

PRESIDENT ROBAK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...which could have everything taken from them in one fell swoop, (snap of fingers) like that? Certainly not. You all may be amused and amazed by what we're engaging in. Senator Hall's intent was to let there be this kind of discussion to lay the background, establish the context in which the discussion would occur, but mainly to let those cutthroats out there who are going to divvy up this pie decide how they're going to bake it and who's going to get which part. And now they just let us fiddle and play around the oven and think we're doing something, and all we're doing is spinning our wheels. When they decide that we've done enough it's like you make the yo-yo hesitate at the bottom of the string, you flick your finger and it runs up the string. I'm just waiting to see when Senator Hall is going to flick his finger and bring the yo-yo home. But this motion is not going to be successful. What you all ought to do is make me wrong, show that with all this yapping that I don't know what I'm talking about, give Senator Hall what he tells us he wants. It's either Senator Hall...

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...or me.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Abboud.

SENATOR ABOUD: Yes, Madam President, would Senator Schellpeper yield to a question?

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Schellpeper.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: Yes.

SENATOR ABOUD: Senator Schellpeper, I'm trying to decide whether or not to kill this bill or not. And...

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: You want me to vote for you?

SENATOR ABOUD: (Laughter.) You usually tell me how to vote, so I might as well make it official here on the floor.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: Okay.
