time. So please check your agendas for that. The second announcement would be that we would like you to be here at 1:45 on the floor because there's going to be a lot of people here. We thought there was a lot yesterday. There's going to be more people here today. With that in mind, if you have your spouse or significant other that you want to be here today, we're going to have them sit on the floor with you to make room for the other family members. So I would suggest, after we adjourn this morning, have the Sergeant of Arms help you line up your chairs now for sitting on the floor. It will go a lot smoother and whoever you want to sit with you, obviously, will have a better opportunity. There will be limited seating this afternoon. Finally, for those of you who need new pictures, the Associated Press and I believe one of the other major newspapers in this state are taking pictures. Senator Cudaback, I might suggest that you get over there and see if you can get some pictures taken. But they are taking pictures. If you want new mug shots and new pictures that will be used and those items, they'll be there this morning. They'll be in the Senators' Lounge through noon, so I would suggest that you try to space yourselves out. And if you have any questions, we'll be happy to try to answer them. Thank you very much. Mr. Clerk, do you have any messages, reports or announcements?

CLERK: Mr. President, I do. I've received a series of messages, reports and announcements since the Legislature adjourned its Special Session in June. (Read messages as found on pages 27-35 of the Legislative Journal.) Those will all be referred to Standing Committee for confirmation, Mr. President.

A series of Attorney General's Opinions, one to Senator Bruning, Senator Chris Peterson, and Senator Elmer. Those will be inserted in the Legislative Journal. (See pages 35-42 of the Legislative Journal.)

In addition, Mr. President, a series of reports. (Read brief description of reports as found on pages 42-46 of the Legislative Journal.) All of those reports will be on file, Mr. President, in the Clerk's Office, available for member review.

And finally this morning, Mr. President, a series of
