her. Is it important for me to know that Senator Byars has delinquent taxes? I'm not going to pay his either. Is it important that I know that I have delinquent taxes? Probably, because I would like to pay them. How am I going to find out if I have delinquent taxes if I've forgotten them, like Senator Schimek did? I can either find out in the newspaper or I can find out in a notice that my local treasurer mails to me. This allows the local treasurer that option to do that, not on a case-by-case basis, as Senator Schimek might have implied, or Senator Crosby, I'm sorry. This is an all or nothing. Either you publish or you mail notices. It's not on a case-by-case basis. All or nothing; one or the other. Which one works in your county? All or nothing. It's interesting that Senator Crosby says there will be too much political pressure at the local courthouse to make a decision. I don't understand that argument. Those are the people that would...should and would know what is supposed to be most effective in their community. What kind of political pressures are we subject to, to make no change at all? This new wind that's blowing, this new wind that we know exactly how you should do it and you shouldn't get any option to do it any other way even if you want to, that new wind is one that I think should be reduced to just a little whisper, just a little gale that went through quickly and then we went on about our business of trusting our local elected officials to make good decisions and allowing them the flexibility to make those decisions and to serve their constituents. That's what the issue is about.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute. Senator Kremer has the following guest visiting the Legislature this morning. They are 16 members of the Leadership Tomorrow class from Aurora and Merrick County and they're in the north balcony. Would you please stand and be recognized by your Legislature. Thank you for being with us. Senator Jones.

SENATOR JONES: Mr. President and members of the body, I want to go at this just a little bit different angle. In my county the last two years, well, when it came out in the newspaper and, in fact, I was just home this last weekend and I seen it in the newspaper all printed up, all the legal descriptions of all the delinquent taxes, but my courthouse the last two years have been busy for about the next 60 days and had to put one person on it
