

that didn't support that legislation anywhere along the way. It wasn't that I objected to ConAgra, it was just that I objected to the way the thing was being put together. I'm not much of a bill reader but it doesn't take much of a bill reader to figure out that this is a wreck. I can't imagine anybody in this body thinking this is a fit piece of legislation to be put in our statutes. Senator Hall is exactly right that Section 2 or 10, or whatever it is, is a wreck. The thing that people don't seem to understand is in the congressional level right now they are looking at this legislation they call the taking of property and that's exactly what this bill does. It has the ability for a taking of property. I guess I just can't understand the philosophy that would allow this to happen. This is not good legislation. It hasn't been from the beginning and I, too, hope that Micron will come here but this is junk.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator. Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Madam President, members of the Legislature, usually when I'm around here at night it's on a situation like this where I'm inside. I'd like to ask Senator Lindsay a question to draw him into our discussion.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Lindsay.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Lindsay, what is that creature called on top of the Capitol Building, on top of the dome?

SENATOR LINDSAY: The guy who stands on top of the dome?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Right.

SENATOR LINDSAY: That's his name.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Oh, okay. What color is the light on his head?

SENATOR LINDSAY: I would guess red.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, you don't have to guess, he's right, thank you. And that tells you this is the red light district. That's what we're talking about and I'm going to keep on talking about it because the legis...the guy on top is called the Sower, but he could be Nebraska's pimp or procurer. That's what we're talking about. When we generally discuss these kinds
