

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Which one?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: That was done...some people were here doing some kind of study and they had asked me questions about it, too, and I never saw anything result from it. I think they were from North Carolina or someplace, would those be the same ones you were talking about?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: I don't know about the North Carolina. I am talking about...they may have had someone, Senator Chambers, I don't...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Is there the name of a company on the document you have that...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: No, there is not.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...maybe would ring a bell?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Not the one I had. Now there is, I have another one that is dated 1993 that is a Strategic Capital Plan for the State of Nebraska, Department of Correctional Services by Carter Goble, Associates.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: That's the one.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: I have that one also, and I have not referred to that extensively, I was preparing to.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay, now I haven't seen that one, but they are the ones. The only reason I remember because they had a number of names, and George Gobel was the only thing; I could hook on to remind me...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Well, your memory is very good

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...who this group was. Okay, now do they have anything in the way of plans of the kind you're talking about in this preliminary design?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: No, this is a strategic plan.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay. And what...is there a conclusion that they gave with reference to what is going to be needed in their
