

16.5 million or about 7 percent of the total relief that's going to be provided by all of the components thrown together. What's concerned me is the percentage of relief by second class cities and villages are providing to the municipality's bucket, and that's $13.2 million, or about 80 percent of the relief being provided by the municipalities is coming from the second class villages...cities and villages. So with that, I think I'll close on my opening of AM4131 and request that we just go to the amendment, if I could, Mr. Speaker...Madam President, I'm sorry.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: Senator Maurstad would move to amend his amendment with AM4330. (See pages 1796-99 of the Legislative Journal.)

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Maurstad, to open on the amendment to the amendment.

SENATOR MAURSTAD: Thank you, Madam President. The amendment primarily does this, and the blue chart that I've handed out provides a chart of what...how we're proceeding to this point. The end result is that the levy lid on the metropolitan, primary cities stays the same at 45 cents. The levy on the first class cities would not be 60 cents, as I proposed in the AM4131, it would be 50 cents, or 5 cents higher than what the bill now has it. Second class cities and villages would be at 70 cents, which is a nickel less than what I proposed in my amendment, but obviously a quarter more than what's being provided by the original bill. Now the reason why we're doing this, of course, is right now we...the villages have $1.05 levy, and they are more than the first class cities and metropolitan primary cities affected by the 45 cent levy that applies across the board. Your columns to the right indicate how the different classes are affected. As you can see, even after this amendment that's before you, AM4330, we still have 5 cities that would be over the 50 cent levy. Fifty-six of the second class cities would be over, of the 111. And of the villages, approximately 257 would still be over the 70 cent lid...levy lid that would be provided in the amendment. I then provide for you the information of how the various classes of municipalities would be affected if LB 77 were adopted, which I'm sure everyone recalls is we're going to redistribute municipal state aid differently than what we are now. One thing that I would caution at this point in time is the assumption that has provided the fiscal impact relative to
