open, or people sitting inside of the vehicle drinking.

SENATOR BROMM: Well, the...as long as they drive to the parking lot with the containers of alcohol, if that's what they're having, unopened, and...

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: But...

SENATOR BROMM: ...leave there in the same fashion, or put them in the trunk, they're in the same position, after the passage of this law, as they were before.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: Would they be able to sit in that vehicle and consume that alcohol?

SENATOR BROMM: It would depend on whether they are on a...in a public parking area.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: I imagine they are, at the university.

SENATOR BROMM: And that's illegal right now.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: That is.

SENATOR BROMM: That's illegal right now, Senator Schellpeper.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: I realize that, but it's...

SENATOR BROMM: So we're not doing anything...

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: No, not...

SENATOR BROMM: ...to change that.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: So nothing will change what's being...what's being done currently?

SENATOR BROMM: Right.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: But there hasn't been any federal dollars involved, Senator, before. Now, all at once, we have federal dollars. Would that make the university be a lot more strict?
