

further. I laid the nurses out one day when I told them what my original idea was how the baby got here. So I come from that innocent age and that's the word I use because we were, and I'm not sure it was all that good. I had a wonderful childhood, a wonderful growing up, so I think we do have to realize that young women now know more maybe than they should and a lot of them are looking for love in all the wrong places. And I read that one column, I forget which one it was,...

SPEAKER WITHEM: One minute.

SENATOR CROSBY: ...that point, I think it was the one that Dan Lynch passed around, that a lot of these younger girls are going and having sexual relations with an older man and I'm not talking about a sixty-year-old, I'm talking like a girl of 18 and a 30-year-old or a 35-year-old. You see he's so knowledgeable and he can use her in the way he wants to and he gives her comfort, he gives her presents and so on and so she thinks this is the thing to do, and then when he gets what he wants, he leaves her, quite often with a baby. So here again, I'm going to support Senator Chambers' amendment and I think that we should be very careful of the Pirsch amendment. I think we should keep it to the three months. I'd like to have the whole nine months, I'll accept the three months. That's what we did on General File. Why don't we just leave it at that.

SPEAKER WITHEM: Time.

SENATOR CROSBY: Thank you.

SPEAKER WITHEM: Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Speaker and members of the Legislature, Senator Crosby did, by giving us some examples, point out the need for accurate information. As somebody who uses language all the time, who has used it to win Supreme Court decisions, I know the value and power of words and I know that you use different words based on the audience you're addressing. If I'm just talking to the members of the Legislature, there is one way I will talk. If I'm talking to the public who might be watching us, I just disregard the members of the Legislature and everything can go over the member's head because it will be heard by other people and appropriate note taken. When it comes to our young people, it becomes an entirely different matter. There has to be care and caution in our selection of words and
