come in at noon, introduce bills from noon as long as it takes us and then stay through for the inaugural ceremony then vote red. This is a little unprecedented but just a little straw poll up on the board as far as green 10:00 a.m., noon red.

SENATOR CROSBY: You've heard the motion to come in at ten o'clock or at noon. Is there any discussion? Mr. Clerk, will you open the board. The green vote is ten o'clock; the red vote is twelve o'clock. Mr. Speaker, did you have something you wanted to say?

SPEAKER WITHEM: The look of the straw vote up there, I would make the motion that the body stand adjourned until twelve, noon tomorrow.

SENATOR CROSBY: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. We are adjourned until twelve o'clock, Thursday, January 5.
