

TRANSCRIPT PREPARED BY THE CLERK OF THE LEGISLATURE
Transcriber's Office

February 8, 1999 LB 211

nobody is going to know what "state building" means unless you adopt this amendment. And I think the last thing in the world we want to do is leave things vague for people. We ought to put down as clearly as we can what we mean, and that is all this amendment purports to do. If...if, in further consideration on Select File or elsewhere, you want to reconsider the Tyson amendment, that can always been done, but you ought not to leave the matter in the area of gray, in the area of vagueness. We ought to say what we mean and mean what we say, and that's all this amendment does. Thank you.
