

SENATOR CROSBY: Oh, okay, that does it...

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...incarceration associated with it.

SENATOR CROSBY: ...okay, now I understand it but you can understand why I was...

SENATOR BEUTLER: Yeah.

SENATOR CROSBY: ...a little confused as to what the next highest penalty or what. I understand, so if they're within the drug-free zone then the next highest penalty will be used. Right?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Right.

SENATOR CROSBY: Okay, thank you. But I still go back to the concerns that all of us have with an amendment that was drawn, worked out, whatever, on the floor late at night, and I think I...the other thing I want to know before we close this morning and before we come to a vote...

PRESIDENT ROBAK: One minute.

SENATOR CROSBY: ...I want to know, and if Senator Lindsay or Senator Beutler or whomever is really pushing and wants this bill passed, I want to know the exact amount of money that it's going to cost, because, along with that, the Governor took out the money for the corrections in the budget, in our budget. For me, that's exact opposite of what he's talking about here. So if we can't have the money in the budget, why can we have the money in the crime bill? That doesn't add up for me. No pun intended. Thank you.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Crosby. Senator Bernard-Stevens.

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: Thank you, Madam President, and members of the body, Senator Crosby, just...you struck a chord in me, I wanted to make a comment on your point. One of the frustrations I have that I suspect if I...from what I read in the papers and what I understand is going to happen here today, once we debate two hours, we will vote cloture. I suspect the votes are there and the bill would move on, and they don't now think they need an A bill, so they won't...they won't...they
