

within the limitation himself or herself. I mean there are two or three qualifying (interruption)...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: But I would have to go over the 50,000.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Yeah, but if you were nonabiding, that is you didn't agree to abide by the limitation and you said, then you have to file an affidavit to say how much you are going to spend, and if you say you are going to spend $80,000, then if your opponent has met all the right criteria, they could conceivably be given the difference between 50,000 and 80,000.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: That's what I thought...

SENATOR BEUTLER: Yeah.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: ...and that's why I am opposed, and it doesn't necessarily have to do with my opponent, but that would be in any race.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Sure, that's true of every race.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Okay, but that my campaign money, via the tax, would eventually end up in someone else's campaign coffers, that's if you went over the limitations in the limitations, that's the point.

SPEAKER WITHEM PRESIDING

SPEAKER WITHEM: One minute.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Part of your income tax money ends up in programs...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: I understand.

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...that you don't like.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: I understand that.

SENATOR BEUTLER: If you go to the grocery store and spend money, that corporation turns around and spends a (interruption)...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: It goes to my government at least, and not
