that it was intended to particularly that that money. And I don't know what Senator Stuhr's amendment...intention was, but she might be better able to speak to that particular issue. I haven't investigated that fund.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But your...your intention is whatever her intention is, though,...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Well, it's because it's her bill, and...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...basically.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: ...she knows the details of this particular fund, and I do not have the details of this particular fund on the tip of my tongue.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay, thank you. This reminds...that kind of reminds me of a story, these commodities brokers and they had just done some work and came up with a $50 million windfall. And a guy came off of a little patch of ground in the city that he had been farming, it was really a garden. So he came to these brokers and he said, let me tell you how you can make really a whole lot of money in this line of investing that you're doing. And he began to tell this guy everything that he thought. And they made this windfall millions of dollars. So they said, well, what is your line of work? And he... Oh, they told him, you ought to go back to your line of work. And the guy said, I didn't tell you what my line of work is. He said, well whatever your line of work is, and I don't know what it is, you ought to go back to it. In other words, it's not enough to just take the word of somebody and let that become your word. So I'm again surprised by Squire Wehrbein who usually will squeeze that money until...Senator Price, you talk about trying to get blood out of a turnip, Senator Wehrbein has actually squeezed mercury out of paper money; I mean he holds it tight. For him to say that his intention is whatever Senator Stuhr's intention is, compels me to ask Senator Stuhr a question or two. Senator Stuhr, will you answer a question or two?

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Stuhr, would you respond?

SENATOR STUHR: Yes.
