

first of all, that I just don't think that cities can charge in excess to the extent that a profit could be created and use it for, use it for things not related to the service that's being provided, that the fee was being charged for. So I appreciate your input, and I'll do some, I'll do some research relative to that and try to come back on that particular, that particular issue. Thank you, Madam President.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Maurstad. Senator Wehrbein.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Madam Speaker, members, I don't know who I want to ask this question, whether it's Senator Kristensen or Senator Warner. Senator Kristensen, since you're standing, is that...I want to get in a little bit this restricted funds, and I'm not sure what I'm talking about, so that's what I'm asking you to help me on. Special ed funds would, say a school has four or five students come in, kind of slug a school system, additional students, so they have additional expense, they have to wait a year and a half to get their money back from the state aid formula. How are they impacted under this?

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Kristensen.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: I got to tell you there's somebody better than me to talk about special education.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Is that Senator Warner?

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: I don't know if Senator Warner can do that. The reason is that I wasn't here this morning when you did the special education amendment and I don't...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Oh.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: ...know exactly how you tinkered with it this morning.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: All right. Well, it's supposedly out, but I...I don't know.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: I think it's totally outside, I remember that discussion occurring, but Senator Warner probably is better to talk about that amendment.
