

state alone, there is no money in the United States and they can't even print it fast enough to cover it. Nonsense! Nonsense! And then they're going to have the nerve to get offended because I talk the way I do, but I'm not taking bread out of anybody's mouth. I'm not making it impossible for a mother to have some kind of shot at taking care of her children. So, personally, as the woman said in Gone With The Wind, "I don't give a goldang it", quoting Senator Tom Osborne, I mean, Coach Tom Osborne. Now it was interesting to me that Senator Janssen...Senator Jensen said if a woman gets pregnant and she's working, she can't go to the boss and say, I'm pregnant now and I want you to give me more money. First of all, he doesn't know whether that's true or not, but assume that it is, assume that it is. That makes it difficult for me to look at his vote this morning where he decided to let an agency come in here which had overspent its money and say, I overspent, give me some more money, and you give it to him. Where do you find that in the private sector? Where do you find somebody responsible for spending money a certain way, saying, I miscalculated, I overspent, give me some more...

SENATOR HALL: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...money without accountability. What was that, Mr. President?

SENATOR HALL: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Oh, thank you. I thought you were saying, Amen, and I was going to add hallelujah, but since you didn't I will leave that off the record.

SENATOR HALL: And glory be.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: To whomever. Here is the point that I want to see Senator Bohlke deal with, Senator Beutler deal with and Senator Day deal with. I don't want to see them gloss over and skate past this fact that nothing has been done about the jobs that ought to be available and how they want to strike from the law the requirement that that kind of information be obtained.

SENATOR HALL: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Bohlke, your light is next.

SENATOR BOHLKE: Yes, Mr. Speaker, and members, as I've
