

going up. And I'll admit we build and we will still have some problems. But I think the public is insisting on doing some things with crime. Yet, I would be the first to agree with Senator Chambers that if we could not have to lock everyone up I would do it if we could get at the prevention, we could get at the symptoms in society. I would do a lot of what he's doing to try to do that. We happen to disagree probably philosophically on some of the things that we may do. But I first of all agree that we have to do something to prevent. But we're at the point that our violence is increasing. I happen to see a TV show, not a show, I saw news last night where somewhere, I think it was Las Vegas, not sure but I knew it was Nevada, were tape young people...

SENATOR COORDSEN: One minute.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: ...who were out smashing, knocking paint balls I guess they said, knocking over bicyclists, whatever, showing their action going down a street and they were taping this. They were so bold as they were taping their own antics and here we saw that on television as they knocked over this bicyclist and ran into this person and doing quite severe damage, quite brazen I thought. So I'll close, I guess I'll have another time to close and I'll say some more then.

SENATOR COORDSEN: Thank you, Senator Wehrbein. Senator Hartnett. The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. The question is shall debate cease? Those in favor vote aye, those opposed nay. A call of the house has been asked for. All of those in favor of going under call please vote aye, those opposed nay. Record, Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: 24 ayes, 0 nays to place the house under call, Mr. President.

SENATOR COORDSEN: The house is under call. Will the members not present on the floor who are not excused please report to the Chamber and record your presence. The house is under call. Roll call has been asked for.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: In French.

SENATOR COORDSEN: (Laughs) Yes, sir. Ein, zwei, is that French, Senator Hartnett? Avery, Beutler, Bohlke, please report
