SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Okay.

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: If you could speak more into that we'd...

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: All right. I'll...

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: ..appreciate it. I apologize Senator Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: I know when we had the conference out at Scottsbluff my wife and I went from Mitchell... What's that lovely town north of Mitchell?

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Harrison.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Harrison, that's correct. And I would have to say that 65 miles an hour would probably all right for that. And then you go to Harrison and then you go east and then you go to...

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Crawford.

SENATOR ROBINSON: No, no, you go to Fort Robinson.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Fort Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: And I guess I could be talked into 65 for that, and even...

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: It's a very good road.

SENATOR ROBINSON: ..on to Valentine.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Yes.

SENATOR ROBINSON: And then I stopped and talk to them in there and I said, boy, that's a...boy, that's a desolate road to Chadron. He says, you ought to go south to North Platte, so I presume that North Platte, that road probably ought to be 75, right?

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: I'd be satisfied with 65, Senator,...
