incentives in these three bills, we help to attract some industry. It's not a pleasant process and it's a difficult process because you don't really know what particular inducements are going to get certain...

SENATOR CROSBY: One minute.

SENATOR ABOUD: ...certain industry into our state, but I think we have a real opportunity and it's an exciting opportunity to try to get a big, good industry to come to Nebraska. When you talk about what type of businesses we want into our state, the focus is always on high tech industries and I think this is a good high tech industry that we would want to have in our state and for these reasons I hope that the body advances this bill over to the Governor, we enact it into law. Thank you.

SENATOR CROSBY: Thank you, Senator Abboud. Before continuing with our speakers, I'd like to call the Legislature's attention to the north balcony. We have 17 seniors from Wayne State College and their teacher who are guests of Senator Day. Would you stand and be recognized by your Legislature, please. We also have in the north balcony 24 eighth graders from the Cathedral of the Risen Christ School here in Lincoln with their teacher and they are my guests today and would you please stand and be recognized by your Legislature. Thank you. Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Madam President, members of the Legislature, that cost benefit analysis that others were others were talking about is something that we could be in a position to have restored by not giving them the 33 votes on this bill. Then they would be willing to restore it. I'm sure they would because they want this bill. So it depends on how much heart, how much nerve, how much determination and how much sincerity people have about the issues that they have said are important to them. But I'd like to ask Senator Withem a question about something that we didn't have a chance to discuss while we were really going through the bill.

SENATOR CROSBY: Senator Withem, will you yield?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Withem, this is not a complex question, it's on page 5 with relevant...with reference to equivalent employees. By having that provision stated in the way that it is and for the record, it says equivalent employees
