

right lie. Yes, I've seen it, and I could call the names of those who have done it. You all know it, too. And you always want to act, when I say this, like I'm talking about something you're unfamiliar with. You know it very well. It's just like the situation I read about in yesterday's paper, or a...

SENATOR COORDSEN: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...couple days ago where this man, from the Christian Coalition, he was a member of a Legislature, had to give up his seat 'cause he was caught having oral sex in the parking lot of a K-Mart! A parking lot of a grocery store, having oral sex. And I'm sure he's one of those strong Christian Coalitions, they gave him a high rating, who'd be against same sex marriages and protecting the work rights of homosexuals. But there he is out there having oral sex in a parking lot, and the same hypocrisy is found throughout legislatures all over this country. But as long as I'm here, the issues that I think are important I'm going to bring to you, and I'll bring it to you again and again.

SENATOR COORDSEN: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Senator Bernard-Stevens.

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: Thank you, Senator Coordsen. Senator Wesely, would you yield to a question, if you're in the Chamber?

SENATOR COORDSEN: Senator Wesely. I don't see Senator Wesely, Senator Bernard-Stevens.

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: I don't see him at this point. I was trying to think of somebody else that's on the bill. Senator Klein, do you want to answer a few questions, or would you ra... There's Senator Wesely. Senator Wesely, while you're going to the microphone, actually I'm going to jump subjects. I'm going to use the Chambers' amendment just to ask some other questions so that we have it on the record. Don, what I want to jump to is 1044, in general, about when we divided into the three areas and how we, as a Legislature, and how that entity will make policy decisions for each of the different entities. So I just...if you'd just follow through with that with me, a couple of questions. We have...we're going to be divided into the three areas. And one, if I remember the three, you're going to have regulation, for the most part, finances, and service
