ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 98040

DATE: September 11, 1998

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of Proposed Legislation Which Would Limit the Number of Sanitary Improvement District Board Members on a Particular SID Board to One Member Per Household

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jon Bruning
Nebraska State Legislature

Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion "about possible legislation that would change election laws in Sanitary Improvement Districts." You state that you are "considering a possible bill to be introduced that would limit the number of SID board members to one per household." You then ask us to advise you "as to the constitutionality of this proposal."

You did not include any proposed legislation with your opinion request letter; nor did you set out any specific constitutional concerns regarding your proposal to limit the number of SID board members to one per household. Consequently, your opinion request involves a general question regarding unspecified statutory language and procedures. We have previously indicated that a general question on the constitutionality of proposed legislation will necessarily result in a general response from this office. Op. Att'y Gen. # 94012 (March 8, 1994). As a result, our response to your opinion request must be in general terms, absent some specific proposed legislation and absent some articulation of specific constitutional questions.

It seems to us that there are two areas which present potential constitutional problems with respect to your proposal. First of all, if your prohibition on SID board membership in the same household is established by a restriction on running for a SID board, then there is a potential barrier to ballot access for SID candidates. Such a barrier, in turn, raises concerns under the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Restrictions on ballot access potentially burden two distinct and fundamental rights: the right of individuals to associate for the advancement of political beliefs and the right of qualified voters to cast their votes effectively. Illinois State Board of Elections v. Socialist Workers Party, 440

U.S. 173 (1979). However, even though ballot access restrictions involve fundamental rights, not all restrictions imposed by states on candidates' eligibility for the ballot impose constitutionally suspect burdens, since there must be substantial regulation of elections if they are to be fair and honest. Anderson v. Celebrezze, 460 U.S. 780 (1983). Therefore, a flexible standard applies to ballot access and voting restrictions:

A court considering a challenge to a state election law must weigh "the character and magnitude of the asserted injury to the rights protected by the First and Fourteenth Amendments the plaintiff seeks to vindicate" against "the precise interests put forward by the State as justifications for the burden imposed by its rule," taking into consideration "the extent to which those interests make it necessary to burden the plaintiff's rights."

Burdick v. Takushi, 504 U.S. 428, 434 (1992) (citations omitted).

In the present case, we assume that one possible formulation of your proposed legislation would involve a prohibition against running for a SID board seat if another member of the candidate's household already serves on the SID board. While such a prohibition would probably not involve a large number of candidates, it seems to us that it would impose a fairly severe restriction upon the rights of those potential SID candidates subject to its provisions. As a result, the State would need to offer some fairly significant interests as justifications for the burden imposed by the statute. Since we do not have a proposed statute or any legislative policy statements before us, we cannot say what interests the State would serve by such a restriction upon candidacy for a SID board. We do suggest, however, that if you propose such legislation, you should take pains to create a legislative record which clearly illustrates the reasons for and the State interests furthered by the restriction on ballot access.

It also seems to us that one way to avoid the potential First Amendment problems inherent in a restriction upon SID ballot access for multiple members of the same household would be to formulate your restriction as an eligibility requirement for assuming office on a SID board. Under such a formulation of your proposal, individuals could run for membership on a SID board without any restrictions pertaining to other household members, but would only be eligible to take office on that board if no one else from their household served on the board at the time they were to take office. Under those circumstances, the restriction upon board service from the same household would be an eligibility requirement rather than a restriction upon ballot access.

The second area where it seems to us that there are potential constitutional problems with your proposal involves the Equal Protection provisions of the state and federal constitutions. Those constitutional provisions prohibit improper disparate treatment or improper classifications of people who are otherwise similarly situated. With regard to your proposal, the classification at issue would presumably involve candidates for a SID board who have members of their household serving on the board as distinguished from all other SID candidates.

Where a statute is challenged under the Equal Protection provisions of the state and federal constitutions, "[t]he general rule is that legislation is presumed to be valid and will be sustained if the classification drawn by the statute is rationally related to a legitimate state interest." Robotham v. State, 241 Neb. 379, 385, 488 N.W.2d 533, 539 (1992). There are two exceptions to this rule involving "suspect classifications" based upon race, age, national origin, etc., and classifications pertaining to fundamental rights. Clements v. Fashing, 457 U.S. 957 (1982); Robotham v. State, supra. To sustain the constitutional validity of classifications in those latter areas, there must be a showing of a compelling state interest. Robotham v. State, supra.

It appears to us that your proposed classification between SID candidates with members of their household on a SID board and all other SID candidates does not involve a "suspect class." In addition, candidacy for office is not a fundamental right. Clements v. Fashing, supra. Therefore, we believe that the constitutionality of your proposal would be tested by determining whether the statute setting out your restriction upon SID membership is rationally related to a legitimate state interest. In that regard, as we noted above, you have not provided us with a proposed statute or any legislative policy statements from which we can determine what interests the State would serve by a restriction upon candidacy for a SID board under the circumstances you have proposed. However, we assume that there are legitimate state interests underlying your consideration of this legislation, and once again, we suggest that you should make a concerted effort to create a legislative record which clearly illustrates the legitimate State interests furthered by your proposal.

Sincerely yours,
DON STENBERG

Opinion No. 98048

DATE: November 16, 1998

SUBJECT: Whether Neb. Rev. Stat. § 3-239 Applies to County
Airport Authorities

REQUESTED BY: Chris Peterson, Senator
Nebraska State Legislature

Lynn A. Melson, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding the applicability of Neb. Rev. Stat. § 3-239 to county airport authorities. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 3-239 (1997) provides, in part, that certain political subdivisions must obtain the approval of the Department of Aeronautics before submitting an airport project application to the federal government, and must designate the Department of Aeronautics as an agent to accept and disburse federal funds granted for such a project. Your question is whether county airport authorities are subject to those statutory provisions.

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 3-239 describes the political subdivisions subject to its provisions as a "city, county, village, or authority in the state whether acting alone or jointly with another city, county, village, or authority, or with the state, . . ." Our review of prior statutes reveals that, at the time § 3-239 was enacted in 1947, there was no statutory definition of "authority" within the statutes pertaining to airports and no specific statutes authorizing the creation of either city or county airport authorities. The chairman's statement with regard to § 3-239 refers generally to the intent for federal funds to be channeled through a state agency rather than paid directly to governmental subdivisions. Committee Records on LB 353, 60th Sess., 1947.

In 1957 the Legislature enacted the Cities Airport Authorities Act, which authorized cities and villages to create airport authorities. Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 3-501 through 3-514 (Cum. Supp. 1957). That Act also included amendments to Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 3-201 and 3-239 and those statutes were then considered part of the Act. We note that the original language merely referred to "this Act" and that it appears the Revisor of Statutes later clarified this language by specifically referring to §§ 3-201, 3-239 and 3-501 to 3-514. Those statutory references now appear throughout the Act. As a result, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 3-501 (1997) now provides that "[A]s used in sections 3-201, 3-239 and 3-501 to 3-514, unless the context otherwise requires: (1) Authority shall mean an airport authority which shall be a body politic and corporate organized pursuant to § 3-502; . . ." As § 3-502 authorizes the creation of city airport authorities, the term "authority" as used in § 3-239 must then be defined as a city airport authority. While statutes authorizing the creation of county airport authorities were subsequently enacted as Article 6 of Chapter 3 in 1969, those statutes include no definitions of terms such as "authority" and § 3-239 was not amended at that time.

It is possible that the Legislature, in amending § 3-239 as part of the 1957 Cities Airport Authority Act may have overlooked the significance of the new definition of "authority" as it relates to § 3-239. However, as stated by the Nebraska Supreme Court, "[I]t is presumed that the Legislature has full knowledge and information of the subject matter of the statute, as well as the relevant facts relating to prior law and existing pertinent legislation, and has acted with respect thereto." Sanitary and Improvement Dist. No. 222 of Douglas County v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 201 Neb. 10, 14, 266 N.W.2d 73, 75 (1978). Therefore, when § 3-239 is read in light of the Cities Airport Authorities Act and, in particular, § 3-501(1), we must conclude that the Legislature intended the term "authority" as used in § 3-239 to refer only to city airport authorities. County airport authorities are, thus, not currently subject to the requirements of § 3-239.

Sincerely,
DON STENBERG

Opinion No. 99001

DATE: January 5, 1999

SUBJECT: Is the non-owner of a storage tank liable for filling a fertilizer or pesticide tank with chemicals that is not in compliance with Title 198 regulations or the Environmental Protection Act?

REQUESTED BY: Senator W. Owen Elmer
Nebraska State Legislature

Jason W. Hayes, Assistant Attorney General

You have made a request for an opinion regarding the attachment of liability upon suppliers of fertilizers and pesticides, for their delivery of chemicals into storage tanks that are not in compliance with Title 198 of the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality rules and regulations. Specifically, your inquiry refers to whether a non-owner of a storage tank (local fertilizer or chemical retailer, trucker, etc.) would be prohibited from delivering such chemicals given possible liabilities and restrictions imposed by Title 198, or other related laws.

Title 198 contains rules and regulations pertaining to agricultural chemical containment of liquid fertilizers and pesticides. See Title 198, Nebraska Administrative Code, Chapters 1 through 14. The primary purpose of the regulation is to prevent contamination from spills and leaks of these chemicals into the soil and groundwater. The regulations require a secondary containment facility to be constructed for bulk storage of liquid fertilizers and pesticides above certain minimum aggregate amounts. The title also mandates "loadout facilities" to be built to catch any spills that may result from the delivery of liquid fertilizers and pesticides prior to the transfer into storage tanks.

It is our normal practice to provide opinions to members of the Nebraska Legislature only with respect to questions pertaining to pending or proposed legislation. Op. Att'y Gen No. 157 (December 24, 1985). Your opinion request letter does not express any legislative purpose in connection with your liability question. However, from discussions with your staff we understand that legislation may be introduced in this area depending upon our response to your inquiry. Therefore, we will provide you with an opinion.

DISCUSSION

Enforcement of the regulations included within Title 198 apply only to the owners and operators of the storage facilities. Chapters 2 and 3 of Title 198 provide the guidelines under which a secondary containment and loadout facility, respectively, are required. These construction requirements apply only to owners and operators of such facilities and there are no secondary requirements placed upon the suppliers of agricultural chemicals mentioned within Title 198. Enforcement, provided for in Chapter 10 of the title, is commenced only upon failure of the facility owner or operator to comply with the provisions contained within Title 198. Liability for improper storage does not apply to the non-owner suppliers and distributors of these chemicals.

Another consideration, is whether tort liability applies to non-owners of these facilities. The particular tort theory would involve an action for negligence. Negligence would be established on the part of a plaintiff against the non-owner defendant, if the plaintiff could prove the following four elements: (1) a duty was owed to the plaintiff by the defendant; (2) a breach of that duty; (3) a legally cognizable causal relationship was established between the breach and the harm suffered; and (4) damages. See Storage Tank Pollution, 5 A.L.R.5th 11. The main emphasis of the action lies with elements (1) and (2) which involve a finding of fault on the part of the non-owner defendant. Fault would apply if the non-owner supplier had a duty to refuse delivery of agricultural chemicals to storage tanks that were noncompliant under Title 198, but did so anyway in violation of this duty.

Courts are silent as to whether such a duty is present with regard to suppliers of liquid fertilizers and pesticides. However, courts have reached a consensus as to the existence of a duty involving the non-owner suppliers of petroleum products unloading hazardous products into storage tanks. Generally, no duty rests on a person who delivers gasoline to inspect the premises on which a storage tank is located before making delivery to the place provided for the purpose. See Gas and Oil, 38 Am.Jur.2d 716. The Nebraska Supreme Court has stated, "... a gas company which does not install, own, or control the pipes or appliances in a customer's building is in no way responsible for the condition in which they are maintained, and consequently is not liable for injuries caused by a leak therein of which it has no knowledge. This rule is followed extensively in this country." Clay v. Butane Gas Corporation, 151 Neb. 876, 889-90, 39 N.W.2d 813, 820

(1949). This statement leaves open the possibility of liability if knowledge is in fact present.

In other jurisdictions, a definite duty has been established if the petroleum supplier has notice that the storage tank is defective but endeavors to fill the tank despite such warnings. The Georgia Court of Appeals found that whenever a supplier of gas has actual knowledge of a defective and dangerous condition of a customer's underground storage tanks but continues to supply gas to them, the supplier is liable for injuries caused by the gas. See Citizens & Southern Trust Co. v. Phillips Petroleum Co., 385 S.E.2d 426 (Ga. App. 1989). Also finding a similar duty, the New York Supreme Court Appellate Division established that liability might ensue if an oil company had notice, actual or constructive, of the underground loss of gasoline due to a leakage, but failed to prevent such resulting injury by continuing to supply the defective tanks with gasoline. See New York Tel. Co. v. Mobil Oil Corp., 473 N.Y.S.2d 172 (N.Y. App. Div. 1984).

With no previous precedence established, we are unable to conclude that the courts in Nebraska would choose to follow the duties imposed by the jurisdictions named. In the instances cited where liability did attach, the supplier had notice of possible dangerous defects in the storage facility. Although, a storage facility may not be in compliance in with Title 198, this may or may not constitute a defect or immediate dangerous condition, which would give rise to a duty placed upon the non-owner supplier to refuse delivery.

In addition, the secondary containment requirements instituted pursuant to Title 198 are very precise and exacting depending on the aggregate quantities stored by the owner of the chemicals. It would be difficult for a firsthand observer to determine if a storage facility was in compliance, unless a detailed and time consuming measurement was taken of the capacity of the secondary containment unit. Given this difficulty, a non-owner supplier could in good faith--based upon his observations--deliver chemicals for storage onsite, but later discover that the facility was not in compliance with Title 198. A supplier would not have notice of compliance unless a method was instituted to provide proof that the storage facility was in compliance. Without such notice being achieved, it would be difficult for a court to conclude that a duty had been placed upon the supplier that restricted distribution to a noncompliant storage facility.

CONCLUSION

Under Title 198 of the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality rules and regulations for the containment of agricultural chemicals, there are no provisions which would place penalties upon a non-owner supplier who delivered chemicals to a storage facility that was not compliant. Possible tort liability actions may be instituted against the chemical supplier, which could result in liability if the chemical supplier knew or should have known that storage facility was inadequate, although there have, thus far, been no

Nebraska Supreme Court decisions on this issue.

The Legislature could provide for a different result by the implementation of legislation that placed liability upon a supplier for depositing chemicals into a noncompliant storage facility. The legislation could also contain a means of providing notice to the supplier of the storage facility's compliance under Title 198.

Sincerely,
 Don Stenberg
 Attorney General

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Members of the Legislature, distinguished guests, family and friends:

I am deeply honored to be here today as the thirty-eighth Governor of the State of Nebraska.

As you know, this journey began over three years ago, spanned 150,000 miles and involved hundreds of visits to communities large and small in all 93 counties of our great state.

During the last three years, I became acquainted with thousands of our citizens.

I took the opportunity to listen to them, to their concerns, to their hopes, their fears, and their dreams as they thought about the future, and what the future might hold for them and their families, their communities, their farms, their businesses, and their state.

This insight and understanding, gathered in peoples' homes, in coffee shops, at civic club appearances, at pancake feeds and church socials across our state, was a major factor in shaping my vision for our state's future and is the foundation for my priorities as your Governor.

While Nebraska is a diverse state in terms of the size of our communities, the ethnic heritage, religion, occupation and interests of our citizens,

I was struck time and time again over the past three years about the many things all Nebraskans share the core values, beliefs, and goals which bring us together, despite our differences.

It is those common values that define the context within which the priorities for my administration have been formed:

First, GREAT PRIDE IN THE HERITAGE OF OUR STATE --- Nebraskans are strong, independent, hard working people whose ancestors endured hardships to settle here, establish communities and raise their families.

Second, BELIEF IN THE VALUE OF EDUCATION --- Nebraskans care about our schools, and understand the significant role that all pieces of our educational system --- K thru 12, higher education, job training and distance learning --- play in our state's quality of life, our economic vitality and our children's future.

Third, RESPECT FOR OUR VAST NATURAL RESOURCES --- Nebraskans understand how blessed our state is in the abundant water, clean air, fertile soil and sheer physical beauty of our state.

While much of our economy is dependent on these resources, our citizens understand the balance between using them for our benefit and preserving them for future generations.

Fourth, CARE IN MANAGING OUR FINANCES --- Nebraskans are thrifty, cautious people when it comes to money, whether it be managing a family budget, a business or a farm, and they expect their government to use this same cautious approach in managing their valuable tax dollars.

Fifth, A BASIC OPTIMISM FOR THE FUTURE --- Nebraskans are positive in their outlook for the future, but their optimism is tempered by realistic concerns over the tax burden, a threatened agricultural economy, the future of our schools, violence in our communities and serious workforce shortages.

Finally, A DESIRE FOR POLITICAL LEADERSHIP --- Nebraskans want leadership that will bring our state together to work constructively for our future around practical, common sense solutions.

Noted Nebraska author Willa Cather states in her novel "O Pioneers" that "the history of every country begins in the heart of a man or woman."

As a candidate for Governor, I have had a unique opportunity over the past three years to learn what is in the hearts and minds of so many Nebraska men and women.

I stand before you today eager to address the many issues before our state and to lead a "Nebraska United" into the 21st Century.

As I look ahead to the next millennium and reflect on the input from thousands of Nebraskans, I see four objectives for our state and for my new administration:

SMALLER GOVERNMENT
LOWER TAXES
SAFE COMMUNITIES
AND A GROWING ECONOMY

There's no surprise in these objectives.

Simply put, that's what Nebraskans want and it is our challenge and our obligation to achieve those objectives.

It starts with SMALLER GOVERNMENT.

From coffee shops to letters to the editor to the voting booth Nebraskans are sending a message:
reduce the tax burden while continuing to provide the services Nebraskans need and expect at a level of service they deserve.

As their elected leaders, we can and must live up to that challenge.

We must review, analyze, reconfigure, prioritize and downsize our state government.

Nebraska taxpayers want a state government that is lean, focused and accountable and providing that form of government is the goal of my administration.

This is not a goal which will be easily achieved or accomplished within the first year or even in several years, but it is an effort we must begin today.

And if we do our job right, controlling the size and growth of government, we can REDUCE THE TAX BURDEN.

While initiative 413 was soundly defeated in November, the message sent by Nebraskans repeatedly is that the tax burden in Nebraska is too high.

Whether it's the rancher in O'Neill, the elderly homeowner in Beatrice, the young family in Kearney, or the successful entrepreneur in Omaha, we must strive to lower their tax burden.

The challenge is not only for the executive and legislative branches of state government, but the challenge extends to local government which levies the property tax.

The Legislature has made strides in reducing the reliance on property tax to support local government. And many Nebraskans saw the results of those efforts on their latest property tax statement. But not every Nebraskan has a lower property tax bill.

All local elected officials must recognize and accept their responsibility to reduce the property tax burden.

However, the state's responsibility to assist in the property tax relief effort is not complete. There is more we can do to reduce the property tax burden and later this month I will bring a property tax relief package to the Legislature and ask for your approval.

But for any tax relief, short term or sustained, to be enacted, the focus returns to government spending and the size of government.

I ask the members of the Legislature, and in fact all of state government, to join with me in a genuine and sustained effort to control the growth in spending.

If we will say no to rapid spending growth we can say yes to tax relief.

This should be our goal, our priority and our pledge not only to Nebraskans today, but also to our children and grandchildren, for it is their future which we hold in our hands.

That future is bright in many respects, but it is also tied to our ability to keep our COMMUNITIES SAFE.

The highest purpose of government is to provide for the public safety.

I firmly believe this and made public safety a priority during my service as Mayor of our Capital City.

Nebraskans must feel safe in their homes, trust that their children are safe in their schools, and know that law enforcement has the tools to protect our communities from crime.

The state's side of that commitment is twofold.

First, we have an obligation to have a statewide law enforcement effort that adequately funded, manned, and equipped in order to carry out their duties and to provide the support local law enforcement agencies need in their efforts.

And second, we must ensure swift and sure justice for those individuals who choose to violate the laws of our state.

Part of the obligation to maintain safe communities is a continuing commitment to stop the manufacture and sale of drugs in Nebraska and to put a squeeze on the pipeline for the drug trade that our state has become.

This effort includes a sustained, intense effort targeting methamphetamine, a threat to our children and our families.

Reducing the size of government, cutting taxes, and maintaining safe communities are pieces of the puzzle necessary to BUILD OUR ECONOMY.

Other pieces of that puzzle are a sustained investment in education, emphasis on workforce development, accessible and affordable health care, and investment in infrastructure including transportation and technology.

As I said on the campaign trail, you don't run for Governor unless you believe in the importance of education.

And I do.

Workforce development is an ongoing challenge in a state that is a national leader in the unemployment rate.

But our state's future is in part tied to our ability to address this challenge.

And in the area of health care, the diversity of our state provides advantages and disadvantages in the ongoing effort to maintain a healthy population.

Together, we can work to exploit those advantages and turn our disadvantages into strengths.

And as to the importance of technology, transportation, and infrastructure in this state, calculated investments today will pay dividends for future generations.

I believe that these four priorities, smaller government, lower taxes, safe communities, and building our economy, reflect what is in the hearts and minds of the thousands of Nebraska citizens I listened to during my three years of campaigning for Governor.

But of course, a darker challenge has again arisen in our state, the critical situation now facing farms and ranches and the businesses that depend on agriculture across Nebraska.

The awful prices for corn, beans, wheat, and beef have been an economic nightmare to many in our state's most important industry.

And the historic lows in pork prices have been all but tragic, especially for the small and medium sized producer.

As a farm boy, including someone who raised hogs to pay my way through college, I understand the plight facing our farm economy.

It's real to me.

And you have my personal commitment that I will do all I can to lead our state through these trying times.

By next week I will have taken the time to meet with nearly every state senator, something that probably hasn't been done by an incoming governor.

But something I believe has value, because although we come from different branches of state government, we are elected by the same voters, represent the same Nebraskans, and have the best interests of those Nebraskans at heart when we advocate for policies that affect the future of our state.

I am eager to work with all 49 of you and while we may not always agree on every issue, when we disagree, it will be with civility, fairness and respect.

In this regard, I'd like to share with you some words of a former Nebraska Governor, William A. Poynter, who assumed office 100 years ago and delivered his inaugural address to the twenty-sixth session of the Nebraska Legislature on January 5th, 1899:

"We recognize that the primary power rests in the hands of the people and that this, their will, should at all times be considered supreme. Partisanship may be bitter before election, but the will of the people having been expressed, citizenship should rise above partisanship. It is my most sincere desire that we shall cooperate for the best interests of the state."

Governor Poynter assumed office on the eve of the last century, at a time when over 4,000 Nebraska soldiers had volunteered for duty in the Spanish-American War, and the First Nebraska regiment had suffered more casualties than any volunteer unit in the war.

His inauguration followed a troubled decade for Nebraska's agricultural sector, a period marked by severe drought and crop failures.

Nevertheless, Governor Poynter and your predecessors in the Legislature approached the future a century ago with confidence, optimism for our state, and a belief that by working together, the state would progress and succeed in the century to come.

The challenges that we face today are not easily resolved.

Yet by working together, I believe we can seize these challenges, turning them into opportunities, and move our state forward into the next century.

I approach the next four years of service with tremendous enthusiasm balanced by humility and awe at the opportunity Nebraskans have given me to serve my state.

As I leave you today, let's agree to move forward, with a primary purpose of making a better tomorrow for the generations that follow.

Let's all row together!

The Governor, Chief Justice, associate justices, newly elected state officials, congressional delegation, and families were escorted from the Chamber.

The Financial Status shall include current estimates of beginning funds available, plus estimated revenue, less the Appropriations Committee recommended budget and express obligations for the biennial period under consideration, to arrive at the calculated variance from the minimum reserve for the General Fund as specified by law. The Financial Status shall also include a listing of other legislation on Select File and Final Reading, and Speaker's Major Proposals on General File that would deduct from or add to General Funds available above the minimum

In addition to data for the budget period under consideration, the Financial Status shall include data for the ensuing two years following the biennial budget period. Such data shall consist of projections of available balances, annual net receipts and annual expenditures, based on the assessment of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst of the provisions of current law as it may relate to projected revenues and expenditures. Prior to attaching the first Financial Status to the agenda, the data and the assumptions for the ensuing years beyond the budget biennium and methods for arriving at estimates shall be reviewed by the Chair and the Vice Chair of the Appropriations and Revenue committees and shall be approved by a majority of the membership of each such committee. Any citizen of the State of Nebraska may request the Commission on Judicial Qualifications to consider the qualifications of any Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, and in such event the commission shall make such investigation as the commission deems necessary and shall, upon a finding of probable cause, reprimand such Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge or order a formal open hearing to be held before it concerning the reprimand, discipline, censure, suspension, removal, or retirement of such Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge. In the alternative or in addition, the commission may request the Supreme Court to appoint one or more special masters who shall be judges of courts of record to hold a formal open hearing to take evidence in any such matter, and to report to the commission. If, after formal open hearing, or after considering the record and report of the masters, the commission finds that the charges are established by clear and convincing evidence, it shall recommend to the Supreme Court that the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge involved shall be reprimanded, disciplined, censured, suspended without pay for a definite period of time not to exceed six months, removed, or retired as the case may be.

(2) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings and in its discretion may permit the introduction of additional evidence. The Supreme Court shall make such determination as it finds just and proper, and may order the reprimand, discipline, censure, suspension, removal, or retirement of such Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, or may wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for retirement, the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall thereby be retired with the same rights and privileges as if he or she had retired pursuant to statute. Upon an order for removal, the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall be removed from office, his or her salary shall cease from the date of such order, and he or she shall be ineligible for judicial office. Upon an order for suspension, the Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall draw no salary and shall perform no judicial functions during the period of suspension. Suspension shall not create a vacancy in the office of Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge.

(3) Upon order of the Supreme Court, a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall be disqualified from acting as a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, without loss of salary, while there is pending (a) an indictment or information charging him or her in the United States with a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law or (b) a recommendation to the Supreme Court by the Commission on Judicial Qualifications for his or her removal or retirement.

(4) In addition to the procedure set forth in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, on recommendation of the Commission on Judicial Qualifications or on its own motion, the Supreme Court (a) shall remove a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, including a judge of the district or county court, from office when in any court in the United States such justice or judge pleads guilty or no contest to a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law, and (b) may suspend a Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge, including a judge of the district or county court, from office without salary when in any court in the United States such justice or judge is found guilty of a crime punishable as a felony under Nebraska or federal law or of any other crime that involves moral turpitude. If his or her conviction is reversed, suspension shall terminate and he or she shall be paid his or her salary for the period of suspension. If he or she is suspended and his or her conviction becomes final the Supreme Court shall remove him or her from office.

(5) All papers filed with and proceedings before the commission or masters appointed by the Supreme Court pursuant to this section prior to a reprimand or formal open hearing shall be confidential. The filing of papers with and the testimony given before the commission or masters or the Supreme Court shall be deemed a privileged communication.

When the Commission on Judicial Qualifications determines that disciplinary action is warranted, whether it be a reprimand or otherwise, the Commission on Judicial Qualifications shall issue one or more short announcements confirming that a complaint has been filed; stating the subject and nature of the complaint, the disciplinary action recommended or reprimand issued, or the date of the hearing; clarifying the procedural aspects; and reciting the right of a judge to a fair hearing.

When the Commission on Judicial Qualifications determines that disciplinary action is not warranted, and the existence of any investigation or complaint has become publicly known, the judge against whom a complaint has been filed or investigation commenced may waive the confidentiality of papers and proceedings under this subsection.

The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for procedure under this section before the commission, the masters, and the Supreme Court.

(6) No Justice or Judge of the Supreme Court or other judge shall participate, as a member of the commission, or as a master, or as a member of the Supreme Court, in any proceedings involving his or her own reprimand, discipline, censure, suspension, removal, or retirement."

To amend Article III, section 2:

In all cases the registered voters signing such petition shall be so distributed as to include five percent of the registered voters of each of two-fifths of the counties of the state, and when thus signed, the petition shall be filed with the Secretary of State on or before the Tuesday prior to the regular session of the Legislature in the year of the general election in which the proposal would be submitted to the voters. The Secretary of State shall transmit the petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes.

If the petition is for the enactment of a law, the Legislature shall consider the proposed law and may enact it without change or amendment by the end of the legislative session. If the proposed law is enacted by the Legislature, the law shall not be subject to the approval of the Governor and shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Article III, section 3, of this Constitution.

No more than five members of the commission may belong to the same political party at any one time, and no elected official or employee of the state or any political subdivision or registered lobbyist may serve as a member. The term of an existing member shall terminate on the date a new member is appointed. A member may serve no more than two terms on the commission and shall receive no compensation for the performance of his or her duties, but may be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses.

The Compensation Review Commission shall prepare and present to the Legislature prior to November 1, 2001, a legislative code of ethics which shall be adopted by the Legislature at the beginning of the legislative session in the year 2002 as part of its permanent rules. The code of ethics shall include procedures for implementing such code. After January 1, 2004, the Legislature may modify the code of ethics as it deems necessary or advisable to effectuate Article III, sections 10 and 16, of this Constitution.

After the Compensation Review Commission has presented a code of ethics to the Legislature and a code of ethics has been adopted as part of the Legislature's permanent rules, the commission shall review compensation for members of the Legislature and submit a report to the Governor and the Legislature recommending any adjustment to such compensation the commission deems appropriate. The Legislature may by legislative bill approve, disapprove, or reduce the recommended adjustment but may not increase the recommended adjustment. Adjustments shall not become effective until so approved by the Legislature, and when so approved shall become effective three calendar months following the end of the legislative session in which the adjustments were approved. If the Legislature maintains a code of ethics in its permanent rules, the commission shall review and submit a report recommending any adjustment to compensation every fourth year."

RESOLUTIONLEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 16. Introduced by Landis, 46.

WHEREAS, consensus building, conflict resolution, and collaborative efforts offer a variety of approaches and processes, including negotiation, facilitation, negotiated rule-making, and mediation to assist in the prevention of conflicts and the building of agreements; and

WHEREAS, these collaborative approaches can supplement and complement traditional processes and are not intended to replace legislative, regulatory, administrative, and judicial mechanisms; and

WHEREAS, the utilization of these approaches can often result in speedy, cost effective, and enduring resolutions; and

WHEREAS, the utilization of these approaches can assist in alleviating caseloads and reducing hearing time; and

WHEREAS, the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government on the state and local levels can benefit from approaches that can reduce divisiveness and increase confidence in our democratic systems; and

WHEREAS, these approaches call for the involvement of all stakeholders in order to build agreements that meet everyone's interests and are sustainable and self-enforcing; and

WHEREAS, it is in the best interests of the citizens of Nebraska to have the increased opportunity to become actively involved in and responsible for the resolution of conflicts that impact their lives; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Office of Dispute Resolution and the state approved mediation centers have assisted state and local governments to prevent and resolve conflicts and have a statewide accessible system in place to handle all types of issues; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska has many practitioners of these collaborative processes who are available to assist government in these efforts.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature for these reasons encourages all levels of government to explore, study, develop, and implement appropriate procedures to allow and enhance the use of the approaches and processes of consensus building, conflict resolution, and collaboration on issues that arise before them.

2. That if upon review of government practices, procedures, statutes, orders, and rules it is revealed that they create barriers to the use of collaborative processes, the Legislature would work with such entities to bring about changes needed to eliminate those barriers.

Laid over.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, distinguished guests and friends.

This morning I come before you to deliver my first State of the State address.

This is my opportunity to share how I intend to implement my vision, a vision which I believe is shared by Nebraskans, a vision of less government, lower taxes, protecting our families, and building our economy.

Today, I ask for your help in implementing this vision.

Together we can get this done. Together we must get this done.

The budget I propose today is based on three principles.

The first is spending restraint. My budget recommendations limit State spending to a growth rate of 2.2 percent for fiscal year 2000 and 3.4 percent for fiscal year 2001. In addition to the customary 3% required reserve, the plan proposes to maintain a 3% cash reserve as a hedge against an uncertain future. I am also breaking with gubernatorial tradition by recommending a growth rate for the following biennium of not more than 3%. In my judgement, these are achievable targets.

The second principle my budget recommendation addresses is the increased commitment, within our limited resources, of providing services that ensure a continued quality of life for our citizens. The spending targets I have proposed are achievable without sacrificing our shared priorities or walking away from our responsibilities to Nebraskans.

The third principle is tax relief. Spending restraint and a growing economy will enable us to provide significant tax relief to Nebraska taxpayers. Along with this budget I am recommending a permanent mechanism for providing property tax relief so that tax savings produced through greater efficiencies of government and excess tax receipts generated from a growing economy will be reserved for direct property tax relief and not used for continued growth of state government spending.

Let me outline some key elements of my budget recommendations.

My commitment to protecting Nebraska families is demonstrated by the priority I've placed upon effective law enforcement because safe communities are strong communities. Last week I announced a resolution to a two-year labor contract impasse with the State Troopers which had resulted in no pay increases since 1997 and created severe recruitment, retention, and morale problems within the Nebraska State Patrol. I'm very pleased that the dispute has been resolved and that a new contract has been reached. This settlement and the new wage contract are included in my budget plan.

My predecessor also reached a formal agreement with the public employee unions to establish increased hiring rates for nearly 700 Correctional Officers, Corporals, and Sergeants beginning January First of this year. In addition, current employee salaries were increased at the Department of Corrections to solve recruitment and retention problems. These items are included in my budget plan.

My budget also includes funds for initial staffing and operating costs at the new prison in Tecumseh and the incarceration work camp in McCook.

And in accordance with a program adopted by the Legislature in 1998, I have included funds to reimburse counties for the cost of incarcerating State prisoners. Today I ask county governments to return this savings to taxpayers in the form of dollar for dollar property tax relief.

The number of families requiring public assistance has been declining, reflecting the strong economy and Nebraska's commitment to welfare reform. As a result, my budget is reduced $1.7 million dollars in this area over two years. But funding is included to cover the costs of increased utilization of child care services for low-income working families to eliminate a major barrier to their ability to be self sufficient.

My budget recognizes the need for adequate health care for Nebraskans with particular needs.

In recognition of Nebraska's positive economic status, the federal match rate for Medicaid was reduced for the coming year. General Funds of $9.4 million are included in this budget to offset that federal reduction. In addition, funding for two very important programs, Medicaid and Long-term Care, has been increased $35.3 million to cover added utilization and medical inflation.

I've added funding for community-based services for juveniles. This will provide attention closer to home, so that families and communities can be actively involved in the rehabilitation of youthful offenders. The additional services will give further assurance of public safety and will help alleviate pressure at the youth centers at Kearney and Geneva, allowing longer-term treatment for more serious offenders.

This budget also adds more than $7.2 million dollars in General Funds to continue necessary mental health services at the Regional Centers, and commits an additional $2.4 million to further develop community-based services for the mentally ill.

Regional Center care will still be provided for those who require such care; but increasingly, outpatient care should be available to promote a more independent lifestyle for persons with mental illness.

In addition, $5.2 million in General Funds and $6 million in Federal funds are included over the biennium to increase rates for private providers of services for the developmentally disabled. The adjusted rates will allow service providers to raise salaries for their employees by increasing rates to 92.5% and 95% of the established reimbursement methodology over the biennium.

I continue our commitment to senior citizens.

General funds are added to provide additional service coordination for elderly persons facing long-term care decisions. Information and assessment will be provided to enable the elderly to find care services that will preserve their independence as long as possible. And funds have been added to provide additional in-home and community-based services for the elderly.

My budget recommendations also include reaffirmations of capital construction projects currently underway totaling almost $72.3 million of General Funds in the coming biennium.

They include the Incarceration Work Camp and the Medium/Maximum Security Prison, the completion of the Information Science, Technology and Engineering project at UNO, the State Capitol masonry project, the Grand Island Law Enforcement Training Center renovation project, and the continuation of $5.9 million per year of funding for the renovation of buildings at the University of Nebraska and State Colleges.

I also propose an aggressive, yet critical state highway and interstate construction program of $280 million in FY2000 and $294 million in FY2001. A well-maintained transportation system is critical to commerce and tourism in Nebraska and I am pleased to propose a continuation of our commitment in this area with no increase in the gas tax.

My budget recommendation for the Department of Water Resources includes nearly $8.5 million General Funds to continue Platte River water rights litigation with the State of Wyoming and to prepare for a suit filed by the State of Kansas concerning the use of Republican River water. We will vigorously defend Nebraska's water rights. From the Platte River to the Missouri, the Niobrara River to the Ogallala Aquifer, Lake McConaughy to the Harlan County Reservoir, and the Republican River itself, water is a precious resource for irrigators, environmental interests, and public utilities. Protection of our water rights is critical to the future our State.

Another important area of investment in this budget is education.

My budget recommendation includes a continued commitment to funding the University of Nebraska and our State Colleges. A total of $42.7 million in new General Fund dollars have been added for the coming biennium.

Included is a commitment to higher education on the Peru State College campus. First, is the reaffirmation of second year funding for the Hoyt Science Building project of almost $1.8 million. Second, is the reaffirmation of the second year miscellaneous renovations funding of $200,000. Third, is $240,000 to replace or renovate the Water System. Fourth, is $115,000 to continue planning through design development for the Library renovation and possible addition.

LB 269, passed two years ago, included a reduction in levy limits for Community Colleges from the current 7 cents to 6 cents per $100 of valuation. I have included $6.7 million in fiscal year 2001 to help replace property tax revenue lost from the limitation reduction. This budget also includes increased funding for student financial aid to maintain the current number of scholarships in programs administered by the Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education.

On the subject of higher education, Speaker Kristensen has stirred the debate regarding the future structure of the governance of higher education in Nebraska. I applaud him for initiating this dialogue and look forward to being a part of that conversation.

The budget also includes increased funding of $1.1 million Cash Funds for each of the next two years for grants from the Cultural Preservation Endowment trust fund to provide stable, long-term support for the arts and humanities in Nebraska.

My recommendation for special education maintains the growth rate at the statutory limit of no more than 3% per year resulting in increases of $3.9 million in the first biennium and another $3.9 million in the second biennium to reimburse schools for special education expenses.

My budget also proposes to eliminate a seven-tenths of one percent contribution to the School Retirement System, which has been paid in since 1984. Let me be clear however, my willingness to eliminate this amount is dependent on placing sole responsibility for this program, including benefit amounts, with those who benefit from the program. If this cannot be achieved, I will support continued state funding.

Before moving on to two critical elements of my budget package, I want to reiterate that my budget is limited to 2.2% growth the first year and 3.4% growth the second year. I have proposed limited increases in spending while funding our priorities.

Now let me focus on State Aid to Education and Property Tax Relief.

Any discussion of state aid should begin with my respect and admiration for the members of the Unicameral for having taken on these difficult issues. Against great criticism you moved Nebraska in the right direction. You have increased the State's aggregate share of the cost of K-12 education from about 25% a decade or so ago to about 50% today. And against criticism at home you have challenged school boards and administrators to tighten their belts, set priorities, work together, and, in some instances, caused communities to make tough, yet inevitable decisions regarding their schools, that have been put off for decades.

You have done this while working to honor the concept that local school districts, through their elected boards are best equipped to decide what's in the best interests of the children and families they serve.

I applaud you.

However, with all that you have accomplished, we would be less than candid if we did not acknowledge that a couple of areas still demand our attention for debate, deliberation, and our action.

Our State's school finance formula is complicated. Frankly, to accomplish the public policy objectives that should be accomplished it has to be complex. But just because the formula is complex shouldn't mean it has to lack stability and predictability.

Recently, a group of school officials came to talk to me. Before they left my office I asked them, if they could choose between increased state aid or predictability in the formula's outcomes, what would be their preference. Their answer was predictability.

That should be our goal.

Accordingly, we must agree to improve stability and move away from annual changes to the mechanics of the formula which serve to make the system even less predictable.

The second thought I offer in the area of school finance, is that I believe there is a better way to fund property tax relief than increasing state aid to local school districts.

We were all disappointed by the property tax figures recently released. The hope was that your efforts, coupled with efforts by local elected officials, would have resulted in property tax relief of about 8% to 15%. The reality is that property tax relief statewide was less than 5%, and for many Nebraskans either significantly less than that or none at all.

Following all of the hard work of the Legislature in recent years to boost aid to local governments in the hope of reducing the property tax burden, the average property tax payer in Nebraska did not see nearly the amount of relief the Legislature hoped to provide.

Attempting to provide property tax relief through state aid to local governments is simply not an effective method of providing property tax relief. Higher valuations and the bureaucracy of local government eat up many of the dollars that this Legislature had hoped would provide property tax relief.

Therefore, today I respectfully submit to you a plan. The plan I propose recognizes the state's responsibility for funding K-12 education and for providing property tax relief.

We do not have to leave our schools without the necessary resources to educate our children. A unified package of legislation that maintains spending at the levels I have suggested, stabilizes state aid, provides direct property tax relief, and includes Senator Brown's legislation on the school levy remaining at $1.10, and therefore assisting local school districts meet their local needs, will receive my support.

By accepting my proposal and adopting the Direct Relief to Property Taxpayers Act which I propose today, we can give Nebraska real property tax payers a nearly dollar for dollar reduction in property taxes and preserve an element of local control over our schools.

The plan I give to you today creates a trust fund for direct property tax relief. Every property tax payer will benefit. Here's how it is funded:

Excess state tax receipts and savings through government efficiencies would be transferred to the Direct Relief to Property Taxpayers Trust Fund. The fund would be established with transfers from the Cash Reserve Fund, Securities Act Cash Fund, and Insurance Cash Fund totaling more than $150 million dollars in FY1999 and FY2000. An estimated $125 million dollars would be available for the Fund in 2001 and 2002 through additional State spending restraint and growth in Nebraska's economy.

Taxpayers who own real property on December 31st of 1999 will be the first property tax payers eligible for direct property tax relief. They will have until January 31st of 2000 to apply for their direct property tax relief check. On or before August 31st of 2000, the State Property Tax Administrator will certify the amount of funds available for relief payments in the Direct Relief to Property Taxpayers Fund. The Property Tax Administrator will have until December 31st of 2000 to issue a direct property tax relief check to the property taxpayer.

Our estimates indicate property taxpayers will receive a check equal to an estimated 11% of their real property taxes in the first year of this program.

About 24% of this relief or $36 million dollars will go directly to farmers and ranchers in direct proportion to the amount of real property tax they pay. More than 55% or about $72 million dollars will go to Nebraska's homeowners and nearly 20% or $30 million dollars will benefit commercial and industrial property tax payers including small businesses, an important part of our economy.

There will be no more debate on whether the state has given property tax relief. The direct refund to the property tax payer solves this problem.

And valuation increases will be automatically accounted for because the refund will be in direct proportion to the amount of property tax paid.

Our challenge is to limit state spending consistently to about 3% annually. If we do and our economy can continue to grow, at least $400 million will go back into our local economies in the next 3 years alone. And that $400 million will mean more money in the pockets of Nebraskans to spend how they see fit.

But a word of caution . . . with this plan each decision you make on more spending will directly reduce what is available for property tax relief. If we keep spending at or below my proposed spending targets in this biennium and the 3% target established for the following biennium we can fund our priorities, meet the State's responsibilities and provide direct property tax relief.

My tax relief package also includes an expanded homestead exemption to keep property taxes from being a burden on persons with fixed incomes or limited means. Senator Raikes has introduced this proposal which would increase the limitations on the value of the homestead, the income limitations of eligible taxpayers, and the amount of the exemption itself.

The third part of my tax relief plan is an adoption tax credit introduced by Senator Matzke. Consistent with my strong belief that children should have stable and loving families, I am proposing a $1,000 per year refundable tax credit for families who adopt a child. As introduced, the credit may be claimed each year of the child's life up through the year the child turns six years of age. I look forward to working with you to enact an incentive for building strong families.

I look forward to working with you on the passage of this three-part tax relief package. And I also look forward to signing into law the anti-crime initiatives I have co-endorsed with our Attorney General. I thank Senators Bromm, Bruning, Chris Peterson, and Senator Crosby who have sponsored these important initiatives to assist in providing law enforcement and prosecutors with additional legal tools for keeping our communities and our families safe from the threat of crime.

Finally, over the past several weeks and months I have expressed my concern about the serious challenges facing our Ag economy. I will advocate in Washington for federal policies that assist our farmers and ranchers and I will advocate abroad to open markets for our products. But it is here in Nebraska where we can have the greatest impact by reducing costly and burdensome regulation and working to provide direct property tax relief. That's what our farmers and ranchers consistently have asked us for and we have the opportunity to do that with the Direct Property Tax Relief Act.

Almost three weeks ago I stood before you humbled by the great honor that had been placed upon me to become Nebraska's 38th Governor.

Today, I feel the urgency to move this agenda forward with each of you as a partner.

This morning I have laid out the details of a budget that funds our shared priorities while proposing to return $400 million dollars in direct property tax relief to Nebraska real property tax payers over the next four years. And most importantly, our priorities are funded and tax relief achieved within the limitation of 2.2% spending growth the first year and 3.4% the second year.

I look forward to working with you for passage of a budget that meets these reasonable spending targets, action on my proposals related to school finance, passage of anti-crime initiatives that will further punish those who violate our laws, and approval of the Direct Relief to Property Taxpayers Act.

I close with a quote from General John J. Pershing from a letter written to French Army commander Marshall Foch during World War I, "there is an abiding confidence between our people that insures to the world our constant friendship and our common purpose in behalf of humanity."

I'm confident that we can work together to accomplish our common purpose on behalf of Nebraskans.

The Committee escorted Governor Mike Johanns from the Chamber.

16 (5) A public body may allow a member of the public or any 17 other witness other than a member of the public body to appear
18 before the public body by means of video or telecommunications
19 equipment.

20 (6) It is the intent of the Legislature that on or before
21 January 1, 1997, the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs
22 Committee of the Legislature review the effects of subsections (2)
23 and (5) of this section on openness of meetings, effectiveness of

Standing Committee amendment to LB 17:

AM0040

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. The Legislature finds that medical records
- 4 contain personal and sensitive information that if improperly used
- 5 or released may do significant harm to a patient's interests.
- 6 Patients need access to their own medical records as a matter of
- 7 fairness to enable them to make informed decisions about their
- 8 health care and correct inaccurate or incomplete information about
- 9 themselves.
- 10 Sec. 2. For purposes of sections 1 to 7 of this act:
- 11 (1) Medical records means a provider's record of a
- 12 patient's health history and treatment rendered;
- 13 (2) Patient includes a patient or former patient;
- 14 (3) Patient request or request of a patient includes the
- 15 request of a patient's guardian or other authorized representative;
- 16 and
- 17 (4) Provider means a physician, psychologist,
- 18 chiropractor, dentist, hospital, clinic, and any other licensed or
- 19 certified health care practitioner or entity.
- 20 Sec. 3. (1) A patient may request a copy of the
- 21 patient's medical records or may request to examine or copy such
- 22 records. Access to such records shall be provided upon request
- 23 pursuant to sections 1 to 7 of this act unless such access would be
- 24 inconsistent with the patient's condition and sound therapeutic
- 1 treatment. The request and any authorization shall be in writing
- 2 and shall be valid for one hundred eighty days after the date of
- 3 delivery to the provider.
- 4 (2) Upon receiving a request for a copy of the patient's
- 5 medical records under subsection (1) of this section, the provider
- 6 shall furnish the person making the request a copy of such records

7 within thirty days after the written request is received.

8 (3) Upon receiving a request to examine or copy the 9 patient's medical records, the provider shall, as promptly as 10 required under the circumstances but no later than ten days after 11 receiving the request: (1) Make the medical records available for 12 examination during regular business hours and provide a copy, if 13 requested, to the patient; (2) inform the patient if the 14 information does not exist or cannot be found; (3) if the provider
15 does not maintain a record of the information, inform the patient 16 and provide the name and address, if known, of the provider who 17 maintains the information; or (4) if the information is in use or 18 unusual circumstances have delayed handling the request, inform the 19 patient and specify in writing the reasons for the delay and the 20 earliest date, not later than twenty-one days after receiving the 21 request, when the information will be available for examination or 22 copying.

23 (4) This section does not require the retention of 24 records or impose liability for the destruction of records in the 25 ordinary course of business prior to receipt of a request made
26 under subsection (1) of this section. The provider may delete
27 confidential information in any medical record concerning another 1 patient or family member who has not consented to the release of 2 the record.

3 Sec. 4. Except as provided in sections 5 and 7 of this 4 act, for medical records provided under section 3 of this act or 5 under subpoena by a patient or his or her authorized representative 6 the provider may charge up to twenty dollars as a handling fee and 7 may charge up to fifty cents per page as a copying fee. An 8 estimate of the number of pages that comprise the medical record is 9 sufficient to set the copying fee to be paid in advance of delivery
10 of such record by the provider. The provider may charge for the 11 reasonable cost of all duplications of medical records which cannot 12 routinely be copied or duplicated on a standard photocopy machine.
13 The provider may charge the amount necessary to cover the cost of 14 labor and materials for furnishing a copy of an X-ray or similar 15 special medical record and may charge the amount necessary to cover
16 the cost of furnishing records which are more than two years old
17 and are not stored onsite and in paper form. If the provider does 18 not have the ability to reproduce X-rays or other records
19 requested, the person making the request may arrange, at his or her 20 expense, for the reproduction of such records.

21 Sec. 5. (1) A provider shall not charge a fee for medical 22 records requested by a patient for use in supporting an application
23 for disability or other benefits or assistance or an appeal
24 relating to the denial of such benefits or assistance under:

25 (a) Sections 43-501 to 43-536 regarding assistance for 26 certain children;

27 (b) Sections 68-1018 to 68-1025 relating to the medical 1 assistance program;

2 (c) Title II of the federal Social Security Act, as
3 amended, 42 U.S.C. 401 et seq.;

4 (d) Title XVI of the federal Social Security Act, as 5 amended, 42 U.S.C. 1382 et seq.; or

6 (e) Title XVIII of the federal Social Security Act, as
7 amended, 42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.

8 (2) Unless otherwise provided by law, a provider may 9 charge a fee as provided in section 4 of this act for the medical 10 records of a patient requested by a state or federal agency in 11 relation to the patient's application for benefits or assistance or 12 an appeal relating to denial of such benefits or assistance under 13 subsection (1) of this section.

14 (3) A request for medical records under this section
15 shall include a statement or document from the department or agency 16 that administers the issuance of the assistance or benefits which 17 confirms the application or appeal.

18 Sec. 6. The transfer or submission of information to the 19 patient's medical record done in good faith shall not render the 20 provider liable to the patient or any other person for any 21 consequences that have resulted or may result from the disclosure 22 of the patient's medical record as provided in sections 1 to 7 of 23 this act.

24 Sec. 7. Sections 1 to 7 of this act do not apply to the 10 construction, reconstruction, remodeling, building, alteration, 11 maintenance, repair, extension, or improvement, such agency shall 12 cause estimates of the cost thereof to be made by some competent 13 engineer or engineers. If such estimated cost shall exceed the sum 14 of fifty one hundred thousand dollars, no such contract shall be

16 respect to contracts entered into by an agency in the exercise of 17 its rights and powers, relating to radioactive material or the

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 29. Introduced by Jensen, 20; Wickersham, 49; Wehrbein, 2.

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska settled its litigation against the tobacco industry on November 23, 1998; and

WHEREAS, the state lawsuit was brought for violation of state law under state law theories, and the state lawsuit did not make any federal claims; and

WHEREAS, the state bore all the risk and expense in the litigation brought in state court and settled without any assistance from the federal government; and

WHEREAS, the settlement results from the state's determination to achieve objectives leading to reduced youth smoking and reduced access to tobacco products; and

WHEREAS, the federal government through the Health Care Financing Administration has asserted that it is entitled to a significant share of the state settlement on the basis that the settlement funds represent in part the federal share of Medicaid costs; and

WHEREAS, the federal government asserts that it is authorized and obligated, under the federal Social Security Act, to collect its share of any settlement funds attributable to Medicaid; and

WHEREAS, the federal government previously chose not to exercise its option to engage in litigation on behalf of federal claims; and

WHEREAS, on January 19, 1999, the President of the United States announced an initiative to make federal claims against the tobacco industry on behalf of Medicare costs; and

WHEREAS, the state is entitled to all of the settlement funds negotiated in the tobacco settlement agreement without any federal claim; and

WHEREAS, the state has passed legislation to allocate settlement funds for the preservation of the health of its citizens and should not be threatened with the seizure of such settlement funds by any entity.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby petitions the Congress of the United States and the executive branch of the federal government to prohibit federal recoupment of state tobacco settlement recoveries.

26 Sec. 3. Section 85-1536.01, Revised Statutes Supplement,
27 1998, is amended to read:

1 85-1536.01. (1) The Community College Property Tax
2 Relief and Equalization Program is created. The Legislature
3 recognizes the need for a state and local partnership for the 4 funding of community colleges. The Legislature also understands
5 that some community college areas have a better ability than other 6 areas to raise revenue through property taxes because of larger and 7 growing valuation bases.

8 (2) It is the intent of the Legislature to appropriate
9 funds beginning with fiscal year 1998-99 to provide property tax
10 relief to those areas that (a) have levied the maximum allowable
11 property tax levy as described in subsection (1) of section 85-1517
12 and cannot generate forty percent of their operating revenue or (b)
13 do not receive forty percent of their operating revenue from state 14 aid pursuant to subdivisions (1)(a) and (b) of section 85-1536 and 15 levy the maximum allowable property tax levy as described in 16 subsection (1) of section 85-1517 or the greater of a minimum levy
17 of six and three-tenths cents per one hundred dollars of valuation 18 for fiscal year 1998-99 and fiscal year 1999-00 and five and 19 three-tenths cents per one hundred dollars of valuation for fiscal 20 year 2000-01 and all subsequent fiscal years or a levy that raises
21 forty percent of its operating revenue.

22 (3) Each eligible community college area which qualifies
23 pursuant to subdivision (2)(a) of this section shall receive funds 24 equal to the difference between the property tax revenue raised and 25 forty percent of its operating revenue. Each eligible community 26 college area which qualifies pursuant to subdivision (2)(b) of this 27 section shall receive funds equal to the difference between state
1 aid pursuant to subdivisions (1)(a) and (b) of section 85-1536 and

2 forty percent of its operating revenue, and any community college
3 area which raises in excess of forty percent of its operating 4 revenue from property tax shall have such excess serve as an offset
5 to payments received from this program. Any community college area
6 which qualifies under both subdivisions (2)(a) and (b) of this 7 section shall receive funds as calculated for both subdivisions.
8 The base year for calculating forty percent of operating revenue
9 shall be fiscal year 1997-98, with future adjustments reflecting 10 increases equal to two percent plus the percentage increase, if 11 any, in full-time equivalent students eligible for state aid from 12 the second year to the first year preceding the year for which the 13 aid is being determined.

14 Any community college area which had an operational
15 property tax levy that was one hundred thirty-five percent or more 16 of the statewide average operational community college property tax
17 levy for fiscal year 1997-98 shall, for purposes of state aid
18 distribution beginning in fiscal year 1999-2000 and for each fiscal 19 year thereafter, have added to its fiscal year 1997-98 base year
20 revenue three-fourths of its unused budget authority as established
21 under section 13-521 for fiscal year 1998-99. Each community 22 college area shall submit its levy and valuation certification to 23 the Department of Administrative Services by September 20 each
24 year. After verifying valuations and general fund revenue amounts
25 established from FTE-REU audits, which general fund revenue amounts 26 are derived from the uniform budget form, the department shall 27 distribute funds to those community college areas that have 1 qualified for property tax relief and equalization. If the 2 Legislature fails to appropriate adequate funds for the program, 3 the funds appropriated shall be apportioned on a pro rata basis to 4 the areas that qualify.

5 (4) The department shall distribute the total of such 6 appropriated and allocated funds to the boards in nine as nearly as 7 possible equal monthly payments between the fifth and twentieth day
8 of each month beginning in October of each year.

9 Sec. 4. Original sections 85-1503, 85-1536, and 10 85-1536.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1998, are repealed."

11 2. Renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

- 3 "Section 1. (1) The Legislature finds that many
- 4 controlled substances have useful and legitimate medical and
- 5 scientific purposes and are necessary to maintain the health and

7 medical practice dictate that the people of Nebraska have access to 8 appropriate and effective pain relief.

9 (2) The Legislature finds that the appropriate
10 application of up-to-date knowledge and treatment modalities can 11 serve to improve the quality of life for those patients who suffer
12 from pain. The Legislature therefor encourages physicians to view 13 effective pain management as a part of quality medical practice for 14 all patients with pain, acute or chronic, including those patients
15 who experience pain as a result of terminal illness.

16 (3) The Legislature finds that a physician should be able
17 to administer a controlled substance in excess of the recommended

23 (4) The Legislature finds that a health care facility,

3 Sec. 2. A physician licensed under the Uniform Licensing

8 In the judgment of the physician, appropriate pain management

12 administration of the controlled substance conforms to policies and 13 guidelines for the treatment of pain adopted by the Board of

15 (3) The Board of Examiners in Medicine and Surgery shall 16 adopt policies and guidelines for the treatment of pain to ensure 17 that physicians who are engaged in the appropriate treatment of 18 pain are not subject to disciplinary action, and the board shall

- 1 1. Strike original section 1 and insert the following
- 2 new section:
- 3 "Section 1. Section 29-901, Reissue Revised Statutes of
- 4 Nebraska, is amended to read:
- 5 29-901. Any bailable defendant shall be ordered released
- 6 from custody pending judgment on his or her personal recognizance
- 7 unless the judge determines in the exercise of his or her
- 8 discretion that such a release will not reasonably assure the
- 9 appearance of the defendant as required. When such determination
- 10 is made, the judge shall either in lieu of or in addition to such a

11 release impose the first of the following conditions of release
12 which will reasonably assure the appearance of the person for trial 13 or, if no single condition gives that assurance, any combination of 14 the following conditions:

15 (1) Place the defendant in the custody of a designated 16 person or organization agreeing to supervise the defendant;

17 (2) Place restrictions on the travel, association, or 18 place of abode of the defendant during the period of such release;

19 (3) Require, at the option of any bailable defendant,
20 either of the following:

21 ~~(a)~~ (a)(i) The execution of an appearance bond in a 22 specified amount and the deposit with the clerk of the court in 23 cash of a sum not to exceed ten percent of the amount of the bond, 24 ninety percent of such deposit to be returned to the defendant upon 1 the performance of the appearance or appearances and ten percent to 2 be retained by the clerk as appearance bond costs, except that when 3 no charge is subsequently filed against the defendant or if the 4 charge or charges which are filed are dropped before the appearance
5 of the defendant which the bond was to assure, the entire deposit
6 shall be returned to the defendant. If the bond is subsequently 7 reduced by the court after the original bond has been posted, no
8 additional appearance bond costs shall be retained by the clerk.
9 The difference in the appearance bond costs between the original
10 bond and the reduced bond shall be returned to the defendant. In 11 no event shall the deposit be less than twenty-five dollars;

12 (ii) Whenever jurisdiction is transferred from a court
13 requiring an appearance bond under this subdivision to another
14 state court, the transferring court shall transfer the ninety
15 percent of the deposit remaining after the appearance bond costs
16 have been retained. No further costs shall be levied or collected 17 by the court acquiring jurisdiction; or

18 (b)(i) The execution of a bail bond with such surety or 19 sureties as shall seem proper to the judge or, in lieu of such 20 surety or sureties, at the option of such person, a cash deposit of 21 such sum so fixed, conditioned for his or her appearance before the 22 proper court, to answer the offense with which he or she may be 23 charged and to appear at such times thereafter as may be ordered by 24 the proper court. The cash deposit shall be returned to the 25 defendant upon the performance of all appearances;

26 (ii) If the amount of bail is deemed insufficient by the 27 court before which the offense is pending, the court may order an 1 increase of such bail and the defendant shall provide the 2 additional undertaking, written or cash, to secure his or her
3 release. All recognizances in criminal cases shall be in writing
4 and be continuous from term to term until final judgment of the 5 court in such cases and shall also extend, when the court has 6 suspended execution of sentence for a limited time, as provided in 7 section 29-2202, or, when the court has suspended execution of 8 sentence to enable the defendant to apply for a writ of error to

9 the Supreme Court or Court of Appeals, as provided in section
 10 29-2301, until the period of suspension has expired. When two or 11 more indictments or informations are returned against the same 12 person at the same term of court, the recognizance given may be 13 made to include all offenses charged therein. Each surety on such 14 recognizance shall be required to justify under oath in a sum twice 15 the amount of such recognizance and give the description of real 16 estate owned by him or her of a value above encumbrance equal to 17 the amount of such justification and shall name all other cases
 18 pending in which he or she is a surety. No one shall be accepted
 19 as surety on recognizance aggregating a sum in excess of his or her 20 equity in the real estate, but such recognizance shall not 21 constitute a lien on the real estate described therein until

- 3 "Section 1. (1) The Legislature finds that many
- 4 controlled substances have useful and legitimate medical and

- 7 medical practice dictate that the people of Nebraska have access to
- 8 appropriate and effective pain relief.
- 9 (2) The Legislature finds that the appropriate

- 11 serve to improve the quality of life for those patients who suffer
- 12 from pain. The Legislature therefor encourages physicians to view

- 14 all patients with pain, acute or chronic, including those patients

- 16 (3) The Legislature finds that a physician should be able

- 12 assisting in causing, death for any reason; and (3) the
- 13 administration of the controlled substance conforms to policies and
- 14 guidelines for the treatment of pain adopted by the Board of
- 15 Examiners in Medicine and Surgery.
- 16 Sec. 3. The Board of Examiners in Medicine and Surgery

17 shall adopt policies and guidelines for the treatment of pain to

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. The Hardship Fund is created. Money in the
- 4 fund shall be distributed to districts pursuant to section 2 of
- 5 this act. The fund shall consist of any money not distributed as
- 6 temporary mitigation funds pursuant to section 79-1072.01 and other
- 7 funds appropriated by the Legislature. The Legislature shall
- 8 annually appropriate sufficient funds to maintain the amount not
- 9 distributed as temporary mitigation funds pursuant to section
- 10 79-1072.01 as the beginning balance in the fund at the beginning of
- 11 each fiscal year. Money in the fund available for investment shall 12 be invested by the state investment officer pursuant to the 13 Nebraska Capital Expansion Act and the Nebraska State Funds

14 Investment Act.

15 Sec. 2. (1) A school district may apply to the 16 Commissioner of Education, in a manner prescribed by the 17 commissioner, for money from the Hardship Fund if one or more 18 unexpected discrete occurrences cause the district financial 19 distress. Such occurrences include, but are not limited to:

20 (a) One or more new special education students or one or 21 more new disabling conditions of a special education student
22 causing special education expenditures to increase by ten percent
23 over the prior school fiscal year's special education expenditures, 24 but not less than three times the cost grouping cost per student in 1 the standard cost grouping in the current school fiscal year;

2 (b) The opening of a group home causing expenditures to 3 increase by ten percent over the prior school fiscal year's special
4 education expenditures but not less than three times the cost
5 grouping cost per student in the standard cost grouping for the 6 current school fiscal year; and

7 (c) Clerical errors by public officials that are 8 affecting the funding available to the district.

9 (2) If the district will receive reimbursement from 10 another source for the costs that are being covered by money
11 received from the Hardship Fund, the district shall reimburse the 12 fund in a manner to be determined by the commissioner. For money
13 received from the fund that will cover reimbursable special 14 education costs, one-third of the reimbursed amount will be 15 subtracted from the special education reimbursements each year for 16 the three years following receipt of such funds. Money received
17 from the fund shall be included in the special education allowance
18 under the Tax Equity and Educational Opportunities Support Act, 19 except that if the district will be reimbursed for those costs and 20 the district will repay the fund, the amount of repayment shall not 21 be included in the allowance.

22 (3) The commissioner shall notify the district of his or 23 her decision within thirty days after receiving the application.
24 The commissioner may award any amount of available money from the 25 fund he or she deems appropriate with any repayment conditions that 26 he or she deems appropriate and consistent with this section. The 27 commissioner may also refuse to award any money under this section
1 in response to a particular request.

2 (4) Before money is distributed to a district under this
3 section, the president of the school board shall sign an agreement 4 stating that:

5 (a) The costs for which money is being distributed are as 6 accurate as can be determined at that point;

7 (b) The events were unexpected; and

8 (c) The district will make any required repayments to the 9 fund.

10 (5) Up to two-thirds of the money appropriated to the 11 fund shall be available to be awarded for requests received between 12 July 1 to December 31 of each fiscal year. The remainder of the 13 appropriation shall be available to be awarded for requests
 14 received between January 1 to June 30 of each fiscal year.

15 (6) Nothing in this section guarantees an award of money
 16 from the Hardship Fund to any district. Money from the fund shall 17 be paid as a lump sum to each district receiving funds and shall be 18 limited to a one-year impact per unexpected discrete occurrence."

1. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 54. Section 79-1601, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, is amended to read:

79-1601. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2) through ~~(5)~~ (6) of this section, all private, denominational, and parochial schools in the State of Nebraska and all teachers employed or giving instruction in such schools shall be subject to and governed by the provisions of the general school laws of the state so far as the same apply to grades, qualifications, and certification of teachers and promotion of pupils. All private, denominational, and parochial schools shall have adequate equipment and supplies, shall be graded the same, and shall have courses of study for each grade conducted in such schools substantially the same as those given in the public schools where the children attending would attend in the absence of such private, denominational, or parochial schools.

(2) All private, denominational, or parochial schools shall either comply with the accreditation or approval requirements prescribed in section 79-318 or, for those schools which elect not to meet accreditation or approval requirements, the requirements prescribed in section 79-318 and subsections (2) through ~~(5)~~ (6) of this section. Standards and procedures for approval and accreditation shall be based upon the program of studies, guidance services, the number and preparation of teachers in relation to the curriculum and enrollment, instructional materials and equipment, science facilities and equipment, library facilities and materials, and health and safety factors in buildings and grounds. Rules and regulations which govern standards and procedures for private, denominational, and parochial schools which elect, pursuant to the procedures prescribed in subsections (2) through ~~(5)~~ (6) of this section, not to meet state accreditation or approval requirements shall be based upon evidence that such schools offer a program of instruction leading to the acquisition of basic skills in the language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, and health. Such rules and regulations may include a provision for the visitation of such schools and regular achievement testing of students attending such schools in order to insure that such schools are offering instruction in the basic skills listed in this subsection. Any arrangements for visitation or testing shall be made through a parent representative of each such school. The results of such testing may be used as evidence that such schools are offering instruction in such basic skills but shall not be used to measure, compare, or evaluate the competency of students at such schools.

21 (3) The provisions of subsections (3) through ~~(5)~~ (6) of 22 this section shall apply to any private, denominational, or 23 parochial school in the State of Nebraska which elects not to meet
24 state accreditation or approval requirements. Elections pursuant 25 to such subsections shall be effective when a statement is received 26 by the Commissioner of Education signed by the parents or legal 27 guardians of all children attending such private, denominational,
1 or parochial school, stating that (a) the requirements for approval
2 and accreditation required by law and the rules and regulations
3 adopted and promulgated by the State Board of Education violate
4 sincerely held religious beliefs of the parents or legal guardians,
5 (b) an authorized representative of such parents or legal guardians
6 will at least annually submit to the Commissioner of Education the 7 information necessary to prove that the requirements of 8 subdivisions ~~(i) through (iii) of this subsection~~ (4)(a) through 9 (c) are satisfied, (c) the school offers the courses of instruction 10 required by subsections (2), ~~and~~ (3), ~~and~~ (4) of this section, and 11 (d) the parents or legal guardians have satisfied themselves that 12 individuals monitoring instruction at such school are qualified to 13 monitor instruction in the basic skills as required by subsections
14 (2), ~~and~~ (3), ~~and~~ (4) of this section and that such individuals
15 have demonstrated an alternative competency to monitor instruction
16 or supervise children pursuant to subsections (3) through ~~(5)~~ (6)
17 of this section.

18 (4) Each such private, denominational, or parochial 19 school shall ~~(i)~~ (a) meet minimum requirements relating to health, 20 fire, and safety standards prescribed by state law and the rules
21 and regulations of the State Fire Marshal, ~~(ii)~~ (b) report
22 attendance pursuant to section 79-201, and ~~(iii)~~ (c) maintain a 23 sequential program of instruction designed to lead to basic skills 24 in the language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, and 25 health. The State Board of Education shall establish procedures
26 for receiving information and reports required by subsections (3)
27 through ~~(5)~~ (6) of this section from authorized parent
1 representatives who may act as agents for parents or legal 2 guardians of students attending such school and for individuals
3 monitoring instruction in the basic skills required by this 4 subsection.

5 ~~(4)~~ (5) Individuals employed by schools which elect not 6 to meet state accreditation or approval requirements shall not be 7 required to meet the certification requirements prescribed in 8 sections 79-801 to 79-816 but shall either (a) take appropriate
9 subject matter components of a nationally recognized teacher
10 competency examination designated by the State Board of Education
11 as (i) including the appropriate subject matter areas for purposes 12 of satisfying the requirements of ~~subsection~~ subsections (3) ~~and~~ 13 (4) of this section and (ii) a nationally recognized examination or 14 (b) offer evidence of competence to provide instruction in the 15 basic skills required by ~~subsection~~ subsections (3) ~~and~~ (4) of this

16 section pursuant to informal methods of evaluation which shall be 17 developed by the State Board of Education. Such evidence may 18 include educational transcripts, diplomas, and other information
19 regarding the formal educational background of such individuals.
20 Information concerning test results, transcripts, diplomas, and 21 other evidence of formal education may be transmitted to the State
22 Department of Education by authorized representatives of parents or 23 legal guardians. The results of such testing or alternative
24 evaluation of individuals who monitor the instruction of students
25 attending such schools may be used as evidence of whether or not 26 such schools are offering adequate instruction in the basic skills 27 prescribed in subsections (2), ~~and (3), and (4)~~ of this section but 1 shall not be used to prohibit any such school from employing such 2 individuals. Failure of a monitor, who is tested for the purpose
3 of satisfying in whole or in part the requirements of subsections
4 (3) through ~~(5)~~ (6) of this section, to attain a score equal to or 5 exceeding both the state or national average score or rating on 6 appropriate subject matter components of recognized teacher
7 competency examinations designated by the State Board of Education
8 may be by itself sufficient proof that such school does not offer
9 adequate instruction in the basic skills prescribed in ~~subsection~~
10 subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

11 ~~(5)~~ (6) The demonstration of competency to monitor 12 instruction in a private, denominational, or parochial school which 13 has elected not to meet state accreditation or approval
14 requirements shall in no way constitute or be construed to grant a
15 license, permit, or certificate to teach in the State of Nebraska.
16 Any school which elects not to meet state accreditation or approval
17 requirements and does not meet the requirements of subsections (2) 18 through ~~(5)~~ (6) of this section shall not be deemed a school for 19 purposes of section 79-201, and the parents or legal guardians of 20 any children attending such school shall be subject to prosecution 21 pursuant to such section or any statutes relating to habitual 22 truancy.

23 Sec. 55. Section 79-1602, Reissue Revised Statutes of 24 Nebraska, is amended to read:

25 79-1602. Any person who, as an authorized representative 26 of a parent or legal guardian, transmits information required by 27 subsections (3) through ~~(5)~~ (6) of section 79-1601 knowing such 1 information to be false shall be guilty of a Class IIIA
2 misdemeanor.

3 Any person who knowingly gives false information to an 4 authorized representative of a parent or legal guardian, knowing
5 that such information is intended to be transmitted to the State
6 Board of Education, shall be guilty of a Class IIIA misdemeanor.

7 Sec. 57. Section 85-607, Revised Statutes Supplement,
8 1998, is amended to read:

10 state shall prohibit the admission of any child educated in any

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 18CA. Placed on General File.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 115. Placed on General File as amended.

1 1. Strike original section 2 and insert the following
2 new sections:

3 "Sec. 2. Section 71-20,118, Revised Statutes Supplement,
4 1998, is amended to read:

5 71-20,118. The Legislature finds and declares for the 6 purposes of ~~limited-service rural~~ critical access hospitals as 7 defined in subdivision (24) of section 71-2017.01 that:

8 (1) One-half of Nebraska's population, or about eight 9 hundred thousand persons, reside in rural areas, and maintaining 10 access to health care services continues to be a struggle for such 11 rural residents who must overcome geographic barriers, limited
12 capital resources, and the difficulty of recruiting and retaining 13 physicians and other health care professionals;

14 (2) Rural areas have a larger proportion of elderly
15 residents;

16 (3) Nationally, inadequate medicare reimbursement and 17 burdensome and inflexible requirements have contributed to a high 18 closure rate among rural hospitals, resulting in reduced access to 19 primary care and emergency services for millions of rural 20 residents;

21 (4) Over the past seven years, the federal government has 22 supported the development of ~~limited-service rural~~ critical access 23 hospitals in several states to provide an alternative for rural 24 communities that can no longer support a traditional hospital in 25 remote or sparsely populated areas; and

2 (5) The purpose of the creation of ~~limited-service rural~~
3 critical access hospitals is to (a) ensure access to health care
4 services for rural communities by allowing hospitals to be 5 designated as ~~limited-service rural~~ critical access hospitals if

6 such hospitals limit the scope of available inpatient acute care 7 services, (b) provide more appropriate and flexible staffing and 8 licensure standards, (c) enhance the financial security of 9 ~~limited-service rural~~ critical access hospitals by reimbursing such 10 facilities on a reasonable cost basis, and (d) promote linkages 11 between ~~limited-service rural~~ critical access hospitals licensed by 12 the state and broader programs supporting the development of and 13 transition to integrated provider networks.

14 Sec. 3. Section 71-20,119, Revised Statutes Supplement,
15 1998, is amended to read:

16 71-20,119. In addition to the authority of the 17 Department of Health and Human Services Regulation and Licensure 18 pursuant to section 71-2024, the department is hereby authorized to 19 adopt and promulgate rules, regulations, and standards with respect 20 to ~~limited-service rural~~ critical access hospitals as defined in 21 subdivision (24) of section 71-2017.01. Such rules, regulations, 22 and standards shall include, but not be limited to:

23 (1) Minimum staffing requirements regarding the number of 24 hours during a day or days during a week in which a facility must 25 be open and fully staffed when no inpatient is present;

26 (2) Minimum standards for the governing board, medical 27 staff, nursing services, and quality assurance program of a
1 ~~limited-service rural~~ critical access hospital; and

2 (3) Minimum standards for the scope of services provided
3 by such hospital, including inpatient medical care which shall be 4 subject to length of stay limits, emergency medical care,
5 diagnostic and therapeutic services, and laboratory, radiology,
6 surgery, and anesthesia services.

7 Sec. 4. Section 71-7614, Revised Statutes Supplement,
8 1998, is amended to read:

9 71-7614. (1) Beginning January 15, 1999, the Excellence
10 in Health Care Trust Fund shall be used for (a) awarding grants or 11 making loan guarantees as described in section 71-7613 for 12 conversion of nursing facilities to assisted-living facilities or 13 other alternatives to nursing facility care, (b) awarding grants
14 for public health services which focus on health education,
15 preventive health measures, and environmental health, assessment,
16 and assurance, including services for reservation or service areas
17 of federally recognized Native American tribes in Nebraska and 18 organizations that focus on the health of minority groups, (c)
19 awarding grants for activities related to the design, maintenance, 20 or enhancement of the statewide trauma system, support of emergency 21 medical services programs, and support for the emergency medical 22 services programs for children, (d) awarding grants for conversion
23 of hospitals in rural areas of the state to ~~limited-service rural~~ 24 critical access hospitals, (e) awarding grants for education,
25 recruitment, and retention of primary care professionals,
26 behavioral health professionals, and nurses for medically
27 underserved areas, (f) awarding grants for health infrastructure

1 development which is supportive of telemedicine capability,

6 elderly persons, including, but not limited to, personal care,
7 respite care, homemaker care, and chore and transportation
8 services, and (h) the state's matching share for children's health 9 insurance under Title XXI of the federal Social Security Act in 10 excess of the funds distributed under subdivision (2)(b) of section

12 Health Care Trust Fund may be used for conversion projects under 13 subdivision (a) of this subsection. No funds shall be used under

AM0567

- 1 1. Strike the original provisions and insert the
- 2 following new provisions:
- 3 "WHEREAS, the 1997 increase in Nebraska personal income
- 4 was 3.85 percent; and
- 5 WHEREAS, the overall level of state and local taxation is
- 6 11 percent of personal income; and
- 7 WHEREAS, holding spending growth by state government will
- 8 result in an incremental lowering of the overall tax burden; and
- 9 WHEREAS, the most effective spending control is the
- 10 commitment of the Legislature.
- 11 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE
- 12 NINETY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:
- 13 1. For all fiscal bienniums beginning on or after July
- 14 1, 1999, the Legislature shall not appropriate for any one fiscal
- 15 year a total of restricted state funds more than the last prior
- 16 fiscal year's total of appropriations of restricted state funds
- 17 plus the allowable growth percentage of the base limitation
- 18 established under section 77-3446. If a governmental unit or the
- 19 state transfers the financial responsibility of providing a service
- 20 financed in whole or in part with restricted funds or restricted
- 21 state funds to another governmental unit or the state, the amount
- 22 of restricted funds or restricted state funds associated with
- 23 providing the service shall be subtracted from the last prior

- 10 called for such purpose upon the passage of a resolution of the 11 Legislature or upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of a 12 petition requesting an election signed by at least five percent of 13 the registered voters in the state. The resolution of the 14 Legislature or the petition of the registered voters shall include 15 the amount and percentage by which the state would increase its 16 appropriation of restricted state funds for the ensuing year over 17 and above the current year's appropriated restricted state funds.

18 The election shall be held pursuant to the Election Act and all
19 costs shall be paid by the state.

20 4. The limitation shall not apply to (1) restricted

7 5. The Legislature may choose not to increase the total
8 of restricted state funds by the full amount allowed in a 9 particular year. In such cases, the state may carry forward to 10 future years the amount of unused restricted state funds authority.
11 The Legislature shall calculate its unused restricted state funds 12 authority and show it with the written budget summary for that

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 34. Introduced by Vrtiska, 1.

WHEREAS, a team of students from Nemaha Valley High School has won the state championship in the Nebraska Academic Decathlon (Small Schools Division); and

WHEREAS, the championship team consisted of: Rick Smith, Katie Antholz, Erin Ebeler, Holly Morris, Clayton Harris, Ann Moles, April Duncza, Melinda Kreifels, Gabe Scheer, Heather Neemann, Trisha Neumeister, Jeff Riensche, and Jennifer Kreifels; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Academic Decathlon consists of ten events that students compete in: Super Quiz (this year's topic was "The Brain"), Math, Music, Art, Language and Literature, Economics, Social Science, Essay, Speech, and Interview. The students take tests in all of the categories, except for Essay, in which they write an essay, Speech, in which they give two speeches, and Interview, in which they are interviewed by a committee; and

WHEREAS, a Nebraska Academic Decathlon team is made up of students with "A" (Honors) averages, "B" (Scholastic) averages, and "C" (Varsity) averages. The regular team for the state competition is made up of three students from each group. The other team members compete as alternates. Team members only compete against other students in the same category, so the score of a Varsity student is just as important as the score of an Honors student; and

WHEREAS, the Nemaha Valley High School students began practicing in November and met from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. three or four days each week, putting in a tremendous amount of work.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE

The following resolution was read and put upon final passage:

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 10.

WHEREAS, members of and candidates for the United States House of Representatives are elected every two years virtually requiring continual campaigning and fundraising; and

WHEREAS, the delegates to the 1788 Constitutional Convention discussed whether the term of office for a representative should be one year or three years and compromised on a two-year term; and

WHEREAS, communications systems and travel accommodations have improved over the last two hundred years which allows quicker and easier communication with constituents and more direct contact; and

WHEREAS, the American people would be better served by having the members of the House of Representatives focus on issues and matters before the Congress rather than constantly running a campaign; and

WHEREAS, a biennial election of one-half of the members of the House of Representatives would still allow the American people to express their will every two years.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby petitions the Congress of the United States to propose to the states an amendment to Article I, section 2, of the United States Constitution that would increase the length of the terms of office for members of the House of Representatives from two years to four years with one-half of the members' terms expiring every two years.

2. That official copies of this resolution be prepared and forwarded to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and President of the Senate of the Congress of the United States and to all members of the Nebraska delegation to the Congress of the United States, with the request that it be officially entered in the Congressional Record as a memorial to the Congress of the United States.

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. The Legislature finds that:
- 4 (1) The exercise of zoning, planning, and other
- 5 concomitant powers by a city of the primary class in the area of
- 6 extraterritorial jurisdiction described and authorized by state law
- 7 necessarily affects property outside the corporate boundaries of
- 8 the city and persons who are not inhabitants of or electors in the
- 9 city;
- 10 (2) The protection of unrepresented persons and property
- 11 affected by a statutorily created zoning and planning process is a
- 12 matter of state concern; and
- 13 (3) The protection of such unrepresented persons and
- 14 property would be facilitated by requiring that at least one person
- 15 residing in the area of extraterritorial jurisdiction and appointed
- 16 by an elected body of the area of extraterritorial jurisdiction

17 serve as a member of the planning commission of the city of the 18 primary class if a planning commission exists.

19 Sec. 2. For purposes of this section:

20 (1) Area of extraterritorial jurisdiction means the area
21 outside the corporate boundaries of a city of the primary class but 22 within the largest area subject to such city's zoning, planning, 23 and concomitant jurisdiction as described in sections 15-901,
24 15-902, and 15-905;

1 (2) County board means the county board of a county in 2 which a city of the primary class is located;

3 (3) County clerk means the county clerk of a county in 4 which a city of the primary class is located; and

5 (4) Planning commission means a planning commission as 6 created pursuant to section 15-1101 and organized pursuant to

8 Sec. 3. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of a city
9 charter to the contrary, the next vacancy that occurs on a city
10 planning commission of a city of the primary class on or after 11 January 1, 2000, shall be filled by the appointment of a person who 12 resides in the area of extraterritorial jurisdiction as provided in 13 subsection (2) of this section. At all times following the initial 14 appointment of a planning commission member who resides in the area 15 of extraterritorial jurisdiction and is appointed as provided in 16 subsection (2) of this section, one member of the planning
17 commission shall be so qualified and appointed.

18 (2) The city clerk shall formally notify the county clerk
19 of the existence of the next vacant position that occurs on the 20 planning commission on or after January 1, 2000, within ten days
21 after the date of the vacancy. The county board, within thirty 22 days after such notice, shall hold a meeting to consider 23 nominations for appointment to the vacancy and shall appoint a 24 person qualified under subsection (1) of this section to fill the 25 vacancy. Prior to holding such meeting, the county board shall 26 cause to be published a notice of the vacancy and the date of the 27 meeting. The notice shall be published in a newspaper of general
1 circulation in the county in which such planning commission is 2 located at least once in each of the two weeks immediately
3 preceding the week of the meeting. A nominee for the vacancy shall 4 be appointed by majority vote of the county board. The appointee
5 shall become a member of the planning commission when the city
6 clerk receives certification from the county clerk of the name of 7 the appointee.

8 (3) Following the initial appointment of the 9 extraterritorial member to the planning commission pursuant to this 10 section, the city clerk shall inform the county clerk of any 11 vacancy occurring in the extraterritorial member's position within 12 ten days after its occurrence or at least thirty days prior to the 13 expiration of the extraterritorial member's term.

14 Sec. 4. The planning commission of a city of the primary

15 class shall consist of not less than nine regular members who shall 16 represent, insofar as is possible, the different professions or 17 occupations in the municipality and the different geographical 18 areas and neighborhoods of the municipality and surrounding areas.
19 The planning commission may be given such powers and duties by 20 statute or charter as may be appropriate, and on or after January 21 1, 2000, the planning commission shall have one member qualified 22 and appointed as provided in section 3 of this act."

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert the following
- 2 new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as
- 4 the Student Freedom of Expression Act.
- 5 Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that the public policy of
- 6 the state is best served if students attending public high schools
- 7 have the opportunity to express themselves freely in student
- 8 newspapers, yearbooks, and other student publications. The
- 9 Legislature further finds that student expression generally ought
- 10 not be inhibited except for materials that are either obscene or

11 harmful to minors, that are libelous, or which are demonstrably 12 likely to incite violence, law-breaking, or substantial and 13 material disruption of the normal functions of the school. The 14 Legislature further finds that school boards within the state that 15 adopt publications codes pursuant to section 6 of this act ought to 16 adopt such that are consistent with the maximum appropriate freedom
17 of expression for students as described in the Student Freedom of 18 Expression Act.

19 Sec. 3. For purposes of the Student Freedom of 20 Expression Act:

21 (1) Public high school means a public school with high
22 school grades as defined in section 79-101;

23 (2) School official means any member or employee of a
24 local school board;

1 (3) Sponsoring teacher means any faculty member of a
2 public high school with responsibilities for advising or overseeing
3 a publication containing student expression, whether as a
4 curricular or as an extracurricular activity;

5 (4) Student means any person attending a public high
6 school in the state; and

7 (5) Student publication means any school-sponsored 8 publication written substantially by students and made available
9 generally throughout a public high school, whether such publication
10 is distributed free of cost or for a fee.

11 Sec. 4. (1) Where the applicable school board has 12 adopted a publications code pursuant to section 6 of this act, 13 material in a student publication that is consistent with such 14 publications code shall not be suppressed or prohibited on the 15 ground that it involves any individual's opinion or involves 16 factual material regarding controversial subject matter.

17 (2) Where the applicable school board has not adopted a
18 publications code pursuant to section 6 of this act, material in a 19 student publication shall not be suppressed or prohibited on the 20 ground that it involves any individual's opinion or involves 21 factual material regarding controversial subject matter unless it 22 is (a) either obscene or deemed harmful to minors under the 23 definitions in section 28-807, (b) libelous under Nebraska law, or 24 (c) demonstrably likely to incite violence, law-breaking, or 25 substantial and material disruption of the normal functions of the 26 school.

27 Sec. 5. No sponsoring teacher shall be dismissed,
1 demoted, reprimanded, or otherwise punished in any manner for (1)
2 where the applicable school board has adopted a publications code
3 pursuant to section 6 of this act, supporting student expression
4 that is consistent with such publications code, or (2) where the 5 applicable school board has not adopted a publications code
6 pursuant to section 6 of this act, supporting student expression
7 that is consistent with subsection (2) of section 4 of this act.

8 Sec. 6. Each school board of a public high school may 9 adopt written rules setting forth a publications code, including, 10 but not limited to, provisions for the time, place, and manner of 11 student publications within the school board's jurisdiction. Such 12 publications code, if adopted, shall be made readily available to 13 the students and their parents or guardians with all other codes, 14 rules, or regulations governing student behavior.

15 Sec. 7. (1) Where the applicable school board has 16 adopted a publications code pursuant to section 6 of this act,
 17 student editors of student publications shall assign and edit the 18 news, editorial, and feature content of the publications subject to 19 such publications code.

20 (2) Where the applicable school board has not adopted a
 21 publications code pursuant to section 6 of this act, student
 22 editors of student publications shall assign and edit the news, 23 editorial, and feature content of the publications subject to the 24 Student Freedom of Expression Act.

25 Sec. 8. Where the applicable school board has adopted a
 26 publications code pursuant to section 6 of this act, any expression 27 made by students within student publications does not constitute or

5 (8) Counties may levy or authorize a maximum levy of 6 fifty cents per one hundred dollars of taxable valuation of

The county may allocate to one or more other political subdivisions subject to allocation of property tax authority by the county under subsection (1) of section 77-3443 some or all of the county's five cents per one hundred dollars of valuation authorized for support of an interlocal agreement or agreements to be levied by the political subdivision for the purpose of supporting that political subdivision's share of revenue required under an agreement or agreements executed pursuant to the Interlocal Cooperation Act. If an allocation by a county would cause another county to exceed its levy authority under this section, the second county may exceed the levy authority in order to levy the amount allocated.

(9) Property tax levies for judgments obtained against a political subdivision which require or obligate a political subdivision to pay such judgment, to the extent such judgment is not paid by liability insurance coverage of a political subdivision, for preexisting lease-purchase contracts approved prior to July 1, 1998, ~~and~~ for bonded indebtedness approved according to law and secured by a levy on property, and for payments by an airport authority to retire interest-free loans from the Department of Aeronautics in lieu of bonded indebtedness at a lower cost to the authority are not included in the levy limits established by this section.

12 tax levies for preexisting lease-purchase contracts approved prior 13 to July 1, 1998, ~~and~~ for bonded indebtedness approved according to 14 law and secured by a levy on property, ~~and for payments by an~~ 15 airport authority to retire interest-free loans from the Department
16 of Aeronautics in lieu of bonded indebtedness at a lower cost to 17 the authority. The county board shall review and approve or 18 disapprove the levy request of all political subdivisions subject
19 to this subsection. The county board may approve all or a portion 20 of the levy request and may approve a levy request that would allow 21 the requesting political subdivision to levy a tax at a levy
22 greater than that permitted by law. The county board of a county
23 which contains a transit authority created pursuant to section
24 14-1803 shall allocate no less than three cents per one hundred 25 dollars of taxable property within the city subject to the levy to 26 the transit authority if requested by such authority. For any 27 political subdivision subject to this subsection that receives
1 taxes from more than one county, the levy shall be allocated only 2 by the county in which the greatest portion of the valuation is 3 located. The county board of equalization shall certify all levies
4 by October 15 to insure that the taxes levied by political 5 subdivisions subject to this subsection do not exceed the allowable
6 limit for any parcel or item of taxable property. The levy
7 allocated by the county may be exceeded as provided in section
8 77-3444.

9 (2) All city airport authorities established under the 10 Cities Airport Authorities Act, community redevelopment authorities
11 established under the Community Development Law, transit 12 authorities established under the Transit Authority Law, and 13 offstreet parking districts established under the Offstreet Parking
14 District Act may be allocated property taxes as authorized by law 15 which are authorized by the city or village and are counted in the 16 city or village levy limit provided by section 77-3442, except that 17 such limitation shall not apply to property tax levies for 18 preexisting lease-purchase contracts approved prior to July 1, 19 1998, ~~and~~ for bonded indebtedness approved according to law and

22 Aeronautics in lieu of bonded indebtedness at a lower cost to the 23 authority. The city council of a city which has created a transit 24 authority pursuant to section 14-1803 shall allocate no less than 25 three cents per one hundred dollars of taxable property subject to 26 the levy to the transit authority if requested by such authority.
27 The city council or village board shall review and approve or 1 disapprove the levy request of the political subdivisions subject
2 to this subsection. The city council or village board may approve
3 all or a portion of the levy request and may approve a levy request
4 that would allow a levy greater than that permitted by law. The 5 levy allocated by the municipality may be exceeded as provided in 6 section 77-3444.

7 (3) On or before August 1, all political subdivisions
 8 subject to county or municipal levy authority under this section 9 shall submit a preliminary request for levy allocation to the 10 county board, city council, or village board that is responsible 11 for levying such taxes. The preliminary request of the political 12 subdivision shall be in the form of a resolution adopted by a
 13 majority vote of members present of the political subdivision's
 14 governing body. The failure of a political subdivision to make a 15 preliminary request shall preclude such political subdivision from 16 using procedures set forth in section 77-3444 to exceed the final 17 levy allocation as determined in subsection (4) of this section.

18 (4) Each county board, city council, or village board
 19 shall (a) adopt a resolution by a majority vote of members present 20 which determines a final allocation of levy authority to its 21 political subdivisions and (b) forward a copy of such resolution to 22 the chairperson of the governing body of each of its political

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONSOpinion No. 99007

DATE: March 4, 1999

SUBJECT: Constitutionality Under Neb. Const. art. XII, § 8, of Amendments to the Statutes Governing Limited Liability Companies and Limited Liability Partnerships to Allow Certain Non-Family Versions of These Entities to Own Agricultural Land or Engage in Farming or Ranching.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jim Jones

L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion concerning the constitutionality of proposed amendments to the provisions of the Nebraska Limited Liability Company Act (Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 21-2601 to 21-2653 (1997)), the Uniform Partnership Act (Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 67-301 to 67-346 (1996 and Cum. Supp. 1998)), and the Uniform Partnership Act of 1998 (Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 67-401 to 67-467 (Cum. Supp. 1998))¹ which would permit certain non-family business entities organized as limited liability companies or limited liability partnerships to own agricultural land or engage in farming or ranching in Nebraska. Currently, a limited liability company organized under the

Nebraska Limited Liability Company Act "is deemed to be a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, section 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2602(2) (1997). A limited liability company which satisfies certain family ownership and operational requirements, however, is "not deemed to be a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, § 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska." Id. Also, the Uniform Partnership Act and the Uniform Partnership Act of 1998 provide that "[a] limited liability partnership is a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, section 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska," Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 67-306(3) (1996) and 67-409(2) (Cum. Supp. 1998). If a registered limited liability partnership satisfies certain family ownership and operational requirements, however, it "is not a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, § 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska." Id.

LB 274 proposes to amend these statutes to create additional exceptions providing that a limited liability company with no more than two members who are not related to one another within the fourth degree of kindred (or a limited liability partnership with no more than two partners who are not so related), where one member (or partner) is at least sixty-five years of age and owns a farm or ranch, and the other member (or partner) is less than forty years of age and is actively engaged in day-to-day labor and management of the farm or ranch, are not "deemed" to be "syndicate[s]" for purposes of art. XII, § 8. Your question is whether it is permissible to amend the statutes governing limited liability companies or limited liability partnerships in this manner, or whether the proposed amendment is contrary to the restrictions in art. XII, § 8, against non-family corporate or syndicate ownership or operation of farm or ranch land.

I. CONSTITUTIONAL AND STATUTORY PROVISIONS.

Article XII, § 8, of the Nebraska Constitution, was approved by Nebraska voters in 1982. The constitutional amendment is commonly referred to as "Initiative 300" because it was placed before the electorate as Initiative Measure No. 300. Section 8(1) provides: "No corporation or syndicate shall acquire, or otherwise obtain an interest, whether legal, beneficial, or otherwise, in any title to real estate used for farming or ranching in this state, or engage in farming or ranching." "Corporation" is defined to "mean any corporation organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any country or any partnership of which such corporation is a partner." Id. "Syndicate" is defined to mean any limited partnership organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any country, other than limited partnerships in which the partners are members of a family, or a trust created for the benefit of members of a family, related to one another within the fourth degree of kindred according to the rules of civil law, or their spouses, at least one of whom is a person residing on or actively engaged in the day to day labor and management of the farm or ranch, and none of whom are nonresident aliens.

Id. Initiative 300 specifies that the term "syndicate" does "not include general partnerships." Id.

Article XII, § 8, contains several exceptions from the prohibition against corporate or syndicate ownership or operation of farm or ranch land. The definition of "syndicate", as noted, excludes "family" limited partnerships which satisfy certain ownership and operational requirements. Similarly, "family farm or ranch corporation[s]" are excluded from the Initiative's restrictions. A "family farm or ranch corporation" is defined to mean a corporation engaged in farming or ranching or the ownership of agricultural land, in which the majority of the voting stock is held by members of a family, or a trust created for the benefit of a member of that family, related to one another within the fourth degree of kindred according to the rules of civil law, or their spouses, at least one of whom is a person residing on or actively engaged in the day to day labor and management of the farm or ranch and none of whose stockholders are non-resident aliens and none of whose stockholders are corporations or partnerships, unless all of the stockholders or partners of such entities are persons related within the fourth degree of kindred to the majority of stockholders in the family farm corporation.

Neb. Const. art. XII, § 8(1)(A).

A limited liability company formed under the Limited Liability Company Act "shall be deemed to be a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, section 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska, . . ." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2602(2) (1997). An exception is provided, however, for a limited liability company meeting family ownership and operational requirements which mirror the language of the "family farm or ranch corporation" definition in art. XII, § 8. Specifically, § 21-2602(2) provides:

[A] limited liability company in which the members are members of a family, or a trust created for the benefit of a member of that family, related to one another within the fourth degree of kindred according to the rules of civil law, or their spouses, at least one of whom is a person residing on or actively engaged in the day-to-day labor and management of the farm or ranch, and none of whom are nonresident aliens, shall not be deemed to be a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, section 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska.

"A limited liability partnership is a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, section 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska, . . ." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 67-306(3) (1996); Neb. Rev. Stat. § 67-409(2) (Cum. Supp. 1998). An exception is provided for "family" limited liability partnerships which, like the exception created for limited liability companies, meet family ownership and operational requirements similar to those contained in art. XII, § 8. The exception provides:

[A] limited liability partnership in which the partners are members of a family, or a trust created for the benefit of a member of that family, related to one another within the fourth degree of kindred according to the rules of civil law, or their spouses, at least one of whom is a person residing on or actively engaged in the day-to-day labor and management of the farm or ranch and none of whom are nonresident aliens, is not a syndicate for purposes of Article XII, section 8, of the Constitution of Nebraska.

Neb. Rev. Stat. § 67-306(3) (1996); Neb. Rev. Stat. § 67-409(2) (Cum. Supp. 1998).

Pursuant to these statutes, the Legislature has specifically provided that limited liability companies and limited liability partnerships are "syndicates" for purposes of Initiative 300, and has permitted these entities to own agricultural land or engage in farming or ranching only if they meet family ownership and operational requirements similar to those contained in the Constitution for family farm or ranch corporations or limited partnerships. LB 274, however, proposes to expand these exceptions to allow limited liability companies or limited liability partnerships which do not have members or partners who are related to engage in ownership or operation of farm or ranch land. The question thus becomes whether allowing entities of this nature to engage in such activities under these circumstances is consistent with the limitations imposed on agricultural land ownership or farming and ranching under art. XII, § 8.

II. NATURE AND STATUS OF LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES AND LIMITED LIABILITY PARTNERSHIPS.

A. Limited Liability Companies.

In 1993, Nebraska joined the growing number of states adopting legislation creating a new form of business entity, the limited liability company ("LLC"). 1993 Neb. Laws, LB 121. Wyoming was the first state to enact LLC legislation in 1977. Florida enacted LLC legislation in 1982, but the number of states electing to adopt LLC statutes did not grow until the Internal Revenue Service acknowledged that properly formed LLCs could qualify for taxation as partnerships in 1988. J. Callison and M. Sullivan, Limited Liability Companies: A State by State Guide to Law and Practice, § 1.5 (1994). By July 1996 all fifty states and the District of Columbia had adopted statutes enabling the organization of LLCs. C. Bishop and D. Kleinberger, Limited Liability Companies: Tax and Business Law, ¶1.01(1) (1998).

The LLC has been described as "an innovative union of corporate and partnership attributes" which "combines the flexibility of a general partnership with the limited liability protection typically found in a corporation or limited partnership." B. Bailey and R. Bailey, The Idaho Limited Liability Company: In Search of the Perfect Entity, 21 Idaho L. Rev.

1, 4-5 (1994). The LLC thus has been characterized as a "hybrid form of business entity that combines the liability shield of a corporation with the federal tax classification of a partnership." Bishop and Kleinberger at ¶1.01(1). "The shield protects a limited liability company's owners (called members) from being personally liable for the business's debts, and the tax classification provides the advantages of pass-through taxation." Id. This description is consistent with the Legislature's understanding of the nature of the LLC reflected in the legislative history of Nebraska's LLC Act, which states the Act was intended to "create[] a new form of business entity" which "possess[ed] the limited liability of a corporation, while it retain[ed] the flow-through tax advantages of a partnership." Committee Records on LB 121, 93rd Neb. Leg., 1st Sess., 1 (Introducer's Statement of Intent, Jan. 26, 1993).

Nebraska's LLC Act provides "one or more persons may form a limited liability company by executing and delivering articles of organization" to the Secretary of State. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2605 (1997). The articles of organization must contain certain information, including: (1) the LLC's name; (2) the purpose for which the LLC is organized; (3) the address of the LLC's principal place of business in Nebraska and the name and address of its registered agent; (4) the total amount of cash contributed to stated capital and a description and agreed value of non-cash contributions; (5) the total capital contributions agreed to be made and the times and events on which additional capital contributions will be made; (6) the members' right, if any, to admit additional members and the terms and conditions of admission; and (7) if the LLC is to be manager-managed, the initial managers' names and addresses, or, if the LLC is to be member-managed, the members' names and addresses. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2606(1)(a) to (g) (1997). LLCs are required to end their names with the words "limited liability company", "ltd. liability company", or "ltd. liability co.", or the abbreviation "L.L.C." or "LLC". Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2604(1) (1997). The Act provides that members and managers "are not liable under a judgment, decree, or order of a court or in any other manner for a debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2612 (1997). Also, except as specifically provided in the Act, "no member, manager, employee, or agent of a limited liability company shall be personally liable under any judgment, decree, or order of any court, agency, or other tribunal in this or any other state, or on any other basis, for any debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-612 (1997).²

B. Limited Liability Partnerships.

Limited liability partnerships ("LLPs") "are a relatively new business entity." M. McGaughey, Limited Partnerships: Need Only Professionals Apply?, 30 Creighton L. Rev. 105, 106 (1996). "At its core, a limited liability partnership remains a general partnership." Id. LLPs differ from general partnerships in one important respect, however, in that "their members have some form of limited liability." A. Bromberg and L. Ribstein, Limited Liability Partnerships and the Revised Uniform Partnership Act, § 1.02(b) (Rev. 1998). LLPs are now authorized in virtually every state. Id. at § 1.01(e).³

² Members and managers are, however, "liable in the same manner as [] corporate officer[s] for unpaid taxes imposed on a limited liability company." Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2612(2) (1997).

Under the Uniform Partnership Act of 1998, a limited liability partnership is formed by filing a "statement of qualification" with the Secretary of State. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 67-454(3) (Cum. Supp. 1998). The statement must contain certain information, including: (1) the partnership's name; (2) the address of the partnership's chief executive officer, and, if different, the address of an office in the state; (3) the name and address of the partnership's agent for service of process if it has no office in the state; (4) a statement that the partnership elects to be a limited liability partnership; and (5) a deferred effective date, if any. LLPs are required to indicate their status by ending their names with "registered limited liability partnership", "limited liability partnership", "R.L.L.P.", "RLLP", "L.L.P.", or "LLP". Neb. Rev. Stat. § 67-455(1)(a) (Cum. Supp. 1998). The "limited liability" accorded a qualified LLP is outlined in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 67-418 (Cum. Supp. 1998), which provides, in pertinent part:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, all partners are liable jointly and severally for all obligations of the partnership unless otherwise agreed by the claimant or provided by law.

(3) An obligation of a partnership incurred while the partnership is a limited liability partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the obligation of the partnership. A partner is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for such an obligation solely by reason of being or so acting as a partner.

III. AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE TO ALLOW "NON-FAMILY" LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES OR LIMITED LIABILITY PARTNERSHIPS TO OWN AGRICULTURAL LAND OR ENGAGE IN FARMING OR RANCHING.

In construing the meaning of Initiative 300, the Nebraska Supreme Court has held that "the intent of the voters adopting an initiative amendment to the Nebraska Constitution must be determined from the words of the initiative itself." Omaha Nat'l Bank v. Spire, 223 Neb. 209, 225, 389 N.W.2d 269, 279 (1986). Accord Pig Pro Nonstock Cooperative v. Moore, 253 Neb. 72, 82, 568 N.W.2d 217, 224 (1997). The Supreme Court has recognized that it "must apply and enforce the Constitution as it is written." State ex rel. Spire v. Public Employees Retirement Bd., 226 Neb. 176, 178, 410 N.W.2d 463, 465 (1986). "Moreover, constitutional provisions are not open to construction as a matter of course; construction of a constitutional provision is appropriate only when it has been demonstrated that the meaning of the provision is not clear and that construction is necessary." State ex rel. Spire v. Conway, 238 Neb. 766, 774-75, 472 N.W.2d 403, 408-09 (1991). In construing a constitutional provision, "[c]ourts may not supply what they deem unwise omissions, nor add words which substantially add to or take from the constitution as framed." Mekota v. State Bd. of Equal., 146 Neb. 370, 377-78, 19 N.W.2d 633, 638 (1945).

Initiative 300 provides that "[n]o corporation or syndicate" may own or operate farm or ranch land in Nebraska unless it qualifies under specified exceptions to these restrictions. Article XII, § 8, states that "[c]orporation shall mean any corporation organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any country or any partnership of which such corporation is a partner." Neb. Const. art. XII, § 8 (emphasis added). It also states that "[s]yndicate shall mean any limited partnership except" qualifying limited partnerships satisfying specific family ownership and operational requirements. Id. (emphasis added). "[G]eneral partnerships", however, are not included as "syndicate[s]" as defined in art. XII, § 8.

LLCs and LLPs are not "corporation[s]" as defined in art. XII, § 8. Further, an LLC is not a "syndicate" as defined in art. XII, § 8, because the term is specifically defined to mean a "limited partnership." A "limited liability partnership" is, as noted, a form of general partnership which, by statute, provides limited liability to the partners not available to partners in a general partnerships. An LLP is distinguishable from a traditional "limited partnership", however, in several respects. For example, the general partners in a limited partnership are individually liable for debts of the business, while LLP partners are not individually liable for partnership debts. Also, unlike limited partners in a limited partnership, "LLP partners' limited liability does not depend on whether they participate in the general management and control of the firm." Bromberg and Ribstein, at § 1.04(b). Thus, LLPs can perhaps be viewed as entities separate and distinct from "limited partnerships", and therefore not within the definition of "syndicate" contained in art. XII, § 8.

Based on the foregoing, it could be argued that LLCs and LLPs are neither "corporations" nor "syndicates" subject to the restrictions on corporate or syndicate ownership or operation of farm or ranch land in the Constitution. The rationale for this position would be that the Constitution specifically defines the types of entities to which the restrictions apply, and that neither

LLCs nor LLPs are within the literal meaning of these terms as defined in the Constitution. If this construction were adopted, then the Legislature would not be precluded from authorizing LLCs or LLPs to engage in activities which a "corporation" or "syndicate" (which is defined to mean a "limited partnership") are prohibited from engaging in under the specific terms of art. XII, § 8. This could include the proposed amendments to the LLC and LLP statutes under LB 274, which would authorize a specific type of arrangement under these statutes in which non-family members could participate as a member of a limited liability company or a partner of a limited liability partnership engaged in the ownership or operation of farm or ranch land.

While such a construction is not untenable, we believe that application of other canons of construction supports the conclusion that the Legislature likely may not authorize non-family LLCs or LLPs to own or operate farm or ranch land without contravening the fundamental purpose and intent of Initiative 300. The Supreme Court has recognized that "[c]onstitutional provisions should receive even broader and more liberal construction than statutes, and constitutions are not subject to rules of strict construction." Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 397, 155 N.W.2d 322, 326 (1967), appeal dismissed 390 U.S. 714 (1968). In considering the meaning of a constitutional provision, "it is proper to consider the evil and mischief attempted to be remedied, the objects sought to be accomplished, and the scope of the remedy its terms imply, and to give it such an interpretation as appears best calculated to effectuate the design of the Constitution." State ex rel. School Dist. of Scottsbluff v. Ellis, 168 Neb. 166, 171, 95 N.W.2d 538, 541 (1959). The Court has further stated:

A Constitution is intended to meet and be applied to any conditions and circumstances as they arise in the course of the progress of the community. The terms and provisions of constitutions are constantly expanded and enlarged by construction to meet the advancing affairs of men. While the powers granted thereby do not change, they do apply in different periods to all things to which they are in their nature applicable.

State ex rel. State Railway Comm'n v. Ramsey, 151 Neb. 333, 338, 37 N.W.2d 502, 506 (1949).

Applying these principles, we believe that the Legislature likely cannot, consistent with the intent and purpose of Initiative 300, authorize the ownership and operation of farm or ranch land by non-family limited liability entities in the nature of LLCs or LLPs. While the Initiative specifically bans a non-family "corporation" or "syndicate" (defined to mean "limited partnership") from owning agricultural land or engaging in farming or ranching, it must be noted that, at the time Initiative 300 was adopted in 1982, only one state had authorized limited liability companies, and no state had enacted a limited liability partnership statute.⁴ Thus, the relative nonexistence of these types of entities at the time of the Initiative's adoption explains the absence of specific reference to them in the language of the Constitution.

The Supreme Court has determined "that the language of article XII, § 8, read as a whole, reflects an intent to prohibit individuals who are not members of the same family. . . from forming and utilizing a corporation to own and operate farm or ranch land for their personal economic gain, other than for the specific excepted uses set forth in § 8(1)(E) through (N)." Pig Pro Nonstock Cooperative v. Moore, 253 Neb. at 84, 568 N.W.2d at 225. The Eighth Circuit has further found that "[t]he people of Nebraska . . . made a reasonable judgment that prohibiting non-family corporate farming serves the public interest in preserving an agriculture where families own and farm the land." MSM Farms, Inc. v. Spire, 927 F.2d 330, 335 (8th Cir.), cert. denied 502 U.S. 814 (1991). The amendment's ban on a non-family "corporation" or "syndicate" (defined as a "limited partnership) from owning or operating farm or ranch land reflects an overall intent and purpose to prohibit limited liability entities from engaging in these activities if they are not family-owned and operated. LLCs and LLPs provide limited liability akin to that provided to shareholders of a corporation or limited partners in a limited partnership. Construing the Constitution's ban on non-family corporate and syndicate farming or ranching to include LLCs, which are "hybrid" entities combining corporate and partnership traits, and LLPs, which are a form of partnership affording its partners limited liability, is consistent with the principle requiring that constitutional provisions should be interpreted to "meet and apply to [changed] circumstances" to "meet the advancing affairs of men." State ex rel. State Railway Comm'n v. Ramsey, 151 Neb. at 338, 37 N.W.2d at 506. A constitutional amendment "should not be construed so as to defeat its evident purpose, but rather so as to give it effective operation and suppress the mischief at which it was aimed." Engelmeyer v. Murphy, 180 Neb. 295, 299-300, 142 N.W.2d 342, 345 (1966). Permitting non-family LLCs or LLPs to own agricultural land or engage in farming or ranching could be considered to be inconsistent with the intent and purpose of Initiative 300.

Further, it is fundamental that "[t]he Legislature cannot do indirectly what the Constitution prohibits it from doing directly." United Community Services v. Omaha Nat'l Bank, 162 Neb. 786, 798, 77 N.W.2d 576, 586 (1956). Nor can the Legislature "avoid constitutional provisions by statutorily redefining constitutionally unacceptable activity. The Legislature's power of definition may not be employed to nullify or circumvent the provisions of the Nebraska Constitution." State ex rel. Spire v. Strawberries, Inc., 239 Neb.

1, 8, 473 N.W.2d 428, 434 (1991). Should the Legislature act to allow non-family LLCs or LLPs to own or operate farm or ranch land by providing that these entities are not "syndicates" subject to the restrictions in art. XII, § 8, such legislation could be found unconstitutional as an improper attempt to "indirectly" authorize activity prohibited by the Constitution. A legislative effort to permit non-family limited liability entities such as LLCs and LLPs to engage in activity proscribed as to corporations or syndicates under art. XII, § 8, could well be viewed as an impermissible exercise of the Legislature's definitional powers which would "nullify or circumvent" the intent and purpose of art. XII, § 8.

IV. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, it is our opinion that LB 274, to the extent it attempts to amend the statutory provisions governing LLCs and LLPs to allow non-family entities of this nature to own agricultural land or engage in farming or ranching under certain circumstances, is likely unconstitutional. We wish to point out, however, that our conclusion has no bearing on the validity of the current statutes providing that LLCs and LLPs are "syndicates" for purposes of art. XII, § 8, but which permit "family" LLCs or LLPs to engage in ownership or operation of farm or ranch land. Neb. Rev. Stat. § 21-2602(2) (1997) (limited liability companies); Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 67-306(3) (1996) and 67-409(2) (Cum. Supp. 1998) (limited liability partnerships). Article XII, § 8, authorizes the Legislature to "enact, by general law, further restrictions prohibiting certain agricultural operations that the legislature deems contrary to the intent of this section." The Legislature's current recognition of LLCs and LLPs as "syndicates" for Initiative 300 purposes, even if it were not required by art. XII, § 8, is consistent with its constitutional authority to enact "further restrictions prohibiting certain agricultural operations" it deems contrary to the Initiative. Further, in our view, the present exceptions for "family" LLCs or LLPs are consistent with art. XII, § 8.⁵ For the reasons stated, however, we conclude that LB 274 is constitutionally suspect, as it would authorize non-family limited liability business entities to engage in agricultural activities in apparent contravention of the intent and purpose of art. XII, § 8.

⁵ One commentator has suggested that the Legislature acted appropriately pursuant to this power in "expand[ing] the definition of 'syndicate' " in the Constitution to include limited liability partnerships. McGaughey, 30 Creighton L. Rev. at 115. We do not, however, necessarily agree with the author's conclusion that the Legislature's definition of a limited liability partnership as a "syndicate" represents an "expansion" of the scope of the prohibitions contained on corporate or syndicate ownership or operation of farm or ranch land in art. XII, § 8.

Very truly yours,

DATE: March 9, 1999

SUBJECT: In the absence of a federal oxygenated gasoline requirement, is a state legally able to impose a standard that modifies generic gasoline and which may impede the marketing of this product in one or more states?

REQUESTED BY: Senator Edward J. Schrock, 38th Legislative District

Jason W. Hayes, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested an opinion from the Office of Attorney General on the constitutionality of Legislative Bill 389. The proposed legislation requires that by January 1, 2001, one-half of all gasoline sold for use as motor fuel in Nebraska shall contain an oxygen content that is greater than or equal to 2.7 percent by weight.¹ The legislation provides certain exceptions to the one-half requirement for the use of non-oxygenated gasoline in specifically named vehicles.²

You have specifically asked for a determination on whether, in the absence of a federal oxygenated gasoline requirement, is a state legally able to impose a standard that modifies generic gasoline and which may impede the marketing of this product in one or more states. You have also stated that there is some uncertainty as to whether current federal law setting requirements for the use of oxygenated fuels will remain intact. It is the adoption of this proposed state fuel standard in the absence of a federal ¹See Legislative Bill 389, 96th Neb. Leg., 1st Sess. (Neb. 1999). The legislation provides an extended timetable for the implementation of the 50 percent requirement depending on current levels of oxygenated motor fuel use within the state.

²See L.B. 389, § 1 (3) and (4). Exceptions to the mandate are limited to the use of non-oxygenated fuels in historical vehicles, vehicles eligible to be licensed as historical vehicles, off-road vehicles, motorcycles, boats, snowmobiles, small engines, and aircraft.

requirement that is the subject of your inquiry.

DISCUSSION

The Commerce Clause found in the United States Constitution gives Congress the ability to regulate interstate commerce. The clause provides "[t]he Congress shall have the power . . . to regulate Commerce . . . among several States." U.S. Const. art. I, § 8. This clause establishes that Congress' power over interstate commerce is plenary and pervasive. However, the power has been established to be nonexclusive and is shared with states to a certain degree.

The United States Supreme Court allows state regulation of interstate commerce--where Congress has not preempted by law an area of commerce, in cases where the regulation does not discriminate against out-of-state competition to benefit local economic interests, and where the regulation is not unduly burdensome. The Supreme Court describes the states' power to regulate interstate commerce as follows:

This Court has adopted what amounts to a two-tiered approach to analyzing a state economic regulation under the Commerce Clause. When a state statute directly regulates or discriminates against interstate commerce, or when its effect is to favor in-state economic interests over out-of-state interests, we have generally struck down the statute without further inquiry. . . . When, however, a statute has only indirect effects on interstate commerce and regulates evenhandedly, we have examined whether a State's interest is legitimate and whether the burden on interstate commerce clearly exceeds local benefits. (Pike v. Bruce Church, Inc.) We have also recognized that there is no clear line separating the category of state regulation that is virtually per se invalid under the Commerce Clause, and the category subject to the Pike v. Bruce Church balancing approach. In either situation the critical consideration is the overall effect of the statute on both local and interstate activity.

Brown-Forman Distillers Corporation v. New York State Liquor Authority, 476 U.S. 573, 578-79, 106 S. Ct. 2080, 2084 (1986) (Citations omitted). See also Pike v. Bruce Church, Inc., 397 U.S. 137, 90 S. Ct. 844 (1970).

According to the Court, if there is no federal legislation that supersedes or preempts the field of commerce, then a state may regulate commerce unless it is determined that the regulation discriminates against interstate or out-of-state commerce, or places an undue burden on the free flow of interstate commerce. In cases where the legislation is discriminatory, it will be invalid unless it furthers an important state interest and there are no reasonable nondiscriminatory alternatives. If the legislation does not discriminate but burdens interstate commerce, it will be invalid if the burden on commerce outweighs the state's interest.

For the purpose of this request, we will not determine whether the federal government has preempted the area of commerce that LB 389 attempts to regulate. In your request for an opinion, you asked whether LB 389 was constitutional in the absence of any preemptive or superseding federal legislation. Given the narrow focus of your opinion request, we will not consider whether there are any existing federal laws that would preempt the implementation of LB 389. We do note that if a federal law was found by the courts to regulate the area of commerce under which LB 389 intends to operate, a finding by the Court that LB 389 was unconstitutional would be reasonable under a current interpretation of case law.

The first consideration is whether LB 389 discriminates against interstate or out-of-state commerce. Discrimination occurs where a state regulation is designed to favor in-state commerce to the detriment of out-of-state commerce flowing into the state. The U.S. Supreme Court has stated:

It has long been accepted that the Commerce Clause not only grants Congress the authority to regulate commerce among the states, but also directly limits the power of the states to discriminate against interstate commerce. This "negative" aspect of the Commerce Clause prohibits economic protectionism – that is, regulatory measures designed to benefit in-state economic interests by burdening out-of-state competitors. Thus, state statutes that clearly discriminate against interstate commerce are routinely struck down, unless the discrimination is demonstrably justified by a valid factor unrelated to economic protectionism.

New Energy Co. of Indiana v. Limbach, 486 U.S. 269, 273-74, 108 S. Ct. 1803, 1807-08 (1988) (Citations omitted).

With the adoption of LB 389, there will be a greater demand for oxygenated fuels as suppliers purchase more quantities of ethanol and other fuel additives in order to come into compliance with the requirements imposed by the statute. Nebraska is a large producer of ethanol and LB 389 would have the effect of creating a greater demand for ethanol, thus benefitting the producers of ethanol within the state.³ Even though there is a likely economic benefit that would result in Nebraska from the adoption of LB 389, this does not necessarily cause LB 389 to be discriminating against out-of-state producers of such fuel additives. LB 389 does not restrict out-of-state producers from importing ethanol to be mixed with gasoline, nor does it prohibit other fuel additives to be used in place of ethanol, such as MTBE or ETBE to increase the oxygenated capacity found in gasoline. LB 389 does not facially discriminate against out-of-state producers of oxygenated fuel additives to the benefit of in-state ethanol producers.

Since LB 389 does not discriminate against interstate commerce and out-of-state producers, the next question is whether LB 389 places an undue burden on the free flow of interstate commerce. If there is an undue burden, courts will invalidate the measure if the burden on commerce outweighs the state's interest.

³According to the Nebraska Ethanol Board, as of 1998 there are a total of six ethanol processing plants within the state, which have the capacity to produce 273.5 million gallons of ethanol each year.

Currently, gasoline in Nebraska is transported via pipelines that bring the product into the state from refineries located primarily in coastal states. The pipelines distribute the gasoline to twelve main petroleum pipeline terminals located throughout the state. Trucks are then used to transport the gasoline from the pipeline terminals to retail outlets for purchase by consumers. In some instances, gasoline from these terminals is sold for out-of-state consumption. Also, in certain areas of the state it is more feasible for retail service stations to import gasoline into the state for sale to customers because out-of-state pipeline terminals are closer than instate pipeline terminals.

Ethanol and other oxygenated additives are added to gasoline at these pipeline terminals. These oxygenated enhancing fuels are mixed with the gasoline through a computerized in-line blending system. After a truck has been filled with pure gasoline, ethanol (or other fuel) is added into the tank of the truck. The final product is mixed in the tank and is then transported to the retail outlet. The distributor makes the final determination as to whether ethanol is added to his supply of gasoline based on the quantities required by the retail seller. Once the fuel additive is mixed with the gasoline, the resulting product is unable to be separated back into its original form.

LB 389 would require that one-half of all gasoline sold for use as motor fuel in Nebraska contain an oxygenated content equal to 2.7 percent by weight for use in non-exempted types of vehicles. This would place a burden on interstate commerce because distributors importing gasoline into Nebraska would have to meet the requirements imposed by LB 389. Such distributors would have to reduce their amount of non-oxygenated gasoline that they deliver to retail service stations to comply with the limitations imposed by LB 389. This burden would be minimized by the fact that most gasoline transported into Nebraska is through a pipeline and enters the state in a pure form, prior to being mixed with ethanol, ETBE or MTBE. The burden then would primarily fall upon the out-of-state suppliers rather than instate distributors who have the ability to determine at the pipeline terminals the quantity of gasoline product they choose to mix with ethanol, ETBE or MTBE based upon the demand of such fuel.

For gasoline product that is distributed to other states, distributors would have the ability to deliver pure gasoline product, free from additives, to retail service stations located outside of Nebraska. LB 389 would not prohibit distributors from choosing to ship non-oxygenated gasoline to out-of-state retail markets. Pipelines running through Nebraska connecting to terminals in other states would not be affected by the provisions in LB 389 because they only apply to the retail sale of gasoline. Thus, the burden on interstate commerce would be relatively minor as far as the distribution network is concerned.

With this burden that would be placed upon interstate commerce, it should be weighed against the state's interest and benefits that may be gained by the imposition of LB 389. There are a number of stated environmental benefits that result from the use of oxygenated fuels. Such benefits include: reduction of carbon monoxide emissions; reductions in ozone pollution due to the lower reactivity of the fuel; lower toxicity than other octane enhancers such as benzene, toluene and xylene; a lower gasoline volatility that reduces the VOC emissions from automobiles; and in the case of some oxygenated additives, fuels such as ethanol are renewable.⁴ The state's interest in increasing the requirements for use of oxygenated fuels may be found in these possible benefits to the environment.

Courts take into account the state's interest based on the state's need to promote health and safety matters within its boundaries. The United States Court of Appeals of the Eighth Circuit has expressed that:

(a) State's power to regulate commerce is greatest when they act on matters of local concern, and state regulations enacted to promote public health and safety are accorded particular deference. Challengers to state regulations enacted to further public safety must overcome a 'strong presumption of their validity'. . . . [t]he Court consistently has incorporated into its analysis some evaluation of the burden that the legislation in question places on interstate commerce. The balancing must, however, reflect great deference due state safety legislation. The challengers may prevail only if the burden on interstate commerce is clearly excessive in relation to the safety purpose of the state legislation.

Burlington Northern R. Co. v. State of Nebraska, 802 F.2d 994 (8th Cir. 1986) (Citations omitted). The Court outlines the deference it gives to states to determine the best means to achieve an outcome in matters of health and safety. Such deference is limited in cases where the burden placed on interstate commerce is excessive given the likely benefits sought by the state.

The environmental and other benefits gained from implementing LB 389 would be considered the state's interest in this matter under its concern for the health and safety of its citizens. These benefits would be balanced against the possible burden to interstate commerce. Courts would grant deference to the State of Nebraska in adopting LB 389 if they reasoned that the burden from requiring a greater use of oxygenated gasoline was not excessive when compared to the benefits achieved by the legislation.

In our opinion, given the current design of the distribution network in Nebraska for the delivery of gasoline, it would appear that such burdens would be minimal when compared to the likely benefits gained from increased use of ethanol. Thus, courts would have to make the final

CONCLUSION

In our opinion, LB 389 would be upheld as constitutional, even if current federal law were repealed, because in our estimation, the likely benefits gained by the implementation of LB 389 would exceed the burden imposed upon interstate commerce. This burden is minimal given the manner in which gasoline is brought into the state through pipelines, the ease in which oxygenated fuels are added and mixed at the pipeline terminals, and the ability of the distributor to continue to deliver non-oxygenated gasoline to out-of-state retail service stations.

Don Stenberg

2. That the Congress of the United States direct the federal Environmental Protection Agency to ensure that risk mitigation allowances for aluminum or magnesium phosphide are clearly demonstrated as necessary to protect human health, are based upon sound science and reliable information, are economically and operationally reasonable, and will permit the use of these products in accordance with the label.

14 Cash Fund is less than one million dollars, the tax shall be two 15 cents per gallon less on motor vehicle fuel containing a minimum of 16 ten percent blend of agricultural ethyl alcohol, the purity of 17 which is at least ninety-nine percent alcohol, than on motor

3 (2) The Department of Revenue shall, at the end of each
4 calendar quarter, notify the State Treasurer of the amount of motor

6 due to the credits provided in section 66-1344. The State
7 Treasurer shall transfer from the Ethanol Production Incentive Cash
8 Fund to the Highway Trust Fund an amount equal to such credits less 9 the following amounts:

10 (a) For 1993, 1994, and 1995, the amount generated during 11 the calendar quarter by a one-cent tax on motor fuel pursuant to 12 sections 66-489, 66-668, and 66-6,107;

13 (b) For 1996, the amount generated during the calendar
14 quarter by a three-quarters-cent tax on motor fuel pursuant to such 15 sections;

16 (c) For 1997, the amount generated during the calendar
17 quarter by a one-half-cent tax on motor fuel pursuant to such 18 sections; and

19 (d) For 1998, 1999, and 2000, no reduction.

20 The amounts shall be transferred through December 31, 21 2000. For 1993 through 1997, if the amount generated pursuant to 22 subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of this subsection and the amount 23 transferred pursuant to subsection (1) of this section are not 24 sufficient to fund the credits provided in section 66-1344, then 25 the credits shall be funded through the Ethanol Production
26 Incentive Cash Fund but shall not be funded through either the

27 Highway Cash Fund or the Highway Trust Fund. For 1998, 1999, and 1 2000, the credits provided in such section shall be funded through
 2 the Ethanol Production Incentive Cash Fund but shall not be funded
 3 through either the Highway Cash Fund or the Highway Trust Fund.

4 (3) The State Treasurer shall transfer from the Ethanol
 5 Production Incentive Cash Fund to the Management Services Expense
 6 Revolving Fund the amount reported under subsection (4) of section
 7 66-1345.02 for each calendar quarter of the fiscal year as provided
 8 in such subsection.

9 (4) Beginning January 1, 2000, the State Treasurer shall 10 transfer from the Ethanol Production Incentive Cash Fund to the 11 Highway Trust Fund an amount equal to the reduction in the motor 12 fuel tax due to the provisions of subdivision (1)(a) of section 13 66-489 and section 66-4,105. The Department of Revenue shall, at 14 the end of each calendar month, notify the State Treasurer of the 15 amount of motor fuel tax not collected in the preceding month due 16 to such reduction in tax rates. When the balance in the Ethanol
 17 Production Incentive Cash Fund is less than one million dollars, 18 the State Treasurer shall immediately certify such fact to the 21 blended fuels shall cease at the end of the current calendar month.

22 (5) In the fourth year following the certification made
 23 in subsection (4) of this section, On February 15, 2001, the State 24 Treasurer shall transfer any unexpended and unobligated funds from 25 the Ethanol Production Incentive Cash Fund to the Nebraska Corn

 1 as funds were collected pursuant to section 66-1345.01 from corn
 2 and grain sorghum.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 45. Introduced by C. Peterson, 35; Schmitt, 41; Hilgert, 7; Tyson, 19.

PURPOSE: To examine and seek to determine the appropriate administrative structure for the oversight and operation of the Nebraska veterans homes with respect to the adoption of LB 530 (1995). The resolution shall systematically examine the effect that the existing structure has on the satisfactory delivery of services and the efficient use of resources and shall include, among other things, issues regarding quality of care and accountability of the Nebraska veterans homes to veterans and their families.

LB 530 was adopted in 1995 and changed the provisions of sections 81-1108.15 and related sections of law which provide, with certain exceptions, for central administration, operation, and maintenance of state facilities by the state building division of the Department of Administrative Services. The plan adopted in LB 530 called for the maintenance departments at the veterans homes in Grand Island and Scottsbluff to shift over on July 1, 1998. Currently, it is planned that the Department of Administrative Services will assume these responsibilities for the Norfolk Veterans' Home in 1999-00 and the Thomas Fitzgerald Veterans' Home in Omaha in the 2001-03 biennium.

This study should include the following elements:

(1) An examination of the costs and other factors that determine maintenance and administrative responsibilities. The centralization of facility maintenance allows the state building division to utilize regional facility managers as opposed to requiring a facility manager at each building site. Currently, a regional facility manager's time is allocated proportionally to ten facilities in this region which includes the two veterans homes in Grand

Island and Scottsbluff;

(2) Review all issues and policies which underlie the present statutory organization of the veterans' homes to determine whether or not veterans homes should be excluded from state building division oversight due to their inclusion resulting in a hardship due to exceptional and unusual circumstances. Exemptions were provided to the University of Nebraska, the state colleges, the Board of Educational Lands and Funds, the Department of Roads, and the Game and Parks Commission in LB 530;

(3) The Department of Health and Human Services currently pays the state building division to administer, operate, and maintain these two facilities. An examination shall be conducted regarding how and why priorities for maintenance at the veterans homes, which can change on an hourly basis, differ from those agencies which were exempted in LB 530; whether the administrator, who is licensed and legally responsible for the total care of the members of the facility, should have the flexibility to shift priorities according to the current needs of the facility; and whether portions of that care can be assigned to other individuals;

(4) Determine initial and continuing eligibility for licensure and certification requirements regarding an administrator's license to ensure compliance with federal and state law and to provide oversight and consistency while providing for quality assurance; what legal ramifications exist regarding liability; and whether the administrator or the Department of Administrative Services accepts full legal responsibility for the facility;

(5) Consideration of the fact that veterans homes are twenty-four hour facilities and require different considerations regarding the nature of economic efficiencies; and

(6) Determine the impact regarding current law which authorizes the state building division to assess a depreciation charge for facilities that it administers. Funds accumulated as the result of assessment of the depreciation charge are authorized to be expended to accomplish building renewal projects as described in the Deferred Building Renewal Act. Under current law, veterans homes administered by the division would be subject to this depreciation charge.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. 4. That the committee shall, upon the conclusion of its study, submit a written report of its findings, including all transcripts of public hearings held across the state in each of the four veterans homes, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

5. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee shall conduct a review of LB 193 (1999), in order to amend or prepare for reintroduction in the next legislative session.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 46. Introduced by C. Peterson, 35.

PURPOSE: To encourage the establishment and enhancement of permanent endowment funds to benefit Nebraskans. For purposes of the study, a permanent endowment is an endowment fund of any organization incorporated in Nebraska or established primarily for the benefit of Nebraska citizens or groups which is tax exempt by the Internal Revenue Service.

(1) Determine the qualifications and conditions that must be met to qualify as a permanent endowment, such as (a) the endowment must be irrevocable and permanent, (b) the income granted from the endowment must be directed to recipients in a manner which qualifies for tax deductibility as a charitable contribution under the Internal Revenue Code, and (c) the endowment's principal, revenue, and disbursements must be managed in a manner that guards against erosion by meeting the prudent investor rule;

(2) Define the various types of planned gifts and which type would qualify. Generally speaking, planned gifts are used by individuals to make an irrevocable commitment of a principal asset for the future and sometimes immediate benefit of charity. In most planned gifts, the donor retains the use of assets during his or her lifetime usually because he or she can't afford to forfeit the earning power of the asset;

(3) Whether planned gifts to permanent endowment funds, as opposed to gifts to other charitable fundraising, be singled out for credit. Endowments can heighten public confidence in an organization and spur increased giving for current needs. Planned gifts often increase spendable income enabling the donors to have extra income out of which they frequently increase their giving to annual campaigns for current needs;

(4) How Nebraska ranks in the nation in foundation assets and in foundation giving. Endowments offer a tangible way of enlarging the charitable pie and enable donors to accomplish their charitable goals in communities they know and love; and

(5) Review any additional issues and policies that the committee deems necessary to conduct a thorough examination of endowment philanthropy.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Revenue Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall hold at least one public hearing to receive public comment and input regarding the promotion of endowed philanthropy by seeking enactment of a tax credit to encourage greater giving to endowments.

3. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 54A. Introduced by Brashear, 4.

A BILL FOR AN ACT relating to appropriations; to appropriate funds to aid in carrying out the provisions of Legislative Bill 54, Ninety-sixth Legislature, First Session, 1999.

AMENDMENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Landis filed the following amendment to LB 150:

AM0789

1 1. Strike the original sections and all amendments
2 thereto and insert the following new sections:

4 the Telephone Consumer Slamming Prevention Act.

5 Sec. 2. It is the policy of this state to ensure that 6 all subscribers are protected from the unauthorized switching of a 7 telecommunications company selected by the subscriber to provide 8 telecommunications service.

9 Sec. 3. For purposes of the Telephone Consumer Slamming
10 Prevention Act, the definitions found in section 86-802 shall be 11 used.

12 Sec. 4. Except as provided in section 86-808, the 13 Telephone Consumer Slamming Prevention Act shall apply to all
14 telecommunications companies providing basic local exchange
15 service, intra-LATA interexchange service, inter-LATA interexchange
16 service, and any other telecommunications services to subscribers
17 in this state.

18 Sec. 5. Except when a subscriber initiates or changes
19 service by contacting the telecommunications company directly, no
20 telecommunications company shall submit or execute a change in a
21 subscriber's provider of basic local exchange service, intra-LATA 22 interexchange service, or inter-LATA interexchange service without:

23 (1) Written change authorization from the subscriber;

24 (2) Toll-free electronic authorization placed from the 1 telephone number which is the subject of the change order; or

2 (3) Oral authorization obtained by an independent third
3 party.

4 A separate and distinct authorization shall be required
5 to submit or execute a change of service for any or all of the 6 following services provided to subscribers in this state: Basic 7 local exchange service, intra-LATA interexchange service,
8 inter-LATA interexchange service, or any other telecommunications 9 services.

10 Sec. 6. Within thirty days after a subscriber changes
11 his or her authorized provider of basic local exchange service,
12 intra-LATA interexchange service, or inter-LATA interexchange
13 service, the new authorized service provider shall provide to such 14 subscriber written confirmation of such change. The written 15 confirmation shall (1) describe clearly and simply the nature of 16 the subscription change, (2) not be a part of, or attached to, any 17 other document, (3) not contain any promotion, offer, or 18 inducement, and (4) be mailed to the subscriber's billing address.

19 Sec. 7. (1) The procedures in this section shall apply
20 only after a subscriber has determined that an unauthorized change 21 has occurred in violation of section 5 of this act, and the
22 subscriber has paid charges to an allegedly unauthorized
23 telecommunications company. Upon receiving notification from the 24 subscriber or a company that a subscriber has been subjected to an 25 unauthorized change and that the subscriber has paid charges to an
26 allegedly unauthorized company, the properly authorized company
27 shall, within thirty days, request from the allegedly unauthorized
1 company proof of verification of the subscriber's authorization to
2 change companies. Within ten days after receiving such request,
3 the allegedly unauthorized company shall forward to the authorized
4 company either:

5 (a) Proof of verification of the subscriber's
6 authorization to change companies; or

7 (b) The following:

8 (i) An amount equal to all charges paid by the subscriber
9 to the unauthorized company;

10 (ii) An amount equal to any charge required to return the 11 subscriber to his or her properly authorized company, if 12 applicable; and

13 (iii) Copies of any telephone bills issued from the 14 unauthorized company to the subscriber.

15 (2) If an authorized telecommunications company incurs
16 any billing and collection expenses in collecting charges from the 17 unauthorized company, the unauthorized company shall reimburse the 18 authorized company for reasonable expenses.

19 (3) When a subscriber notifies the unauthorized company,
20 rather than the authorized company, of an unauthorized change, the 21 unauthorized company shall immediately notify the authorized
22 company.

23 (4) Upon receipt from the unauthorized company of the 24 amount described in subdivision (1)(b)(i) of this section, the 25 authorized company shall provide a refund or credit to the 26 subscriber of all charges paid in excess of what the authorized
27 company would have charged the subscriber absent the unauthorized
1 change. If the authorized company has not received from the
2 unauthorized company an amount equal to charges paid by the
3 subscriber to the unauthorized company, the authorized company is
4 not required to provide any refund or credit. The authorized
5 company shall, within sixty days after it receives notification of 6 the unauthorized change, inform the subscriber if it has failed to 7 collect any charges from the unauthorized company and inform the 8 subscriber of his or her right to pursue a claim against the
9 unauthorized company for a refund of all charges paid to the 10 unauthorized company.

(5) When possible, the properly authorized company shall reinstate the subscriber in any premium program in which that subscriber was enrolled prior to the unauthorized change, if that subscriber's participation in the premium program was terminated because of the unauthorized change. If the subscriber has paid charges to the unauthorized company, the properly authorized company shall also provide or restore to the subscriber any premiums to which the subscriber would have been entitled had the unauthorized change not occurred. The authorized company shall comply with the requirements of this subsection regardless of whether it is able to recover from the unauthorized company any charges that were paid by the subscriber.

(6) The Public Service Commission may from time to time review and adjust the reimbursement procedures in a manner consistent with federal law.

Sec. 8. If the Public Service Commission finds that a telecommunications company has violated section 7 of this act, the commission shall order the company to take corrective action as necessary and the company may be subject to administrative penalties pursuant to section 8 of this act. Any money collected by the commission pursuant to this section shall be remitted to the State Treasurer for credit to the permanent school fund.

Sec. 9. (1) The Public Service Commission may, after hearing, impose an administrative penalty for a violation of the Telephone Consumer Slamming Prevention Act. The penalty for a violation shall not exceed two thousand dollars. Every violation associated with a specific access line within the state shall be considered a separate and distinct violation.

(2) The amount of an administrative penalty shall be based on:

(a) The seriousness of the violation, including the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of a prohibited act;

(b) The history of previous violations;

(c) The amount necessary to deter future violations; and

(d) Any efforts to correct the violation.

(3) Any administrative penalty may be appealed, and the appeal shall be in accordance with sections 75-136 to 75-139.

Sec. 10. The Public Service Commission shall adopt and promulgate competitively neutral rules and regulations to implement the Telephone Consumer Slamming Prevention Act, including rules and regulations that:

(1) Ensure that subscribers are protected from deceptive practices in the obtaining of authorizations and verifications required by section 5 of this act;

(2) Are applicable to all basic local exchange service, intra-LATA interexchange service, inter-LATA interexchange service, and other telecommunications services provided by telecommunications companies in this state;

(3) Maintain records, provide procedures, and establish

6 performance standards for telecommunications companies with respect
7 to changes in an authorized telecommunications company pursuant to 8 the act;

9 (4) Establish and administer a slamming complaint system
10 for subscribers of telecommunications service and enforce the 11 provisions of the act; and

12 (5) Are consistent with the rules and regulations
13 prescribed by the Federal Communications Commission for the 14 selection of telecommunications companies. The Public Service
15 Commission may adopt and promulgate rules and regulations
16 consistent with any regulations of the Federal Communications
17 Commission which are consistent with the purposes of the act.

18 Sec. 11. (1) No telecommunications company shall
19 initiate or bill additional telecommunications services not
20 required by the Public Service Commission to be offered and for 21 which the subscriber did not explicitly request or subscribe. If 22 (a) a charge is assessed on a per-use basis for a service described 23 in this subsection and (b) the subscriber notifies the providing 24 telecommunications company that the subscriber did not utilize the 25 service or the subscriber did not authorize the utilization of the 26 service, the providing telecommunications company shall initiate a
27 refund of the charge or apply the charge as a credit to the
1 subscriber's next monthly bill.

2 (2) If a providing telecommunications company receives a
3 notification pursuant to subdivision (1)(b) of this section, the
4 company shall inform the subscriber of the ability to block
5 services from future use by the subscriber and shall block the
6 services from future use by the subscriber if the subscriber so
7 requests. If a subscriber requests that the company not block the 8 service or later requests to have the block lifted, the subscriber
9 shall be responsible for charges caused by the future utilization
10 of such service. The company shall not charge a reoccurring fee
11 for blocking such service.

12 Sec. 11. If any section of this act or any part of any
13 section is declared invalid or unconstitutional, the declaration
14 shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining
15 portions.

16 Sec. 12. Since an emergency exists, this act takes 17 effect when passed and approved according to law."

22 has occurred in violation of section 5 of this act, and the 23 subscriber has paid charges to an allegedly unauthorized
24 telecommunications company. Upon receiving notification from the 25 subscriber or a company that a subscriber has been subjected to an 26 unauthorized change and that the subscriber has paid charges to an
27 allegedly unauthorized company, the properly authorized company
1 shall, within thirty days, request from the allegedly unauthorized
2 company proof of verification of the subscriber's authorization to
3 change companies. Within ten days after receiving such request,
4 the allegedly unauthorized company shall forward to the authorized
5 company either:

6 (a) Proof of verification of the subscriber's
7 authorization to change companies; or

8 (b) The following:

9 (i) An amount equal to all charges paid by the subscriber
10 to the unauthorized company;

11 (ii) An amount equal to any charge required to return the 12 subscriber to his or her properly authorized company, if 13 applicable; and

14 (iii) Copies of any telephone bills issued from the 15 unauthorized company to the subscriber.

16 (2) If an authorized telecommunications company incurs
17 any billing and collection expenses in collecting charges from the 18 unauthorized company, the unauthorized company shall reimburse the 19 authorized company for reasonable expenses.

20 (3) When a subscriber notifies the unauthorized company,
21 rather than the authorized company, of an unauthorized change, the 22 unauthorized company shall immediately notify the authorized
23 company.

24 (4) Upon receipt from the unauthorized company of the 25 amount described in subdivision (1)(b)(i) of this section, the 26 authorized company shall provide a refund or credit to the
27 subscriber of all charges paid in excess of what the authorized
1 company would have charged the subscriber absent the unauthorized
2 change. If the authorized company has not received from the

3 unauthorized company an amount equal to charges paid by the
4 subscriber to the unauthorized company, the authorized company is
5 not required to provide any refund or credit. The authorized
6 company shall, within sixty days after it receives notification of 7 the unauthorized change, inform the subscriber if it has failed to 8 collect any charges from the unauthorized company and inform the 9 subscriber of his or her right to pursue a claim against the 10 unauthorized company for a refund of all charges paid to the 11 unauthorized company.

12 (5) When possible, the properly authorized company shall 13 reinstate the subscriber in any premium program in which that 14 subscriber was enrolled prior to the unauthorized change, if that 15 subscriber's participation in the premium program was terminated
16 because of the unauthorized change. If the subscriber has paid
17 charges to the unauthorized company, the properly authorized 18 company shall also provide or restore to the subscriber any 19 premiums to which the subscriber would have been entitled had the 20 unauthorized change not occurred. The authorized company shall 21 comply with the requirements of this subsection regardless of 22 whether it is able to recover from the unauthorized company any 23 charges that were paid by the subscriber.

24 (6) The Public Service Commission may from time to time
25 review and adjust the reimbursement procedures in a manner
26 consistent with federal law.

27 Sec. 8. If the Public Service Commission finds that a
1 telecommunications company has violated section 7 of this act, the 2 commission shall order the company to take corrective action as 3 necessary and the company may be subject to administrative 4 penalties pursuant to section 8 of this act. Any money collected
5 by the commission pursuant to this section shall be remitted to the 6 State Treasurer for credit to the permanent school fund.

7 Sec. 9. (1) The Public Service Commission may, after 8 hearing, impose an administrative penalty for a violation of the 9 Telephone Consumer Slamming Prevention Act. The penalty for a
10 violation shall not exceed two thousand dollars. Every violation 11 associated with a specific access line within the state shall be 12 considered a separate and distinct violation.

13 (2) The amount of an administrative penalty shall be 14 based on:

15 (a) The nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of a 16 prohibited act;

17 (b) The history of previous violations;

18 (c) The amount necessary to deter future violations; and

19 (d) Any efforts to correct the violation.

20 (3) Any administrative penalty may be appealed, and the 21 appeal shall be in accordance with sections 75-136 to 75-139.

22 Sec. 10. The Public Service Commission shall adopt and 23 promulgate competitively neutral rules and regulations to implement 24 the Telephone Consumer Slamming Prevention Act, including rules and

7 performance standards for telecommunications companies with respect
8 to changes in an authorized telecommunications company pursuant to 9 the act;

10 (4) Establish and administer a slamming complaint system
11 for subscribers of telecommunications service and enforce the
12 provisions of the act; and

13 (5) Are consistent with the rules and regulations
14 prescribed by the Federal Communications Commission for the
15 selection of telecommunications companies. The Public Service
16 Commission may adopt and promulgate rules and regulations
17 consistent with any regulations of the Federal Communications
18 Commission which are consistent with the purposes of the act.

19 Sec. 11. (1) No telecommunications company shall
20 initiate or bill additional telecommunications services not 21 required by the Public Service Commission to be offered and for 22 which the subscriber did not explicitly request or subscribe. If 23 (a) a charge is assessed on a per-use basis for a service described 24 in this subsection and (b) the subscriber notifies the providing 25 telecommunications company that the subscriber did not utilize the 26 service or the subscriber did not authorize the utilization of the 27 service, the providing telecommunications company shall initiate a
1 refund of the charge or apply the charge as a credit to the
2 subscriber's next monthly bill.

3 (2) If a providing telecommunications company receives a
4 notification pursuant to subdivision (1)(b) of this section, the
5 company shall inform the subscriber of the ability to block
6 services from future use by the subscriber and shall block the
7 services from future use by the subscriber if the subscriber so
8 requests. If a subscriber requests that the company not block the 9 service or later requests to have the block lifted, the subscriber
10 shall be responsible for charges caused by the future utilization
11 of such service. The company shall not charge a reoccurring fee
12 for blocking such service.

13 Sec. 12. If any section of this act or any part of any
14 section is declared invalid or unconstitutional, the declaration
15 shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the remaining
16 portions.

4 information contained in or filed with any registration statement,
5 application, or report may be made available to the public under 6 such rules as the director shall prescribe.

7 (8) Upon request and at such reasonable charges as he or 8 she shall prescribe, the director shall furnish to any person

12 23-114. (1) The county board shall have power: (a) To 13 provide for temporary zoning as provided in sections 1 to 3 of this

3 uses in the unincorporated area of the county.

4 (3)(a) The county board shall not adopt or enforce any 5 zoning resolution or regulation which prohibits the use of land for

9 in accordance with the standards of the Uniform Standard Code for 10 Manufactured Homes and Recreational Vehicles, the Nebraska Uniform
11 Standards for Modular Housing Units Act, or the United States

10 supersede any valid restrictive covenants of record.
 - 11 (4) For purposes of this section, manufactured home shall 12 mean (a) a factory-built structure which is to be used as a place
13 for human habitation, which is not constructed or equipped with a 14 permanent hitch or other device allowing it to be moved other than 15 to a permanent site, which does not have permanently attached to 19 et seq., promulgated by the United States Department of Housing and 20 Urban Development, or (b) a modular housing unit as defined in 21 section 71-1557 bearing a seal in accordance with the Nebraska

6 ordinance or amendment shall supersede any resolution or regulation

12 comprehensive development plan by the county board and the receipt 13 of the planning commission's specific recommendations or by 14 adopting temporary zoning as provided in sections 1 to 3 of this 15 act. Such zoning regulations shall be consistent with the an 16 adopted comprehensive development plan and designed for the purpose
17 of promoting the health, safety, morals, convenience, order, 18 prosperity, and welfare of the present and future inhabitants of

- 8 (9) Protecting the tax base;
- 9 (10) Protecting property against blight and depreciation;
- 10 (11) Securing economy in governmental expenditures;
- 11 (12) Fostering the state's agriculture, recreation, and 12 other industries;
- 13 (13) Encouraging the most appropriate use of land in the 14 county; and
- 15 (14) Preserving, protecting, and enhancing historic 16 buildings, places, and districts.

17 Within the area of jurisdiction and powers established by 18 section 23-114, the county board may divide the county into 19 districts of such number, shape, and area as may be best suited to 20 carry out the purposes of this section and regulate, restrict, or 21 prohibit the erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, or 22 use of nonfarm buildings or structures and the use, conditions of 23 use, or occupancy of land. All such regulations shall be uniform
24 for each class or kind of land or buildings throughout each 25 district, but the regulations in one district may differ from those 26 in other districts. An official map or maps indicating the 27 districts and regulations shall be adopted, and within fifteen days
1 after adoption of such regulations or maps, they shall be published
2 in book or pamphlet form or once in a legal newspaper published in

5 county. Such regulations shall also be spread in the minutes of 6 the proceedings of the county board and such map or maps filed with 7 the county clerk. Nonfarm buildings are all buildings except those 8 buildings utilized for agricultural purposes on a farmstead of 9 twenty acres or more which produces one thousand dollars or more of 10 farm products each year.

18 act or of any regulation made by the county board under such 19 sections shall be a misdemeanor. Any person, partnership, limited 20 liability company, association, club, or corporation violating such 21 sections or any regulation of the county board or erecting,
22 constructing, reconstructing, altering, or converting any structure
23 without having first obtained a permit shall be guilty of a Class 24 III misdemeanor. Each day such violation continues after notice of 25 violation has been given to the offender may be considered a
26 separate offense. In addition to other remedies, the county board 27 or the proper local authorities of the county, as well as any owner

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 49. Introduced by Jensen, 20.

PURPOSE:

The Legislature finds that a vast array of health and human services programs create a complex system that is hard to understand and often difficult to access. Information and referral programs exist to assist individuals and families to identify and locate services to help them cope with difficulties they are experiencing or to enhance their well-being, but these information and referral systems are unconnected and lead to the potential of duplicate efforts and inefficiencies. Information and referral systems in other states are using "211" dialing to access services which have increased efficiencies for consumers seeking assistance from human services programs.

The Health and Human Services Committee of the Legislature shall conduct an interim study to determine the feasibility of a Statewide Information and Referral System. This study shall include, but not be limited to:

- (1) Determination of community need for information and referral services, the level of service required, and interest in establishing and using a "211" number for access to services;

(2) Identification of existing information and referral services, including toll-free numbers, along with their intensity, scope, funding sources, geographical area, and population served;

(3) Compiling data and experiences of other states that have adopted a "211" dialing system for information, referral, and access to health and human services;

(4) Evaluation of the potential for use of the Internet and other technology to meet the need for or coordination of information and referral services;

(5) Identification of a structure that would best support an integrated community-based information and referral system using a "211" access number; and

(6) Identification of a strategy to eliminate duplicate efforts and bring efficiencies to access of information and referral for human services.

The interim study will solicit comments, suggestions, and recommendations from consumers and state and private agencies. The study may include a public hearing to include public input. The committee shall, upon the conclusion of the study, make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council by December 1, 1999. If indicated and appropriate, enacting legislation will be drafted.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Health and Human Services Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.
