

133 percent of federal poverty level that qualifies you?

SENATOR WESELY: That's Medicaid on some things, so, yeah, you're right,...

SENATOR PIRSCH: For Medicaid.

SENATOR WESELY: ...like I said, some different programs use different standards and it depends.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Right. So this...this particular qualifier is simply for what?

SENATOR WESELY: For the ADC program.

SENATOR PIRSCH: For ADC?

SENATOR WESELY: Right.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Okay. And then you have a...you also have one that wants to boost that to 150 percent for medical services for women and children under ADC, on my bill?

SENATOR WESELY: That's for Medicaid.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Right. Well, that's...that's health services, isn't it?

SENATOR WESELY: Uh-huh. Right.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Medicaid?

SENATOR WESELY: Medicaid,...

SENATOR PIRSCH: Right.

SENATOR WESELY: ...but that isn't ADC.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Which would raise it from 133 percent of federal poverty level. And what is that amount?

SENATOR WESELY: Well, it would depend on the number of children in your family.

SENATOR PIRSCH: What is the basic 133 percent that we now
