SENATOR COORDSEN: In other words, a person who had...

SENATOR HILGERT: Yep.

SENATOR COORDSEN: ...just got out of school, this was their first job, how would they have any access to any unemployment?

SENATOR HILGERT: Well, first of all, Senator, there are some places where you have to work almost a year to get...

SENATOR COORDSEN: Um-hum.

SENATOR HILGERT: ...any vacation whatsoever, so...

SENATOR COORDSEN: I understand that.

SENATOR HILGERT: ...my example of a month...

SENATOR COORDSEN: Yeah.

SENATOR HILGERT: ...perhaps...

SENATOR COORDSEN: Yeah, but what I understood you to say,...

SENATOR HILGERT: Yeah.

SENATOR COORDSEN: ...that it was tied in somehow to the unemployment and the unemployment payments. If I'm wrong, then I do apologize for that...

SENATOR HILGERT: Yeah.

SENATOR COORDSEN: ...misunderstanding.

SENATOR HILGERT: Right, that's what I did say, that this is...this is just trying to clarify in a specific example of a plant planned shutdown...

SENATOR COORDSEN: Okay. Thank you.

SENATOR HILGERT: ...type of situation. And you're right, the
