

science students with their professors, and they are from the University of Nebraska at Kearney. Would you please stand and be welcomed by your Legislature. Thank you for being here. Further discussion, further discussion on the Lynch amendment, Senator Cudaback.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Madam President and members, I guess I was wrong once, and maybe I can be wrong twice, but on this issue here, maybe this bracket motion will let us go back and look at the issue and study it to see where they are coming from. I guess I didn't...I agree with Senator Lynch in the fact, and Senator Wickersham, that I am not really afraid of the people. You know, maybe we should decide, do we let the people vote? This is the issue. The question here is not gambling right now, it is whether we let the people of Nebraska vote. I would like to ask Senator Robinson a question, please.

SENATOR CROSBY: Senator Robinson, will you yield for a question?

SENATOR ROBINSON: I will, yes.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Robinson, I do thank you for the ride last night in the cold weather. You are a good man for picking me up.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Well, you my have gotten your last ride. No, I am just kidding.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Well, is there a time, in your opinion, when the people of Nebraska, when we should allow the people of Nebraska to vote on an issue?

SENATOR ROBINSON: Yeah, when they go out and get 90 some thousand signatures, or what we are doing now if you can get it through the Legislature. I guess that's all right, if you can get it through, but I'm against it. I'm just aga...I'm against this, I'm against the proposition, Jim. I've supported other amendments to the constitution in the Legislature, but if I'm...

SENATOR CUDABACK: So that you...

SENATOR ROBINSON: ...against something, I'm against it. I...
