

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Okay, I or somebody will come down and I can...I'll draw you the map on how that works.

SENATOR MAURSTAD: Great.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Thank you.

SENATOR MAURSTAD: Also, I want to indicate to you that I agree with at least the first three and a half minutes of what you were saying and I don't...and that's not...I don't disagree with the last minute and a half, I just didn't hear it. Relative to the control and relative to, you know, the county board certainly is who they go to, that, of course, is another one of those double-edged situations because, in my former service, we were lowering the city levy for a variety of reasons and it's not important why, but we were lowering the city levy and I was very careful to indicate, when we would discuss this on radio shows or out and about giving talks and interchange, that we were looking at lowering the city property tax levy; that your city property taxes would be lowered. And then people would get their property tax statement and the total of the property taxes that were paid was higher than the year before and then they called me and said, hey, I thought you said we were going to have lower property taxes? I said, no, I said you were going to have lower city property taxes. So, I mean, there's a lot of who gets what in all of this, but I want to emphasize that I don't disagree with what you and the committee have done relative to this particular area. I just want to make sure that those people that are truly interested in the ag societies, fire districts, historical sites, all of them, I hope that they...that it's brought out that this dramatically changes the authority that they have and the process that they're going to have to go through so that they're aware of what will occur before the fact and hopefully not after the fact. Senator Kristensen, if you could respond to one last...one last question, you mentioned the townships and they would come in and indicate to the county board. I'm trying to get in my mind the process that will occur here because right now the townships in my county all have different levies...

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Right.

SENATOR MAURSTAD: ..and will this 15 cents be...how will that
