may be enforced or collected by execution and the means authorized for collection of money judgments. The judgment creditor may execute a partial or total release of the judgment, generally or on specific real or personal property. Release of judgments for child support or spousal support must be approved by the court which rendered the judgment unless all such payments are current, in which case a release executed by the judgment creditor shall be sufficient to remove the lien. A properly executed, notarized release explicitly reciting that all child support payments or spousal support payments are current shall be prima facie evidence that such payments are in fact current. The judgment debtor may petition the court which rendered the original judgment for an order releasing the lien as to specific real or personal property. The court shall grant such order upon a showing by the judgment debtor that sufficient real or personal property or property interests shall remain subject to the lien to cover all support due and which may become due;

(2) Child support and spousal support judgments shall cease to be liens on real or registered personal property ten years from the date (a) the youngest child becomes of age or dies or (b) the most recent execution was issued to collect the judgment, whichever is later, and such lien shall not be reinstated;

(3) Alimony and property settlement award judgments, if not covered by subdivision (2) of this section, shall cease to be a lien on real or registered personal property ten years from the date (a) the judgment was entered, (b) the most recent payment was made, or (c) the most recent execution was issued to collect the judgment, whichever is latest, and such lien shall not be reinstated;

(4) Whenever a judgment creditor refuses to execute a release of the judgment as provided in this section, the person desiring such release may file an application for the relief desired. A copy of the application and a notice of hearing shall be served on the judgment creditor either personally or by registered or certified mail no less than ten days before the date of hearing. If the court finds that the release is not requested for the purpose of avoiding payment and that the release will not unduly reduce the security, the court may release real or personal property from the judgment lien. As a condition for such release, the court may require the posting of a bond with the clerk in an amount fixed by the court, guaranteeing payment of the judgment;

(5) The court may in any case, upon application or its own motion, after notice and hearing, order a person required to make payments to post sufficient security, bond, or other guarantee with the clerk to insure payment of both current and any delinquent amounts. Upon failure to comply with the order, the court may also appoint a receiver to take charge of the debtor's property to insure payment. Any bond, security, or other guarantee paid in cash may, when the court deems it appropriate, be applied either to current payments or to reduce any accumulated arrearage; ~~and~~

(6) The lien of a mortgage or deed of trust which secures a loan, the proceeds of which are used to purchase real property, shall attach prior to any lien authorized by this section. Any mortgage or deed of trust which secures the refinancing, renewal, or extension of a real property purchase money mortgage or deed of trust shall have the same lien priority with respect to any lien authorized by this section as the original real property purchase money mortgage or deed of trust to the extent that the amount of the loan refinanced, renewed, or extended does not exceed the amount used to pay the principal and interest on the existing real property purchase money mortgage or deed of trust, plus the costs of the refinancing, renewal, or extension; and

(7) Any lien authorized by this section against personal property registered with any county consisting of a motor vehicle or mobile home shall attach upon notation of the lien against the motor vehicle or mobile home certificate of title and shall have its priority established pursuant to the terms of section 60-110.".

SELECT COMMITTEE REPORTS
Enrollment and Review

LEGISLATIVE BILL 389. Placed on Select File.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 292. Placed on Select File as amended.
E & R amendment to LB 292:
AM5450

1. Strike the original sections and all amendments thereto and insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. That section 79-1501.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-1501.01. Sections 79-1501 to 79-1566 and sections 3 and 6 of this act shall be known and may be cited as the School Employees Retirement Act.

Sec. 2. That section 79-1522.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-1522.01. In lieu of the school retirement allowance provided by section 79-1522, any member who is not an employee of a Class V school district and who becomes eligible to make application for and receive a school retirement allowance under section 79-1520 may receive a formula annuity retirement allowance if it is greater than the school retirement allowance provided by section 79-1522.

Subject to the other provisions of this section, the monthly formula annuity in the normal form shall be determined by multiplying the number of years of service for which such member would otherwise receive the service annuity provided by section 79-1522 (1) by one and one-quarter percent of his or her final average compensation, (2) by one and one-half percent of his or her final average compensation, ~~or~~ (3) by one and sixty-five hundredths percent of his or her final average compensation, or (4) by one and eighty-hundredths percent of his or her final average compensation. If the annuity begins prior to the sixty-fifth birthday of the member and the member has completed ~~thirty-five~~ thirty or more years of creditable service and is at least sixty years of age, the annuity shall not be reduced. If the annuity begins on or after the sixtieth birthday of the member and the member has completed five or more but less than thirty years of creditable service, the annuity shall be reduced by three percent for each year by which the member's age is less than the age at which the member's age plus years of service would have totaled ninety or three percent for each year after the member's sixtieth birthday and prior to his or her sixty-fifty birthday, whichever provides the greater annuity. ~~If the annuity begins prior to the sixty-fifth birthday of the member and the member has completed five or more but less than thirty years of creditable service, the annuity at the date it begins shall be reduced by three percent for each year after the member's sixtieth birthday and prior to his or her sixty-fifth birthday. If the annuity begins on or after the sixtieth birthday of the member and the member has completed at least thirty but less than thirty-five years of creditable service, the annuity at the date it begins shall be reduced by three percent for each year by which the member's years of creditable service is less than thirty-five years or for each year by which the member is less than sixty-five years of age, whichever provides the greater annuity.~~ A member shall have acquired the equivalent of one-half year of service or more as a public school employee under the retirement system following August 24, 1975, to be eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity using one and one-quarter percent of his or her final average compensation as one of the factors, shall have acquired the equivalent of one-half year of service or more as a public school employee under the retirement system following July 17, 1982, to be eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity using one and one-half percent of his or her final average compensation as one of the factors, or shall have acquired the equivalent of one-half year of service or more as a public school employee under the retirement system following July 1, 1984, to be eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity using one and sixty-five hundredths percent of his or her final average compensation as one of the factors. A member shall be actively employed as a public school employee under the retirement system on the operative date of this act to be eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity using one and eighty-hundredths percent of his or her final average compensation as one of the factors.

The normal form of the formula annuity shall be an annuity payable monthly during the remainder of the member's life with the provision that in the event of his or her death before sixty monthly payments have been made the monthly payments will be continued to his or her estate or to the beneficiary he or she has designated until sixty monthly payments have been made. A member may elect to receive in lieu of the normal form of annuity an actuarially equivalent annuity in any optional form provided by section 79-1530.

Final average compensation for full-time employees shall be determined by dividing the member's total compensation subject to required deposits for the three fiscal years in which such compensation was the highest by thirty-six. Final average compensation for part-time employees shall be determined by dividing total adjusted compensation subject to required deposits for the three fiscal years in which such adjusted compensation was the highest by thirty-six. If a member has such compensation for less than three such fiscal years, his or her final average compensation shall be determined by dividing his or her total compensation in all such years by twelve times the total number of years of his or her service therefor. Adjusted compensation for any year shall be equal to actual pay times the ratio of one to the actual credited service for such year. ~~A member shall have acquired the equivalent of one-half year of service or more as a public school employee under the retirement system following August 24, 1975, to be eligible for computation of his or her formula annuity using only five fiscal years in the determination of his or her final average compensation.~~

All formula annuities shall be paid from the Annuity Reserve Account. Upon the granting of a formula annuity, there shall be transferred to the Annuity Reserve Account: (a) From the Service Annuity Account, the value of the service annuity which would otherwise be payable; (b) from the School Employees Savings Account, the accumulated contributions of the member; and (c) from the School Employers Deposit Account, the value of the formula annuity in excess of the amounts transferred from the Service Annuity Account and the School Employees Savings Account. The amounts transferred from the Service Annuity Account at any time after such member attains sixty years of age and prior to his or her sixty-fifth birthday or thirty-five years of creditable service shall be on an actuarially reduced basis.

A person receiving a retirement benefit may accept employment in a postsecondary school under the control and management of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, or any other state agency without having to waive retirement payments, without having to notify the retirement board, and without being subject to any withholding of future retirement payments.

Sec. 3. (1) There is hereby created the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund. Required deposits from the compensation of members and employers shall be accumulated in the fund to provide a cost-of-living benefit adjustment for each person who is retired or each surviving beneficiary who is receiving a retirement annuity from the School Retirement System of the State of Nebraska. The purpose of the cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be to reflect changes in the cost-of-living and wage levels that have occurred subsequent to the date of retirement.

(2) Member contributions into the fund shall equal three-tenths of one percent of compensation. Employer contributions into the fund shall be one hundred one percent of member contributions to the fund.

(3) Upon verification by the actuary, when amounts accumulated in the fund are sufficient to provide a three percent cost-of-living benefit adjustment for all qualified persons, the retirement board shall determine the amount of the cost-of-living benefit adjustment as provided by this section for each member and beneficiary. The retirement board shall make transfers to and from the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund and any other fund of the School Retirement System of the State of Nebraska administered by the retirement board in order to comply with this section.

(4) It is the intent of the Legislature that a cost-of-living benefit adjustment provided in this section shall be granted automatically in future years whenever funds are sufficient for such a benefit and the increase in the cost-of-living or wage levels justifies the adjustment as provided by this section. The cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be the equivalent of three percent of benefits provided pursuant to the School Employees Retirement Act. The cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be paid to a retired person or surviving beneficiary during his or her life.

(5) For members who retired prior to the operative date of this act, the cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be calculated based on the amount of benefit the member is receiving on the operative date of this act. For members who retire after the operative date of this act, the cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be calculated based on the amount of benefit the member receives on the date of retirement. Any subsequent cost-of-living benefit adjustment shall be calculated based on three percent of the amount of benefit the member is receiving on the operative date of this act or three percent of the amount of benefit the member will receive on the date of retirement if he or she retires subsequent to the operative date of this act.

Sec. 4. That section 79-1545, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-1545. All assets of the retirement system shall be credited, according to the purpose for which they are held, to the Expense Fund, to the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund, or to one of five accounts in the School Retirement Fund, namely, the School Employees Savings Account, the School Employers Deposit Account, the Service Annuity Account, the Annuity Reserve Account, and the Contingent Account. Any money in these accounts or funds available for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer pursuant to sections 72-1237 to ~~72-1269~~ 72-1276.

Sec. 5. That section 79-1549, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-1549. A Contingent Account is hereby created (1) to facilitate the crediting of regular interest on the amounts in the various other accounts, with the exception of the Expense Fund, (2) to fund the adjusted supplemental retirement benefit provided by section 79-1566, and (3) to provide an account to cover any special requirements of the Annuity Reserve Account or the Expense Fund, insofar as the state is responsible for such accounts or fund. All income, interest, and dividends derived from the deposits and investments authorized by the School Employees Retirement Act shall be paid into the Contingent Account. The retirement board may accept gifts, devises, and bequests. Any funds which may come into the possession of the retirement system in this manner or which may be transferred from the School Employees Savings Account by reason of the lack of a claimant or because of a surplus in any fund or account described in section 79-1545 other than the School Employees Retirement System Reserve Fund, or any other money the disposition of which is not otherwise provided for in the act, shall be credited to the Contingent Account. The interest allowed by the retirement board to each of the funds or accounts shall be paid to such funds or accounts from the Contingent Account or shall be used to fund the adjusted supplemental retirement benefit provided by section 79-1566. Any deficit occurring in the Annuity Reserve Account or in the Expense Fund, insofar as the state is responsible for such account or fund, shall be met by payments to the fund or account in question from the Contingent Account. Annually the retirement board shall estimate the amount of money deemed necessary to pay the obligation levied against the Contingent Account, including regular interest. If such amount exceeds the revenue estimated to accrue to the fund or account for that year, such excess shall be certified to the State Treasurer and shall, on warrant of the Director of Administrative Services, be transferred from funds appropriated by the state for such purpose to the Contingent Account.

Sec. 6. Any expenditure made by a school district pursuant to sections 79-1522.01, 79-1545, and 79-1549 as changed by this legislative bill and section 3 of this act shall be considered a general fund expenditure of the district and shall not be exempt from the growth limitations placed on district spending by the Tax Equity and Educational Opportunities Support Act.

Sec. 7. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1993.

Sec. 8. That original sections 79-1501.01, 79-1522.01, 79-1545, and 79-1549, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, are repealed.

Sec. 9. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and take effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.".

2. On page 1, line 2, strike "and" and after the last comma insert "79-1545, and 79-1549,"; in line 3 strike "date and"; in line 5 strike "powers" and insert "duties"; and in line 6 after the first semicolon insert "to state intent; to provide that certain expenditures are subject to budget limitations as prescribed;".

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

April 13, 1993

Madam President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Madam President and Senators:

Engrossed Legislative Bill LB 246 was received in my office on April 7, 1993. The bill was signed by me on April 13, 1993, and delivered to the Secretary of State.

LB 246 adds Howard County to the Brand Inspection Area. This bill is one that invokes many opinions from cattle producers on both sides of the issue. I have signed the bill to protect each and every cattle producer in the state to the best of our ability. It is that protection against theft that I consider paramount to both feedlot owners and stock owners.

I recognize concerns of some producers in the state that this may create unnecessary additional burdens. Although I do not anticipate such problems, I am prepared to consider changes in the process that the Brand Committee undertakes to protect cattle and address such problems. I have a real concern that this activity not become onerous to this important industry in our state.

Sincerely,
(Signed) E. Benjamin Nelson
Governor

29-2204. ~~(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, in all cases when any person is convicted of any offense by this code declared criminal and made punishable by imprisonment in the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility, the court shall declare in its sentence for what period of time, within the respective periods prescribed by law, such convict shall be imprisoned at hard labor in the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility and shall determine and declare in its sentence whether any such convict shall be kept in solitary confinement in the cells of the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility, without labor, and, if so, for what period of time.~~

~~(2)~~ (1) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section and except when a term of life is required by law, in imposing an indeterminate sentence upon an offender, the court shall:

(a) Fix the minimum and maximum limits of the sentence to be served within the limits provided by law, except that when a maximum limit of life is imposed by the court for a Class IB felony, the minimum limit may be any term of years not less than the statutory mandatory minimum;

(b) Advise the offender on the record the time the offender will serve on his or her minimum term before attaining parole eligibility assuming that no good time for which the offender will be eligible is lost; and

(c) Advise the offender on the record the time the offender will serve on his or her maximum term before attaining mandatory release assuming that no good time for which the offender will be eligible is lost.

If any discrepancy exists between the statement of the minimum limit of the sentence and the statement of parole eligibility or between the statement of the maximum limit of the sentence and the statement of mandatory release, the statements of the minimum limit and the maximum limit shall control the calculation of the offender's term. If the court imposes more than one sentence upon an offender or imposes a sentence upon an offender who is at that time serving another sentence, the court shall state whether the sentences are to be concurrent or consecutive.

(2)(a) When the court is of the opinion that imprisonment may be appropriate but desires more detailed information as a basis for determining the sentence to be imposed than has been provided by the presentence report required by section 29-2261, the court shall commit an offender to the Department of Correctional Services for a period not exceeding ninety days. The department shall conduct a complete study of the offender during that time, inquiring into such matters as his or her previous delinquency or criminal experience, social background, capabilities, and mental, emotional, and physical health and the rehabilitative resources or programs which may be available to suit his or her needs. By the expiration of the period of commitment or by the expiration of such additional time as the court shall grant, not exceeding a further period of ninety days, the offender shall be returned to the court for sentencing and the court shall be provided with a written report of the results of the study, including whatever recommendations the department believes will be helpful to a proper resolution of the case. After receiving the report and the recommendations, the court shall proceed to sentence the offender in accordance with subsection (1) of this section. The term of the sentence shall run from the date of original commitment under this subsection.

(b) In order to encourage the use of this procedure in appropriate cases, all costs incurred during the period the defendant is held in a state institution under this subsection shall be a responsibility of the state and the county shall be liable only for the cost of delivering the defendant to the institution and the cost of returning him or her to the appropriate court for sentencing or such other disposition as the court may then deem appropriate.

(3) Whenever the defendant was under eighteen years of age at the time he or she committed the crime for which he or she was convicted, the court may in its discretion, instead of imposing the penalty provided for the crime, make such disposition of the defendant as the court deems proper under the Nebraska Juvenile Code.".

The county clerk shall issue a certificate of title to a mobile home but shall not deliver the certificate of title unless the mobile home transfer statement accompanies the application for title, except that the failure to provide the mobile home transfer statement shall not prevent the notation of a lien on the face of the certificate of title to the mobile home pursuant to section 60-110 and delivery to the holder of the first lien. The mobile home transfer statement and the information contained in the statement shall be confidential and only available to tax officials.

(2)(a) If the motor vehicle has tax situs in Nebraska, the application shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the vehicle has tax situs as defined in section 77-1238.

(b) If the applicant is a nonresident, the application shall be filed in the county in which the transaction is consummated.

All certificates of title issued by the department shall be issued in the manner prescribed for the county clerk in section 60-107.

(3) If a certificate of title has previously been issued for the motor vehicle in this state, the application for a new certificate of title shall be accompanied by the certificate of title duly assigned unless otherwise provided for in sections 60-102 to 60-117. If a certificate of title has not previously been issued for the motor vehicle in this state or if a certificate of title is unavailable pursuant to subsection (4) of section 3 of this act, the application, unless otherwise provided for in sections 60-102 to 60-117, shall be accompanied by a manufacturer's or importer's certificate, as provided for in such sections, a duly certified copy thereof, a certificate of title, a court order issued by a court of record, a manufacturer's certificate of origin, or an assigned registration certificate, if the law of the state from which the motor vehicle was brought into this state does not have a certificate of title law. The county clerk shall retain the evidence of title presented by the applicant and on which the certificate of title is issued.

(4) The county clerk shall use reasonable diligence in ascertaining whether or not the statements in the application for a certificate of title are true by checking the application and documents accompanying the same with the records of motor vehicles in his or her office. (5) In the case of the sale of a motor vehicle, the certificate of title shall be obtained in the name of the purchaser upon application signed by the purchaser, except that (a) for titles to be held by husband and wife, applications may be accepted upon the signature of either one as a signature for himself or herself and as agent for his or her spouse and (b) for an applicant providing proof that he or she is a handicapped or disabled person as defined in section 18-1738, applications may be accepted upon the signature of the applicant's parent, legal guardian, foster parent, or agent.

If all reassignments on the certificate of title have been used, the licensed dealer shall obtain title in his or her name prior to any subsequent transfer.

(7) An application for a certificate of title shall include a statement that an identification inspection has been conducted on the vehicle unless (a) the title sought is a salvage certificate of title as defined in section 60-129 or a nontransferable certificate of title provided for in section 60-131, (b) the surrendered ownership document is a Nebraska certificate of title, a manufacturer's statement of origin, an importer's statement of origin, a United States Government Certificate of Release of a motor vehicle, or a nontransferable certificate of title issued under section 60-131, (c) the application for a certificate of title contains a statement that such vehicle is to be registered under section 60-305.09, or (d) the vehicle is a cabin trailer. account within the county general fund. The identification inspection required by this subsection shall include examination and notation of the current odometer reading and a comparison of the vehicle identification number with the number listed on the ownership records, except that if a lien is registered against a vehicle and recorded on the vehicle's ownership records, the county clerk shall provide a copy of the ownership records for use in making such comparison. If such numbers are not identical or if there is reason to believe further inspection is necessary, the person performing the inspection shall make a further inspection of the vehicle which may include, but shall not be limited to, examination of other identifying numbers placed on the vehicle by the manufacturer and an inquiry into the numbering system used by the state issuing such ownership records to determine ownership of a vehicle. The identification inspection shall also include a statement that the vehicle identification number has been checked for entry in the National Crime Information Center and the Nebraska Crime Information Service. If there is cause to believe that odometer fraud exists, written notification shall be given to the office of the Attorney General. If after such inspection the sheriff or his or her designee determines that the vehicle is not the vehicle described by the ownership records, no statement shall be issued. In the case of an assembled vehicle such inspection shall include, but not be limited to, an examination of the records showing the date of receipt and source of each major component part as defined in section 60-2601.

Opinion No. 93029

DATE: April 15, 1993

SUBJECT: AM0916: Amendment to LB 137 Making Ten-Year Statute of Repose in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 25-224 Inapplicable to Products Manufactured Outside Nebraska

REQUESTED BY: Senator Stan Schellpeper
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Jan E. Rempe, Assistant Attorney General

You have proposed an amendment to Legislative Bill 137 making the ten-year statute of repose in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 25-224(2) (1989) inapplicable "to products manufactured outside of the State of Nebraska." Your proposed amendment would also add the following section to § 25-224:

> It is the intent of the Legislature that the changes made to this section by this legislative bill be applied retroactively to revive causes of action for injury caused by defective products which were barred by interpretation of this section prior to the effective date of this act. It is further the intent of the Legislature to protect Nebraska Manufacturers and to foster a good business climate in the state.

AM0916, § 6 (1993).

You have asked whether these provisions violate the Commerce Clause of the U.S. Constitution. Based on the following analysis, we conclude that AM0916 violates the Commerce Clause, as well as the due process guarantee in the Nebraska Constitution. U.S. Const. art. I, § 8, cl. 3; Neb. Const. art. I, § 3.

I. DISCUSSION

A. Commerce Clause

The Commerce Clause of the U.S. Constitution grants Congress the power "{t}o regulate Commerce . . . among the several States." U.S. Const. art. I, § 8, cl. 3. Although Congress has such power, it may remain silent on potential areas of federal regulation because of the local character, number, and diversity of these subject areas. City of Philadelphia v. New Jersey, 437 U.S. 617, 623 (1978). "In the absence of federal legislation, these subjects are open to control by the States so long as they act within the restraints imposed by the Commerce Clause itself." Id. Accord Raymond Motor Transp. v. Rice, 434 U.S. 429, 440 (1978). Thus, the Supreme Court has stated that the affirmative grant of power to Congress contained in the Commerce Clause also encompasses a "negative" or "dormant" aspect which prohibits states from engaging in economic protectionism--that is, imposing "regulatory measures designed to benefit in-state economic interests by burdening out-of-state competitors." New Energy Co. of Indiana v. Limbach, 486 U.S. 269, 273-74 (1988). See Fort Gratiot Sanitary Landfill, Inc. v. Michigan Dep't of Natural Resources, 112 S. Ct. 2019, 2023 (1992); Healy v. Beer Institute, Inc., 109 S. Ct. 2491, 2494 n.1 (1989).

The Supreme Court has gradually defined the restraints imposed upon states by the Commerce Clause in light of the basic purposes of the Clause.

> {T}he rationale of the commerce clause was to create and foster the development of a common market among the states, eradicating internal trade barriers, and prohibiting the economic Balkanization of the Union. Approval of discriminatory regulation enacted by one state would merely serve to invite retaliatory legislation by the burdened jurisdictions. . . . When local legislation thwarts the operation of the common market of the United States, the local laws have then exceeded the permissible limits of the dormant commerce clause.

2 Ronald D. Rotunda & John E. Nowak, Treatise on Constitutional Law § 11.1, at 4 (2d ed. 1992). See Healy, 109 S. Ct. at 2499 (the Constitution is concerned with maintaining a "national economic union unfettered by state-imposed limitations on interstate commerce and with the autonomy of the individual States within their respective spheres"); City of Philadelphia, 437 U.S. at 623 (since the nation is our economic unit, the states are not separable economic units; one state may not economically isolate itself in its dealings with other states).

Giving effect to these purposes, the Supreme Court has defined the Commerce Clause restraints applicable to state regulation using a two-tiered approach: (1) a per se rule of invalidity and (2) a balancing approach. Brown-Forman Distillers Corp. v. New York State Liquor Auth., 476 U.S. 573, 578-79 (1986).

1. Per Se Rule of Invalidity

"When a state statute directly regulates or discriminates against interstate commerce, or when its effect is to favor in-state economic interests over out-of-state interests, we have generally struck down the statute without further inquiry." Id. Some of the Court's decisions have called this approach a virtual "per se rule of invalidity," applicable to state laws which constitute discriminatory economic protectionism. Northwest Central Pipeline Corp. v. State Corp.

Comm'n of Kansas, 489 U.S. 493, 523 (1989); City of Philadelphia, 437 U.S. at 624.

Under this tier of Commerce Clause analysis, a state statute which clearly discriminates against interstate commerce will be held unconstitutional " 'unless the discrimination is demonstrably justified by a valid factor unrelated to economic protectionism.' " Fort Gratiot, 112 S. Ct. at 2024 (quoting New Energy, 486 U.S. at 274). See Healy, 109 S. Ct. at 2501. Economic protectionism may be evidenced by discriminatory purpose or discriminatory effect. Chemical Waste Management, Inc. v. Hunt, 112 S. Ct. 2009, 2015 n.6 (1992).

It is the state's burden to justify discrimination against interstate commerce by establishing the local benefits served by the statute and the unavailability of nondiscriminatory alternatives which would adequately further these local interests. Id. at 2014. " 'At a minimum such facial discrimination invokes the strictest scrutiny of any purported legitimate local purpose and of the absence of nondiscriminatory alternatives.' " Id.

2. Balancing Approach

When a statute "has only indirect effects on interstate commerce and regulates evenhandedly, we have examined whether the State's interest is legitimate and whether the burden on interstate commerce clearly exceeds the local benefits." Brown-Forman, 476 U.S. at 579. This approach, developed by the Court in Pike v. Bruce Church, Inc., 397 U.S. 137 (1970), involves a lesser degree of scrutiny than the per se rule of invalidity outlined above, but is only available when "other legislative objectives are credibly advanced and there is no patent discrimination against interstate trade." City of Philadelphia, 437 U.S. at 624. See Chemical Waste Management, 112 S. Ct. at 2014 n.5.

The Court has noted a lack of clear separation between state regulation which is per se invalid under the Commerce Clause, and that which is subject to the Pike balancing approach. "In either situation the critical consideration is the overall effect of the statute on both local and interstate activity." Brown-Forman, 476 U.S. at 579.

3. Applicability of Commerce Clause Analysis to AM0916

> Although statute of limitations defenses are not a fundamental right, it is obvious that they are an integral part of the legal system and are relied upon to project the liabilities of persons and corporations active in the commercial sphere. The State may not withdraw such defenses on conditions repugnant to the Commerce Clause. Where a State denies ordinary legal defenses or like privileges to out-of-state persons or corporations engaged in commerce, the state law will be reviewed under the Commerce Clause to determine whether the denial is discriminatory on its face or an impermissible burden on commerce.

Bendix Autolite Corp. v. Midwesco Enterprises, Inc., 486 U.S. 888, 893 (1988) (citation omitted). Therefore, the amendment at issue is subject to Commerce Clause analysis.

The proposed amendment directly discriminates against interstate commerce by excepting out-of-state manufacturers from the protection afforded by the ten-year statute of repose in section 25-224(2). By its stated intent of protecting Nebraska manufacturers and fostering a favorable business climate in the state, the amendment clearly furthers in-state economic interests by burdening out-of-state interests.

Since this type of economic protectionism is the stated intent, as well as the effect, of the proposed amendment, there is no evidence of a valid factor unrelated to such protectionism which would justify the amendment. Further, it appears that nondiscriminatory alternatives which would adequately foster the state's business climate exist, such as simply retaining the current statute of repose in section 25-224(2) for all products--whether manufactured in or outside the state.

Such blatant discriminatory economic protectionism, in both purpose and effect, without a legitimate local purpose unrelated to such protectionism and with nondiscriminatory alternatives available, would probably be held unconstitutional under the per se rule of invalidity described above.

Even assuming the proposed amendment had only indirect effects on interstate commerce, regulated evenhandedly, and was not patently discriminatory against interstate trade--therefore making the amendment subject to the balancing approach--the amendment would still be unconstitutional. The proposed amendment places a substantial burden on interstate commerce by forcing out-of-state manufacturers to choose between moving their manufacturing operations to Nebraska in order to be eligible for the liability protection provided by the statute of repose in section 25-224(2), and forfeiting this protection by continuing to manufacture outside the state, thereby remaining subject to product liability suits in Nebraska indefinitely. Such a significant burden cannot be outweighed by the local benefits achieved through an amendment based on burdening out-of-state competitors in order to benefit Nebraska's economic interests--the very type of discriminatory economic protectionism the dormant Commerce Clause is intended to prohibit.

Because Nebraska's interest and purpose in enacting this amendment is not legitimate under Commerce Clause analysis and because the burden on interstate commerce clearly exceeds local benefits, the proposed amendment would also violate the Commerce Clause under the balancing approach.

B. Due Process

In Givens v. Anchor Packing, Inc., 237 Neb. 565, 466 N.W.2d 771 (1991), the Nebraska Supreme Court evaluated the constitutionality of retroactively applying an amendment to section 25-224 which excepted actions to recover damages for asbestos-related injuries from the four-year statute of limitations in section 25-224(1) and the ten-year statute of repose in section 25-224(2). The court held that the amendment could not be applied retroactively because while the Legislature may change statutes prescribing limitations on actions, it may not remove a bar or limitation which has already become complete. Id. at 568-69, 466 N.W.2d at 773.

The court's stated rationale for its decision was Article I, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution, which prevents one from being denied their property without due process of law. Id. at 569, 466 N.W.2d at 773.

> The immunity afforded by a statute of repose is a right which is as valuable to a defendant as the right to recover on a judgment is to a plaintiff; the two are but different sides of the same coin. Just as a judgment is a vested right which cannot be impaired by a subsequent legislative act, so, too, is immunity granted by a completed statutory bar. These are substantive rights recognized by Nebraska law and protected by its Constitution.

Id. at 569, 466 N.W.2d at 773-74 (citations omitted). The court reiterated that a completed statutory bar is a "substantive, vested right which the Legislature cannot abrogate." Id. at 571, 466 N.W.2d at 774-75. See also Stewart v. Keyes, 295 U.S. 403 (1935) (denial of due process to allow suit to recover property where the action had been barred by a completed statutory limitations period).

Your proposed amendment to section 25-224 states that the amendment is to be applied retroactively to revive causes of action that have been previously extinguished by a completed statutory bar in section 25-224. Under Givens, out-of-state companies have a vested property right in the immunity to suit provided by a completed statutory bar, such as the ten-year statute of repose in section 25-224(2). Reviving causes of action already barred by this statute of repose would deprive these out-of-state companies of their vested rights in violation of the due process guarantee found in Nebraska's Constitution.

II. CONCLUSION

Proposed Amendment 0916 violates both the Commerce Clause of the U.S. Constitution and the due process guarantee provided in the Nebraska Constitution. U.S. Const. art. I, § 8, cl. 3; Neb. Const. art. I, § 3.

We note that you have also asked us to suggest other methods of achieving the Legislature's desired result which would be more likely to withstand constitutional challenge. While we believe that specific strategic and drafting decisions should be undertaken by the Legislature in this matter, we generally suggest that provisions aimed at benefiting Nebraska's economy should not do so by impermissibly burdening out-of-state competitors, in purpose or effect. Further, the amendment should not seek to revive previously barred causes of action.

Sincerely,
DON STENBERG

Opinion No. 93030

DATE: April 9, 1993

SUBJECT: School Employees Retirement Act. Increased school district general fund expenditures mandated by LB 292 of the Ninety-third Legislature (1993) are not exempt from the growth limitations of the Tax Equity and Educational Opportunities Support Act.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Thomas R. Horgan, Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General, Harold Mosher, Senior Assistant Attorney General

The statutory stated purpose of the School Retirement System is to provide "retirement allowances or other benefits for school employees of the State of Nebraska." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-1502 (Cum. Supp. 1992). It is funded by monetary contributions made by school employees, their employers and the state. Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 79-1531 and 79-1540 (Cum. Supp. 1992). The term "employer" is defined in the School Employees Retirement Act to mean "the State of Nebraska or any subdivision thereof or agency of the state or subdivision authorized by law to hire school employees or to pay their compensation." See, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-1501(7)(Supp. 1992). Assets of the School Retirement System are credited, according to the purpose for which they are held, to the Expense Fund or to one of five accounts, namely, the School Employees Savings Account, the School Employers Deposit Account, the Service Annuity Account, the Annuity Reserve Account, and the Contingent Account. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 79-1545 (Cum. Supp. 1992). Money in these accounts available for investment is invested by the state investment officer pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 72-1237 to 72-1269 (Reissue 1990), as amended.

If it becomes operative law, LB 292 of the Ninety-third Legislature, First Session (1993), would amend several operative statutes which comprise the School Retirement Act including Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 79-1520, 79-1522.01 and 79-1549 (Cum Supp. (1992). Among other things, LB 292 would change the minimum age at which school employees could retire and increase the factor by which retirement allowances are determined and paid in certain cases which in turn could (although not necessarily) cause employer general fund budgets to increase over present amounts. In addition, LB 292 would create a Reserve Fund (hereinafter, "fund"). Section 4 of the amendments to LB 292 states "Required deposits from the compensation of members and employers shall be accumulated in the fund to provide a cost-of-living benefit adjustment for each person who is retired or each surviving beneficiary who is receiving a retirement annuity from the School Retirement System of the State of Nebraska." This section also states:

(2) Member contributions into the fund shall equal three-tenths of one percent of compensation. Employer contributions into the fund shall be one hundred one percent of member contributions to the fund. (Emphasis added.)

In sum, LB 292 could cause employer general fund budgets to increase over present amounts, other things being equal, due to (1) the change in minimum age requirements for retirement allowances, (2) the mandated increase in the factor by which retirement allowances are determined and paid in certain cases and (3) the mandated expanded employer contributions to a reserve fund created by this legislative bill. Consequently, increases in employer budgets brought about by the operation of LB 292 as originally amended would not be subject to the growth limitations of Neb. Rev. Stat. §79-3819 (Cum. Supp. 1992).

Caveat. After you submitted your subject opinion request to this office, LB 292 was further amended on April 5, 1993. That amendment states as follows:

1. Insert the following new section:

Sec. 7. Any expenditure made by a school district pursuant to sections 79-1522.01, 79-1545, and 79-1549 as changed by this legislative bill and section 4 of this act shall be considered a general fund expenditure of the district and shall not be exempt from the growth limitations placed on district spending by the Tax Equity and Educational Opportunities Support Act.

2. On page 1, lines 5 and 6, strike "section 4" and insert "sections 4 and 7".

3. Renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

The message in the above quoted amendment of April 5, 1993, seems clear: Increased school district general fund expenditures mandated by LB 292 of the Ninety-third Legislature are not exempt from the growth limitations of the Tax Equity and Educational Opportunities Support Act.

Respectfully submitted,

Clerk of the Legislature's Office

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 81. Introduced by Pirsch, 10; Pedersen, 39.

WHEREAS, victims of crime and their loved ones often face severe financial, physical, and psychological losses; and

WHEREAS, the aftermath of criminal violence may cause additional losses to crime victims due to inappropriate treatment by government institutions; and

WHEREAS, our commitment to liberty and justice for all must extend to our efforts to secure and protect crime victims' rights; and

WHEREAS, all citizens of Nebraska must do their part to stop violence by reporting crimes, cooperating with police and other criminal justice professionals, and by refusing to tolerate injustice in our homes or on our streets; and

WHEREAS, crime victims and advocates who serve them deserve our support for their endeavor to secure justice for crime victims; and

WHEREAS, a national commitment to violence reduction and crime victim assistance will help bring criminals to justice and justice to crime victims; and

WHEREAS, crime victims' advocates, victim service providers, criminal justice officials, and concerned citizens throughout our country and state are joining forces to observe 1993 Crime Victims' Rights Week.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature designates and proclaims the week of April 25 to May 1, 1993, as Nebraska Crime Victims' Rights Week.

2. That the Legislature expresses its gratitude to the many Nebraskans who reach out to lessen the distress of crime victims and reaffirms its commitment to address victims' rights and justice during Crime Victims' Rights Week and throughout the year.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 82. Introduced by Schimek, 27; Rasmussen, 20; Wesely, 26.

WHEREAS, prostate cancer is the second leading cause of cancer-related mortality among men in the United States, it is more prevalent than lung cancer, striking one out of every eleven men, African-American men have the highest rate of prostate cancer incidence in the world, with prostate cancer affecting one in nine African-American men; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska cancer registry data from 1987 through 1990 show prostate cancer as the most commonly diagnosed cancer for men in Nebraska, with three thousand three hundred sixty-four Nebraska men diagnosed with prostate cancer during that time, and each year more than two hundred Nebraska men die from the disease; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska trends for prostate cancer are similar to national trends, in that prostate cancer incidence and mortality are on a slow, upward climb and incidence of prostate cancer increases with each decade of life over forty years of age, continuing through the most advanced ages; and

WHEREAS, prognosis of prostate cancer is directly related to the state of the disease at diagnosis, since the cancer registry shows that sixty-nine percent of all prostate cancer is diagnosed while in a localized stage, where it is frequently curable, thirteen percent is diagnosed at a regional stage, and sixteen percent is diagnosed at a distant stage when cancer has spread to other organs; and

WHEREAS, the American Cancer Society has approved specific guidelines for prostate cancer detection for men fifty years and older, although men in high risk groups, such as African-Americans or those with strong familial predispositions, may be started at a younger age, since generally men with a life expectancy of at least ten years after detection may benefit from examination.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That in order to reduce the incidence and mortality of prostate cancer in Nebraska, men must be reached with messages regarding available screening tests so that they can make informed decisions about their health care.

"Sec. 7. (1) The Nebraska Workers' Compensation Court may develop and implement an independent medical examiner system consistent with the requirements of this section. As part of such system, the compensation court may create, maintain, and periodically validate a list of health care providers that it finds to be the most qualified and to be highly experienced and competent in their specific fields of expertise and in the treatment of work-related injuries to serve as independent medical examiners from each of the health care specialties that the compensation court finds most commonly used by injured employees. The compensation court may establish a fee schedule for services rendered by independent medical examiners and may adopt and promulgate any rules and regulations considered necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(2) An independent medical examiner shall render medical findings on the medical condition of an employee and related issues as specified under this section. The independent medical examiner shall not be the employee's treating health care provider and shall not have treated the employee with respect to the injury for which the claim is being made or the benefits are being paid.

(3) If the parties to a dispute cannot agree on an independent medical examiner of their own choosing, the compensation court shall assign an independent medical examiner from the list of qualified examiners to render medical findings in any dispute relating to the medical condition of a claimant, including, but not limited to, whether the injured employee is able to perform any gainful employment temporarily or permanently, what physical restrictions, if any, would be imposed on the employee's employment, whether the injured employee has reached maximum medical improvement, the existence and extent of any permanent physical impairment, and the reasonableness and necessity of any medical treatment previously provided, or to be provided, to the injured employee.

(4) The compensation court may adopt and promulgate rules and regulations pertaining to the procedures before the independent medical examiner, including the parties' ability to propound questions relating to the medical condition of the employee to be submitted to the independent medical examiner. In addition to the review of records and information, the independent medical examiner may examine the employee as often as the examiner determines necessary to render medical findings on the questions propounded by the parties or by the compensation court.

(5) The independent medical examiner shall submit a written report to the compensation court, the employer, and the employee stating the examiner's medical findings on the issues raised and providing a description of findings sufficient to explain the basis of those findings. The fee for the examination and report shall be paid by the employer.

(6) If the parties agree to use of a medical examiner, the examiner's findings shall be binding. If the compensation court assigns an independent medical examiner, it shall be a rebuttable presumption that the examiner's findings are correct.

(7) Any health care provider acting without malice and within the scope of the provider's duties as an independent medical examiner shall be immune from civil liability for making any report or other information available to the compensation court or for assisting in the origination, investigation, or preparation of the report or other information so provided.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 93031

DATE: April 22, 1993

SUBJECT: Disenfranchisement Based on Conviction of a Felony.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Kate Witek
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General

L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion concerning the constitutionality of LB 76, a bill proposing to amend the state's election laws. The particular provision you refer to is subsection (2) of § 72, which would require court clerks to prepare a monthly abstract of each "final judgment served by the clerk convicting an elector of a felony", and forward the same to the election commissioner or county clerk of the elector's county of residence. You ask whether, pursuant to the proposed legislation, a person convicted of a felony would be qualified to vote, and, if so, whether a person would be disqualified from voting immediately upon a judgment of conviction and imposition of sentence, or if disqualification would not occur until after an appeal of a judgment of conviction or sentence was decided.

Neb. Const. art. VI, § 2, provides: "No person shall be qualified to vote who is non compos mentis, or who has been convicted of treason or felony under the laws of the state or of the United States, unless restored to civil rights." (Emphasis added). Presently, Nebraska's election laws contain a provision mirroring this constitutional language. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 32-1048 (1988).

In a previous opinion, this office addressed the meaning of language contained in various constitutional provisions disqualifying persons "convicted of {a} felony" from being electors (Neb. Const. art. VI, §2) or disqualifying persons from holding public office upon "conviction of a felony" (Neb. Const. art. III, § 23 (repealed, 1972); Neb. Const. art. XV, § 2). 1957-58 Rep. Att'y Gen. 367 (Opinion No. 217, dated March 21, 1958). In this opinion, we noted that > the meaning of the term "convicted" or "conviction" depends upon the exact wording of the statutory or constitutional provision in which the term appears, and upon the type of situation to which the particular law applies; that is, whether it relates to the imposition of enhanced penalties for successive law violations, to disqualification or loss of a license for engaging in a trade or profession or for operating a motor vehicle, to a final order upon which appeal or error may be based, to the imposition of sentence, as well as to the loss of civil rights.

Id. at 369.

In State ex rel. Hunter v. Jurgensen, 135 Neb. 136, 280 N.W. 886 (1938), cert. denied 307 U.S. 643 (1939), the Court addressed whether the office of lieutenant governor was vacated under Neb. Const. art. III, § 23, by conviction of the holder of the office of a felony. The lieutenant governor had been found guilty, and, after a motion for new trial was denied, the court "entered its judgment in the case and sentenced him to imprisonment." Id. at 137, 280 N.W. at 887. The defendant prosecuted an error proceeding in the Nebraska Supreme Court. The Attorney General instituted a quo warranto action challenging the lieutenant governor's right to continue holding office, seeking a determination that the lieutenant governor's felony conviction created a vacancy in the office under Article III, § 23. The issue presented was whether "the verdict of the jury and the order, judgment and sentence of the district court, from which verdict respondent ha{d} prosecuted a proceeding in error, {constituted} a "conviction of a felony" within the meaning of section 23, art. III of the Constitution of Nebraska?" Id. at 138, 280 N.W. at 887.

The Court concluded that respondent's office became vacant on the date of the district court's order of judgment and the imposition of sentence. The Court held that > where a plea or verdict of guilty has been entered and the trial court has entered its judgment and sentenced the accused, there has been a conviction within the meaning of the term as used in the Constitution or statute providing that a public office shall become vacant upon conviction of a felony, and that such vacancy occurred notwithstanding the fact that a proceeding in error was taken or pending from such conviction.

Id. at 139, 280 N.W. at 888.

While the Jurgensen case dealt with the meaning of the language creating a vacancy in public office following "conviction of a felony" under former Article III, § 23, it is of assistance in construing the provision of Article VI, § 2, disqualifying persons from voting who have been "convicted of. . . {a} felony." Given the similarity between the language of these constitutional provisions, it appears that our Court, if asked to address the question, would likely conclude that one is "convicted of a felony" under Article VI, § 2, following the entry of a judgment of conviction of an offense constituting a felony and imposition of sentence, and that the prosecuting of an appeal would not prevent or suspend the disqualification from voting mandated by this constitutional provision.

This conclusion is in accord with the view of a majority of jurisdictions which have construed constitutional or statutory provisions requiring the disqualification of an elector or public officeholder as a result of a criminal "conviction" to apply immediately following entry of judgment and sentence, even though an appeal has been taken. See, e.g., Campbell v. State, 300 Ark. 570, 781 S.W.2d 14 (1989); State ex inf. Peach v. Goins, 575 S.W.2d 175 (Mo. 1978); State ex rel. Chavez v. Evans, 79 N.M. 578, 446 P.2d 445 (1968); State ex rel. Olson v. Langer, 65 N.D. 68, 256 N.W. 377 (1934). There is, however, authority to the contrary, holding that provisions disenfranchising persons "adjudged guilty" of or convicted of a felony require a "final adjudication" or a "final conviction", and that the pendency of appeal proceedings precludes such disqualification from voting from taking effect. See, e.g., Hayes v. Williams, 341 F. Supp. 182 (S.D. Tex. 1972); State ex rel. Heartsill v. County Election Board, 326 P.2d 782 (Okla. 1958).

With respect to your specific questions, it is clear that a person "who has been convicted of. . .{a} felony" is disqualified from voting under the plain language of Article VI, § 2. Furthermore, while it is not entirely clear, it appears that, based on the interpretation of similar language by the Nebraska Supreme Court in the Jurgensen case, the Court would likely conclude that a person is "convicted" within the meaning Article VI, § 2, following the entry of judgment and sentencing, and, as such, the disqualification from voting provided would attach at this time, without regard to whether an appeal were taken.

Section 72 of LB 76 proposes to amend Nebraska's election statutes to provide, in part: "No person shall be qualified to vote or to register to vote who is non compos mentis or who has been finally convicted of treason or felony under the laws of the state or of the United States unless restored to civil rights. . . ." LB 76, § 72(1) (Emphasis added). This section further provides that "{t}he clerk of any court in which a person is convicted of a felony shall prepare an abstract each month of each final judgment served by the clerk convicting an elector of a felony", and that the clerk must file the abstract with the election commissioner or county clerk of the elector's county of residence within a specified time. LB 76, § 72(2) (Emphasis added).

To the extent that subsection (1) of § 72 uses the phrase "finally convicted" of a felony to determine when disenfranchisement occurs, this may contravene the provisions of Article VI, § 2, which requires disqualification from voting of a person "convicted" of a felony. The term "final conviction" has been construed to mean a conviction for which the defendant has exhausted all appellate remedies or as to which the time for appeal has expired. State v. Lynn, 5 Ohio St. 2d 106, 214 N.E.2d 226 (1966). See also Cunningham v. State, 815 S.W.2d 313 (Tex. Ct. App. 1991) (Conviction from which appeal has been taken is not "final conviction" for purposes of enhancement until conviction is affirmee by appellate court and that court's mandate of affirmance becomes final); Hayes v. Williams, 341 F. Supp. 182 (S.D. Tex. 1972); State ex rel. Heartsill v. County Election Board, 326 P.2d 782 (Okla. 1958). As noted previously, we believe that the Nebraska Supreme Court would, based on the Jurgensen case, construe the phrase "convicted of. . . {a} felony" in Article VI, § 2, to relate to the entry of judgment and sentence, without regard to whether an appeal is taken. Thus, if the term "finally convicted" is intended to require that disqualification from voting does not attach to one convicted of a felony until after the time for appeal has expired or an appeal has been decided, this would be contrary to the language of Article VI, § 2, and would therefore be unconstitutional.

In addition, subsection (2) of § 72 requires court clerks to prepare an abstract of each "final judgment. . .convicting an elector of a felony", and to file the same with the election commissioner or county clerk of the elector's county of residence. In the criminal context, the meaning of the phrase "final judgment" is susceptible to different interpretations. "Final judgment" in a criminal case, after entry of which the time for appeal begins to run, is the sentencing of the defendant. People v. Stewart, 79 Ill. Dec. 123, 101 Ill. 2d 470, 463 N.E.2d 677 (1984); In re Zach, 61 N.J. Super. 591, 161 A.2d 745 (1960). In certain contexts, however, a "final judgment" does not occur until all avenues of direct appeal are exhausted. Maryland State Bar Ass'n, Inc. v. Kerr, 272 Md. 687, 326 A.2d 180 (1974) (A "final judgment" for purposes of rule authorizing final judgment of conviction of a crime to be conclusive proof of guilt for disciplinary proceedings is one that exists when all avenues of direct appeal from a judgment of conviction and sentence are no longer open); State v. McCluney, 280 N.C. 404, 185 S.E.2d 870 (1972) (Judgment is not final, within doctrine that when a criminal statute is expressly and unqualifiedly repealed after crime has been committed but before "final judgment" no punishment can be imposed, as long as case is pending on appeal). In this context, it appears that the term "final judgment" should be construed in its generally accepted sense, that being the time of sentencing of a defendant. If so construed, this provision of LB 76 would not be contrary to Article VI, § 2.

In conclusion, it is our opinion that the portion of subsection (1) of § 72 of LB 76 providing that a person "finally convicted" of a felony is disqualified to vote may run afoul of Neb. Const. art. VI, § 2, as it may be construed to suspend disenfranchisement until after an appeal of a conviction or sentence is exhausted. Based on the Jurgensen case, it appears that Article VI, § 2, would be construed by our supreme court to require that one is "convicted of. . . {a} felony" within the meaning of this constitutional provision following a judgment of conviction and imposition of sentence, without regard to the taking of an appeal. To the extent the language of § 72(1) of the bill may conflict with this interpretation, it would be unconstitutional. The portion of subsection (2) of § 72 of LB 76 referring to a "final judgment. . .convicting an elector of a felony" would not necessarily run afoul of Article VI, § 2, provided it is interpreted to refer to the entry of judgment and imposition of sentence. If it is interpreted to suspend the time for the taking effect of disqualification from voting of a person convicted of a felony until after the time for appeal has expired or an appeal is taken and decided, however, this portion of the bill may also run afoul of Article VI, § 2. Either potential defect could easily be cured by the adoption of language mirroring the constitutional provision, as is presently contained in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 32-1048 (1988), or other clarifying language.

Very truly yours,
DON STENBERG

Rule 3, Section 4, Select Committees

(e) Reference Committee

(i) The Executive Board shall constitute the Reference Committee. The Reference Committee shall review each bill and resolution and either refer the matter to the appropriate committee or to General File. The appropriate committee is that committee which has subject matter jurisdiction over the issue or which has traditionally handled the issue.

If a bill contains sections which increase or decrease the revenue collected by the state for the general fund or any cash fund, such sections shall be noted on the reference report with an "R" notation. The bill shall be referred to the committee which has subject matter jurisdiction without regard to the sections with an "R" notation.

Section 16. Report of Bill to Legislature.

(a) In reporting a bill to the Legislature, whether with or without amendments, a committee shall by vote of a majority of its members, recommend that the bill be placed on General File or that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Such action shall be taken at regularly scheduled meetings only.

(b) If a bill advanced to General File contains sections which increase or decrease the revenue collected by the state, either because these sections were noted by the Reference Committee or are part of a committee amendment, these sections shall be removed from the bill and placed in a separate bill by the committee amendment. The bill shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "R" added. The original bill is then advanced to General File and the "R" bill forwarded to the Revenue Committee for action.

The Revenue Committee may schedule a hearing on the "R" Bill to be held by the 50th day of the session in an odd numbered year, the 40th day of the session in an even numbered year, or 14 days after the bill is forwarded to the Revenue Committee, whichever is later. If a hearing is not held within these timelines, the bill shall be deemed advanced to General File without further action by the Revenue Committee. If the Revenue Committee does hold a hearing on the bill, it may advance, advance with committee amendments, or indefinitely postpone any "R" bill in the same manner as other bills as provided in this section.

If the "R" bill is advanced to General File through either action or inaction by the Revenue Committee, the "R" bill shall accompany the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. If the "R" bill is indefinitely postponed by the Revenue Committee, the original bill then moves through the legislative process without the revenue portions.

(Renumber (b) as (c)

(d) No bill shall be reported by the committee to be placed on General File unless the amendments and accompanying "R" bill; if any, are approved as to form and draftsmanship by the Bill Drafter.

Section 18. Committee Statement.

1. "A" bills, "R" bills, appropriation bills, and bills introduced at the request of the Governor may be introduced at any time;

2. A standing committee or special committee may request that the Legislature consider introduction of a bill. A vote of three-fifths of the elected members of the Legislature shall be required for such bill to be introduced, and a copy of the statement of intent for such bill must be placed on each member's desk before introduction of the bill is voted upon.

Rule 5, Section 6 -

(f) When any bill proposes adoption of a new program or change of an existing program either of which would require an appropriation to implement in the ensuing fiscal year, an appropriation bill for the purposes of funding the provisions of such bill shall be prepared from the information contained in the fiscal note. Such appropriation bill shall be prepared at the direction of the Chairperson of the Appropriations Committee. Such bill shall be placed on General File and considered as introduced by the introducer of the original bill or by the committee which offered the amendments creating the expenditure, and shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "A" added, and shall accompany any accompanying "R" bill and the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. Not more than one-half of the funds appropriated pursuant to this subsection shall be distributed to the University of Nebraska Medical Center for research in cancer and allied diseases and the University of Nebraska Eppley Institute for Research in Cancer and Allied Diseases. The remaining funds available pursuant to this subsection shall be distributed for contracts with other postsecondary educational institutions having colleges of medicine located in Nebraska which have cancer research programs for the purpose of conducting research in cancer and allied diseases.

(3) Any contract between the Department of Health and another postsecondary educational institution for cancer research under subsection (2) of this section shall provide that:

(a) Any money appropriated for such contract shall only be used for cancer research and shall not be used to support any other program in the institution;

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 93032

DATE: April 23, 1993

SUBJECT: Whether funding for the expenses incurred by the Secretary of State in connection with his service on the Nebraska Brand Committee should be placed in the Brand Committee budget or the budget of the Secretary of State.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Scott Moore
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

On behalf of the Appropriations Committee of the Legislature, you have requested our opinion as to whether funding for reimbursement of the expenses incurred by the Secretary of State as a result of his duties on the Nebraska Brand Committee (Brand Committee) should be placed in the budget of the Brand Committee or in the budget of the Secretary of State. As is discussed below, we believe that the Appropriations Committee has the discretion to recommend placement of the funds in question in either budget.

The responsibilities of the Brand Committee are set out generally in Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 54-101 to 54-169 (1988, Cum. Supp. 1992). Under Section 54-153, the Nebraska Secretary of State is the chairperson of the Brand Committee, and four additional members of that committee are appointed by the Governor.

Section 54-140 provides as follows with respect to expenses incurred by members of the Brand Committee:

> The appointed members of the committee shall be paid their actual and necessary traveling expenses in attending meetings of the committee or in performing any other duties that are prescribed in sections 54-101 to 54-168 and 54-415, as provided for in sections 81-1174 to 81-1177 for state employees.

(emphasis added). In addition to Section 54-140, the statutes dealing generally with reimbursement of expenses, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 81-1174 to 81-1182 (1987, Cum. Supp. 1992), authorize reimbursement of expenses incurred by the members of committees created by statute (such as the Secretary of State in this instance), and establish procedures for payment of those expenses. Since Section 54-140 appears to apply only to appointed members of the Brand Committee, and since the Secretary of State would be allowed expenses under the more general reimbursement statutes, you asked which budget should receive the funding for the expenses of the Secretary of State.

There are some statutes which deal with the expenses of members of statutory bodies which also specifically set out from which appropriation those expenses should be paid. For example, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 39-2202 (1988), dealing with the Nebraska Highway Bond Commission, states:

> All members of the {Highway Bond} commission shall be entitled to reimbursement for all necessary expenses incurred in connection with the performance of their duties as members as provided in sections 81-1174 to 81-1177 for state employees. Such compensation shall be paid out of the appropriation for the State Highway Commission.

(emphasis added). However, neither Section 54-140 nor Sections 81-1174 to 81-1182 contain such specific directions for the appropriation of expenses incurred by members of the Brand Committee. In addition, we believe that the language of Section 54-140 dealing with the expenses of appointed members of the Brand Committee simply authorizes payment of the expenses incurred by those individuals. It does not require that only those individuals may be paid from the Brand Committee's budget.

It is clear that the Legislature has plenary or absolute power over appropriations. State ex rel. Meyer v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 185 Neb 490, 176 N.W.2d 920 (1970). As a result, the Legislature may make appropriations with those conditions and those restrictions as it wishes within constitutional limitations. Id. Given the Legislature's authority over appropriations and the absence of any specific direction in existing statutes, we believe that the Appropriations Committee may use its discretion and recommend placement of the funding for the expenses of the Secretary of State in either the budget of the Brand Committee or the budget of the Secretary of State.

Sincerely yours,
DON STENBERG
Attorney General

Opinion No. 93033

DATE: April 27, 1993

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 231 - Authorization of Governor to Negotiate and Enter Into Tribal-State Compacts Governing Indian Gaming.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Chris Beutler
Senator Brad Ashford
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Don Stenberg, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion regarding the constitutionality of LB 231, as amended. Section 1 of LB 231, as amended, provides:

> Upon request of an Indian tribe having jurisdiction over Indian lands in Nebraska, the Governor or his or her designated representative or representatives shall, pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 2710 of the federal Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, negotiate with such Indian tribe in good faith for the purpose of entering into a tribal-state compact governing the conduct of Class III gaming as defined in the act. A compact which is negotiated pursuant to this section shall be executed by the Governor without ratification by the Legislature.

The initial question you ask us to address is "whether LB 231, as amended, violates the doctrine of separation of powers in Article II of the Nebraska Constitution by allowing the Governor to execute a tribal-state compact governing the conduct of gambling on Indian lands in Nebraska without ratification by the Legislature."

"The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the legislative, executive and judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted." Neb. Const. art. II, § 1. "The language of article II prohibits one branch of government from encroaching on the duties and prerogatives of the others or from improperly delegating its own duties and prerogatives." State ex rel. Spire v. Conway, 238 Neb. 766, 773, 472 N.W.2d 403, 408 (1991).

As a general rule, the Legislature may not delegate its legislative powers. Smithberger v. Banning, 129 Neb. 651, 262 N.W. 492 (1935). The Legislature may, however, grant general powers to an official or agency and delegate the power to enact rules and regulations concerning the details of the legislative purpose. Gillette Dairy, Inc. v. Nebraska Dairy Products Board, 192 Neb. 89, 219 N.W.2d 214 (1974). A delegation of legislative authority is not unconstitutional where the Legislature has provided reasonable limitations and standards for carrying out delegated duties. Ewing v. Scotts Bluff County Bd. of Equal., 227 Neb. 798, 420 N.W.2d 685 (1988). The approval of a tribal-state gaming compact appears to constitute a determination of public policy requiring legislative action. The question remains, however, as to whether the authority to enter into such a compact and bind the State may be delegated by the Legislature to the Governor (or his or her designated representative), and, if so, whether the provisions of LB 231 constitute a proper delegation of such authority.

In State ex rel. Stephan v. Finney, 251 Kan. 559, 836 P.2d 1169 (1992), the Supreme Court of Kansas addressed the question of whether the Governor of Kansas "ha{d} the authority independent of statute to negotiate {a tribal-state gaming} compact . . . and bind the State to its terms?" The Court answered this question in the negative, holding that "the Governor had the authority to enter into negotiations with the Kickapoo Nation, but, in the absence of an appropriate delegation of power by the Kansas Legislature or legislative approval of the compact, the Governor has no power to bind the State to the terms thereof." Id. at ___, 836 P.2d at 1185. (Emphasis added).

In our opinion, LB 231 does not violate the separation of powers requirement in Neb. Const. art. II, § 1, by impermissibly delegating legislative power to the executive branch. The provisions of the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, 25 U.S.C. §§ 2701 to-2721 {the "Act"} do not specify the procedures involved in negotiating and executing a tribal-state compact. With respect to the authorization of Class III gaming on Indian lands, § 11 of the Act (25 U.S.C. § 2710) provides that an Indian tribe shall request the "State in which such lands are located to enter into negotiations for the purpose of entering into a Tribal-State compact governing the conduct of gaming activities." "Upon receiving such a request, the State shall negotiate with the Indian tribe in good faith to enter into such a compact." 25 U.S.C. § 2710(d)(3)(A). The Act further provides that "{a}ny State and Indian tribe may enter into a Tribal-State compact governing gaming activities on the Indian lands of an Indian tribe, but such compacts shall take effect only when notice of approval by the Secretary {of Interior} of such compact has been published by the Secretary in the Federal Register." 25 U.S.C. § 2710(d)(3)(B). As the Act does not specify in what manner a "State" must negotiate or enter into tribal-state compacts for Class III gaming on Indian lands, the question of how such an agreement is reached (and who may bind a state to such an agreement) is a question determined by state law. As the Court noted in Finney, the Governor lacked authority to bind the State of Kansas to a compact, in part because of "the absence of an appropriate delegation of power by the Kansas Legislature". 251 Kan. at ___, 836 P.2d at 1185. To the extent that LB 231 simply provides "an appropriate delegation" of the power to negotiate and execute tribal-state compacts to the Governor or his or her designated representative, we do not believe that the bill improperly delegates legislative power to the executive department in violation of Neb. Const. art. II, § 1. Indeed, other states have adopted similar legislation authorizing an executive branch official to enter into tribal-state compacts under IGRA. E.g. Iowa Code Ann. § 10 A. 104.10 (West Supp. 1989); Wis. Stat. Ann. § 14.035 (West Supp. 1992).

Nor do we believe that the bill lacks adequate standards to guide the Governor's exercise of the power granted. Section 2 of the bill as amended includes numerous statements of policy by the Legislature which are intended to guide the terms of any compact negotiated pursuant to the Act. In view of the modern tendency "to be more liberal in permitting grants of discretion to an administrative agency in order to facilitate the administration of laws as the complexity of economic and governmental conditions increases", State ex rel. Douglas v. Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, 204 Neb. 445, 465, 283 N.W.2d 12, 24 (1979) (quoting 1 Am. Jur. 2d Administrative Law § 118), we cannot conclude that the bill's provisions fail to provide adequate guidance to the Governor in exercising the authority granted.

In addition, you have asked us to "address the related question of whether the compact dated December 4, 1990 between the Department of Revenue and the Omaha Tribe may be executed without the express approval of the Legislature." This office, in a letter to former State Tax Commissioner John Boehm, concluded that the State Tax Commissioner possessed statutory authority to negotiate and enter into tribal-state compacts for Indian gaming under the IGRA on behalf of the state. This opinion was based principally on legislation authorizing public agencies (including agencies or departments of the state) to enter into State-Tribal Cooperative Agreements. Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 13-1501 to -1509 (1991). Consistent with this opinion, the Tax Commissioner entered into a Class III gaming compact with the Omaha Tribe on December 4, 1990. While this opinion refers to such agreements being "submitted to the Legislature for ratification", the compact with the Omaha Tribe has apparently not been ratified by the Legislature.

It is not at all clear, however, that legislative ratification is necessary to make the compact effective. If, in fact, §§ 13-1501 to -1509, while general in terms, are construed to contain a proper delegation of authority to the appropriate public agency (in this case, the Department of Revenue) to enter into agreements with Indian tribes, including tribal-state gaming compacts, then it appears that legislative ratification of the compact with the Omaha Tribe is not required. This is, however, a relatively murky area. Section 3 of LB 231 is obviously intended to clarify the validity of the compact between the State and the Omaha Tribe. Enactment of this portion of the bill would thus remove any question as to the validity of this compact.

Very truly yours,
DON STENBERG

(4) The authority conferred by this section shall apply only to reimbursements made during fiscal years 1993-94 through 1999-2000.

Sec. 5. That section 79-3819, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-3819. (1) A district may exceed its applicable allowable growth rate by a specific dollar amount in the situations described in this section.

(2) A district demonstrates to the satisfaction of the state board that a new program is required by state or federal law or an existing program mandated by state or federal law has been expanded as a result of changes in state or federal law. For purposes of this subsection, a final order of a court or the State Board of Equalization from which no appeal is taken which requires reimbursement by a district of property taxes to a taxpayer shall be considered a new program required by state or federal law but shall not be included as part of the general fund budget of expenditures for purposes of section 79-3814.

(3) The district projects an increase in formula students in the district over the current school year greater than twenty-five students or greater than those listed in the schedule provided in this subsection, whichever is less. Districts shall project increases in formula students on forms prescribed by the department. The state board shall approve, deny, or modify the projected increases.

1,000.01 and over	1

The department shall compute the district's estimated allowable budget per pupil using the budgeted general fund expenditures found on the budget statement for the current school year divided by the number of formula students in the current school year and multiplied by the district's applicable allowable growth rate. The resulting allowable budget per pupil shall be multiplied by the projected formula students to arrive at the estimated budget needs for the ensuing year. The department shall allow the district to increase its general fund budget of expenditures for the ensuing school year by the amount necessary to fund the estimated budget needs of the district as computed pursuant to this subsection. On or before July 1 of each year, the department shall make needed revisions in the applicable allowable growth rate of districts which have been allowed additional growth pursuant to this subsection to reflect the actual formula students of such district and shall certify such revisions to each district.

(4) Construction, expansion, or alteration of district buildings will cause an increase in building operation and maintenance costs of at least five percent. The department shall document the projected increase in building operation and maintenance costs and may allow a district to exceed its applicable allowable growth percentage by the amount necessary to fund such increased costs. The department shall compute the actual increased costs for the school year and shall, if needed, modify the district's applicable allowable growth rate for the ensuing school year.

(5) A district demonstrates to the satisfaction of the state board that as a result of an order entered into by the Commission of Industrial Relations pursuant to section 48-818 establishing rates of pay, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment, the district will exceed its applicable allowable growth rate. The department shall compute the amount by which the increase in employee costs exceeds the district's applicable allowable growth rate and shall allow the district to increase its general fund budget of expenditures by such amount.

(6) A district demonstrates to the satisfaction of the state board that it will exceed its applicable allowable growth rate as a result of a contested, but settled, contract dispute, claim, or breach or uninsured risk or as a result of any final judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction, requiring or obligating the district to pay such judgment. The department shall compute the amount by which the increased cost of the settlement or judgment exceeds the district's applicable allowable growth rate and shall allow the district to increase its general fund budget of expenditures by such amount.".

WHEREAS, twenty-one of those unaccounted for in southeast Asia are Nebraskans whose names, hometowns, branch of service, and date of capture or loss follow:

WHEREAS, there is a body of credible evidence suggesting that live Americans or identifiable remains of Americans remain in southeast Asia; and

WHEREAS, the executive branch of the United States Government and the Congress of the United States have declared that resolution of this issue is of the "highest national priority"; and

WHEREAS, the agencies of the United States Government, including the Department of Defense and the Defense Intelligence Agency, have had since the official termination of hostilities in May 1975 to resolve these issues; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Defense has created and maintained an unnecessary veil of secrecy and ignorance by classifying most of the available information concerning live sightings, status reports, and other data relating to those who are still missing, the declassification of which would not compromise resources, means, methods, and identities of intelligence operatives; and

WHEREAS, it would appear that by promulgating a classified plan referred to as a "road map for normalization of relations" between the United States, Laos, Cambodia, and Vietnam, the United States Government appears to be poised to "normalize" relations with those governments in spite of the unresolved issues concerning prisoners of war, those missing in action, and the repatriation of the remains of those Americans who made the ultimate sacrifice.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature urges the President of the United States, by executive order, to declassify information, data, and intelligence pertaining to all matters relative to these issues, except for that data or information which would reveal the means, methods, and identities of intelligence operatives.

2. That the Legislature urges that the respective branches of the armed services be assigned to resolve these issues, that any and all remains returned in the future from southeast Asia be placed, for purposes of identification, with the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., and that during the process of normalization of relations with those countries of southeast Asia these issues are satisfactorily and adequately addressed.

3. That the Clerk of the Legislature forward a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of Congress, and to the congressional delegation representing the State of Nebraska in the Congress of the United States.

69-1901. The Legislature hereby finds that the state prohibits the use of smokeless tobacco products by minors and the furnishing of smokeless tobacco products to minors and that the enforcement of an age-related restriction on the promotional distribution of smokeless tobacco products is impractical and ineffective. The Legislature further finds that moist snuff is a smokeless tobacco product that has experienced major growth in usage and that this pattern is expected to continue as smokers find it increasingly difficult to use their product and switch to moist snuff as a way to use a tobacco product discreetly, and the Legislature further finds that moist snuff is a very addictive and harmful smokeless tobacco product. It is the intent of the Legislature to control the distribution of these products and discourage illegal activity by prohibiting all promotional distribution.

1. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 17. That section 79-4,207, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-4,207. (1) Each school board, after making a determination that an actual or potential environmental hazard or accessibility barrier exists within the school buildings or grounds under its control, may make and deliver to the county clerk of such county in which any part of the school district is situated, not later than August 25, an itemized estimate of the amounts necessary to be expended for the abatement of such environmental hazard or accessibility barrier elimination in its school buildings or grounds. Each school board shall conduct a public hearing on the itemized estimate prior to presenting such estimate to the county clerk. Notice of the place and time of such hearing shall, at least five days prior to the date set for hearing, be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the school district or be sent by direct mailing to each resident within the district.

(2) The school board shall designate the particular environmental hazard abatement project or accessibility barrier elimination project for which the tax levy provided for by this section will be expended, the period of years, which shall not exceed ten years, for which the tax will be levied for such project, and the amount of the levy for each year thereof. The school board may designate more than one project and levy a tax pursuant to this section for each such project, concurrently or consecutively, as the case may be, if the aggregate levy in each year and the duration of each levy will not exceed the limitations specified in this section. Each levy for a project which is authorized by this section may be imposed for such duration as shall be specified by the school board notwithstanding the contemporaneous existence or subsequent imposition of any other levy for another project imposed pursuant to this section and notwithstanding the subsequent issuance by the district of bonded indebtedness payable from its general fund levy.

(3) The county clerk shall levy such taxes, not to exceed five and one-fifth cents per one hundred dollars of taxable valuation, on the taxable property of the district necessary to cover the project costs itemized by the school board. Such taxes shall be collected by the county treasurer at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes are collected and when collected shall be paid to the treasurer of the district and used to cover the project costs.

(4) If such school board operates grades nine through twelve as part of an affiliated school system, it shall designate the fraction of the project to be conducted for the benefit of grades nine through twelve. Such fraction shall be raised by a levy placed upon all of the taxable value of all taxable property in the affiliated school system pursuant to subsection (2) of section 79-434. The balance of the project to be conducted for the benefit of grades kindergarten through eight shall be raised by a levy placed upon all of the taxable value of all taxable property in the district which is governed by such school board. The combined rate for both levies in the high school district, to be determined by such board, shall not exceed five and one-fifth cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable value.

(5) Each school board which submits an itemized estimate shall establish an environmental hazard abatement and accessibility barrier elimination project fund. Taxes collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to such fund to cover the project costs. Such estimates may be presented to the county clerk and taxes levied accordingly. The Director of Health shall, by January 1, 1993, 1995, 1997, and 1999, deliver a report to the Legislature estimating the amount of hazardous materials which remain in the public schools of the state.

~~(5)~~ (6) The itemized estimate submitted by a school board may include the actual cost of abatement of an environmental hazard when such abatement occurred prior to the delivery of such estimate to the county clerk and was completed after June 28, 1982.

~~(6)~~ (7) For purposes of this section:

(a) Abatement shall include, but not be limited to, any inspection and testing regarding environmental hazards, any maintenance to reduce, lessen, put an end to, diminish, moderate, decrease, control, dispose of, or eliminate environmental hazards, any removal or encapsulation of environmentally hazardous material or property, any restoration or replacement of material or property, any related architectural and engineering services, and any other action to reduce or eliminate environmental hazards in the school buildings or on the school grounds under the school board's control, except that abatement shall not include the encapsulation of any material containing more than one percent friable asbestos;

(b) Accessibility barrier shall mean anything which impedes entry into, exit from, or use of any building or facility by all people;

(c) Accessibility barrier elimination shall include, but not be limited to, inspection for and removal of accessibility barriers, maintenance to reduce, lessen, put an end to, diminish, control, dispose of, or eliminate accessibility barriers, related restoration or replacement of facilities or property, any related architectural and engineering services, and any other action to eliminate accessibility barriers in the school buildings or grounds under the school board's control; and

(d) Environmental hazard shall mean any contamination of the air, water, or land surface or subsurface caused by any substance adversely affecting human health or safety if such substance has been declared hazardous by a federal or state statute, rule, or regulation.

~~(7)~~ (8) Accessibility barrier elimination project costs shall include, but not be limited to, inspection, maintenance, accounting, emergency services, consultation, or any other action to reduce or eliminate accessibility barriers.

~~(8)~~ (9) For the purpose of paying amounts necessary for the abatement of environmental hazards and accessibility barrier elimination, the school board may borrow money and issue bonds and other evidences of indebtedness of the district, which bonds and other evidences of indebtedness shall be secured by and payable from an irrevocable pledge by the district of amounts received in respect of the tax levy provided for by this section and any other funds of the district available therefor. Bonds and other evidences of indebtedness issued by a district pursuant to this subsection shall not constitute a general obligation of the district or be payable from any portion of its general fund levy.

Sec. 20. That section 79-547.04, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-547.04. equipping, and furnishing of school buildings or teacherages and additions to school buildings for elementary and high school grades and for no other purpose. Such fund shall be established from the proceeds of an annual levy, to be determined by the board of education, of not to exceed fourteen cents on each one hundred dollars upon the taxable value of all taxable property in the district which shall be in addition to any other taxes authorized to be levied for school purposes. Such tax shall be levied and collected as are other taxes for school purposes.

(2) If such board of education operates grades nine through twelve as part of an affiliated school system, it shall designate the fraction of the project to be conducted for the benefit of grades nine through twelve. Such fraction shall be raised by a levy placed upon all of the taxable value of all taxable property in the affiliated school system pursuant to subsection (2) of section 79-434. The balance of the project to be conducted for the benefit of grades kindergarten through eight shall be raised by a levy placed upon all of the taxable value of all taxable property in the district which is governed by such board of education. (5) A qualifying business may elect to receive all or any portion of the benefit to which it is entitled by the act subject to the restrictions set forth in the act. Such portion of the benefit which is in excess of the amount which the qualifying business may receive in any taxable year or which is in excess of the amount which the qualifying business elects to receive may be paid over to the qualifying business in one or more payments in any one or more of the next immediately succeeding five taxable years in such amount and at such times as may be agreed to by the Department of Revenue and the qualifying business.

(6) For the purposes of the act, employees residing within the boundaries of an enterprise zone shall be construed to mean employees of the qualifying business residing within any county in which an enterprise zone is located when the enterprise zone is not located in a city of the primary or metropolitan class.

Sec. 15. A qualifying business desiring to receive a benefit pursuant to the Enterprise Zone Act shall make application to the Department of Revenue for the benefit upon forms provided for that purpose by the Department of Revenue. Upon determining that the qualifying business is entitled to receive a benefit and the amount which such qualifying business is to receive pursuant to the provisions of the act, the Department of Revenue shall cause the Department of Administrative Services to issue a warrant to the qualifying business for the amount of the benefit which it is to receive. Final determination of eligibility for a benefit shall be made within ninety days of the date upon which the application of a qualifying business is received by the Department of Revenue and the warrant to the qualifying business shall be issued by the Department of Administrative Services within thirty days of the date upon which the final determination of eligibility is made. Appeals from the final determination of eligibility by the Department of Revenue shall be as provided in the Administrative Procedure Act.

Sec. 16. (1) If a qualifying business that has qualified for and received all or any portion of a benefit does not, for at least two years after the date upon which the qualifying business was determined to be eligible to receive a benefit, (a) maintain the level of investment which created the benefit, (b) maintain the continuous employment of a resident employee or replace him or her with another employee residing within the enterprise zone, or (c) maintain the total level of employment which created the benefit, the qualifying business shall repay to the state one-third of the amount of the benefit actually received by the qualifying business for each year that the business has not maintained the required level of investment or employment and the qualifying business shall not be entitled to receive any portion of the benefit which it has not actually received.

(2) For the purposes of the Enterprise Zone Act, an employee residing within the enterprise zone shall mean an individual who is domiciled within the enterprise zone on the date of his or her hiring by the qualifying business and who remains continuously domiciled within the zone during the term of his or her employment.

Sec. 17. For purposes of the Enterprise Zone Act, qualifying business shall mean any business engaged in the activities listed in subdivisions (2)(a) through (g) of this section or in the storage, warehousing, distribution, transportation, or sale of tangible personal property, except that qualifying business shall not include any business activity in which eighty percent or more of the total sales are sales to the ultimate consumer of tangible personal property which is not (1) assembled, fabricated, manufactured, or processed by the taxpayer or (2) used by the purchaser in any of the following activities:

(a) The assembly, fabrication, manufacture, or processing of tangible personal property;

(b) The feeding or raising of livestock;

(c) The conducting of research, development, or testing for scientific, agricultural, animal husbandry, or industrial purposes;

(g) Any combination of the activities listed in this section.

Sec. 18. Any qualifying business which has qualified for a benefit pursuant to the Enterprise Zone Act may elect to receive either the amount of the benefit as calculated pursuant to the act or a credit pursuant to the Employment Expansion and Investment Incentive Act. No qualifying business shall receive both a benefit pursuant to the Enterprise Zone Act and a credit pursuant to the Employment Expansion and Investment Incentive Act for the creation of the same jobs and the same investment.

Sec. 19. (1) A qualifying business shall be deemed to have a new employee when the average number of Nebraska employees during a taxable year exceeds the average number of Nebraska employees during each of the three preceding taxable years.

(2) The average number of Nebraska employees for a taxable year shall be determined by averaging the number of Nebraska employees on (a) the last day of the preceding taxable year, (b) the last day of each calendar quarter within the current taxable year, and (c) the last day of the current taxable year.

(3) The number of hours comprising a full-time job shall be the business hours the qualifying business uses for other purposes such as benefit plans or labor relations. The number of hours comprising a full-time job shall be used for all periods when comparing average employment under the Enterprise Zone Act.

(4) Qualifying business employees who work within and without this state shall be considered only to the extent they are paid for work performed within this state.

(5) The hours worked by any person considered an independent contractor or the employee of another business shall not be used in the computation of any averages under this section.

Sec. 20. (1) A qualifying business shall be deemed to have made an increased investment in an enterprise zone to the extent the value of the property used or available for use in an enterprise zone on the last day of the taxable year exceeds (a) the value of all property used or available for use in an enterprise zone on the first day of the taxable year or (b) the average investment in the area designated as an enterprise zone during each of the three preceding taxable years, whichever is greater.

(2) The average investment in an enterprise zone shall be the average of the value of all property used or available for use in the area designated as an enterprise zone on the first day of the taxable year and the last day of the taxable year.

(3) To determine the value of property owned by the qualifying business, the tax basis before allowance for depreciation shall be used. To determine the value of property rented by the qualifying business, the annual rent of the property shall be multiplied by eight.

(4) Only investment in improvements to real property and tangible personal property that are depreciable under the Internal Revenue Code shall be considered.

(5) Vehicles, planes, or railroad rolling stock shall be excluded in determining the investment or average investment under this section.

Sec. 21. (1) If a qualifying business acquires another qualifying business, the averages determined in sections 19 and 20 of this act shall be computed as though the qualifying business had owned the business during the current taxable year and the three preceding taxable years.

(2) If the structure of a business is reorganized, the qualifying business shall compute the averages on a consistent basis for all periods.

Sec. 22. (1) A qualifying business with more than one business location in this state shall be entitled to a benefit equal to the lesser of (a) the sum of the benefits computed for the individual business locations or (b) the benefit computed based on the total activities of the business in this state.

(2) The benefit allowed to related qualifying businesses shall be the lesser of (a) the sum of the benefits computed for each qualifying business or (b) the benefit computed based on the total activities in an enterprise zone of all related qualifying businesses.

(3) Related qualifying businesses shall include any corporations that are part of a unitary business under the Nebraska Revenue Act of 1967, any business entities that are not corporations but which would be a part of the unitary business if they were corporations, and any business entities if at least fifty percent of such entities are owned by the same persons or related taxpayers and family members as defined in the ownership attribution rules of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) For purposes of computing the statewide limitations in subdivisions (1)(b) and (2)(b) of this section, the type of business being conducted shall be ignored.

Sec. 23. The Tax Commissioner shall prepare a report identifying the amount of investment in this state and the number of equivalent full-time jobs created by each business claiming a benefit pursuant to the Enterprise Zone Act. The report shall include the amount of benefits approved in the aggregate. The report shall be issued on or before March 15 of each year beginning with March 15, 1994, for all benefits approved during the previous calendar year. The report shall identify (1) the amount of investment made in each enterprise zone by all qualifying businesses receiving benefits, (2) the number of jobs created in each enterprise zone by all qualifying businesses receiving benefits, (3) the number of jobs created in each enterprise zone by all qualifying businesses receiving benefits held by residents of the enterprise zone, and (4) the average wage on an hourly basis or the average annual salary of new jobs created in each enterprise zone by all qualifying businesses receiving benefits.

(2) The county clerk shall levy taxes on the taxable property of the political subdivision in the amount necessary to cover the reimbursement of the property taxes in the estimate. The taxes shall be collected by the county treasurer at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes are collected and, when collected, shall be paid to the treasurer of the political subdivision and used to cover the reimbursement of the property taxes.

(3) Any political subdivision which submits an itemized estimate shall establish a property tax reimbursement fund. Taxes collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to such fund to cover the reimbursement of the property taxes.

(4) The authority conferred by this section shall apply only to reimbursements made during fiscal years 1993-94 through 1999-2000.

Sec. 5. That section 79-3819, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

(2) A district demonstrates to the satisfaction of the state board that a new program is required by state or federal law or an existing program mandated by state or federal law has been expanded as a result of changes in state or federal law. For purposes of this subsection, a final order of a court, the State Board of Equalization, or the Tax Commissioner from which no appeal is taken which requires reimbursement by a district of property taxes to a taxpayer shall be considered a new program required by state or federal law but shall not be included as part of the general fund budget of expenditures for purposes of section 79-3814.

(3) The district projects an increase in formula students in the district over the current school year greater than twenty-five students or greater than those listed in the schedule provided in this subsection, whichever is less. Districts shall project increases in formula students on forms prescribed by the department. The state board shall approve, deny, or modify the projected increases.

The resulting allowable budget per pupil shall be multiplied by the projected formula students to arrive at the estimated budget needs for the ensuing year. The department shall allow the district to increase its general fund budget of expenditures for the ensuing school year by the amount necessary to fund the estimated budget needs of the district as computed pursuant to this subsection. On or before July 1 of each year, the department shall make needed revisions in the applicable allowable growth rate of districts which have been allowed additional growth pursuant to this subsection to reflect the actual formula students of such district and shall certify such revisions to each district.

(4) Construction, expansion, or alteration of district buildings will cause an increase in building operation and maintenance costs of at least five percent. The department shall document the projected increase in building operation and maintenance costs and may allow a district to exceed its applicable allowable growth percentage by the amount necessary to fund such increased costs. The department shall compute the actual increased costs for the school year and shall, if needed, modify the district's applicable allowable growth rate for the ensuing school year.

(5) A district demonstrates to the satisfaction of the state board that as a result of an order entered into by the Commission of Industrial Relations pursuant to section 48-818 establishing rates of pay, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment, the district will exceed its applicable allowable growth rate. The department shall compute the amount by which the increase in employee costs exceeds the district's applicable allowable growth rate and shall allow the district to increase its general fund budget of expenditures by such amount.

(6) A district demonstrates to the satisfaction of the state board that it will exceed its applicable allowable growth rate as a result of a contested, but settled, contract dispute, claim, or breach or uninsured risk or as a result of any final judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction, requiring or obligating the district to pay such judgment. ~~(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section or any other statutory provision to the contrary, any product liability action, except one governed by section 2-725, Uniform Commercial Code or by subsection (5) of this section, shall be commenced~~ within ten years after the date when the product which allegedly caused the personal injury, death, or damage was first sold or leased for use or consumption.

(3) In all product liability actions that involve injury, death, or damage more than ten years after the date when the product which allegedly caused the personal injury, death, or damage was first sold or leased for consumption, a presumption shall arise that the harm was caused after the useful safe life of the product had expired. (c) The normal practices of the user, similar users, and the product manufacturer with respect to the circumstances, frequency, and purposes of the product's use and with respect to repairs, renewals and replacements;

(d) Any representations, instructions, or warnings made by the product manufacturer concerning proper maintenance, storage, and use of the product or the expected useful safe life of the product; and

(e) Any modification or alteration of the product by a user or third party.

~~(3) The limitations contained in subsection (1), (2), or (5) of this section shall not be applicable to indemnity or contribution actions brought by a manufacturer or seller of a product against a person who is or may be liable to such manufacturer or seller for all or any portion of any judgment rendered against a manufacturer or seller.~~

~~(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, any cause of action or claim which any person may have on July 22, 1978, may be brought not later than two years following such date.~~

(4) If a manufacturer, seller, or lessor of a product expressly warrants that its product can be utilized safely for a period longer than ten years, the period of limitation, after which the presumption created in subsection (3) of this section arises, shall be extended according to such warranty or promise. The ten-year period of limitation shall not apply if (a) the manufacturer of a product misrepresents facts about its product or fraudulently conceals information about it and such conduct was a proximate cause of the claimant's death, injury, or damage, (b) the harm was caused by prolonged exposure to a defective product, (c) the injury-causing aspect of the product that existed at the time of delivery was not discoverable by a reasonably prudent person until more than ten years after the time or delivery, or (d) the harm caused within ten years after the time of delivery did not manifest itself until after that time.

(5) In any liability action covered by this section in which it is claimed by one or more of the defendants that the action is barred, such issue shall not be bifurcated without the consent of all parties to the action.

~~(5)~~ (6) Any action to recover damages based on injury allegedly resulting from exposure to asbestos composed of chrysotile, amosite, crocidolite, tremolite, anthrophyllite, actinolite, or any combination thereof, shall be commenced within four years after the injured person has been informed of discovery of the injury by competent medical authority and that such injury was caused by exposure to asbestos as described herein; or within four years after the discovery of facts which would reasonably lead to such discovery, whichever is earlier. No action commenced under this subsection based on the doctrine of strict liability in tort shall be commenced or maintained against any seller of a product which is alleged to contain or possess a defective condition unreasonably dangerous to the buyer, user, or consumer unless such seller is also the manufacturer of such product or the manufacturer of the part thereof claimed to be defective. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to permit an action to be brought based on an injury described in this subsection discovered more than two years prior to August 30, 1981.

(7) The limitations contained in this section shall not be applicable to indemnity or contribution actions brought by a manufacturer or seller of a product against a person who is or may be liable to such manufacturer or seller for all or any portion of any judgment rendered against a manufacturer or seller. A product liability action governed by the Uniform Commercial Code shall follow the limitations in section 2-725, Uniform Commercial Code.

Sec. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that section 25-224 be applied retroactively to revive causes of action for injury caused by defective products which were barred by interpretation of this section prior to the effective date of this act.

Sec. 3. If any section in this act or any part of any section shall be declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions thereof.".

2. Renumber the remaining section accordingly.

1. Strike original section 1 and insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. That section 25-224, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

25-224. (1) For purposes of this section product liability action shall have the same meaning as in section 25-21,180.

(2) ~~All~~ Except as provided otherwise by this section, product liability actions~~, except one governed by subsection (5) of this section,~~ shall be commenced within four years next after the date on which the death, injury, or damage complained of occurs.

~~(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section~~

~~or any other statutory provision to the contrary, any product liability action, except one governed by section 2-725, Uniform Commercial Code or by subsection (5) of this section, shall be commenced within~~ but in no event more than ten years after the date when the product which allegedly caused the personal injury, death, or damage was first sold or leased for use or consumption.

(3) In all product liability actions that involve injury, death, or damage more than ten years after the date when the product which allegedly caused the personal injury, death, or damage was first sold or leased for consumption, a presumption shall arise that the harm was caused after the useful safe life of the product had expired. Useful safe life shall commence at the time of delivery of a product to its ultimate user who was not engaged in the business of either selling such products or using them as component parts of another product to be sold. The plaintiff may rebut this presumption by a preponderance of the evidence. If the plaintiff rebuts this presumption, the ten-year limitation provided in this section shall not apply. In determining whether a product's useful safe life has expired, the trier of fact may consider, among other factors:

(a) The amount of wear and tear to which the product had been subjected;

(b) The effect of deterioration from natural causes, climate, and other conditions under which the product was used or stored;

(c) The normal practices of the user, similar users, and the product manufacturer with respect to the circumstances, frequency, and purposes of the product's use and with respect to repairs, renewals and replacements;

(d) Any representations, instructions, or warnings made by the product manufacturer concerning proper maintenance, storage, and use of the product or the expected useful safe life of the product; and

(e) Any modification or alteration of the product by a user or third party.

~~(3) The limitations contained in subsection (1), (2), or (5) of this section shall not be applicable to indemnity or contribution actions brought by a manufacturer or seller of a product against a person who is or may be liable to such manufacturer or seller for all or any portion of any judgment rendered against a manufacturer or seller.~~

~~(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, any cause of action or claim which any person may have on July 22, 1978, may be brought not later than two years following such date.~~

(4) If a manufacturer, seller, or lessor of a product expressly warrants that its product can be utilized

safely for a period longer than ten years, the period of limitation, after which the presumption created in subsection (3) of this section arises, shall be extended according to such warranty or promise. The ten-year period of limitation shall not apply if (a) the manufacturer of a product misrepresents facts about its product or fraudulently conceals information about it and such conduct was a proximate cause of the claimant's death, injury, or damage, (b) the harm was caused by prolonged exposure to a defective product, (c) the injury-causing aspect of the product that existed at the time of delivery was not discoverable by a reasonably prudent person until more than ten years after the time or delivery, or (d) the harm caused within ten years after the time of delivery did not manifest itself until after that time.

(5) In any product liability action covered by this section in which it is claimed by one or more of the defendants that the action is barred by the statute of limitations, the statute of repose, or the expiration of the useful safe life of the product, such issue shall not be bifurcated without the consent of all parties to the action.

~~(5)~~ (6) Any action to recover damages based on injury allegedly resulting from exposure to asbestos composed of chrysotile, amosite, crocidolite, tremolite, anthrophyllite, actinolite, or any combination thereof, shall be commenced within four years after the injured person has been informed of discovery of the injury by competent medical authority and that such injury was caused by exposure to asbestos as described herein, or within four years after the discovery of facts which would reasonably lead to such discovery, whichever is earlier. No action commenced under this subsection based on the doctrine of strict liability in tort shall be commenced or maintained against any seller of a product which is alleged to contain or possess a defective condition unreasonably dangerous to the buyer, user, or consumer unless such seller is also the manufacturer of such product or the manufacturer of the part thereof claimed to be defective. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to permit an action to be brought based on an injury described in this subsection discovered more than two years prior to August 30, 1981.

(7) The limitations contained in this section shall not be applicable to indemnity or contribution actions brought by a manufacturer or seller of a product against a person who is or may be liable to such manufacturer or seller for all or any portion of any judgment rendered against a manufacturer or seller. A product liability action governed by the Uniform Commercial Code shall follow the limitations in section 2-725, Uniform Commercial Code.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 137. Title read. Considered.

Mr. Dierks asked unanimous consent to be excused until he returns. No objections. So ordered.

Messrs. Will and Avery offered the following amendment:
AM1817

1. Strike original section 1 and insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. That section 25-224, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

25-224. (1) For purposes of this section product liability action shall have the same meaning as in section 25-21,180.

(2) ~~All~~ Except as provided otherwise by this section, product liability actions~~, except one governed by subsection (5) of this section,~~ shall be commenced within four years next after the date on which the death, injury, or damage complained of occurs.

~~(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section or any other statutory provision to the contrary, any product liability action, except one governed by section 2-725, Uniform Commercial Code or by subsection (5) of this section, shall be commenced within~~ but not more than ten years after the date when the product which allegedly caused the personal injury, death, or damage was first sold or leased for use or consumption.

(3) In product liability actions that involve injury, death, or damage more than ten years after the date when the product which allegedly caused the personal injury, death, or damage was first sold or leased for consumption, a presumption shall arise that the harm was caused after the useful safe life of the product had expired. Useful safe life shall commence at the time of delivery of a product to its ultimate user who was not engaged in the business of either selling such products or using them as component parts of another product to be sold. The plaintiff may rebut this presumption by a preponderance of the evidence. If the plaintiff rebuts this presumption, the ten-year limitation provided in this section shall not apply. In determining whether a product's useful safe life has expired, the trier of fact may consider, among other factors:

(a) The amount of wear and tear to which the product had been subjected;

(b) The effect of deterioration from natural causes, climate, and other conditions under which the product was used or stored;

(c) The normal practices of the user, similar users, and the product manufacturer with respect to the circumstances, frequency, and purposes of the product's use and with respect to repairs, renewals and replacements;

(d) Any representations, instructions, or warnings made by the product manufacturer concerning proper maintenance, storage, and use of the product or the expected useful safe life of the product; and

(e) Any modification or alteration of the product by a user or third party.

~~(3) The limitations contained in subsection (1), (2), or (5) of this section shall not be applicable to indemnity or contribution actions brought by a manufacturer or seller of a product against a person who is or may be liable to such manufacturer or seller for all or any portion of any judgment rendered against a manufacturer or seller.~~

~~(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, any cause of action or claim which any person may have on July 22, 1978, may be brought not later than two years following such date.~~

(4) If a manufacturer, seller, or lessor of a product expressly warrants that its product can be utilized safely for a period longer than ten years, the period of limitation, after which the presumption created in subsection (3) of this section arises, shall be extended according to such warranty or promise.

(5) The ten-year limitation provided in this section shall not apply if the product liability action involves the manufacture, construction, design, or assembly of medical implants, prosthetics, appliances, or other devices surgically placed on or within the human body. The ten-year limitation provided in this section shall not apply if (a) the manufacturer of a product misrepresents facts about its product or fraudulently conceals information about it and such conduct was a proximate cause of the claimant's death, injury, or damage, (b) the harm was caused by prolonged exposure to a defective product, (c) the injury-causing aspect of the product that existed at the time of delivery was not discoverable by a reasonably prudent person until more than ten years after the time or delivery, or (d) the harm caused within ten years after the time of delivery did not manifest itself until after that time.

(6) In any product liability action covered by this section in which it is claimed by one or more of the defendants that the action is barred by the statute of limitations, the statute of repose, or the expiration of the useful safe life of the product, such issue shall not be bifurcated without the consent of all parties to the action.

~~(5)~~ (7) Any action to recover damages based on injury allegedly resulting from exposure to asbestos composed of chrysotile, amosite, crocidolite, tremolite, anthrophyllite, actinolite, or any combination thereof, shall be commenced within four years after the injured person has been informed of discovery of the injury by competent medical authority and that such injury was caused by exposure to asbestos as described herein~~,~~ or within four years after the discovery of facts which would reasonably lead to such discovery, whichever is earlier. No action commenced under this subsection based on the doctrine of strict liability in tort shall be commenced or maintained against any seller of a product which is alleged to contain or possess a defective condition unreasonably dangerous to the buyer, user, or consumer unless such seller is also the manufacturer of such product or the manufacturer of the part thereof claimed to be defective. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to permit an action to be brought based on an injury described in this subsection discovered more than two years prior to August 30, 1981.

(8) The limitations contained in this section shall not be applicable to indemnity or contribution actions brought by a manufacturer or seller of a product against a person who is or may be liable to such manufacturer or seller for all or any portion of any judgment rendered against a manufacturer or seller. A product liability action governed by the Uniform Commercial Code shall follow the limitations in section 2-725, Uniform Commercial Code.

Sec. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that section 25-224 be applied retroactively to revive causes of action for injury caused by defective products which were barred by interpretation of such section prior to the effective date of this act.

Sec. 3. If any section in this act or any part of any section shall be declared invalid or unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions thereof.".

2. Renumber the remaining section accordingly.

"Section 1. That section 69-1901, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

69-1901. The Legislature hereby finds that the state prohibits the use of smokeless tobacco products by minors and the furnishing of smokeless tobacco products to minors and that the enforcement of an age-related restriction on the promotional distribution of smokeless tobacco products is impractical and ineffective. The Legislature further finds that smokeless tobacco product manufacturers have steadily increased advertising and promotion expenditures and that in 1991 approximately fourteen percent of all advertising and promotional expenditures, which equals nineteen million dollars of a one hundred four million dollar total, was spent on the distribution of free samples of smokeless tobacco products. It is the intent of the Legislature to control the distribution of these products and discourage illegal activity by prohibiting all promotional distribution.

The Legislature hereby finds that the state prohibits the use of smokeless tobacco products by minors and the furnishing of smokeless tobacco products to minors and that the enforcement of an age-related restriction on the promotional distribution of smokeless tobacco products is impractical and ineffective. The Legislature further finds that the culture of smokeless tobacco product use in the United States has to a large extent centered on sports, particularly baseball, and that when impressionable youngsters see their heroes openly using smokeless tobacco products, there is a powerful incentive to try it. The Legislature further finds that in 1989, nearly one-fourth of total promotion and advertising expenditures for smokeless tobacco products was devoted to sports and sporting events. It is the intent of the Legislature to control the distribution of these products and discourage illegal activity by prohibiting all promotional distribution.

The Legislature further finds that the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service of the United States has concluded that oral use of smokeless tobacco products represents a significant health risk, is not a safe substitute for cigarette smoking, can cause cancer and a number of noncancerous oral conditions, and can lead to nicotine addiction and dependence. The Legislature further finds that the federal Comprehensive Smokeless Tobacco Act of 1986 banned smokeless tobacco products advertising on television and radio and required that three health warnings containing the Surgeon General's conclusions be rotated on smokeless tobacco product packages and in advertisements. It is the intent of the Legislature to control the distribution of these products and discourage illegal activity by prohibiting all promotional distribution.

WHEREAS, based on information gathered by the Governor's Impact Nebraska Meeting, held on March 12, 1993, the annual cost of the BTU tax may range from twenty-five cents per acre for ranch land to as high as five dollars per acre for an irrigated farm; and

WHEREAS, such tax has a disproportionate impact on Nebraskans; and

WHEREAS, Nebraskans are willing to do their fair share to strengthen America and expand its economy, the BTU tax can do nothing but produce a negative effect on economic growth and job creations.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That while the Legislature supports the President in his stated goal to reduce the national debt, that such attempts should include additional spending cuts, and that the BTU tax should not be adopted in any form due to its depressing and degrading effect on Nebraska agriculture.

2. That the Clerk of the Legislature send copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the Honorable Leon Panetta, Director of the Budget, and to the members of the Nebraska congressional delegation.

Laid over.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

May 4, 1993

Madam President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Madam President and Senators:

Today I signed LB 364 and LB 364A and delivered them to the Secretary of State.

LB 364 consolidates the Gasohol Committee and the Ethanol Authority and Development Board, and creates the Nebraska Ethanol Board. This legislation completes the consolidation begun last year when the Ethanol Production Incentive Fund was created. Under this legislation, the new board and its staff will have more time and resources to devote to ethanol marketing, plant recruitment, research, and policy development. I would like to clarify that my signature on LB 364 should in no way be construed to extend or effect the terms of any investment agreement or extension entered into by the Ethanol Authority and Development Board prior to April 30, 1992.

Nebraska's ethanol development program has historically been administered by an independent board appointed by the Governor. This approach has allowed the board to focus on specific challenges associated with ethanol market development and new plant construction. New plant construction and ethanol sales in Nebraska reached record levels in 1992. LB 364 provides a means to meet new challenges and to continue support for a program which has been highly successful.

The long-term benefits to the state from an expanded ethanol industry are enormous. Nebraska is well positioned to benefit from the projected growth of the nation's ethanol industry. Nebraska has been a national leader in ethanol marketing, promotion, and research since the industry's beginning, and LB 364 will help Nebraska maintain its leadership position.

Sincerely,
(Signed) E. Benjamin Nelson
Governor

Sec. 62. That section 79-3806, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1992, be amended to read as follows:

79-3806. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2) through ~~(6)~~ (7) of this section, each district shall receive equalization aid in the amount that the total formula need of each district, as determined pursuant to ~~subsection (4)~~ subsections (5) and (6) of this section and sections 79-3805 and 79-3807, exceeds its total formula resources as determined pursuant to ~~subsection (4)~~ subsections (5) and (6) of this section and sections 79-3808 to 79-3811.

(2) A district shall not receive state aid for each of the school years 1992-93, 1993-94, and 1994-95 which is less than one hundred percent of the amount of aid received pursuant to the School Foundation and Equalization Act for school year 1989-90.

(3) No district shall receive equalization aid in an amount such that total state aid received would result in such district having a general fund tax levy of less than sixty percent of the local effort rate as computed pursuant to section 79-3808. The calculation shall be based on valuation, state aid, and levy data from the current school year and, for the calculation of state aid in school year 1992-93 and each school year thereafter, shall also take into consideration the amounts of nonresident high school tuition certified by the department pursuant to section 79-4,102 for the current school year and for the school year in which such state aid is to be paid.

(4) For the calculation of state aid to be paid in school year 1993-94 and each school year thereafter in Class I districts which have more than one general fund levy in the current year, the department shall base the calculation on a derived general fund levy for the district computed by adding the general fund property tax yield for all portions of the district and dividing the result by the total assessed valuation of the district in hundreds.

(5) For school districts or portions thereof in Class VI school systems as defined in section 79-101.01, equalization aid to be paid in school year 1993-94 and each school year thereafter shall be computed as follows:

(a) For Class I districts, the total formula need and total formula resources shall be allocated to each Class VI school system based upon the proportion of such Class I district's adjusted valuation contained in each Class VI school system;

(b) For the Class VI district and each Class I district or portion thereof allocated pursuant to subdivision

(a) of this subsection, the total formula resources shall be subtracted from the total formula need, except that the difference shall never be less than zero;

(c) Each district's total formula need, total formula resources, and difference calculated pursuant to subdivision (b) of this subsection shall be added to arrive at system formula need, system formula resources, and system total difference;

(d) System equalization aid shall equal the amount by which the system formula need exceeds system formula resources; and

(e) Each district's share of the system equalization aid shall be calculated by dividing the district's difference calculated pursuant to subdivision (b) of this subsection by the system total difference and multiplying the result by the system equalization aid.

(6) For school districts in affiliated school systems as defined in section 79-101.01, equalization aid to be paid in school year 1992-93 and each school year thereafter shall be computed as follows:

(a) For affiliated Class I districts, the total formula need and total formula resources shall be allocated to each affiliated school system based upon the proportion of such Class I district's adjusted valuation contained in each system with which it is affiliated;

(b) For the high school district and each Class I district or portion thereof allocated pursuant to subdivision (a) of this subsection, the total formula resources shall be subtracted from the total formula need, except that the difference shall never be less than zero;

(c) Each district's total formula need, total formula resources, and difference calculated pursuant to subdivision (b) of this subsection shall be added to arrive at system formula need, system formula resources, and system total difference;

(d) System equalization aid shall equal the amount by which the system formula need exceeds system formula resources; and

(e) Each district's share of the system equalization aid shall be calculated by dividing the district's difference calculated pursuant to subdivision (b) of this subsection by the system total difference and multiplying the result by the system equalization aid.

(7) ~~(5)~~ Beginning with school year 1994-95, a district which does not generate equalization aid pursuant to subsection (1) of this section and in which option students as defined in section 79-3402 were actually enrolled in the most recently available complete data year shall receive additional state aid for each such student in an amount equal to the statewide average tiered cost per student or the option district's tiered cost per student, whichever is less.

(8) ~~(6)~~ For school years 1992-93 and 1993-94, a district which does not generate equalization aid pursuant to subsection (1) of this section and in which option students as defined in section 79-3402 were actually enrolled in the most recently available complete data year shall receive additional state aid computed by first multiplying the number of such option students, by grade group, by the district's tiered cost per student for each grade group and then summing the results for all grade groups in the district. The district shall receive additional state aid equal to the amount by which this calculation exceeds the district's actual receipts pursuant to section 79-3415 in the most recently available complete data year.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 92. Introduced by Hillman, 48.

WHEREAS, for several years prior to 1978, Sam Micklus experimented with creative problem-solving activities with his college students in an industrial design class at Glassboro State College, Glassboro, New Jersey. New and challenging problems, such as "Mad Chess," were used to probe students' minds for solutions; and

WHEREAS, information about some of these "weird" activities made the newspaper. The Director of the New Jersey State Department of Education sponsored Project ICE (Institute for Creative Education) read about these activities and suggested an incorporation of this type of activity with a spring competition for twenty-eight New Jersey junior and senior high schools. This resulted in the first creative problem-solving competition, the beginning of Odyssey of the Mind; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Arthur Lipper, an avid gifted education supporter, read about the first competition and donated two thousand dollars with the stipulation that the money be used outside of New Jersey to spread the word about the new competition; and

WHEREAS, word about the Odyssey of the Mind reached Nebraska in the fall of 1983; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Richard Barnes, a gifted consultant with Educational Service Unit #7 in Columbus, had been successful with OM in South Dakota the year before; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Barnes arranged for Dr. Sam Micklus to come to Nebraska to tell a group of individuals about the program in the fall of 1983. Several people present at this workshop went on to form the first OM Board of Directors in Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the first OM Tournament in Nebraska took place the following spring of 1984 with each board member putting in five dollars to get the program started, and with additional assistance coming from the Nebraska Association for the Gifted; and

WHEREAS, Odyssey of the Mind (OM), formerly Olympics of the Mind, is an exciting competition for students which combines team competition with mental creativity. Students strive for excellence as they work to solve problems, which must be solved by the team, not by parents or coaches. OM encourages the use of creativity, humor, and futuristic thinking skills and adds the challenge of designing, constructing, and presenting the solution to the problem; and

WHEREAS, Odyssey of the Mind Competition consists of three parts:

a. The long-term problem, which requires teams to prepare their solutions before competition;

b. Style, which rewards teams for the elaboration of their long-term problem solutions; and

c. Spontaneous problem solving, one of the purposes of which is to see how well the team members react to a new situation or problem.

WHEREAS, there are four divisions in OM: Division I includes students through grade 5; Division II includes grades 6 to 8, Division III includes grades 9 to 12; and Division IV includes college students; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of Odyssey of the Mind is to teach students creative problem-solving skills. OM changes one's paradigms, creating a broader perspective when trying to reach a solution to a problem. Students realize at an early age that there is more than one right answer in problem solving, creating a greater acceptance of contrasting viewpoints; and

WHEREAS, the following is a synopsis of the 1992-93 Odyssey of the Mind long-term problems to be solved:

a. PIT STOP (Div. II, III, and IV)

The team's problem is to design, build and drive a vehicle powered by one or two mechanical jacks. It will travel a course and make pit stops. At some point the vehicle will travel in reverse. Its physical features will change and it will make part of its journey in "full glory". The materials used cannot exceed one hundred dollars in value. The time limit of the team's presentation is eight minutes. This is a non-linguistic problem.

b. DINOSAURS (Div. I, II, and III)

The team's problem is to create and present a story about dinosaurs. The performance will include team-made dinosaurs, one or more of which will perform technical tasks. Teams will also make a new dinosaur discovery that, for now, we will call a "creativosaurus". The performance will have a theme that ties together the various required aspects. The materials used cannot exceed ninety dollars in value. The time limit for the team's presentation is eight minutes.

c. CLASSICS...THE OLD MAN AND THE SEA ANALOGY (Div. I, II, III, and IV)

The team's problem is to create and present a performance based on Hemingway's classic, The Old Man and the Sea. The performance will incorporate a parody or an analogy of the team's interpretation of the story. The performance will also include a conclusion. The materials used cannot exceed eighty dollars in value. The time limit for the team's presentation is eight minutes.

d. WHICH END IS UP? (Div. I, II, and III)

The team's problem is to design and build a balsa wood structure to balance and support as much weight as possible. One end, the top or bottom, must fit entirely over a 6" x 6 "x 1" block. The opposite end must fit entirely within a 4" x 4" x 1" space. The time limit for the team's presentation is eight minutes.

e. FOLK TALES (Div. I and II)

The team's problem is to create a performance that includes a team-originated folk tale, one or more team-originated legendary or mythical characters and two or more quotes from a given list. One or two of these characters will be portrayed as the originators of the quotes. The materials used cannot exceed eighty dollars in value. The time limit for the team's presentation is eight minutes.

f. LI'L GOURMET (Primary Level, Grades K-2)

This non-competitive problem offers teams the opportunity to create and perform a skit about a well-balanced meal. The team's skit will include costumes and feature an original song created by the team. The materials used cannot exceed fifty dollars in value; and

WHEREAS, the Odyssey of the Mind competition has grown tremendously in Nebraska in the last ten years. The OM tournaments from 1984 to 1987 were held in Columbus. When the tournament outgrew the Columbus Sr. High School, the board voted to divide the state into regionals to control the number of teams at the state tournament. The state tournament was moved to Kearney in 1988 and has been held there ever since; and

WHEREAS, thirteen teams from Nebraska schools will participate in the world finals of the Odyssey of the Mind academic competition June 1-6 in Baltimore. Three teams are from Papillion-LaVista High School, while Springville Elementary School in Omaha and Arbor Park Middle School in Blair each will send two teams. Other Nebraska teams will come from Kiewit Middle School in Omaha, Holy Family

High School in Lindsay, Potter-Dix Middle School, Wahoo West Ward Elementary, Holdrege Middle School and Westmoor Elementary School in Scottsbluff; and

WHEREAS, all teams won various divisions at the tenth annual state tournament April 3 at the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That Odyssey of the Mind be recognized by the Legislature as a worthwhile, challenging, educational competition to be encouraged and fostered in the future.

2. That a copy of this resolution be sent to Diane Boerkircher, 1992-93 OM Nebraska President, at the University of Nebraska-Kearney.

Laid over.
