

April 5, 1995

LB 425

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Now, under the amendment that we adopted from Senator Wickersham, a maximum of 25 percent of the total fund could go to businesses hiring 100 or more employees. What would limit the amount that could go to a single community, if there is any such limit in the bill?

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Time. Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Hall.

SENATOR HALL: Thank you, Madam President, members. Senator Brashear, would you respond to a question?

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Brashear.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Yes, Senator Hall.

SENATOR HALL: Senator Brashear, what color is peanut butter?

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Peanut butter?

SENATOR HALL: Peanut butter.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Medium brown, generally...

SENATOR HALL: Medium...

SENATOR BRASHEAR: ...or some would say golden brown,...

SENATOR HALL: Okay.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: ...or tan,...

SENATOR HALL: Okay, we used to have...

SENATOR BRASHEAR: ...or nut colored.

SENATOR HALL: Well, which of the above is it? I mean...and the reason I ask is it's to use it in an analogy. At our house we used to have a joke, the kids did at least when my Mom used to make lunch. As you know, I come from a rather large brood and we used to laugh and say that peanut butter was white, because she spread it so thin on the bread, you couldn't tell that it was there. The argument was is that, you know, there was really very little peanut butter on the bread. She could not read either when she was making Campbell's soup, she always thought