

business days after receiving this notice or within the five business days after the birth of the child, whichever is later, then whatever legal rights he may have with respect to the child, including the right to notice of any future proceedings for the adoption of the child shall be terminated without further notice to him and he will be barred from challenging the adoption at some later date. It goes on to spell out other issues with regard to the content of the notice. In Section 5 we talk about the notice procedures as set forth in the earlier sections. They shall be completed prior to a child being placed in an adoptive home whenever possible. And it goes on to say that if the biological father or possible biological fathers are not given actual or constructive notice prior to the time of placement, the agency or attorney shall give the adoptive parents a statement of legal risk indicating the legal status of the biological father's parental rights as of the time of placement and the adoptive parents shall sign a statement of legal risk acknowledging their acceptance of the placement, notwithstanding that legal risk that would be present. In Section 6 the petition to finalize the alleged compliance with Sections 1 to 5 and also contains when the notice of petition and hearing are not required. In Section 7 of the proposal we change the existing statutes as it relates to 43-102 to reflect the requirements of Sections 1 to 6 of this provision with regard to the filing of those documents as required. In Section 8 which is the last substantive provision in the measure as 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 just incorporate the provisions in other areas as well as repeal lastly in Section 13 of the necessary sections. Section 8 establishes the putative father registry and it says that the Department of Social Services shall establish a putative father registry which shall record the names and addresses of any person adjudicated by a court of this state to be the father of a child born out of wedlock. Any person who has filed with the registry with intent to claim paternity and obtain custody of the child, goes on and lists the various areas. It says a notice of intent to claim paternity and obtain custody filed with the registry shall include the claimants name and address, name and address of the mother and the month and the year of the birth, expected birth of the child. The person filing notice shall notify the registry of any change of address pursuant to procedures prescribed by regulation of the department. It goes on to say that notice can be considered to have been filed when received by the registry of when postmarked, whichever is later. The department shall not divulge the names and addresses of persons listed on the
