

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Are they kept in pens or other enclosures?

SENATOR AVERY: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So they don't...they're not raised as a wild bird of that species would be raised, would it?

SENATOR AVERY: Yeah, you're right.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Are they afraid of human beings? Could a human being come up and touch one of these birds without it running from the human being or trying to get away?

SENATOR AVERY: No, in the ones that I have seen. I...I can't speak for all of them.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay.

SENATOR AVERY: Haven't had a conversation with a bird lately.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Now how do you feel about this amendment that I'm offering?

SENATOR AVERY: I...you know, it's...

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: Time.

SENATOR AVERY: ..it's a good attempt. I don't think I will support it though.

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: Senator Beutler.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Question.

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: That will not be necessary, Senator Beutler. Yours was the last light. Senator Chambers, you're recognized to close.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Avery, two of us wonder what you meant because you didn't get to complete what you were saying. This... this amendment is a good attempt at what?

SENATOR AVERY: I thought it's kind of humorous in the fact. In reality, I don't believe they would allow any people on to
