LB 37
LR 40

there is now enough finishing barns filled with hogs to consume the same amount of corn that will be used in the new ethanol plant at Blair. We need to look at value added in agriculture. I am not going to waste any more time on the floor today. I realize we have a lot of business and since we could not accomplish the goal and that is to pass LR 40CA, I will not ask this to come to a vote and to spend a lot of time on it. But I would ask for your consideration in the future. We will be sending you information on an ongoing basis that will be good factual information for your consideration. This deals with the proof of insurance requirement that we have in our statutes. The green copy of the bill suggests several major changes in the proof of insurance law. The committee listened to this testimony and decided that there were some changes they wanted to make. And let me take you through these changes and set the stage and then I certainly would like Senator Coordsen to examine the bill. First of all, what we do is we do some reordering in the committee amendment but we do reinstate the household exception in the insurance policies that we've had in the past. The green copy takes that
